Ehle Leaving; Paul Green To Assume Post

Pulitzer Winner To Teach Writing

Paul Green—playwright, novelist, poet and Pulitzer Prize winner—will be teaching creative writing in the Dept. of Radio, Television and Motion Pictures at UNC during the academic year 1962-63. He will replace John Ehle, the teacher-novelist who has been granted a one-year leave of absence to complete work on a sixth book.

Green won the Pulitzer Prize for his 1927 play "In Abraham's Bosom."

Scheduled for release in the next few months is a new volume of selected plays to be published by the New York firm of Hill and Wang, and a new volume of essays.

Among his published works are "The Lord's Will and Other Plays;" "Lonesome Road;" "In the Valley and Other Carolina Plays;" "The House of Connelly and Other Plays;" "Tread the Green Grass;" "Roll Sweet Chariot;" "Shroud My Body Down;" "Wide Fields;" "The Laughing Pioneer;" "This Body the Earth;" "Johnny Johnson;" "Out of the South;" "The Highland Call;" "Hymn to the Rising Sun;" "Dog on the Sun;" and "Salvation on a String."

Founder Of Outdoor Drama
 The father of the outdoor "symphonic dramas," Green is the author of "The Lost Colony," now preparing for its 25th season at the Waterside Theater in Manteo. It was the success of "The Lost Colony" which led to the establishment of outdoor theaters from Florida to the Dakotas.

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Symphony Concert Tonight

The North Carolina Symphony Orchestra will celebrate the 30th anniversary of its founding when it presents a concert here tonight at 8:30 in Memorial Hall.

UNC students will be admitted free.

The orchestra, which was the nation's first state supported symphony orchestra, was founded here in 1932 under the leadership of Lamar Stringfield, a recent winner of the Pulitzer Prize in Music.

The 65-member orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Benjamin Swalin, will feature violinist John Thurman as soloist. He will play Variations on a Roccoco Theme by Tchaikovsky with orchestral accompaniment.

"Horn Tooting Bill"
 In its early years, the orchestra was supported by Federal Emergency Relief and Works Progress Administration funds. State support began in 1943 with the passage of the "Horn Tooting Bill" by the General Assembly.

The state now provides about 30 per cent of the orchestra's support with the rest of its funds coming from annual memberships.

Curtis Gans, Edminsten To Aid Hopefuls

Two candidates are seeking the Student Party chairmanship at the SP meeting Monday night.

Mike Putzel and Pete Harkness are both avowed candidates for the position now held by Jimmy Weeks, who was the SP candidate for student body treasurer.

Putzel, a sophomore, is vice-president of Cobb dormitory. Harkness, a freshman, was campaign manager for the SP "Big Four" slate.

Active Workers
 Both contenders were active in the Student Party spring elections campaign.

A former president of the Young Americans for Freedom, Putzel was co-campaign manager for SP editorial candidates Jim Clotfelter and Chuck Wrye.

Harkness was the SP candidate for freshman class president last fall.

Possibility
 Gordon Appell, a member of Student Legislature, is considered a possible contender for the chairmanship.

Rufus Edminsten, majority floor leader in the Legislature, will speak for Harkness at the meeting. Beth Walker, newly elected senior class secretary, will also speak for him.

Putzel Speaker
 George Rosental, sophomore class president and chairman of Legislature's Finance Committee, will speak for Putzel. Curtis Gans, former Daily Tar Heel editor, will also talk for him.

The meeting will be held in Howell Hall Monday night at an undecided time.

Order Golden Fleece Taps Eighteen Juniors & Seniors

Eighteen junior and senior men were tapped into the Order of the Golden Fleece in a ceremony preceding the Valkyrie Sing April 16.

The selection of Mary Sue Simpson as Senior Woman of the Year was also announced at that time.

Kappa Delta sorority won the skit division of the sing for the fourth year in a row and Ruffin dorm won the men's skit division. Alpha Tau Omega captured the men's sing division and Delta Delta Delta won the women's sing.

Oldest Men's Honorary
 The Order of the Golden Fleece is the oldest and highest men's honorary society at the University. It was founded in 1903 and is based on the legend of Jason and his crew of Argonauts who went in search of the Golden Fleece, the eternal symbol of truth.

It seeks to recognize those students who have given most unselfishly of time, service, and dedication to their fellow men and the University.

Eighteen Initiates
 The initiate Argonauts are: Robert Hodges Bilbro, Dwight Harnard Wheelless, Timothy Brooks Burnett, Wade Hampton Hargrove Jr., Richard Allen Vinroot, William Graham Harris, Julius Le Vonne Chambers, Joe Malcolm Craver, James Dennis Rash, Michael David Hall, Frederick Randolph Anderson Jr., Allen Thomson Cronenberg Jr., Grover Woodrow Everett Jr., Lawrence Jackson Fetner II, William Carl Innes, Edwin Warner Bass, James Carlos Gaudin Jr., and Walter Estes Dellinger III.

The secret officers for the past year have been Roger Foushee, president; George Campbell, vice-president; Bill Whitchard, secretary; Ray Farris, treasurer.

A banquet was held for the new members in the Carolina Inn immediately after the tapping. J. McNeill Smith Jr., alumni Argonaut of the Class of 1937, delivered the banquet address.

