The president also said that Harris would assume duties as Chairman of the Communications Committee, a new group inaugurated this year to provide a liaison between Student Government and the student body.

Dr. Carter, who has handled similar grants in the past, has since 1957 been a member of the National Association of Social Workers Commission.

The Department of Psychology was awarded a $12,186 grant by the health service.

No Charge

There is no admission charge to the mock trial.

Investigation by Chapel Hill police revealed that Deutsch had received a letter from Jayne Brown, a senior, on the day of the murder in which she asked the accused not to see her anymore. They had been going together for a few months prior to that time.

Four days before the shooting, Deutsch and Rosenbluth had had an argument when Miss Brown and Deutsch had gone bowling at the Lanes. Miss Brown has revealed that the accused became jealous at the attention she had given the ex-star.

Ayn Rand To Speak In GMAB Program

Controversial writer-philosopher Ayn Rand, author of The Fountainhead and Atlas Shrugged, will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday in Gerrard Hall.

Sponsored by the GM Current Affairs Committee, Miss Rand's lecture, entitled "The Intellectual Bankruptcy of Our Age," will be open to the public free of charge.

The essential portions of her philosophy, according to her publishers, Random House, Inc. are:

Essential Beliefs

"That man's mind is fully competent to perceive reality—that reason is man's exclusive tool of knowledge and his only guide to action—that man is an end in himself, not a means to the ends of others, and that rational self-interest is the moral purpose of life—that justice, not self-sacrifice, is the proper principle of social relationships—that a free mind and a free market are corollaries and their politico-economic expression is laissez-faire capitalism."

Miss Rand has described her philosophy as "the concept of man as a heroic being with his own happiness as the moral purpose of his life, with productive achievement as his noblest activity, and reason as his only absolute."

A question and answer period will follow the lecture.

Infirmary

Soviet Proclaims A Castro Victory

Anti-Castro exiles, defeated on the beaches of Cuba, turned their invasion into a guerrilla mountain war Thursday and vowed new landings to come.

At least two new landings in central and eastern Cuba were reported in the face of Castro victory claims.

"We have just begun to fight," exile spokesmen said as Premier Fidel Castro and the world Communist press proclaimed that the invasion Monday had been shattered and that arms, including American Sherman tanks had been captured.

Both sides admitted "tragic losses." Castro said the "remainder" of the invaders were trapped in a swamp. The exiles said the survivors had moved inland.

As Castro stepped up accusations against the "gringo" United States, informed sources at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay said Castro had set up artillery between Guantanamo City and Glorietta, seven miles west of the base. Guantanamo remained calm and alert.

Make Other Landings

Reports from Guantanamo said another landing had been made in northeastern Cuba near Holguin, by a well-trained band led by anti-Castro hero Nina Diaz.

A radio "Cuba libre" broadcast from an undisclosed site said another landing had been made in central Cuba's Camaguey Province and that Dr. Luis Conte Aguero, head of the anti-Communist Christian front had gone ashore.

This radio charged "Czech mercenaries and Stalin tanks supplied by Russia" helped smash Tuesday's major invasion.

In Washington, President Kennedy conferred with aides on the Cuban crisis and then warned American restraint in not intervening "is not inexhaustible."

If the inter-American "doctrine of non-interference" fails to stop Red penetration of Cuba, Kennedy said in a speech to an editors' group, the United States would not hesitate "in meeting its primary obligations which are to the security of our own nation."

Adopting Communist jargon, Castro claimed victory for his "socialist revolution" and continued a terror campaign against internal enemies.

Arrests of suspected anti-Castro Cubans continued. A 14-year-old girl was reported killed and another girl wounded in shooting in Havana.

White House Says Kennedy Talked With Insurgents

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy met here Wednesday with members of the Cuban Revolutionary Council led by Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, the White House disclosed Thursday.

Kennedy, in an address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors earlier Thursday, said he had been in contact with Miro Cardona.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, asked about the matter, said Miro Cardona and five other members of the revolutionary council flew here from Miami Wednesday. They contacted White House about 5 p.m. EST, conferred with Kennedy at the

45 Minutes

The anti-Castro leaders spent about 45 minutes at the White House, and then departed for an unannounced destination. The White House would not say whether they were traveling aboard U. S. government aircraft.

The Chief Executive spent about 10 minutes listening to a report on the Cuban situation. Then Miro Cardona and his colleagues talked with a group of presidential advisers. They included George Bundy, Arthur Schlesinger Jr., and Walt W. Rostow.

Adolph A. Berle, special state Department adviser on Latin America, also saw the Cuban counter-revolutionaries.

John Moore, director of the thirty-minute production, urges all interested persons to attend, and emphasizes that extensive acting experience is not required.

The cast will be made up of twenty-five actors. Men are needed for speaking roles and women for walk-ons.

The film is being produced by Student Government in cooperation with the Department of Radio-Television-Motion Pictures. Student Legislature appropriated $1,000 for the production.

The film will be shown in future years to freshmen at the University during orientation week to aid in their understanding of the function and philosophy of the honor system. The film will also be shown extensively throughout North Carolina.

A Pat For Sheridan Whiteside

PIXILATED AUNT Harriett (Ginger Swain) presents a small token of her affection to Sheridan Whiteside (Graham Pollock) in this scene from "The Man Who Came to Dinner," scheduled for presentation in Gerrard Hall at 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Jane Dyer and Charles Ericson look on as the irascible guest is besieged by the love-sick relative. Admission to the famous comedy hit will be free; the production is being sponsored by the GM Petite Dramatic Series. Tom Gauger is directing the play, and June Hendricks is in charge of properties—one of the venture's most demanding jobs—since the plot calls for 10,000 cockroaches (boxed), four penguins, an Egyptian mummy case and other unusual items. Most of the strange assortment find their way on stage as gifts for Mr. Whiteside, and serve to cause havoc (and hilarity) than the man himself. Other weird characters human and other) figuring prominently in the drama are twenty Chinese exchange students and a prison chain gang. (Photo by Ira Blaustein)
