

UNC Nine Travels To Wake

Heels Seek Revenge For 13-8 Defeat

By Ed Dupree

UNC's baseball team travels to Winston-Salem today for an Atlantic Coast Conference contest with Big Four foe Wake Forest. An unusual April schedule and a rained out game with N. C. State last Saturday makes Wake UNC's opponent in each of its first two league games.

On April 3, the Demon Deacons won a 13-8 contest from the Tar Heels, but the pitchers and fielders were far from midseason form. Only Dave Murr, UNC's big red-headed co-captain, looked sharp on the mound—he pitched seven innings of two-hit, two-run ball against the Baptists after the visitors had scored 11 runs on other Tar Heel hurlers. The Deac and Tar Heel fielders combined for 12 big errors.

Coach Walt Rabb will be going with Murr in this afternoon's contest, which will be broadcast over WCHL, Chapel Hill, at 3 p.m. Since the Wake Forest game Murr has pitched seven innings of four-hit, shutout ball against the Marines from Camp Lejeune. "Red" retired the first 14 batters to face him and held the Leathernecks in control during the seven innings he worked. Sophomore Andy Billesdon retired six men in a row over the last two innings as he and Murr combined for the 4-0 victory over the Lejeune men.

The rest of Rabb's lineup will find Len Dellolio, .292, at first base; Paul Swing, .310, at second; Larry Neal, .394, at third, and Cronin Byrd at shortstop. Byrd replaces sophomore Jim Speight, .251, who is sick in the infirmary and will not make the trip.

Swing was injured and did not play in the Lejeune game, but he will be ready to go again this afternoon.

In the outfield, Buddy Tilden, .381, and Heyward Hull, .320, are definite starters. The third fly-chaser post will go to either Jud Spainhour, who has recently rejoined the team after spring football practice, or Russ Hollers, a 1960 regular who has had hitting trouble in early season games.

Both Spainhour and Hollers possess good batting power and could strengthen the outfield situation considerably.

Wendell Brande will handle the Tar Heel catching chores.

For Wake Forest the big guns are first baseman Roger Coon, last season's top RBI man in the ACC and one of the best long ball hitters in the conference, and outfielder Bill Scripture, a man with the perfect name for the Baptist institution.

Scripture pounded out a homer and triple in four times at bat in the first Wake-UNC game and drove in four big runs. Coon was also two for four, with two singles and two RBIs. Together they provided Wake's victory margin.

Either Don Roth, a lanky right-hand junkball pitcher—a la Ed Lopat—or fastballer Bob Muller, a lefty, should be on the mound for Coach Jack Stallings. Roth is a 6-4, 185-pounder, while Muller is 5-8 and 160. The Deacon Mutt and Jeff combination gave up eight hits and only two earned runs in the first contest against the Chapel Hill nine.

Six of these Deacons—Nichols, Scripture, Worrell, Williams, Martin, and Reiley made errors in the opening league game here in Chapel Hill—possibly Stallings' lineup may not be the same.

This is the first of four straight league games for Rabb's men. Next week they meet N.C. State, Virginia, and Maryland.

DAVE MURR, UNC co-captain, will pitch his last 14 innings against Wake and Camp Lejeune. Murr has yielded only six hits and two runs in

UNC Linksmen Wallop Navy

By CURRY KIRKPATRICK

North Carolina's golf team captured dual-meet victory number six yesterday afternoon as the Tar Heels turned back visiting Navy 28½-7½.

Coach Ed Kenney's linksmen, who have lost only to Purdue in rolling up their 6-1 record, won six of the eight individual matches and took all best-ball competition in defeating the Middies on a rain-soaked Finley Golf Course.

All-American captain Pete Green stayed unbeaten with a 3-0 win over Navy's Craig Burbick but Jay Harris, playing in the same foursome with Green and Burbick, was less fortunate. Harris had his consecutive win string stopped by Tom Flory in a 2½-½ verdict.

Besides Flory, the only Navy winner was Jim Seeley. Seeley downed Mike Dore 2½-½ while spurring Navy to a 1½-1½ tie in that foursome's best-ball activity.

The slow, wet playing conditions sent scores soaring and as a result, medalist honors went to UNC's Sam Duckett with a one-over par 73. Other Carolina scores were: Green—77, Harris—83, Harvie Hill—75, Abe Ande—75, Dore—76, Denny White—76, and George Murphy—76.

Net, Track Teams Play Away Today

By Curry Kirkpatrick

North Carolina's varsity tennis and track teams visit the Cavalier state of Virginia this afternoon—coach Don Skakle's netters at Charlottesville for a match with UVA and Dale Ranson's cindermen at Quantico for the Quantico Relays.

The tennis team has captured the imagination of the entire area so far this season by going undefeated against the best teams the Northeast US could provide. Playing with four sophomores in the top six positions, Skakle's tennisters had won eight straight this year and 20 over a two-year span going into yesterday's match with Maryland.

George Sokol (named yesterday as Daily Tar Heel Athlete of the Week) as number one, Ted Hoehn, at number two and John "Betsy" Harrison and Charlie Shaffer at numbers four and five are the sophomores while captain Keith Stoneman holds down the third position, and junior Dave Morgan, the sixth spot.

Sokol, Hoehn, and Harrison are each undefeated while Stoneman and Shaffer have suffered one setback apiece. Stoneman's loss halted the Greenville, S. C. native's consecutive streak at 23.

On the track and field front at Quantico, Carolina will be competing with 55 other schools and clubs. Ranson's trackmen, who finished second in the ACC Indoor Games last month and are also unbeaten in two dual meets outdoors, feature high jumper Tommy Clark, pole vaulters Heath Whittle and Barrie Tiedemann, middle-distance men Bob Hart, Scott Brent and Bob Bennett, and milers Jerry Stuver, Rett Everett and Carmine Lunetta.
