Exam Schedule

By action of the faculty, the time of an examination may not be changed after it has been fixed in the schedule. Quizzes are not to be given in this semester on or after Monday, January 15, 1961.

The Official Class Roll and Grade Report will be prepared by the Data Processing Section and forwarded to the departments prior to the examination period. As in the past, the original copy will be returned to the Office of Records and Registration, the second copy (canary) is to be retained by the department, and the third copy (goldenrod) is to be kept by the instructor.

Grade reports are to be handed in to the department office within 72 hours after the scheduled time of the final examination. The department chairman shall be responsible for recording receipt of each grade report (the Form DR-1 may be used for this) and for forwarding it promptly to the Office of Records and Registration. In unusual cases, if it is clearly needed, an extension of the time limit, preferably not to exceed 48 hours, may be approved by the department chairman or the dean of the school concerned. The Office of Records and Registration must be given notice of the delay. (Faculty Council, May 6, 1960.) Machine processing of grades makes it urgent that all grades be turned in on time.

All permits to take examinations to remove grades of "Exc. Abs." or "Cond." must be secured from the Office of Records and Registration prior to the exam. No students may be excused from a scheduled examination except by the University Infirmary in case of illness or by his Dean in case of any other emergency compelling his absence.

Bluebelle Capt. Once At UNC

The captain of the ketch Bluebelle, which mysteriously sank in the Atlantic recently, was once a UNC student.

Officers said Julian Harvey killed himself in Miami November 17 after survivor Terry Jo Duperrault, 11, was found alive. Harvey attended the University here from 1938 to 1940, completing two years of study. He left after his sophomore year.

Terry Jo's parents, brother and sister went down with the Bluebelle. Harvey's wife also died.

The eleven-year-old girl saved herself by clinging to a life boat until rescued by a ship. She told the Coast Guard she saw Harvey abandon the ship, leaving her on the blood-stained deck and the bodies of her mother and brother in the cabin below.

IFC PASSES DEFERRED RUSH

Varsity To Permit Limited Integration

Policy Effective Today

The Varsity Theater will follow the Carolina Theater's lead and begin admitting Negro students attending the University. The limited integration will become effective immediately.

The board of directors of H. B. Meiselman Theaters Inc., which owns the Varsity, met in Charlotte Friday and approved the new policy.

As at the Carolina, Negro students will be required to show identification cards at the box office.

The Chapel Hill Committee for Open Movies has been picketing the Varsity nightly for about two weeks.

Mrs. Evangeline Darity, chairman of the Committee, said a special meeting of the executive committee would be called for tomorrow afternoon. She said picketing would continue, at least until the executive committee meets.

Andy Gutierrez, manager of the Varsity, said one of the Meiselman corporation's major stockholders had just returned from Europe, making it possible for the meeting to be called.

Officers of the corporation and Mr. Gutierrez had told the Committee for Open Movies on several occasions that a decision could not be made until the stockholder in Europe returned.

The corporation directors did not take any note of the picketing at their meeting. Mr. Gutierrez said their decision was based on what has been community acceptance of integration in other areas and the experience of limited integration at the Carolina. Mr. Gutierrez said business at the Varsity had not been affected by the picketing.

There was no indication as to what affect the new admissions policy would have on picketing. When the Committee for Open Movies voted to begin picketing the Varsity, no specific goal was announced. Some sentiment was expressed in favor of continuing picketing until the Varsity had taken a step beyond the Carolina in integrating. At the time, there was also strong sentiment for picketing both theaters. The Committee has called for complete integration at both theaters by the time students at the University return from Christmas.

Josh White

Friday At 8:00 P.M.

GM To Present Josh White

Josh White, acclaimed by many as one of the greatest folk singers of this generation, will appear in Memorial Hall Friday at 8 p.m. Admission to the performance will be $1.

Tickets will be sold only to the capacity of the Hall, so a ticket will assure a seat. White is a Graham Memorial presentation. Tickets may be purchased at the information desk of Graham Memorial or at Kemp's.

Josh White reputedly is known throughout the western world as a perceptive artist and a versatile craftsman who can "electrify a sophisticated audience while retaining the power and simplicity of traditional singing," according to GM. His voice has a quality that is "as intimate as a caress."

"His accompanying guitar is sensuous and brilliant," said GM officials. "His feeling for phrasing is flawless."

