New Left Greet Soviet Students At 2-Hour Party

Twelve Visitors
Staying On Campus

Twelve Russian students began their stay on the Carolina campus yesterday by sharing vodka and caviar with the New Left Club at an informal party given in the visitors' honor.

New Left member Nick Bateson said that about 30 Carolina students attended the two hour party that was deliberately kept informal so as to make the visitors feel at home.

"Only three of the Russians spoke English," Bateson said, "so most of our conversation was through interpreters."

Gail Robinson Is Commander Of AF Angels

Gail Robinson has been named as Angel Flight Commander for Area B-2 of the Arnold Air Society.

The Arnold Air Society is an extra-curricular organization of outstanding Air Force ROTC cadets, and the Angel Flight is an auxiliary of the Society and composed of coeds who perform such duties as serving as hostesses at AFROT social functions.

Miss Robinson was named at the annual convocation of the Society held at State College on Mar. 16 and 17. UNC was named Angel Flight headquarters for the B-2 area at the convocation.

There were representatives from six of the seven colleges in the area, and these included N. C. State, UNC, East Carolina, North Carolina A. & T. College, Duke University, and the University of Virginia.

A banquet was held on Friday night with Chaplain Howell G. Guin as guest speaker. His subject was "What is freedom and what is the basis for it?"

Eyewitness Says

Jets Lost Power

NEW YORK (UPI) — An eyewitness said Wednesday an American Airlines plane which crashed, killing 95 persons, March 1 appeared to lose power on all four jets while making a sharp noise-reducing turn that one pilot questioned on safety grounds.

The testimony came in the second day of a Civil Aeronautics Board CAB public hearing. The hearing is investigating the crash of the Boeing 707 into Jamaica Bay shortly after takeoff.

The eyewitness was Thomas G. Erdman, a flight engineer for United Airlines. He said the doomed plane seemed to stall. But so far the hearing has turned up no concrete evidence as to what caused the crash.

Convict Loses Road Gang

By GARRY BLANCHARD

Chapel Hill police got a phone call from a prisoner Tuesday afternoon. He told officers that he had lost his road gang and wanted to know if the police would help him find it.

Patrolman Albert Brinkley said "Sure," took down the prisoner's location, and dispatched a car. A short time later the car pulled up, the prisoner hopped in, and the patrolman was in search for the missing road gang.

Soon the patrolman spotted the gang at a new location, and the prisoner and the rest of his crew were tearfully reunited. It was whether on-the-spot inspection should be allowed in any nuclear test ban agreement.

Kennedy said there is solid conflict on this.

He was asked if this country had offered to withdraw its demand for on-the-spot inspection rights inside the Soviet Union as essential to a treaty. Kennedy responded with a flat no.

JFK Says Summit Must Continue On

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy said Wednesday that the cold war conference at Geneva should go on even though "basic differences" between the United States and Russia persist.

"I am not prepared to abandon it," Kennedy said of the 17-nation meeting on disarmament. "It would be a mistake for us to feel that . . . the prospects are finished."

The President expressed his view at his news conference where a questioner commented that for practical purposes the discussions at Geneva are deadlocked on disarmament and other issues such as Berlin.

Kennedy acknowledged a basic difference between the United States and Russia on the question of whether on-the-spot inspections should be allowed in any nuclear test ban agreement.

Kennedy said there is solid conflict on this.

He was asked if this country had offered to withdraw its demand for on-the-spot inspection rights inside the Soviet Union as essential to a treaty. Kennedy responded with a flat no.

On another cold war development, the President welcomed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's offer to try to work out cooperation between the United States and Russia on space projects.

Kennedy said that Francis Plimpton, U. S. representative on the U. N. Outer Space Committee has been told to arrange early discussions with the Russians on the prospects. He announced that Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator for the National Aeronautics & Space Administration, has been directed to "take the lead . . . in subsequent technical talks."

Broadcast On TV
The news conference was carried live on television and radio. Other highlights included:

—The President said he saw no disagreement between himself and Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., over U. S. policies concerning the United Nations. Jackson said in a speech Tuesday that the United States might be relying too much on the United Nations to the detriment of NATO and the Atlantic community. There is no conflict between the U. N. and free world.

Wheless-Allen Debate Is Set In Cobb At 10

SP Candidate Says
Phelps Is Invited

SP presidential candidate Dwight Wheless said yesterday that he would not invite independent candidate Larry Phelps to participate in a debate between him (Wheless) and UP candidate Inman Allen scheduled for 10 tonight in Cobb basement.

"Independent Phelps is late in his challenge," Wheless said. "We will not have time to debate Phelps at Cobb at the time scheduled. Our schedule was drawn up nearly a week ago and it would be nearly impossible to work anything in at this late date."

"I will, however, talk with Phelps," Wheless stated, "and see if a time can be arranged."

Phelps challenged Wheless and Allen Wednesday to include him in the debate that was then scheduled for Wednesday night. He then stated that he and running mate John Salter wished to debate on national issues as well as campus issues.

Wheless concluded his statement yesterday by saying that he felt that any candidate who thought a debate was important would have made a challenge before five days before the election.

Allen Welcomes Phelps To Join Action Tonight

UP presidential candidate Inman Allen said yesterday that he would be glad to include independent Larry Phelps in the debate scheduled between Allen and SP candidate Dwight Wheless tonight in Cobb basement.

He then stated, however, that since the original challenge had come from Wheless, it was Wheless's decision as to whether or not Phelps should be included in the debate.

