

Missing Volumes Sought

Dorm Managers Checking Rooms

Dormitory managers are now checking rooms for library books "which have been missing . . . for a considerable length of time."

Honor council action may be taken against persons caught with long overdue or not checked-out library books in their possession, said Student Body President Bill Harriss.

The searches began Thursday night during the dorm managers' regular rounds and have continued at some dorms since then.

Dorm managers are authorized to inspect all rooms for evidence of damage to the property. Many managers also conduct laundry service in their dorms. The University pays the managers' salaries.

Leaves Paper

Whenever such a book is found, the manager leaves a mimeographed slip of paper with the person. The paper reads:

"Mr. _____, in an attempt to locate a number of undergraduate reference books which have been missing from the Library for a considerable length of time, the dormitory managers have been authorized to check, during their regular period of inspection, for any of the missing reference books.

"One of the above-mentioned books, _____, has been found in your possession and has been removed by the dorm manager. You will be contacted in the near future.

Goldwater Favors Intervention

MESA, Ariz.—Sen. Barry Goldwater said today he would recommend active military intervention in Cuba if all else failed.

The Arizona Republican—who met with President Kennedy Friday in Washington for a briefing—said the United States cannot permit a Communist country to exist so close to its shores.

"As of this morning," he told a Rotary conference, "this country is in greater danger than it has ever been."

Kennedy Wins Ike's Support

CAMP DAVID, Md.—President Kennedy won support from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower Saturday after briefing his White House predecessor on the tense Cuban situation. Kennedy met with Eisenhower in this mountain retreat in an effort to line up bipartisan support for action in the bristling Cuban crisis.

After the meeting, Eisenhower called for all Americans to support Kennedy in the tense international situation.

Taylor To Study Guerrilla Warfare

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy Saturday assigned retired general Maxwell Taylor to review U.S. intelligence and guerrilla warfare capabilities in an obvious follow-up to the ill-fated anti-Castro invasion of Cuba.

The White House said Taylor, former Army chief of staff, was asked to make a speedy government-wide survey and report back to Kennedy within 60 days.

Opera Star James Melton Dies

NEW YORK—Tenor James Melton, 57, former star of opera, concert, movies, radio and television, died Friday night at Roosevelt Hospital of lobar pneumonia after a few days' illness.

Melton had been one of the most popular music personalities ever produced by the United States. Because of his wide activity in the entertainment field, especially in radio in the '30s and '40s, he was probably better known to the American public than any other Metropolitan Opera star of his generation.

ALGIERS SEIZED IN COUP

Khrushchev Claims JFK On 'Dangerous Path'

U.S. Aid To Cuban 'Proved'

Russia Threatens U.S. Bases Abroad

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told President Kennedy Saturday that the United States, in its policy toward Cuba, was following "a slippery and dangerous road which can lead the world to a new world war."

Khrushchev warned in a note to Kennedy that an American attack on Cuba might be followed by a Russian attack on U.S. bases abroad which "menace the security of the Soviet Union."

In Washington, the White House had no comment on the Khrushchev message.

Leader Declares

The Soviet leader declared he had incontrovertible proof that the United States prepared, financed, armed and transported mercenary bands which invaded Cuba.

He said the colonial system is crumbling and becoming a thing of the past and "for its part the Soviet Union is doing everything to expedite the process."

"And of that we are proud!" Khrushchev said.

"You are adopting a very dangerous path," Khrushchev

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV

Knocks Kennedy

told Kennedy in the note handed to U.S. Moscow Charge D'Affaires E. L. Freers. "Ponder that!"

Reply To Stiern Note

Khrushchev's note replied to a sternly worded message from President Kennedy last Tuesday in which the U.S. leader warned Russia the United States would tolerate no outside military intervention in Cuba.

The Soviet Premier, in the note carried by the official Tass news agency, demanded that the United Nations act to halt what he called American "gansterism" in Cuba.

"Now it has been established incontrovertibly," said Khrushchev, "that it was the United States that prepared the intervention, financed, armed and transported the mercenary bands which invaded Cuba."

