Offices in Graham Memorial

See Edits, Page Two

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1962

Complete UPI Wire Service

Campus Votes In Clotfelter, Wrye, And Lawler

McGee States Faith Vital To American Leadership

The central fact that must be seen before, he stated, made these so deeply that they have forgotten white world. Gale McGee told a Symposium make up for lost time. audience of about 1400 persons last "The history of these times," he cans to accept if they are to pro- in a way that we can scarcely night, is that what is taking place said, "will be called the history vide world leadership. in the world today would be taking of the era of independence-not of "We must face the obviousunderstood about the political revo- people feel that they had been their faith in what we believe." lutions in the world today, Sen. cheated and gave them a desire to He then stated the four concepts the world by World War II and as though we believe what we say fects our image in the rest of the are different." We have to undertheir acquaintanceship with Ameri- about freedom, and attacked the world. And we dare not forget that that he considers vital for Ameri- of the world are desperately poor place if there had never been any the struggle between freedom and most of the world is non-white. The race issue in America must be The liberation of the peoples of McGee stated that we must act considered in the light that it af-

"We must remember that people stand, he said, the various culcan riches that they had never extremists in America who "fear we are seeking to lead in a non-tures of man, and we cannot expect them to arbitrarily adopt our

"The people of most of the rest comprehend." McGee then cited a number of examples of world poverty such as a Congo chieftain whose annual income is about $20.

"The people of the world are in a desperate hurry," he stated as the fourth concept. "They don't intend to work out studious rationalizations for their actions. They intend only to make up for lost time in a hurry."

"These people hold the hand of the medicine on one side and the tail of a rocket on the other. They want to pull the two together-

In conclusion, the senior senator from Wyoming said that America needs less hypocrisy. "The people must accept the harsh realities, and the leaders must tell the people what they do not like to beer cans and furniture in Ay- for his research in the fields of cock's TV room is now in the comparative philosophy and relihands of the Interdormitory Coun- gions. cil, George Strong, assistant in the He has contributed to the "Adoffice of student affairs, reported

"There was no dorm damage," 26, 1961. Strong said, "and we don't want The only damage was a broken address this evening. room." Strong also said that he has done well considering what whose research on the thyroid hor- and arranged the contents to emthey have to work with.

pus police, declined to comment on

JIM CLOTFELTER and Chuck Wrye, new DTH Co-editors.

-(Photo by Jim Wallace) dent Party win.

By LLOYD LITTLE

symposium program:

Run-Off Election Completes Voting

television, are creating, and will -Revolutions in ourselves as a during the Italian Renaissance and Seldes, first director of the Uni-the arts now.

ten to catch up."

inertia."

Student Party candidates made a clean sweep of the run-off elections yesterday when Mike Lawler was elected Vice President of the Student Body, and Chuck Wrye and Jim Clotfelter were elected Co-editors of the Daily Tar Heel.

Lawler won over Larry McDevitt by 227 votes giving him 54 per cent of the total votes cast.

Wrye and Clotfelter defeated Ernest Stepp 1543 to 1167.

Lawler carried a majority of the dorm votes while McDevitt carried a majority of the town men votes. Clotfelter and Wrye carried both the dorms and the town men's dis-

Several hundred students turned out for the ballot counting at Graham Memorial last night, and several victory parties were held off campus to celebrate the Stu-

Seldes, Grierson Point Out

MIKE LAWLER

result of, Grierson said, "a con-berg School of Communications, was not overly optimistic in present changes concerning the "quality in the way in which we receive

Nothing Immortal Now

al, enters our personal lives every day," he said. "I'm not at all sure that we're creating anything immortal and lasting, except perhaps a few silent movies and per-

"Science makes a jump every five years and it takes the mind

He spoke of the "dangers in not knowing what the needs of the public really are and the danger of creating dullness, deadness and

Hypocritical Snobbery

"Entertainment, almost perpetu-

Campus Briefs

The NSA committee will meet today at 5 p.m. on the second floor of Graham Memorial.

The Carolina Women's Council will meet tonight at 6:30 in the Grail Room in Graham Memorial.

The ASPA wil meet tonight at 8.

Carolina Forum The Carolina Forum will meet Friday at 4 p.m. in Roland Parker I. Committee members have been asked to be present.

American Field Service The American Field Service will meet tonight at 6:30 on the second floor of Lenoir Hall.

Business Manager Interviews

Interviews for business manager of the Carolina Handbook and for business manager trainees for the DTH, the Yack and the Quarterly 2:00 P.M. Carroll Hall will be held Friday at 3 p.m. in the Woodhouse Room of Graham Memorial. The Handbook business manager will receive a salary of $100 and should be able to start immediate-

Speech Copies

Copies of the speeches delivered by the featured speakers of the Carolina Symposium may be obtained by writing to The Carolina Symposium, Box 6, or by leaving word at the Symposium office, located on the 2nd floor of the YMCA bldg. A charge of $1.50 per copy will be made. All of the speeches will be included in the book, which will be published as soon as possible after the final lecture on Thursday night.

