Power Line Struggle Ending With First Route Seen Final

By EARL MOORE
The controversy over the route of a power line which is to feed the University's plant on Cameron Avenue is rapidly ending.

The 100,000 volt loop transmission line, to be installed by Duke Power Company in the Morgan Creek area, has been a topic of discussion for Morgan Creek landowners, for nearly a year.

At a recent meeting of a Duke Power attorney, the Board of Aldermen, and a number of interested citizens, many alternate routes were suggested but refused by the Power Company.

engineer of the State Utilities Commission which indicated this solution would not be feasible.

The only problems remaining in the matter are Duke Power's condemnation suits pressing for rights-of-way. These are expected to be "ironed" out by appraisers appointed by the Orange Superior Court.

Duke Power's attorney, W. I. Ward, said his company's main objection to the alternate routes was that they ran through property more developed than the Morgan Creek route.

Attorney Ward said that power lines caused little if any property damage and rarely led to depreciation in property value. Mayor Sandy McClamroch added that Duke Power did avoid homes wherever possible.

When questioned about the possibility of underground construction Ward answered that the Morgan Creek line would cost about $60,000 as planned and approximately ten times that if laid underground.

Not Feasible
The possibilities of laying an underground line were discussed, but Gordon Battle, an attorney for Morgan Creek landowners, presented information released by an

Maintain Uniqueness
Pearson Stewart, spokesman for the landowners, explained that his reason for suggesting alternate routes was to maintain the "unique character of Morgan Creek valley." He said it is a valley of rare beauty and unusual vegetation.

Faculty Committee To Study Off-Campus Housing Here

OFF-CAMPUS HOUSING, such as the house shown above at 140 E. Rosemary St., is the subject of study by a new faculty committee. The committee will work in co-operation with Chapel Hill realtors in an attempt to study some of the housing problems of the more than 2,000 UNC students who live off-campus. The committee may also establish a set of minimum standards for off-campus living units. The Rosemary Street house shown above is occupied by over 10 UNC students and is similar to the many student living quarters on Rosemary Street and in the surrounding area on the other side of Franklin Street from the campus.

Group May Set Standards For Town Housing

A University faculty committee, with the cooperation of the Chapel Hill Board of Realtors, is initiating a study of off-campus housing in the Chapel Hill area in order to insure adequate housing standards for Carolina students who live off-campus.

Dean of Student Affairs Charles Henderson stated that a faculty committee was appointed last February to investigate the problems of off-campus housing.

He added that although the school has no standards for off-campus dwellings, the University health and safety of the 2,125 students who live in town.

Standards established will be derived partly from studies conducted by the American College Health Association. However, these standards may be altered to comply with conditions that are peculiar to Chapel Hill.

Health Association Standards
Maximum recommendations by the American College Health Association include adequate electrical outlets, a bed with a firm and even mattress, a dresser with four drawers, at least ten square feet of closet space, non-combustible waste basket and individual towel rack.

Other important recommendations of basic requirements are entrance and exit ways which are safe from fire hazards, accommodations conducive to conditions of study and adequate toilet facilities.

According to those national standards for non-institutionally-owned student housing the minimum width of a room is seven feet, with at least 70 square feet of floor space for each individual.

Enrollment Rise
Since World War II the University has experienced an unprecedented rise in student enrollment. The University has made efforts to provide adequate housing for the influx of students, but many have been obliged to seek housing in buildings other than those maintained by the University. Dean Henderson said much of this problem will be eliminated by the completion of the three men's dormitories.

8 Campus Groups To Seek Support From Chest Fund

Representatives from 8 different organizations will appear before a meeting of the Campus Chest Advisory Board tonight for the purpose of gaining financial support for their activities from the Campus Chest.

Seeking to gain support will be: The National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students, the World University Service, the American Friends Service, the International Students Board, the Heart Association of Buncombe County, the Cross Roads Africa Organization, and the Political Science Department (in order to establish an internship at the U.N.) along with Memorial Hospital (for research on Mental Health).

Reds Intercept Belgian Plane

ISTANBUL, Turkey — A Belgian jet airliner with 27 persons aboard was intercepted by Soviet Mig jet fighters Monday along the Soviet-Turkish border and forced to land at Yerevan, capital of Soviet Armenia, official sources reported. One American was reported aboard.

There was no word on whether the Soviet Migs had opened fire on the French-built Caravelle which was flying erratically with a defective radio compass on an 850-mile flight from Tehran to Istanbul. Soviet planes opened fire on two U. S. Air Force planes in that area in 1958.

In Moscow, Belgian Embassy officials said they were trying to win the release of the crewmen and passengers but had received no word from the Soviet foreign ministry and expected none before Tuesday morning.

