Astronaut's Shot Is Delayed Again

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's planned attempt to launch astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. on a three-orbit flight around the globe next Tuesday has been postponed for at least one more day, it was reported here Tuesday.

It also was learned that there was a chance of an even longer delay—"possibly three or four days, depending upon what we learn between now and then," one official close to the program said.

It was the sixth delay in less than two months for the Glenn flight, the free world's first manned orbital voyage around the world.

Rusk Urges US To Support Bonds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Congress Tuesday it would be a "political catastrophe" for both the United Nations and the United States if this country failed to back the $200 million U. N. bond issue.

Referring especially to U. N. peace efforts in the Congo, he also said this was no time "for the United Nations to falter or for the United States to falter in what the U. N. is trying to do." He called for strengthening the U. N. machinery.

Rusk appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as it opened hearings on President Kennedy's request for authority to buy up to one-half of the forthcoming U. N. bond issue. U. N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson testifies Wednesday.

Some Critical Reaction

The secretary ran into some critical reaction from Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., who wants Congress to postpone action until the

New Movement To Fight Reds Has Started

MIAMI (UPI) — A new continental anti-Communist movement pledged to military action to halt Red penetration and influence in the hemisphere has resulted from the Punta del Este conference, Cuban exile leader Jose Miro Cardona told a news conference here Tuesday.

Miro said top men in seven Latin-American nations, ranging from Costa Rica to Argentina, had declared themselves in on the fight against Communism in the New World. One is a president and three are former presidents, he said.

Castro Official Killed

Miro's statement coincided with underground reports from Havana that a Castro official had been assassinated and two Cuban rebels secretly executed by Castro firing squads.

Travelers from Cuba said unidentified gunmen shot down Castro war crimes tribunal Judge Lt. (jg) Agustin Rumbaut in Santiago last Sunday. Rumbaut, 32, was said to have sentenced four Americans and 17 Cubans to death during his service with military tribunals.

He was reported to have been buried in Havana Monday and his death labelled an "accident."

Terrorists Bomb French Ship

ALGIERS (UPI)—Terrorists believed to be from the Secret Army Organization OAS bombed a steamship carrying French riot police Tuesday and struck with bombs and bullets across Algeria in defiance of President Charles de Gaulle's pledge to wipe out the OAS.

At least 19 persons were killed and nine others wounded in a new day of terrorism by rightwing settlers fighting to keep Algeria French and by Moslems battling for independence. The new casualties raised the toll since Jan. 1 to 672 killed and 1,120 wounded.

Four persons—including an 8-year-old boy and his father, a woman and a police officer—were killed in the port of Bone when a bomb exploded aboard the steamer Ville de Bordeaux, about to sail for Marseille with a unit of riot police.

Several other persons were wounded, two of them seriously in the ship explosion, which paralleled one in Bone harbor two weeks ago aboard a vessel that also was taking riot police back to the French mainland.

GM Sponsors Summer Trip To Europe

Spend 55 days in Europe on your own!

Graham Memorial will sponsor a chartered flight to Europe this summer. The ALITALIA DC-8 jet flight will depart from New York for London on June 5 and will return to New York on August 1. Round-trip fare will be only $300, a savings of $146.

During their stay in Europe, students will be responsible for their own arrangements for travel, work or entertainment.

To be eligible, participants must be regularly enrolled, full-time students at UNC and must have been enrolled in the first semester of this academic year.

Reservations, including $150 deposit, must be made by March 1. The flight will be confirmed or cancelled depending upon the number of students signed up at that time. Deposits will not be refundable and the balance of the payment will be due on or before March 31.

Reservations may be made now at the Information Desk in Graham Memorial.

France Speeds Plans For Talks With Rebels

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle Tuesday night speeded plans for early resumption of secret peace talks with Algerian Moslem rebels in the face of new Moslem-European terrorism in Algeria.

De Gaulle conferred for more than an hour with Premier Michel Debre and other top ministers following his expression of "positive hope" in a broadcast speech Monday night that peace in Algeria was in sight.

Government sources said they discussed the Algerian situation and plans to crush any attempted violence by the terrorist rightwing Secret Army Organization OAS, which is fighting to keep Algeria French.

Calls Cabinet Meeting

De Gaulle scheduled a full cabinet meeting Wednesday and officials said all indications are he is determined to speed up peace talks as much as possible.

Speed also appeared to be the keynote in Tunis, where Algerian rebel government sources said peace talks with France are likely to be resumed "in the very near future."

One reason for speed was the continuing terrorism that brought new shootings, bombings and knifings in Algeria and kept tanks and heavy forces of riot troops poised in Paris to crush any OAS attempt at violence in the capital.

Bomb Kills Four

In Algeria, a bomb exploded aboard the steamer Ville de Bordeaux as it prepared to leave the eastern port of Bone with a company of riot police bound for France. Four persons were killed and a number of others wounded in the blast.

Four other persons were killed in rapid-fire attacks by gunmen in Algiers. Other terrorist attacks in Algerian towns and cities sent the toll in Moslem-European violence since Jan. 1 to more than 670 killed and more than 1,100 wounded.

Senate OKs School Aid Bill

Final Approval Now Up To House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate drove toward a final vote Tuesday on President Kennedy's $2.67 billion college aid program after rejecting an effort to tack on federal assistance for public grade and high schools.

