Dellolio Gets Home Run, Hull Bats In Winning Score In 6th

Righthander Nicky Warren hurled a six-hitter for his third straight conference win of the season as the North Carolina baseballers whipped Wake Forest, 2-1, in a spine-tingling game in bone-chilling weather here yesterday at Emerson Field.

The Tar Heels came from one behind, and scored a pair in the bottom of the sixth on a homer by Len Dellolio and a single by Heyward Hull that brought in Carroll Bolick.

Warren was hooked up in a tight pitchers' battle with Deacon ace Bob Plemmons, who suffered his first loss of the year after five straight wins. The Durham junior, who has started all of the conference games for the Tar Heels, struck out four and gave up three walks. Plemmons, a senior from Old Fort, N. C., also allowed six hits, struck out four, and walked three.

Three players got all of the hits for Carolina. First baseman Dellolio was the leader, with Heyward Hull, the other man with two hits for UNC, was responsible for driving in the winning run. With two outs in the sixth, catcher Carroll Bolick singled to center. Then Hull hit a towering drive to deep left-center, and wound up on third base. Bolick scored. But Wake claimed that Hull had failed to touch second base, and he was called out by the umpire. He was officially credited with a single.

Mooring as the latter was trying to make a catch. But a batted ball by Nichols struck the runner from second base to retire him, and then a running catch by Mooring ended the threat.

Wake Forest's only run came on a triple that was executed in much the same way as was Dellolio's four-bagger. In the fourth for the Deacs, lead-off men Paul Wilner and Roger Coon drew walks. Nichols, the third batter, drove the ball back at Warren, who turned it into a double play, leaving Coon on first.

Then Bob Worrell, the left fielder, grounded a three-base hit down the third base line to score Coon and give the Deacs a 1-0 lead that held up for two innings.

Warren got into a bit of trouble in the sixth, as fielding miscues by his mates allowed two men to reach base for Wake. Shortstop Larry Neal made a bobble, and right fielder Hull ran into centerfielder Jim his homer and a single in four trips. The four-bagger, which came with one out in the bottom of the sixth, was of the rare variety. A ground ball all the way, it went foul after it passed third base, and got by the left fielder. The ball skirted past the temporary fence, and the left fielder had to chase it into the bushes, and wasn't able to make a play on Dellolio before he had crossed the ingly interesting race, with a time of :48 highly possible. Rett Everett and Mike Folk should push the Maryland mile to a very respectable time. Ranson said, "The mile should be a good tight race; it will take about a 4:12 to win it."

Carolina just recently participated in the Quantico Relays, where the sprint medley team finished second behind Penn State. For UNC, Brent ran the 880, Hart the 440, Stuver the 660, and Everett ran the last mile leg.

The Tar Heel track team journeys to College Park, Md., today for a meet with the University of Maryland and the University of Virginia.

Tar Heel Coach Ranson said, "This looks to be Maryland's top track team in years." However, he went on to say: "We are determined to make the competition as tough as we can; we feel that our boys are coming along fine and there will be a lot of close races."

The 80 should be a very good race, with Gerry Stuver and Scott Brent running for the Heels against Smith and Colavita for Maryland. The quarter mile should be another exceed-

Massive voice for a missile base

In America's space-age defense system, the order of the day is total, high-speed communications. And at Vandenberg Air Force Base, as elsewhere, General Telephone & Electronics is carrying out the order with efficiency and dispatch.

Here the link to the system that mans the mighty Atlas missiles is a fully automatic 5,000-line dial telephone exchange. The "outside voice" that links the base with alert and command posts throughout the world is a multichannel microwave radio relay system capable of handling hundreds of telephone conversations, teletype messages and early-warning radar data simultaneously.

The communications equipment connecting Vandenberg Air Force Base with the outside was designed, manufactured and installed by our subsidiaries, Automatic Electric and Lenkurt Electric, and is operated for the government by General Telephone of California.

This advanced high-speed system is expressive of the way General Telephone & Electronics strives to serve the nation through better communications—not only for national defense, but for homes, business and industry as well.