Khrushchev denied that the Soviet Union seeks any economic or military privileges in Cuba.

Kennedy Denies Russian Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department, speaking on behalf of President Kennedy, retorted swiftly Saturday to an angry message from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on Cuba.

The department announced that Kennedy has decided "not to be drawn into an extended public debate" with the Soviet ruler on details of the Cuban invasion controversy.

But on Kennedy's behalf the department pledged an "endless struggle" for attainment of "fundamental rights" and the "popular will" in Cuba and elsewhere.

Sets Policies

In broad strokes, a formal State Department statement laid down firm U.S. general policies on the Caribbean island.

"We reject," the statement said, "the right of any narrow political grouping or any country to arrogate to itself the power to determine 'the real will of the people.' Khrushchev in his message had challenged Kennedy on U.S. assertions for freedom, saying, 'what freedom do you mean?'"

The U.S. statement, read to reporters by department spokesman Lincoln White, said: "Our answer is simple. This nation was committed at its birth to the proposition that the people of all countries should have the right freely to determine their own future by democratic processes and freely to cooperate with their neighbors."

"The people of the United State Department statement self-determination is fundamental and should apply throughout the world."

Emergency Declared In France

Right-Wing Army Distributes Arms

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles De Gaulle Saturday night declared a national state of emergency and mobilized armed forces to smash an army uprising in Algeria by four generals who seized the capital city of Algiers with foreign legion paratroopers in a pre-dawn coup.

Reports reaching Oran from the blacked-out Algerian capital said the right-wing army units were passing out arms to civilian recruits and armed civilians were manning barricades in the streets in defiance of De Gaulle.

The Gaullist delegate general and Algerian supreme military commander were seized and placed in house arrest.

France Shocked

France was shocked. The coup came just as hopes soared for peace in Algeria.

This was the greatest threat yet to the power of De Gaulle and his Fifth Republic over the issue of his program to end the Algerian Moslem rebellion and give Algeria independence.

At least two bombs exploded in Paris. One injured 10 persons. Police rounded up right-wing officers and civilians known to oppose De Gaulle on Algeria. At least 14 officers were reported under arrest.

100 Arrested

An estimated 100 persons were arrested throughout France.

De Gaulle summoned his Cabinet to emergency session and Algerian Affairs Minister Louis Joxe and Gen. Jean Ollie to Algeria. Their exact whereabouts there were kept secret.

Premier Michel Debre appealed for "absolute obedience" during the state of emergency proclaimed by De Gaulle.

All army, navy and air force leaves were cancelled in the first step of a mobilization in metropolitan France, although most of France's army—500,000 men—is in Algeria.

Umberto Tonight's Cinema

"Umberto D." Vittorio De Sica's treatise on the neglect and loneliness of aged people, will be tonight's Sunday Cinema feature.

This is the study of an old man, alone in the world except for his mongrel dog, and of his attempts to sustain himself and his pet. De Sica has brought to the screen a portrayal of the emotions of the lonely, dignified old man and an illumination of human nature.

Called Milestone

Richard Griffith, Curator of the Museum of Modern Art Film Library has described "Umberto D" as "... one of the 3 or 4 milestones in motion pictures."

The film won the New York Film Critics Award as Best Foreign Film of the Year, the Joseph Burstyn Award, and the David O. Selznick Award.

Showings will be in Carroll Hall at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Student I.D. cards will be checked.

CONFER ON BOREDOM

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI)—There will be a statewide conference on boredom at the University of Georgia May 11-12.

The Georgia Adult Education Council will probe at length into the problem of boredom. There will be a panel discussion at which a psychologist, a sociologist and a philosopher will discuss at length what causes ZZZZ ZZZZ causes ZZZZ ZZZZ.

Harriss Announces New Appointments

Eleven major student government appointments made this week by Student Body President Bill Harriss were announced yesterday.

They are as follows:

Bill Whichard, Academic Affairs Committee. Whichard's group will study courses and class procedures and make recommendations on the improvement of academics.