The public school aid amendment, sponsored by Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., was defeated by voice vote. The action removed a threat that the college measure would become entangled in the religious controversy which scuttled Kennedy's public school aid proposals last year.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., floor manager of the college bill, urged the Senate to reject what he termed "crippling amendments" no matter how laudatory their purpose. He warned that approval of the public school amendment would doom all education legislation in the House this year.

The Senate also defeated a move to replace Kennedy's proposal for 212,500 scholarships, costing $924 million, with a much more modest expansion of a student loan program. The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, was defeated on a 50 to 37 roll call vote.

The lawmakers defeated 61-28 another proposal to finance educational facilities by giving states $455 million a year in federal cigarette taxes.

The college measure would authorize $1.5 billion in loans for college classroom construction, the $924 million for four-year scholarships to needy and talented students and $250 million in grants to community and public colleges.

Both public and private colleges would be eligible for aid but no funds could be used to build chapels or classrooms for teaching religion.

Kennedy did not request the community college help in his school proposals last year or in his new education message Tuesday. But the administration accepted the feature.

The House has approved a $1.5 billion college measure carrying only the construction funds.

Kennedy has requested a separate $2.1 billion program of grants to public grade and high schools for classroom construction and teachers' salaries. The measure was scheduled last year in a controversy over efforts to include private and church-supported schools, and the outlook is no brighter this year.

RIGHT DOWN THE MIDDLE—A three or four lane street going through the center of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity House has been made a part of Chapel Hill's Major Thoroughfare Plan.

Street Plan May Evict KA's

A major Chapel Hill thoroughfare, three or four lanes wide, may be constructed through the center of the KA fraternity house in little fraternity court, if the proposal is approved by the State Highway Commission.

However, there is no immediate danger to the KA house or other fraternity property. The proposed street is part of the long-range Thoroughfare Plan of the Chapel Hill-Carrboro area and is not likely to be begun soon.

The street would carry most of the traffic now traveling on Columbia Street to and from U. S. 15-501.

The plan has been approved by the Carrboro Board of Commissioners and the Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen. It has been sent to the State Highway Commission for its approval, before engineering plans are started.

Also included in the plan is a major street running through Battle Park behind the Forest theater. A wall or other type of barricade will be placed in front of the Old Well on Cameron Ave. Columbia St. will be widened until it hits Raleigh Road and South Columbia will be terminated near the Hospital in a large circular cul-de-sac.

The Battle Park Street will effect no developed property of the University, but it will go through the Crocker Estate. The blockade in front of Old Well is being planned at the University's request to close Cameron to through traffic, and to keep the parking spaces off Cameron open.

Widening the portion of Columbia Street will put the dirt sidewalk running beside Peabody Hall behind the stone wall, running parallel with the street. It is also expected to take a corner off the DKE property, but will not endanger the fraternity house, itself. The fraternity property street

Early Steel Talks Urged By Goldberg

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg speaking on behalf of President Kennedy, urged the nation's steel companies and steel workers Tuesday to begin contract negotiations early in order to avoid disruptive stockpiling or a crippling strike.

In identical telegrams to the heads of the major steel firms and President David J. McDonald of the Steelworkers Union, Goldberg said the public interest required an early and non-inflationary settlement. Steel contracts expire June 30 and negotiations normally begin in May.

But the secretary asked the companies and the union to start contract talks "as soon as practicable." Under normal circumstances, he said, the government would not make such a request.

"But these are not normal circumstances," he said. "There are compelling reasons for such a proposal at this time."

Goldberg said steel users already are beginning to stockpile inventories because of fears of a strike. Because of this stockpiling, a settlement would cause a cutback in steel buying and result in higher unemployment, he said.

Such a development would disrupt the nation's current "vigorous economic recovery," the secretary warned.

Robert Kennedy Receives Cheers Of Japanese

TOKYO (UPI)—A small band of Communists tried to shout down Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy during a discussion on democracy at Waseda University Tuesday but his refusal to submit to the heckling brought cheers from thousands of other Japanese students.

Only a few hours before, Kennedy sat cross-legged on a straw mat, drinking milk and tea and munching on a hotdog while a student who participated in the anti-American demonstrations in 1960 explained how small cadres of hard-core Communists take advantage of well-meaning students in Japan.

"I understand," Kennedy told the student who took part in the riots which led to the cancellation of ex-President Eisenhower's visit. Kennedy noted that similar tactics are employed by the Communists in other parts of the world. He was given a practical demonstration of the tactics by a small group of students at Waseda, one of the biggest private universities in Japan.

Jeered and Heckled

They jeered and heckled him and apparently sabotaged the public address system in the attempt to disrupt the scheduled one-hour discussion between Kennedy and the students.

One of the hecklers, 21-year-old Yuzo Tachiya, practically took over the meeting before he was hustled struggling from the stage by school officials. Someone slapped him on the side of the head when he was forced behind the curtain.

Kennedy had invited Tachiya onto the stage to ask a question. But the student pulled out a lengthy prepared questionnaire and read it while Kennedy held the microphone for him.

After Tachiya had completed reading, the public address system went dead and Kennedy's reply could not be heard by the 1,200 students jammed into the auditorium. Kennedy got hold of a battery-powered megaphone, however, and delivered an eight-minute lecture on democracy.