27 Feared Dead In Shipwreck

DOVER, England — The 2,811-ton Yugoslav freighter Sabac collided in the fog-shrouded English Channel last midnight with a British freighter twice its size and sank with the feared loss of 27 lives.

As darkness fell Monday night 38 survivors of the Sabac, one of them seriously injured, were reported safe in England and France. The bodies of 16 were picked up from the icy channel-waters and 11 other men were listed as missing and feared dead.

Argentina Presents Cuban Proposals

WASHINGTON — Argentina has presented to the United States three draft proposals for collective action against Cuba at the Jan. 22 inter-American foreign ministers conference, it was learned Monday.

The proposals call for:
— Condemnation of Cuba's Communist ties.
— A plea by the Organization of American States (OAS) to Premier Fidel Castro's regime to renounce those ties and rejoin the inter-American community.

— Consideration of possible sanctions if Cuba refuses to sever its Communist links.

Assassination Try Denounced

JAKARTA — Angry Indonesians Monday denounced an attempted assassination of President Sukarno as a Dutch plot to break the spirit of the people.

The incident intensified the bitterness in the dispute with the Netherlands over West Irian Dutch New Guinea which Sukarno has pledged to take by force if necessary.

The government said three persons, including a child, were killed and 28 persons were injured when a hand grenade burst 150 yards behind Sukarno's car Sunday night as the president drove to an auditorium for an anti-Dutch speech in the Celebes city of Makassar. Sukarno escaped unharmed.

New Clinical Research Unit Initiated At School Of Medicine For Studies And Care

A new Clinical Research Unit was activated at the School of Medicine yesterday and the first of a number of scheduled patients will arrive today.

The new unit was made possible by a grant, in late 1960, from the National Institutes of Health of the U. S. Public Health Service.

The initial grant, which covers a seven-year period and involves a total budget of almost $900,000 for the first three years, makes it possible to carry out meticulous research studies while providing high quality care to patients with a wide variety of disorders.

One of First
The UNC School of Medicine was one of the first schools in the nation to receive a grant for this type of research facility. The first such grants, in 1960, went to 18 leading medical institutions throughout the United States, and the Chapel Hill school was among this number.

The Research Unit here is a 10-bed facility located on the fifth floor of the South Wing of North Carolina Memorial Hospital. This arrangement was made possible when the Department of Psychiatry voluntarily agreed to relinquish the space for this purpose until a more permanent location for the unit is available.

The Unit is directed by Dr. Walter Hollander Jr., associate professor of Medicine, and Dr. Robert Zeppa, assistant professor of surgery, both of whom are Markle Scholars in Medical Science.

Under them is a special staff which includes nursing, dietary and laboratory personnel, but as the Unit is an integral part of N. C. Memorial Hospital, all personnel are also members of the regular hospital staff.

Wide Variety
Dr. Hollander discussed the manner in which the new unit will operate:

"Every member of the medical faculty who is on the attending staff of Memorial Hospital will be privileged to use the new clinical Research Unit. The purpose of the unit is to facilitate a wide variety of clinical research projects and is, in no sense, intended for the use of any particular group or department.

The unit is controlled by a special committee of the Medical Faculty appointed by Dean Reece Berryhill and headed by Dr. Louis G. Welt. This committee determines policies for the unit and reviews all projects proposed for study on the unit. After a project has the committee's approval, suitable patients to whom the nature of the study has been fully explained will be admitted to the unit on a voluntary basis. While on the unit such patients will not be charged for any aspect of their hospitalization or medical care."

IDC Court Bars 3 Students From All UNC Housing

Three students were removed from all University housing until the spring semester of 1962-63 by the Inter-Dormitory Council last week.

The students were charged with violation of quiet hours by engaging in a water fight with a fire extinguisher. Three other students who had also engaged in the fight were placed on Dormitory Probation until spring semester 1962-63.

The Court removed two other students from Mangum Dorm to other dorms. The first, charged with making excessive noise during quiet hours, was issued an official reprimand. The second student was charged with violation of quiet hours after repeated warnings.

Exam Schedule

By action of the faculty, the time of an examination may not be changed after it has been fixed in the schedule. Quizzes are not to be given in this semester on or after Monday, January 15, 1962.

The Official Class Roll and Grade Report will be prepared by the Data Processing Section and forwarded to the departments prior to the examination period. As in the past, the original copy will be returned to the Office of Records and Registration, the second copy (canary) is to be retained by the department, and the third copy (greenrod) is to be kept by the instructor.

