

Today Is Special For Class Of '61

Important Class Meeting Starts Day Of Cuts, Parties, Bowling

Today is "play day" for the seniors. On the day when the University gives June graduates free cuts in honor of four years of struggle and the impending departure, seniors will assemble in Memorial Hall at 10:30 a.m. for an important class meeting. They will elect Mr. and Miss Alumni and the permanent class officers, hear the graduation process explained and receive tickets for the $20 cash prize drawing.

Patio Party

Then comes the Patio party, 2-11 p.m. when seniors dance, eat, drink, gamble (with equipment ordered from Reno, Nevada), enter sports contests and hope for the $20 drawing prize.

Across the street, they will enjoy free shoes and reduced rates at Major League Bowling Lanes.

Thursday brings bare feet and midnight permission for the women (senior coeds). Seniors will attend classes with their long pent-up pinkies (toe type) showing.

Guests of Honor

That night they will be guests of honor at the open-to-all combo dance 8-11 p.m. (midnight for seniors) in the Chapel Hill Merchants Association Parking Lot, corner of Rosemary and Columbia Streets.

There they will find free Cokes and music by the Embers. With the presentation of their ID card to the ticket booth of either theater, seniors will enjoy free flicks after 6 p.m.

Friday it's back to the books and normal living—waiting for the Day of the Diploma.

Junior Picnic Set Saturday

The junior class is holding its annual picnic at Hogan's Lake Saturday, May 13, from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m.

A bus will pick up all prospective picnickers who do not have cars, at 1:15 in Y-Court. The "Picnic Express" will leave Y-Court at 1:30 and circle by the Nurses Dorm to pick up any girls who couldn't make it to Y-Court. The bus will also provide return transportation.

The Hot Nuts combo will be on hand for entertainment and free food and soft drinks will be served. Softball, horseshoes, and other games will be set up for any who wish to participate.

Bermudas are the order of the day, according to Jan Haley, junior class social chairman. Juniors may bring guests, she said.

A new 45-second radioisotope test developed by researchers at the University of California at Los Angeles may be an important aid in diagnosing stroke-producing disorders.

Popular Songstress Here Monday Night

Famed vocal stylist Dakota Staton will appear at 8 p.m. Monday in Memorial Hall under the sponsorship of the GMAB Concert Series.

Students will be admitted free to the performance upon presentation of their ID cards.

The Duke Ambassadors, a musical aggregation from Durham, will accompany the songstress.

Miss Staton's distinctive vocal stylings are sometimes blues-like with an unusual misty quality, sometimes swinging

DAKOTA STATON
... Coming Here

New Apartment Building Rising On Rosemary St.

The off-campus housing problem for students and married couples will be partially alleviated next September when a $1,100,000 apartment house project planned for Chapel Hill will be completed.

Called Town House

The "Town House," as it will be called, will comprise 104 units when complete and will be located at the east end of East Rosemary near Glenburnie Street. The architectural scheme will be Colonial.

Abe Greenberg, principal owner of the project, said, "The apartments will be available to married couples more readily than to single students by dint of their facilities. They will rent for over $100 per month."

Architects

Architects were Benton and Boyte of Charlotte, and local rental agents will be Young and Wilkins Inc.

The apartments will range in size from two to four bedrooms. Some of these will be ready for occupancy by the middle of next September, and the whole project will be finished by spring of 1962.

Two Bathrooms

Each apartment will have two bathrooms and a private balcony. Floors will be oak and all appliances, including garbage disposal, will be provided. All the buildings will be air-conditioned. Laundry rooms and storage space will be provided in the basement of each building for the tenants. A master television antenna will be installed in each building. Natural gas and forced air will be used.

CAN'T BUY IT

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Two cruising police officers watched Leonard L. Mertes, 21, and Jack Lee Stark, 20, force open a side door to a self-service laundry here and then asked the pair what they were up to. "We were just looking for our wives," one of the men answered. Both were booked on suspicion of attempted burglary.

with a light beat. In each performance the Staton sound attempts to create new meaning for familiar lyrics, and to turn old favorites into fresh and exciting musical experiences. A native of Pittsburgh, she began her career at the age of seven, singing before schools and other groups with her two sisters. When the trio was dissolved, Dakota went on as a "single," and quickly received bookings in coast-to-coast night clubs.

Down Beat Award

A Capitol Records star, Miss Staton received the Down Beat Award for "The Most Promising Newcomer of the Year" shortly after her first album "The Late, Late Show" was released. As is customary with all GM events, seating will be on a first-come, first-served basis, and students are urged by the Concert Committee to come early for choice locations.