Colby Eight Singers

THE COLBY EIGHT, nine boys singing south during spring vacation from Colby College, Maine, yesterday harmonized modern jazz in barbershop style to Chios at lunch time. The group, called a double octet, last week sang at several schools in Maryland and are going to Duke today with tentative plans to sing at the Saddle Club in Durham tonight.

Symposium Schedule

Wednesday Afternoon, April 4

Panel Discussion: Africa

Moderator-Guy Johnson, Professor of Anthropology and

Panel: Udo Oton, Information Officer, Nigerian Consulate

George Houser, Executive Director, American Committee on

Tartt Bell, Executive Secretary, American Friends Service chair not belonging in the TV

Committee 4:00 P.M. Carroll Hall

Address: Latin America

Dr. George I. Blanksten, Professor of Political Science,

Northwestern University

SOCIAL AND SCIENTIFIC REVOLUTIONS Wednesday Night, April 4

8:00 P.M. Memorial Hall

Dr. Huston Smith, Professor of Philosophy, Massachusetts

Institute of Technology

Dr. Samuel Kirkwood, Biochemist, University of Minnesota the case other than that it was out Reception immediately following address in Graham Memorial

Social, Scientific Revolutions Are Tonight's Topics 3 'Revolutions In The Arts'

Dr. Huston Smith, professor of philosophy at MIT, and Dr. Samuel Kirkwood, Biochemist at the Arts" are happening today, art -Revolutions in how the artist stant bombardment on our mine U. of Minnesota, will speak at the critics Gilbert Seldes and John expresses himself-for instance, the by the expanding images and new Symposium tonight on "Social and Grierson said in Tuesday night's arrival of perspective in paintings realities." Scientific Revolutions."

Their speeches will be centered around the relative social and scientific changes responsible for the "development of the Post-Modern Mind and a new view of reality."

Travels In The East

Dr. Smith, who is author of "The Religions of Man," has traveled widely and has spent much of his The case involving the litter of Southeast Asia collecting materials ventures of the Mind" series in UNC "The Saturday Evening Post" in an article which appeared August

Dr. Smith will arrive this morning and spend the day visiting

Previous Visit Here

On the same program with Dr. was misquoted in the DTH yester- "Scientific Revolutions" by Dr. day with regard to his statements Samuel Kirkwood, Biochemist from the University of Tennessee and concerning the magnitude of the the University of Minnesota. A at Princeton University before damage and the fact that the IDC native Canadian, Dr. Kirkwood, coming to Chapel Hill has chosen Arthur Beaumont, chief of cam- Chapel Hill previously as a lec- scientific and humanistic.

campus until Thursday morning.

On Apartheid

-Revolutions in electronic com- more recently, the change to ab- versity of Pennsylvania's Annenmunication, as seen in films and stract from realism. Hardison Publishes Work On Criticism

Three basic "Revolutions in the create, changes in art.

The New York publishing house American criticism. of Appleton-Century-Crofts has an- Two of the selections are trans- haps some jazz music."

lection of basic documents in the bane Mallarme. to make an example of Aycock. classes and the campus before his history of Continental literary criticism since Kant. Included in the > sian critics. Dr. Hardison, who taught at nounced the publication of a ma- lated in Dr. Hardison's book for Seldes asked, "What good are jor work by O. B. Hardison Jr., the first time-those of Andre Bre- they (new methods of communicaassociate professor of English at ton and Charles Maurras - and tion) doing for us? We know we three others are in new transla- have incalculable instruments of Entitled "Modern Continental tions especially commissioned for communication and we wonder Literary Criticism," the 352-page this text-those by Theophile Gau- how to use them.' paperbound book presents a col- tier, Charles Baudelaire and Step-

Other important authors whose anthology are selections by major tinental Literary Criticism" inwork is included in "Modern Con-French, German, Italian and Rus-cludes Schelling, Schiller, Goethe, Emile Zola, Karl Marx and Fried. rich Engels, Tolstoy, Henry Bergson, Nietzche, Freud, Jung and Jean-Paul Sartre. The new book is being publishmone and metabolism have gained phasize three principal phases of ed in the paperbound series of national recognition, has visited Continental criticism - aethetic, Goldentree Books and is priced at its good." about $2.75.

Continental criticism - aesthetic, Dr. Hardison, who received his petual need to preach against ig-Dr. Kirkwood will arrive at UNC | Each selection is introduced by B.A. and M.A. degree from UNC, norance and suggested this is one on Tuesday and will remain on the a headnote which indicates the joined the faculty there in 1957 area where the new "engines of historical importance of the critic after taking his Ph.D. degree a communication" could make sigand his work in English and year earlier at Wisconsin.

sow and Dr. John Sedgwick Jr.

Mr. Gussow was more limiting:

rather than the artist.

