

'The Rainmaker' In Making Now

"The Rainmaker" is in the making in Murphy Hall as six members of the cast practice there week nightly. The Petite Dramatique production will play in Gerrard Hall October 27, 28 and 29.

Director Kermit Ewing, Jr. has cast all seven parts except one, H. C. Curry, father of the Curry family.

Betty Oliver will appear as Liz-zie Curry, the only female in the "delightful romantic comedy." Betty, a junior transfer from West-hampton College acknowledges "Life!" as her special interest. She has had no previous acting experience in her hometown, Bayside, Va.

A graduate student Kenton R. Kyle will portray Noah Curry. Kyle appeared two summer in the "Lost Colony" and had numerous roles in plays at his under-graduate alma mater, Berea Col-lege, Berea, Ky. He is from a Shinnston, W. Va. and is a RTVMP major here.

A freshman, Bill Maynard, Jr. from Lenoir, N. C. will become Jim Currie in the play. Maynard has had previous acting experience and plans to be a RTVMP major also.

The rainmaker, Bill Starbuck will be played by George A. Gray, III, a freshman from Gas-tonia, N. C. Gray has done three shows with the Little Theater there and terms their current undertaking, "Pajama Game" directed by his father an "ex-ceptional" production. Gray, III notes his special interests are creative writing and drama.

Sheriff Thomas, a non-family member will be performed by Lar-ry Waltz.

Church Key

The BSU is holding a work party for the community today. Any person having possible work to be done round the house, etc., may call the BSU Center anytime today and students will be sent to the scene. Proceeds paid to the workers go to LISTEN, the mis-sionary program of BSU.

Guest speaker for Layman's Day at Orange Methodist Church to-morrow will be Dr. R. B. House, former chancellor of the Univer-sity. Services begin at 11 a.m.

WELL MOUNTED — Three TV cameramen feverishly shoot President John F. Kennedy's picture from their vantage points as he spoke Thursday in Kenan Stadium. They, along with the rest of the 225 members of the press corps, got Carolina's "usual red carpet reception" when they came here to cover Kennedy's speech. In 1959 when President James Buchanan was the commencement speaker here, the 22-man press corps was almost ignored. No one made any arrangements for them. (Photo by Jim Wallace.)

Race Opens For Fall Election November 7

Freshman, sophomore and junior class officers plus eight members of the Women's Honor Council will be elected in the fall election, Nov. 7.

Anyone wishing to run for a class office may seek nomination by the Student Party or the University Party.

Anyone wishing to run independent of a party may do so by presenting a petition of 25 signatures to Dave Buxton, Elections Board Chairman.

The Women's Council is the judicial body which tries all cases involving violations of the Honor Code and Campus Code by women students.

It is composed of women students elected biannually from geo-graphically apportioned districts, according to the location of their living residences.

The judicial districts are: Judicial District I—Alderman, Spencer, Kenan and McIver; Judicial District II—Carr, Nurses' Dorm, Whitehead and Smith; and Judicial District III—Sorority Houses and town residences.

The available positions are: District I—one year seat and one six-month seat; District II—one year seat and one six-month seat, and District III—one year seat and three six-month seats.

If a senior receives the majority votes in her district, she will assume only a six-month seat.

Any woman student interested in running for a position on the Council must be interviewed by the Bi-Partisan Elections Board. This committee will endorse all candidates it considers worthy of its support.

The scheduled interview times are October 16-18 from 7 to 9 p.m. and October 19 from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

Interviews will be held in the Council Room on second floor of Graham Memorial and applicants must sign up for one October 15 on a schedule to be posted on the door of that room.

Positions are also open for clerical and Attorney General Staff work. They will be filled on appointment by Bill Harriss, student body president.

Attorney General Staff members investigate all facts, question all witnesses, examine all material and present an impartial account of each case to the Council. The clerks take notes during the trial.

Interviews for these positions will be announced in the DTH.

JFK 'Far From Convinced' To Ship Troops To Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Presi-dent Kennedy met for 90 minutes Friday with his top policy advisers to discuss the Berlin crisis and presumably the question of whether U.S. troops should be rushed to South Viet Nam.

The President's session with his National Security Council came amid reports that he was "far from convinced" that American troops should be sent into South Viet Nam's mounting battle with communist guerrillas.

It also coincided with a Pei-ping Radio report, heard in Tokyo, that Ho Chi Minh, com-munist chief of North Viet Nam, met Red China's top leaders in Peking Thursday night, pre-sumably to discuss U.S. efforts to halt the communist tide in South Viet Nam.

Until now, Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh diem has taken the positions that his forces could handle the Red threat. But the commu-nists have built up their forces until, as Kennedy said in his recent U.N. speech, they are fight-ing at battalion strength.

As usual, there were no an-nouncements of proceedings at the Security Council meeting. But the President is understood to be weighing conflicting advice on the actions that the United States should take in South Viet Nam.

He is confronted with the prob-lem of whether to commit Ameri-can forces to a dogged fight in the far eastern jungles as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev con-tinues his unyielding stand on Berlin.

The argument over whether use of U.S. troops should be considered undoubtedly was a big reason for the President's decision to send Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to Saigon this weekend for conferences with Diem.

Taylor, who leaves Sunday on his fact-finding mission, will be ac-companied by Walt W. Rostow, the President's special assistant for national security. Some 10 other State and Defense Department of-ficials will be in the party.

Rostow was reported to have urged consideration of stronger measures in South Viet Nam, in-cluding the dispatch of U.S. com-bat troops as reserve force.