Saturn Missile Goes Up...

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's Saturn super rocket—the vehicle on which the United States is pinning its hopes in the race to the moon—thundered 65 miles into space Wednesday and created the highest ice cloud known to man by dumping 95-tons of water in the heavens.

Famed space scientist Dr. Wernher von Braun, who once saved the Saturn from a financial death on the drawing boards called the brief flight "a full success" and predicted the rocket will orbit a prototype of the U. S. Apollo lunar landing capsule within two years.

The United States followed up the dramatic Saturn flight by firing an advanced model Polaris missile from a nuclear submarine, the U.S.S. Sam Houston, from beneath the ocean's surface off Florida's east coast to a target 1,500 miles away Wednesday.

Cancel Second Shot
 The Polaris firing, which the Defense Department tried in vain to keep secret, was the first of a series scheduled for the Sam Houston and her sister sub, the U. S. S. Thomas Edison. A planned second launching from the Sam Houston Wednesday was cancelled.

But it was the second successful flight of the mammoth Saturn in as many tries. The Saturn flight represented a new Zenith in U.S. rocketry and opened a little wider the doorway to the day when man will be able to send teams of men and tons of machinery to the moon.

The Saturn, as tall as a 10-story building, is a massive cluster of eight engines. It is believed to be the largest rocket in the world—significantly bigger than the rockets that put Russian cosmonauts Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov into orbit.

The Saturn is certainly the most complex space launcher ever built in the free world. It is the product of putting together a quarter-million parts, any one of which could go wrong and ruin the works.

'Intermediate Yield' Bomb Resumes Atomic Test Series

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States launched its atmospheric nuclear test series Wednesday with an "intermediate yield" bomb dropped from a high flying airplane and exploded near Christmas Island in the Pacific.

The bomb, fired at 10:45 a.m. EST, apparently unleashed an explosive force equal to at least 100,000 tons of TNT. It was detonated by the U.S. task force less than 18 hours after President Kennedy gave the final go-ahead for the new series.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced the explosion in a brief statement and immediately gave assurances that the U.S. tests would produce far less radioactive fallout than the 1961 Soviet blasts that triggered the American program.

"A nuclear test detonation took place at about 10:45 a.m. EST, Wednesday in the vicinity of Christmas Island," the commission said. "The detonation was in the intermediate yield range. The device was dropped from an airplane. The test was the first detonation in Operation Dominic, now underway in the Pacific."

Spokesman Qualifies Blast
 A commission spokesman said only that the explosion was equal in power to less than one megaton, one million tons of TNT, but greater than 20 kilotons, or 20,000 tons. However, the AEC usually uses "intermediate range" to refer to a blast equal to 100,000 tons of TNT or more.

After issuing the brief formal statement, a commission spokesman added:

"As President Kennedy stated on March 2, the U.S. tests will be conducted under conditions which will restrict the radioactive fallout to a minimum, far less than from the Soviet Union's series of nuclear weapons tests in the fall of 1961."

SL To Eye Bus System

By HARRY DeLUNG
 The introduction of a resolution calling for continued investigation of the feasibility of free bus transportation to outlying portions of the campus will be the major business at tonight's meeting of the Student Legislature.

The resolution, introduced by Ford Rowan (S.P., D.M. I), directs the Campus Affairs Board to continue investigation of the feasibility of free bus service operating hourly from the new Craig and Ehringhaus dorms, the medical complex, and Victory Village to Y-court.

There will be a "Meet The Candidates" dinner sponsored by the Orange County Republican Party Saturday that will feature the sixth district Congressional candidates and local candidates. Tickets and further information may be obtained from Earl Baker, 126 Cobb (968-9022).

Week-end service to Greensboro is also mentioned in the resolution.

which calls for the University administration to appropriate funds for the service.

Little Opposition Likely
 Campus bus service was mentioned in both U.P. and S.P. platforms, and U.P. floor leader Larry McDevitt indicated that appreciable opposition to the resolution seemed unlikely.

A bill to appropriate $100, to be allotted to the legislators for the purpose of establishing better communication with constituencies will be introduced by Rufus Edminsten (S.P., D.M. VI).

The legislators will meet at 7:30 tonight on fourth floor of New East.

Year was announced during the Valkyries Sing in Memorial Hall April 16. She received the Irene F. Lee Cup at that time.

The Cup award was established in 1955 in honor of Mrs. Lee who had been hostess of Spencer dormitory from 1925 to 1948.

Miss Simpson, from Shaw, Mississippi, transferred here her junior year and was a member of Kappa Delta Sorority, a dormitory house counselor, a member of the Wesley Foundation lay scholars group, a worker for the YWCA at the School for the Blind and attended the YMCA United Nations Seminar in New York.

In her senior year she has been a member of the Women's Council, the Pan-Hellenic Council, the Religious Emphasis Committee of the YWCA, president of Kappa Delta, and has been tapped into the Order of the Old Well and Valkyries.

Miss Simpson was selected by a committee composed of members from the Pan-Hellenic Council, CWC, WRC, Graik, Golden Fleece, a representative of the Student Affairs Office, Dean of Awards E. L. Mackie and Acting Dean of Women Mrs. Martha D. DeBerry.

Wrye-Clotfelter Edit First Issue
