Nasser's UAR Collapses

BEIRUT, Lebanon-President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic collapsed Friday.

Syria declared its independence from the union with Egypt after a lightning revolution and set up a civilian transitional government to rule until a parliament can be named in free elections. Nasser halted all military operations against Syria in a tacit aomis-

The rebels' victory was so swift and so complete that Jor'lan immediately recognized the new Syrian government and pledged "unlimited support." Other Arab nations jealous of Nasser's power were expected to follow suit. Turkey also recognized Syria.