Neither Secretary of State Dean Rusk nor Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has joined Rostow's side of the still informal debate, according to a reliable source.

Opponents of immediate inter-vention argue that talk of sending American troops is premature be-cause measures to strengthen South Viet Nam's own defense forces are only now beginning to go into effect.

America Protests To Soviets

BERLIN (UPI) — Com-munist police pinned down five U.S. Army MP's and 14 West Berlin police with a barrage of machinegun and rifle bullets early Friday and opened fire across the border again Friday night. The United States protested to the So-viets in strong terms.

The first shooting incident came in predawn darkness when the Communist police (Vopos) fired an estimated 250 to 300 shots at nine East Berlin refugees who crashed their way to freedom in the Ameri-can sector by ramming a barbed wire barrier with a truck.

When the American and West Berlin police arrived on the scene the Communists cut loose with several more volleys. No one was hit but the incident was regarded as grave because American soldiers were involved directly.

Friday night West German police reported that Vopos firing at two more escaping refugees fired 10 to 15 shots into the French sector of West Berlin. German police said the shots came so close to them they might have been aimed.

An American spokesman said the United States had formally pro-tested to the Soviet commandant in Berlin over the recent East Ger-man shooting incidents which have endangered the lives of West Ber-liners and the Western Allies as well.

Society Sponsors 'L'Atalante' Film Monday Evening

Jean Vigo's "L'Atalante" will be shown Monday evening to UNC-Chapel Hill Film Society members as the second feature film in the fall-winter series of classic and experimental motion pictures.

Photographed by Boris Kaufman and directed by Vigo from a scen-ario by Jean Guinee, "L'Atalante" was produced in 1934 and starred Dita Parlo, Jean Daste and Michel Simon, with other roles played by Louis Lefebvre, Gilles Margaritis, Maurice Gilles and Raya Diligent.

Michel Simon's portrayal of Pere Jules has been ranked as among the greatest characters ever created on the screen by any actor or director.

It is the story of a newly married couple who start their life to-gether on a barge, "L'Atalante," and ends with their reunion and reconciliation after she has run away from the barge and her self-centered, jealous husband to dis-cover the glamorous city life in Paris of which she has dreamed so long.

A short will accompany the fea-ture and both will be shown in Carroll Hall starting at 8 p.m. A small number of memberships to the Society are still available.

Because of the interest in the "Operations Abolition" showing and discussion on campus Monday night, the Cine Club of the Film Society will not meet after the showing of "L'Atalante" but will resume operations on November 6.

RATHER SWEEP STREETS

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (UPI)—The luxury liner Queen Elizabeth departed for New York Thursday with nine of its headwaiters.

The headwaiters walked off the ship in a huff when they were ordered to move from first-class to tourist dining rooms.

"We would rather sweep roads than be sent to work in the tourist section," one of them declared.

Bond Issue Handbill Circulated In Kenan

The State Affairs Committee distributed 600 circulars in Kenan Stadium prior to the President's speech. The handbills, asking North Carolina voters to support the coming educational bond issue, were circulated to the University Day crowd by 11 girls under the direction of Joe Routh.

The group plans to distribute similar circulars at the Tennessee game just before the election.

The committee, directed by co-chairmen Larry McDevitt and Tom White, is working in co-ordination with the Students Committee for a Better North Carolina. These committees plan to reach as many people as possible before the election to show the interest of the students in improving North Carolina education.

Other North Carolina schools are initiating post card campaigns, newspaper support, radio and tele-vision programs and telephone marathons in support of the bond issue.

French Program To Begin Tuesday

The Alliance Francaise of Chapel Hill will open a new season with a musical program Tuesday at 8 p.m. in room 80 Peabody Hall.

Miss Margo Harris will sing a group of French songs, accompanied at the piano by Walter Golde. The Chapel Hill Alliance, one of more than 100 clubs in the United States, is composed of people whose common ground is an interest in France and who desire to speak French among themselves. An ability to speak some French is the only condition for membership.

The group meets monthly, offers a current library of French books and periodicals, sponsors a Mardi Gras Ball annually, and provides a Teacher Scholarship for summer study in France. Miss Marian Leath, recipient of the 1961 award, will speak briefly at the Tuesday meeting.

Yackety Yack Contest Lacks Beauties—Deadline Sunday

Bolling Puller has urged all dorms, sororities, fraternities and campus organizations to get their entry in for the 1962 Yackety Yack beauty contest by the deadline, Sunday.

Last year there were over a hundred entrants, but thus far this year there are less than half that number entered.

As many as six contestants may be sponsored by an organization, and each contestant's name must be accompanied by a $7 entry fee.

Application blanks may be obtained in the Yack Office in the basement of Graham Memorial and must be returned to Miss Puller, 210 Pittsboro St.

Any Carolina coed is eligible to enter the competition, except those who have already been in a Yack Beauty Court. She cannot sponsor herself.

The contest itself will be held in Memorial Hall at 7 p.m., Monday, Oct. 23. Entrants will wear formal gowns.

The master of ceremonies and judges will be prominent local personages.

Sharon Cates, 1961 Yack Beauty Queen sponsored by Thi Della Theta, will crown the new queen.

The contest is open to the campus, and Miss Puller urges all students to come.

YACKING BEAUTIES. Four Carolina misses, Sophia Pike, Mary Townsend, Fran Brock, and Van Oatts (left to right) discuss the Yack Beauty Contest next week. These and other contestants must have their application forms turned in by tomorrow in order to pit their charms against each other in the annual contest.