Grade reports are to be handed in to the department office within 72 hours after the scheduled time of the final examination. The department chairman shall be responsible for recording receipt of each grade report (the Form DR-1 may be used for this) and for forwarding it promptly to the Office of Records and Registration. In unusual cases, if it is clearly needed, an extension of the time limit, preferably not to exceed 48 hours, may be approved by the department chairman or the dean of the school concerned. The Office of Records and Registration must be given notice of the delay. (Faculty Council, May 6, 1960.) Machine processing of grades makes it urgent that all grades be turned in on time.

All permits to take examinations to remove grades of "Exc. Abs." or "Cond." must be secured from the Office of Records and Registration prior to the exam. No students may be excused from a scheduled examination except by the University Infirmary in case of illness or by his Dean in case of any other emergency compelling his absence.

In case of a conflict, the regularly scheduled exam will take precedence over the common exam. (Common exams are indicated by an asterisk.)

Radio Expands In 35,000-Watt Rise

High quality broadcasts via frequency modulation radio became available this week to 1,500,000 North Carolina people living within 100 miles of Chapel Hill.

A boost in wattage, from 15,000 to 50,000, made possible by a new transmission system — a $20,000 gift by Merck, Sharpe, Dohme Drug Co. — brings state-of-the-art broadcasting programs of superior cultural and public-service value to North Carolinians.

Owners of FM sets may tune in at 91.5 on the radio dial. Some of the best programs from over the world are available. British Broadcasting System (BBC) musical, lecture and other events will be heard, as well as network programs from Canada, France and Israel. The United Nations Radio ties into WUNC.

"Dutch Light Music"

An outstanding program on Tuesday evenings is "Dutch Light Music" at 7:15. On Wednesdays at 10:30 p.m. "Some Come to Sing," a folk music program featuring local talent will regularly be heard.

WUNC radio is the student workshop of students majoring in radio, television and motion pictures. To receive frequency modulation broadcasts from Chapel Hill, owners of conventional radio sets must have them equipped with special FM apparatus, or may purchase FM sets.

Merck Contribution

The new WUNC antenna has been installed at the top of the 825-foot WUNC-TV tower on Terrell's mountain, seven miles west of Chapel Hill and 1500 feet above average terrain level. The pharmaceutical firm of Merck, Sharpe, and Dohme contributed equipment expenses and paid for the costs incurred in the changing of transmitter sites. WUNC in Durham gave the station a microwave transmitter and receiver set which allows WUNC to send their signal from the Swain Hall offices on the campus to the Terrell mountain site without the use of telephone wires.

WUNC programs will be received in these cities along the 100-mile periphery: Kannapolis, Concord, Lumberton, Kinston, Greenville, Elizabeth City, Roanoke Rapids, Emporia, Va., Martinsville, Va., and other North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia cities.

Perfect Conditions

When conditions are perfect, the non-commercial educational station will be picked up in cities outside the 100-mile radius, such as Charlotte, Statesville, New Bern, Washington, Roanoke and Lynchburg, Va.

WUNC is operated by the Department of Radio, Television and Motion Pictures of which Earl Wynn is chairman. Dr. Robert Hilliard, assistant professor in the department, is the director of radio. The station is staffed entirely by students, about 45 of them, with

Balladier Sandy Moffett Stars In New Playmakers Production

By GORDON CLARK
An all-student, all-male cast of 15 will be seen tomorrow night when "Renegade" opens at the Playmakers Theatre for a five-night run. The war drama was written by former UNC student Carl Hinrichs.

Sandy Moffett of Taylorsville is one of the students in "Renegade." A senior, Moffett plays Sgt. Vincent Fletcher, a guitar-playing balladier who takes part in the action of the play and serves as a "narrator-in-song" for the drama.

Born in Kiangyan, China, the son of a missionary, Sandy has been playing the guitar since he was 13 years old.

"The folk song is America's greatest contribution to music," he says.

Dorm Advisor

At present a history major and dormitory adviser at UNC, he will enter graduate school here this spring to major in dramatic art.

"Theatre is the most exciting thing I've ever worked in," Sandy says. "I want to teach it—to communicate some of the excitement I've found in it."

He has appeared in several Carolina Playmakers productions, including "The Great Diamond Robbery," "Wishing for the War to Cease" and "The Curious Savage."

He is the author of "Dark Morning," produced by the Playmakers here last summer, and he directed the recent Student Theatre Workshop production of "Bury the Dead." This summer Sandy plans to work in one of the state's outdoor dramas.

Steele, McMullen
Among the other students in "Renegade" are UNC soccer player Larry Steele and former half-back Larry McMullen.

Tickets for "Renegade" are available at the Playmakers Business Office, 214 Abernethy Hall (next to the Scuttlebutt), and at Ledbetter-Pickard for $1.50 each. All seats are reserved. Curtain time for the production is 8:30 each evening.