White was born to a young Negro preacher and his wife in Greenville, South Carolina, and christened Joshua Daniel White in honor of the biblical warrior.

Josh is now on a concert tour across the United States. "The gracious man with one foot on a chair, facing the microphone with eyes closed and a frown of deep concentration on his face, is beloved by millions of Americans."

His songs are still "the people's songs, given life with deeply felt sincerity, biting cynicism, or bland impudence," said the GM statement.

White will appear at the upcoming World's Fair at Seattle, Washington.

ALUMNI REPLACE CONFEDERATES

1st Carolina Inn In 1857

By CHUCK MOONEY

It's one of the four Duncan-Hines restaurants in Chapel Hill but it first established its reputation for good food just after the Civil War. It's the Carolina Inn. The first building was built in 1924 by John Sprunt Hill; the first one was built in 1857 by Richard J. Ashe.

Carolina Alumni gather there now replacing the Confederate veterans who used to meet by the Ashe hearth — drinking, singing, battle songs and reveling in tales from Chancellorsville to Appomattox.

Named for Alumni

The rooms in Civil War days were reserved and named after members of the Ashe family; now they're named after the UNC Alumni who stay there most often.

There are small plaques over the doors featuring names like: "The Morehead-Morrison Suite," "The favorite of Uncle Mott and Fred Morrison, a member of the O. Max Gardner law firm in Washington, D. C."

"The McKnight Room," 237, is usually reserved for Dr. Roy McKnight, retired Charlotte surgeon and former University Trustee, who has taken the DTH regularly since 1910.

Football Fan

"The William Room," 220, named for Macon Williams of Lenoir, who hasn't missed a Carolina home football game in 25 years.

Inn Donated Hill and his family donated the Inn to UNC in 1935, long after it had started serving students and faculty members, on the condition that its income go to the library and the North Carolina Collection.

Under University management the Inn has been remodeled several times since and now contains 128 rooms, 12 two and one-half room apartments, lobby, parlors, dining room, cafeteria, ballroom and function rooms. It provides parking, one-day laundry and valet service and a catering service for small or large affairs.

Stage-coach travelers first praised the atmosphere and service of the Inn, built at the crossing of the stage-coach post-roads from Richmond to Pittsboro and New Bern to Salem in 1857.

'Star of Bethlehem'

"Star of Bethlehem," the most cherished of all Morehead Planetarium presentations, will open tomorrow night at 8:30. It will be given through January 8.

For the 13th consecutive Christmas season, the solemnity and beauty of the Biblical pageantry of the Birth of Jesus will be presented in what is probably the largest single production by any planetarium in all the world. Noted author and newspaperman Burke Davis says "Star of Bethlehem" has become "the state's most popular Christmas scene, aside from the family tree."

"In no other planetarium could such a magnificent show be given, for none other has such ample space for such sumptuous colorful sets which complement

Passes By 19-3 Margin

By Joe DeBlasio

The IFC passed its controversial one-semester deferred rush amendment last night at their regularly scheduled meeting in Gardner Hall.

The resolution, scheduled to be enacted at the beginning of the year 1964-65 was passed by a vote of 19-3 with two houses absent. The required two-thirds majority of 16 houses was met and the amendment now replaces the present rushing articles of the IFC by-laws.

The motion was tabled at the last meeting because of indecision over the date of enactment. Those houses who asked that the amendment be put up from 1963-64 to 1964-65, claimed that it would allow more time for adjustment. The amendment to the motion was passed after discussion.

Most of the opposition to the amendment, proposed by a ten-man Deferred Rush Committee, was simple opposition to deferred rush itself. Sevier and his committee were given official congratulations by the IFC as a body for their work.

This vote eliminates 12 weeks run of proposals and questions which led to the final vote. After deciding that the IFC could use its discretion in cases involving extenuating circumstances, the section involving penalties was passed.

The inception of the idea for deferred rush was formulated at the Southern Pines IFC-Faculty Conference in May of last year. At this time the members of the IFC discovered the faculty was contemplating deferred rush action if the freshman academic standing did not rise.

Since the administration is largely governed by the suggestions of the Faculty Committee on Fraternities and Sororities, the IFC passed a motion favoring deferred rush last Spring and formed the committee to draw up a suitable amendment.