SHIPMENTS RISE
NEW YORK (UPI)— March shipments of finished steel products direct from the mills rose 19 per cent to 5,046,523 tons from 4,200,000 tons in February, according to the American Iron & Steel Institute. It said the March figure was the highest since August 1960.

Highest Women's Honorary Valkyries Tap Eight Coeds, 2 Honoraries In Secret Early Morning Initiation Rites

UNDINE CAUDLE

SUSAN CORDON

MARY BLAKE GREEN

REBECCA BROWN LEE

LINDA PFAELZER

LEAFY POLLOCK

MARGARET ANN RHYMES

PRISCILLA WYRICK

Leadership, Service Are Qualifications

Eight undergraduates and two honoraries were tapped last night into the Order of the Valkyries, the highest women's honorary for scholarship, leadership, service and character.

Those tapped were: Undine Caudle, junior, Halifax; Mrs. Sally Coe, executive secretary of the Graduate School, Chapel Hill; Susan Cordon, junior, Chapel Hill; Mary Blake Green, senior, Markham, Va.; Rebecca Brown Lee, graduate student, Richmond, Va.; Nursen Menco, junior, Kadilkoy-Istanbul, Turkey; Linda Pfaelzer, senior, Glencoe, Ill.; Leafy Pollock, senior, Kinston; Margaret Ann Rhymes, junior, Hickory; Priscilla Wyrick, junior, Greensboro.

Profound Respect

MISS CAUDLE... "One who has willingly served her dormitory and nursing profession with a quiet efficiency that has inspired her fellow students. She has shown unselfish dedication to her student nurse association and other campus activities. Her keen sense of humor and pleasing personality have brought happiness to many."

Friendship And Respect

Miss Caudle has gained the friendship and respect of those around her by her high ideals, strength of character and sincere understanding which are constantly reflected in her everyday life.

makers and to Sound and Fury can only be labeled outstanding.

"Commanding profound respect and admiration, Miss Cordon has set high ideals and courageously carried them out. She has given her University lasting contributions and has been a joy and inspiration to all who know her."

MISS GREEN... "One whose sensitivity and sincerity are reflected daily in her life by the deep understanding, consideration and love with which she treats her fellow man. As an inspiring leader and follower in her sorority and in Petites Dramatiques, she has tirelessly given of her outstanding talent and enthusiasm.

"While maintaining a commendable scholastic record, Miss Green has broadened her education by her interest in the cultural and intellectual opportunities of this university."

Wisdom, Courage

"Her wisdom, courage and humility have won her the respect and admiration of her fellow students and professors."

MISS LEE... "One whose integrity pervades every area of her life. With understanding born of intelligence, sensitivity, and kindness, she has wholeheartedly contributed to the well-being of the students whom she serves as graduate counselor. Combining clarity of vision with forthright honesty, she has creatively and constructively evaluated our university, participating in its life and generating in others a desire for its excellence. Yet her salient achievements are but a slight indication of the personal qualities which render her a source of strength and inspiration for all who know her."

(Continued on page 3)

Honor System To Be Discussed In Open Meeting

Student government leaders will conduct a public discussion on the need for honor system changes next Tuesday night, May 16, at 7 in Gerrard Hall.

Bill Harriss, President of the student body, announced the meeting yesterday. The idea for the discussion came out of a similar discussion last Thursday night. Chancellor Aycock had left Gerrard after explaining to 300 students his reasons for suspending basketball star Doug Moe.

Free Discussion

Harriss and Dean of Students Charles Henderson stayed after Aycock and carried on a free lance discussion of the Moe case, in specific, and the honor system in general.

Near the end of the discussion Harriss said that there would be an organized meeting within ten days to discuss ways in which Carolina's honor system could be improved.

Meeting Procedure

Parliamentary procedure will be used at the meeting. All persons who wish to have resolutions introduced at the discussion should turn a rough draft into the student government office (second floor, Graham Memorial) by Friday afternoon.

These persons will be instructed how to rewrite their proposed changes into the form of resolutions.

Harriss urged all students to attend. Student government and honor council officers will be present, as will a representative of the Office of Student Affairs.

Infirmary

Students in the infirmary yesterday included Mary Clark, Blad Rand, Horton Jolly, William Plamer, Katherine Tagart, William Moses, John Barr, Glenn Ownes, Richard Zalk, Thomas Hamilton, Barbara Menman, Idele Silsoff, Charles Hobson, Paul Fiddleman, Robert Sherer and Chuck Wrye.