David Buxton, Elections Board. The board handles supervision of the fall and spring campus elections and any special elections and referendums.

Tony Harrington, Campus Affairs Committee. Searching for solutions to local problems which affect the campus will be the work of this committee.

Henry Mayer, Last Lecture Committee. Last year a program was initiated to allow outstanding faculty members to deliver a lecture, choosing a topic as if it were to be their last lecture. This committee handles selection of the lecturer and publicity for the event.

Bill Straughn, National Student Association. Carolina is one of the leading schools of the NSA program which provides for exchange of ideas among 400 member schools in America. Straughn and his committee will handle Carolina's part in the program.

Group Leadership Subject Of Meet For Counselors

Group leadership will be the main topic of the second Orientation Counselor's meeting tomorrow night in Howell Hall at 7 p.m.

The topic of the Monday night meeting will be introduced by Dr. Hanson Douglass Sessions in a speech on "Group Leadership Training."

Dr. Sessions is an Assistant Professor of Sociology. Also at the meeting Sara Jo Allen, co-ordinator of the Women's Orientation program, will explain the relationship of the Men's and Women's Orientation programs.

It is required that all Men's Orientation counselors attend the meeting. Roll call will be taken.

MIKE DEUTSCH's defense ponders the evidence. Pictured are chief counsel Frank Brown, defendant Deutsch—who was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment—and assistant counsels, Allen Thomas and Sam Booth.

UNC Registration Is Light For Town Election

Registration for the municipal and school board elections was light during the past three Saturdays in the mostly student-populated precincts.

Thirty-five persons had registered by 3:00 yesterday for the city and county elections to be held on May 2, according to Mrs. C. S. Logsdon, precinct three registrar.

The precincts closed at 6:30. About six hundred voters, mostly Victory Village residents, will make up the bulk of the student vote. These voters were registered for the general election last fall.

However, they will be restricted to participation in the school board election since VV is not in the city limits of Chapel Hill.

Yesterday was the final day for registering.

NO VOTE REGISTERED

SOUTHEND, England (UPI)—A court summons was served Friday on paper merchant Robert Mist who had registered himself as voters "Mr. Ginger Mist and Mr. Tiny Tim Mist." British subjects aged over 21.

Deutsch Gets Life In Death Of Star

Student 'Passive' At Verdict; 300 Attend Annual Mock Trial

Student Mike Deutsch was sentenced to life imprisonment early Saturday morning for the first degree murder of Lennie Rosnbluth, UNC cage star, in the Phi Alpha Delta annual mock trial.

Deutsch's face was passive and his hands at his side as the jury returned the verdict shortly after midnight before a packed courtroom of over 300 people.

A motion by the defense to set aside the verdict because of insufficient evidence was overruled by North Carolina Superior court judge, the Honorable George Fountain.

The five-hour trial was highlighted by conflicting testimony from witnesses, a discussion of how to measure love and jealousy and a split jury decision.

A majority rule to prevent a hung jury found nine jurors in favor of first degree murder with a recommendation of life imprisonment and three not in agreement with the verdict.

"Tragic Accident"

The defense argued that Rosnbluth was killed because of an "unfortunate chain of accidents" and that Deutsch did not know the gun was loaded. Buie Costen, presenting the summation, told the jury that Miss Brown was flirtatious and invited the attentions of the ex-star.

The state charged that the accused "because of insane jealousy and a bad temper willfully with premeditation and deliberation murdered Rosnbluth." In his summation, Tom posely chose the loaded gun from Miss Brown, drove to the lanes and shot Rosnbluth.

Witnesses for the state were Joe Mendelson, a senior; coed Jayne Brown, also a senior, and Arthur Pendergraft, detective for the Chapel Hill police department.

Character Witness

Defense offered character witness, Frank Ambrosio, owner of the Dairy Bar, Martha Fried-Starnes said that Deutsch purr-rich and Deutsch himself. The mock trial was presented
