Damage, Car Loss Results Of Wreck

Property damage estimated at $1000 and total loss of one car are the results of a wreck involving six UNC men here early Tuesday night.

According to the official accident report, six students, Ben Gallagher, Daniel S. Baan, Phillip Adams, Frank Mackie, John Hegarty and Bill Cooke were in the car at the time of the accident.

Gallagher, tackle on the UNC football team, was driving the car which belonged to Baan. Gallagher and Hegarty, another tackle on the team, are both conned to the infirmary. Cooke, the third injured person in the car, suffered a dislocated hip and a broken arm. Gallagher and Hegarty were described as "bruised."

The wreck occurred on East Franklin Street near its intersection with Boundary Street. "It appeared the driver lost control of the car as it rounded the curve traveling west. It struck a service pole and came to rest in Mr. Collier Cobb's yard, doing damage to some shrubbery," the official report stated.

Traveled 195 Feet

The car traveled 195 feet in the area between the street and the sidewalk before striking the fire hydrant. There has been slight rains earlier in the night causing the pavement to be slippery.

Sergeant Amos Horne of the Chapel Hill Police Department, who investigated the accident, estimated property damage at $1000 plus the value of the car. According to Baan, owner of the car, the collision insurance on the car will pay for all the property damage.

The accident is still under investigation by Sgt. Horne but all indications are that Gallagher will be sent to court on charges of "careless and reckless driving, personal injury and damage to personal property."

Gallagher has not yet been indicted due to the fact that he is in the infirmary and has not been able to report to the police station for further investigation.

No damage was done to the fire hydrant and service pole other than a "slight bend" in the fire hydrant.

The first hour will be devoted to a drill competition between the respective flights which have been practicing over the year in preparation for this event. Various precision drill movements will be featured.

At the conclusion of the exhibition, Lt. Col. Gordon D. Kage, Professor of Air Science, Capt. William E. Moore, Commandant of Cadets, and various cadet staff officers will address the group with an appraisal of the past year's efforts.

During the ceremonies, Cadet-of-the-Month awards will be presented to Cadets George M. Barr and David E. Scobie for the months of April and May respectively.

GOOD OLD CHARLIE

BRIDESTOWE, Eng. (UPI) — "Charlie was magnificent," said the team captain. "We wouldn't have won second if Charlie had stopped to pull them up."

What Charlie Stevens did not pull up were his trousers, during the parish church bell-ringing contest.

TRUSTEES MAY HAVE ANSWER Is De-Emphasis Coming?

A plan to de-emphasize big-time basketball is expected to be presented at a meeting of the Consolidated University of North Carolina trustees next Monday at State College.

The entire athletic situation at both schools will also probably be reviewed by the trustees in their regular May meeting.

Monday, William C. Friday, President of the Consolidated University, met with Chancellor William Aycock of Carolina and Chancellor John Caldwell of State to discuss the report he will make to the Trustees.

After his conference with Aycock and Caldwell, Friday said, "We met for two hours today, but we did not reach any final conclusions. We are going to meet again tomorrow morning."

Beforehand, Friday said they were meeting "to consider the basketball incidents. In these discussions we intend to maintain and protect the honor and integrity of State College and the University at Chapel Hill. We will make a report to the trustees at their meeting Monday."

Sanford Favors Move

Gov. Terry Sanford told a news conference Monday that he feels careful consideration should be given to the possibility of de-emphasizing big-time college basketball.

Sanford, ex-officio chairman of the trustees board was asked if he thought it would be wise to de-emphasize athletics at the three branches of the University.

"I think it would be extremely wise to give careful consideration to the whole problem," Sanford answered. He said one of the things "that should be considered most carefully is the de-emphasis of basketball."

Asked if any "definite action" was planned in connection with basketball de-emphasis, Sanford said he understood a plan will be presented at a meeting of the UNC trustees May 24.

Veteran Wolfpack Coach Everett Case said, "Basketball here has turned into a war. It's time to call a truce." Case has indicated that he felt that North Carolina boys should play on North Carolina teams.

The snowballing basketball scandals spread to State College last weekend when three players were charged with shaving points in four games last season. The disclosure brought to 15 the number of college basketball players involved in point-shaving or game-throwing incidents during this year.

One of them was Lou Brown, Carolina reserve from Jersey City, N. J., who was accused of being a contact man.

Doug Moe of Brooklyn, N. Y., another UNC player, was recently suspended from school for failing to report knowledge of attempted bribery from convicted gambler Aaron Wagman, also of New York.

Comment around the state has varied from complete indignation to fixing the blame with several of the University administrations.

Suggestions for cage-cleaning have included tightening team requirements, higher athletic scholarship requirements, less coddling by administrations, and de-emphasizing university athletics.

The meeting of the trustees will be at 11 a.m. in the State College Union building Monday.

Inter-Racial Group Invited To Movie

An inter-racial audience has been invited to attend a showing of "The Golden Age of Comedy" tomorrow at the Community Church in Chapel Hill. The film has won two academy awards.

The performance will be a benefit for the Chapel Hill Pre-School. Proceeds from the movie will be used by the school for its scholarship fund.

Showings will be at 6:30, 8, and 9:30 p.m. A 75c donation will be collected at the door or tickets may be purchased in advance at Danziger's, The Hollywood Grill, and the M&N in Chapel Hill.