SHIPMENTS RISE

NEW YORK (UPI)— March shipments of finished steel products direct from the mills rose 19 per cent to 5,046,523 tons from 4,200,000 tons in February, according to the American Iron & Steel Institute. It said the March figure was the highest since August 1960.

AROUND THE DEPARTMENTS

News Of The Professors

Charles P. Blich, instructor in the Department of Economics and a UNC graduate student, has been awarded an H. B. Earhart Fellowship for the 1961-62 academic year. The fellowships, in the amount of $2,500, are awarded annually to outstanding students in the field of economics and business administration.

Dr. S. B. Alexander, assistant administrator of the UNC Division of Health Affairs, will be advanced to fellowships in the American College of Physicians at a convention tonight in Miami Beach. This is the highest honor bestowed by the College of Physicians.

Glenn Watkins, assistant professor of music at UNC, will represent the state at the Southeastern Regional Convention of the American Guild of Organists at a meeting tonight in Charlotte.

Harald Bergstrom, professor of mathematics at the Swedish University of Technology at Gothenburg, spoke on "Limit Theorems for Covolutions of Functions of Bounded Variation," concerning probability—the distribution of sums of random variables, at the UNC Statistics Colloquium, Monday, May 8.

Injured Coed's Condition Grave

Katherine Rebecca Rogers, who was injured early Sunday morning in an automobile accident, was reported still in critical condition yesterday afternoon.

Hospital authorities said yesterday that she was in a special care ward. She was described as in "poor condition." Miss Rogers was taken to Memorial Hospital immediately after her accident.

Graduate Student

She is a graduate student in psychology here. She is originally from Atlanta, Ga. The accident happened on Farrington Road in Chapel Hill. The car Miss Rogers was driving is a total loss.

Philip P. Green, Jr., Professor of Public Law and Government in the Institute of Government in Denver April 30-May 6 to conduct a Zoning Roundtable at the 27th annual National Planning Conference of the American Society of Planning Officials.

Intended to make students "sit up and take notice," two UNC professors in the political science department, Earl Wallace and Andrew M. Scott, recently published "Politics U.S.A." The book is a case history of the actions of Huey Long to the campaign techniques of John F. Kennedy.

Ben E. Fountain, Jr., Director of Student Teaching for the School of Education, has written a handbook entitled "Guiding Student Teachers." The book is to be used as a guide for classroom teachers and others cooperating in the supervision of student teachers in the University's student teaching program.

Six UNC faculty members participated in the 58th annual meeting of the N. C. Academy of Science held in conjunction with the Spring Meeting of the N. C. Psychological Assn. May 5 and 6 at N. C. State.

Dr. Arnold Perry, dean of UNC School of Education, will be one of the representatives from Carolina at a three-day session of the University Council for Education Administration in Chicago, now being planned for this fall.

Insects probably outweigh all other animal matter on the land areas of the earth.

It takes the combined efforts of 150,000 insects to make one pound of lac, basis of shellac.

Melodrama Opening Tonight

Playmakers Give 'Great Robbery'

The Gay Nineties run rampant tonight as the "Great Diamond Robbery" opens a five-day run here at the Playmakers Theatre.

The three-act melodrama—the first melodrama produced by the Carolina Playmakers since 1944—with olio, was written by Colonel Edward M. Alfriend and A. C. Wheeler. The play begins at 8 p.m.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets at $1.50 apiece, are available from the Playmakers Business Office, 214 Abernethy Hall, and at Ledbetter-Pickards in Chapel Hill. All seats are reserved.

Leading male and female roles will be played by Susie Cordon of Chapel Hill and Gordon Clark of Verona, N. C. Juvenile leads are Sally Pullen and Larry Steele.

Performing Olio Acts

Performing the olio acts will be Rom Linney, Ben Williamson, Frank Beaver, Jim Thomas, Leilani Thornburg, Barbara Tyroler, Lorenzo Durham and Pritica Koch.

Settings are by Lynn Gault and costumes by Irene Smart Rains. Stage manager is John Meadows. The play was directed by Russell Graves.

WITH HER KNIFE at his throat, Madam Rosenbaum (Cigdon Tankut of Turkey) tells Frank Nennet (Larry Steele of Pennsylvania) to stay out of her way in the Carolina Playmakers production of "The Great Diamond Robbery." The melodrama begins a five-day showing tonight at the Playmakers Theatre here.