"We have to get over a kind of snobbery," Seldes said. "The snobbery of saying it's only good if 'we, the civilized minority,' say The critic said there is a per-

One real revolutionary phenomenon, said Seldes, has been the arrival of the American school of painting and it is recognized in Europe as a legitimate new school, The second speaker, John Grierson, chairman of the Scottish Government Television said, the basic source of change in the arts lies in the changes in society, "as speaking at the Art Symposium new economic forces and widening yesterday afternoon. Mr. Gussow, horizons establish new habits of "An artist has enough trouble art instructor at State College, was thought and new values among without worrying about his audi- speaking in answer to audience men; and as these, in turn sugimages of beauty.' The discussion between Mr. Gus-

Realities Affect Art "This bombardment of new got off to a lively start as Dr. realities certainly affects our own Sedgwick expressed the opinion perspectives and our sense of apthat we are not in the middle of preciation. There will, of course, be a revolution in the arts-at least some pessimism-the problem of not a clearly defined one. Speaking aesthetic harmony. mostly in respect to painters, Dr. "This results in such psychologi-

Sedgwick went on to say that not cal problems as exemplifed by the since the New York School of the 'beat' in America and the conflict 1940's has there been anything in of the individual and the corpora-America close to a revolution in tion man-all marks of much that is personally unresolved in our experiences. not since the period of 1905-1915 "This certainly affects the arts, has America had a revolution in but I don't think this pessimism is art. Frank Lloyd Wright and others lasting," Grierson said. "Because just prior to the first World War there is the one final measurement comprised the only real new per- that all artists eventually come back to: human destiny.' Furthermore, Mr. Gussow did not He used this same concern of think people would be able to recog- the artist with human destiny as nize a revolution if they saw it. the reason for disagreeing with Dr. This brought sharp questions from Crane Brinton, opening symposium the audience of some 150. It was speaker. Grierson said he did not at this time that Mr. Gussow went think that "former aesthetic revoon to express himself on com- lutions will be dispossessed by munication in art. He stated that later revolutions."

it was the responsibility of the Arts Are In The Present audience to take the active part However, he added, "We can adin the communication process mire the old arts but we must (Continued on page 3)

Beatniks' Beards Burned By Panel

By LINDA BYSER

A trio of writers singed the beatniks' beards and literary efforts headed for the real fire in future literature during a symposium panel discussion on writing Tuesday afternoon, No current vital revolution exists in literature said John Aldridge, critic and author from Hollins College. This is a period of consolidation and refinement in literary works, he noted. Undercurrents of revolution were detected by panelist Andrew Lytle, editor of the Sewanee Review who observes certain things are always recurring. "This perpetual experience that is always true is called archetype." Archetypal writing is a possibility for the future he predicts. "Give it human characteristics", he says, "because its got to resemble human beings".

No Poetry Revolution Poet Charles Eaton of Chapel Hill noted "no signs of any revolution of great vitality" in poetry. He sides with the hopefuls in writing rather than the complaints, he said. Vernacular writing of Eliot and Pound has become too colloquial he thinks. Beatniks don't say anything new to Eaton. The Beatnik movement is not a revolution but a symptom of a terrible fatigue to him. "What they say has been said so much better before. It is like the flux of the mind spewing forth. The beat style is characterized by four letter words for shock and a main theme of sexual eccentricity," he said.

magnificent to recreate a revolution in writing, he suggests.

End Of Realist Novel The difference between Bohemians and Beatniks is the long hair has fallen to the lower part of the face, Aldridge observed. The modern age is in a constant state of revolution he said but there is a distinction between the truly vital revolutions and the beat or angry young men movements.

The realist novel is done for, Lytle noted. Nothing can be added to it. Writers deal more and more in myth now, he said.

The problem of envisioning experience without falling into stereotyped cliches faces the novelist now, stated Aldridge.

Personal Revolution Is Vital The personal revolution is more important than the social revolution in writing Eaton noted. "The writer has got to fall back on himself and make a world he can live in with dignity. The writer's problem is how to keep an integrated life. He cannot always blame his culture or his mama and daddy," he said. To what extent can social values become dramatic values? Aldridge answered that the decline in social values make it necessary for authors to shift from the social world to the per- work to the mass taste to gain sonal world and create characters to whom certain things will have certain value. The char-Revive the lofty brave and acters would then stand out against society.

Resist Mass Taste The writers advocated that authors too should stand out against the popular tastes of sopopularity and money and lose quality in writing.

The better literature is found in college and university literary magazines Eaton said, and rarely in the popular magazines devoted to mass tastes. The universities open their doors to support most artists of our time, he observed.

LITERATURE - Yesterday's literary panel discussion at Gerrard Hall. Charles Eaton, moderator and panelist leads the discussion with John Aldridge and Andrew Lytle. Photo by Richard Zalk

day's panel discussion on art at the Ackland Art Museum, Panelists

Hutt To Talk No Art Revolution, Dr. Sedgwick Says

By DAVE CHEEK

of Roy Gussow, one of two men munication.

ART - Moderator John Schnorrenberg (center) leads yesterare Roy Gussow (left), and John Sedgwick. | Photo by Richard Zalk