"Like Larry Phelps," he said, "the first that we knew of the debate was on Tuesday morning when I read in the DTI that I had been challenged by Wheless to a debate Wednesday night in Gerrard Hall."

"Later that day," he stated, "I was informed that the debate would be held in Cobb Thursday rather than in Gerrard. We are looking forward to this opportunity for a discussion of the issues."

Concerning Phelps' challenge, Allen stated that he thought that each presidential candidate should be allowed to express his views.

"I would have no objections to having Phelps join the debate with Dwight and myself Thursday night," he said.

"The decision, however, is Wheless's."

Editorial Debate On Tap For 8:30

DTH editorial candidates will debate tonight at 8:30 p.m. in Cobb dorm basement. Co-editorial aspirants Jim Clotfelter and Chuck Wrye accepted Ernest Stepp's challenge to talk on the editorial responsibilities.

French Troops Hit

OAS Fort With Fire

ALGIERS (UPI) — French security troops Wednesday pounded a Secret Army Organization (OAS) stronghold with heavy cannonfire and fired machineguns from armored cars to halt rampaging European mobs bent on wrecking the cease-fire in Algiers and Oran.

In the western port of Oran, French mobile gendarmes routed OAS commandoes in a two hour battle to capture an OAS pirate radio transmitter. Other gendarmes poured machine-gun fire into grenade-throwing youths in the port city.

At least 18 persons were killed and 21 wounded in violence throughout Algeria Wednesday. This raised the total casualties since Monday's cease-fire to 146 dead and 137 injured. A total of 1,905 have been killed and 3,604 wounded since Jan. 1.

At least six persons were killed in the bitter Oran street fighting. These included five gendarmes and one European demonstrator.

Six Europeans were wounded.

Order Of The Grail Inducts 13 In Early Morning Rites

Thirteen students were initiated into the Order of the Grail, highest undergraduate men's honorary, ceremonies early this morning.

The new Knights are: Hugh Inman Allen, Atlanta, Ga.; Edward Norman Graham, Elkins, Anthony Stephen Harrington, Taylorsville; William Carl Imes, Birchdale, Minn.; James Nelson Irvine, Lookout Mt.; Richard Harvey King, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Larry Stephen McDevitt, Asheville.

Also: William Ross Sullivan,

Allen Vinroot, Charlotte; John Knoxville, Tenn.; Scott Earnest Summers II, Morganton; Richard Bruce Welch, Asheville; Grant Walton Wheeler, Needham, Mass.; Dwight Hernard Wheless, High Point.

The thirteen new Knights were selected by the Order on the basis of leadership, truth, courage and service.

Established in 1920, the Order of the Grail was formed both as an honorary and as a force to work for unity on the campus. The founders of the Order felt that growing antagonism between dormitory and fraternity men was impairing the effectiveness of united campus efforts.

The membership is still divided between dormitory and fraternity men in an attempt to bring both factions together to find solutions to campus problems.

This year the Order has sponsored a number of activities in an attempt to bring the groups closer together, including a pre-Christmas holiday basketball tournament, campus-wide dances and the annual Grail-Mural sports jamboree.

Dorm Change: Ruffin Won't House Frosh

Grimes dormitory, instead of Ruffin, will be used next year as an experimental, all-freshman dorm, Assistant Dean of Student Affairs, William G. Long announced yesterday.

After a lengthy investigation which resulted from a petition from Ruffin residents, Grimes was picked because less people will be affected by the change. The investigation revealed that almost twice as many Ruffin residents would have had to move as compared with those that will be displaced from Grimes.

Because of their location, Ruffin and Grimes are the only dorms on campus that could be considered for the change since "we want to conduct the experiment under the best possible control conditions."

Ruffin will be designated a quiet dorm and is expected to be used as an experimental dorm by the IDC using the 103 of the present residents who intend to live there again next year. Dean Long said, "I'd like to extend congratulations to Ruffin men for the gentlemanly manner they have made their protests and petitions."

He said that the president of Grimes had been notified and that all possible efforts will be made to accommodate the men that must be moved. If they wish, they may remain in the upper quad and roommates may be kept.

The final dormitory plan is to have Ehringhaus and Grimes as a four-class dorm.

Argentina Is Threatened By Strike

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Followers of ousted dictator Juan D. Peron threatened a 24-hour nationwide general strike Wednesday as President Arturo Frondizi sought to build a civilian-military coalition government to end Argentina's weeklong political crisis.

The pro-Peronist labor organization "The 62" — a 62-union group controlling at least 1½ million workers — said the walkout would start at midnight Thursday. It would protest the government's annulment of election gains won by Peronist candidates last Sunday.

The armed forces and government promptly girded for possible action.

There were reports Frondizi would ask industry in general to accept a financial moratorium until the banks reopen, which may not be until next Monday. A bank moratorium already is in effect on all due payments by check draft or promissory notes.

Meanwhile, Frondizi worked on the final selection of a military-civilian government, the price set by the armed forces as a prime condition for his continuance in the presidency.

Frondizi yielded to military pressure early Wednesday to end the political crisis. Following the sweeping Peronist victories in Sunday's parliamentary elections, the government had intervened to nullify the results. Argentina's constitution provides for intervention in cases where the government is threatened by disorders.

Palace sources said the President's new government would be built along business rather than political lines. It was doubted Frondizi would bring in many, if any, members of the chief opposition, the People's Radical party.