The Co-operative Pre-School was organized in August of 1960 by Chapel Hill parents to give their children pre-school "opportunities in companionship with children without regard to racial, religious, or national backgrounds."

Sponsored by the Community Church and its pastor, the Rev. Charles Jones, the school is supported in part by funds from the Field Foundation.

Enrollment for this year was 27 pupils. Of these 12 are Negro children, 13 white, and one foreign. The staff is also inter-racial. The school has a full program of indoor and outdoor activities and is approved by the State Board of Welfare. Its school year is concurrent with the public school term in the area. Lunch is served and an afternoon program provided for the children of working mothers.

HONEST THIEF

Pieratt's car was stolen Sunday and later found piled up in a ditch.

Tuesday, police received a letter containing the $200 that Pieratt had left in his automobile.

Ray Jefferies Taking Year's Absence To Study Guidance In Grad School

BY M. RUST SHARP

Ray Jefferies will be a student next semester. The Assistant Dean of Student Affairs has been granted a year leave from September 15 to September 1962, and will attend graduate school at Columbia University in New York City.

Jefferies is aiming for a Masters Degree in Guidance and Student Personnel Administration. It involves a full two semesters work carrying 32 hours of credit, although it is possible to complete the work under accelerated conditions in 9 months.

He said he plans to return here and work again in the Division of Student Affairs, though not necessarily in the same position. He has been in his present job for 14 years.

"I need a change and an advanced degree. It will help in the educational field," he said. "I also want to find out what other colleges are doing."

Several Candidates

There are several candidates for Jefferies position as Assistant Dean, but the choice will not be made by Dean Henderson until sometime during the summer.

Jefferies plans to live in Whittier Hall at Columbia, just across the street from the campus.

"I will definitely be here for the majority of Orientation this fall and for Orientation in September, 1962. It's one of the most critical times of the University."

Jefferies said he has completely enjoyed his job and always wants to work with students. He said the Masters will give him a much improved idea of guidance and counseling of students and will afford him the opportunity to look at other colleges at work in the same areas.

Jefferies was the administrative head of last year's freshman Orientation program and gave several talks to the incoming students. He is active on several students committees and is almost always present at the various student and faculty functions.

Joseph Ferrell Heads Di-Phi

Joseph Stevens Ferrell was elected president of the Dialectic and Philanthropic Society for 1961-62 at the recent meeting of the Society.

Other officers elected for next year were Arthur Hayes, president protempore; John Randall, parliamentarian; Ed McCormick, critic; Neal Evans, clerk; Richard Barton, treasurer; and Tony Rogers, sergeant-at-arms.

At the Monday night meeting, the Di-Phi passed a resolution disapproving of the actions of Chancellor Aycock and the Men's Honor Council in the recent Doug Moe case.

It was pointed out that both the Chancellor and the Council have endangered the faculty's respect for the Honor System. Members also said that without that respect the System cannot operate.

The Council, it was suggested, gave the appearance of a "double standard" of justice in its legalistic exonerations of Moe. On the other hand, the Chancellor's refusal to divulge all the information to the Council showed a fundamental distrust in its integrity, which can only have an unfortunate result with the faculty.

The Di-Phi will close the year with a banquet at The Pines Restaurant on Tuesday at 6 p.m. All members have been urged to attend.

Tentative Coalition In Laos

BAN NAMONE, Laos — Emissaries of the Royal Laotian government reached agreement in principle Wednesday with Communist rebel and neutralist representatives for formation of a coalition government.

The agreement broke a deadlock in the truce talks at this village in red-held territory 85 miles north of Vientiane, the Royalist administrative capital.

More Arms To NATO

OTTAWA—President Kennedy Wednesday announced the commitment of additional nuclear weapons to North Atlantic defense forces with a view to eventual multi-lateral control and ownership of a special NATO sea-borne missile force.

Kennedy, speaking before a joint session of the Canadian Parliament, said the United States would commit five—and subsequently still more—Polaris atomic-missile submarines to the NATO command area.

US, Soviet Swap Charges

GENEVA—United States officials accused Russia Wednesday of trying to force a peace plan for Laos that would strip the Southeast Asian Kingdom of the protection of SEATO troops and leave it at the mercy of the Communists.

A sharp East-West disagreement over the veto power—a subject that has stalled many a U. S.-Russian agreement in the past—developed as the two nations presented proposals to the 14-nation conference on the future of Laos for the establishment of an international control commission to police a truce in the neutralized kingdom.

Education Aid Motion Killed In Legislature

Student Legislature defeated 16-15 a resolution to voice approval for President Kennedy's federal aid to education bill in its last meeting of the academic year Tuesday night.

Bill Whichard spoke in favor of the bill, saying that it was the duty of the students to show support for a bill that would affect them and their state.

Voicing disapproval of the bill were Bill Criswell and Arthur Hays. Criswell said, in effect, that the students had no business in dealing with problems of an off-campus scope, and would do better to stick to campus matters. Hays noted that the Congressional bill was unfamiliar to the student legislators and partly for that reason should be voted down.

In other action, the body voted to appropriate $1 for each married student living in Victory Village to the Village Board of Aldermen. The appropriation would total approximately $500.

Seven dollars was appropriated to buy the Rules Committee a ledger to keep a continuous record of legislative absences and their excuses. A list of Summer School Student Government presidential appointments were approved by the body.
