Valkyries Tap 9 In Pre-Dawn Ceremony

Order Honors 6 Seniors, 3 Juniors For Service

In pre-dawn ceremonies this morning, black-hooded figures stalked the women's residence halls calling forth nine undergraduate women to membership in the Order of the Valkyries, the highest women's honorary organization on campus.

Tapped were Seniors Lee Kohn, Montgomery, Ala.; Elizabeth Randolph Latta, Louisburg, N. C.; Mary Franklin McGehee, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Margaret Karen Nelson, Starkville, Miss.; Dorothy Jane Shaw, Durham, N. C.; and Cameron Lee Taber, Glen Saint Mary, Fla.; and Juniors Judith Belinda Deal, Landis, N. C.; Jan

G. McColskey, Lake City, Fla.; and Elizabeth Anne Walker, Jacksonville, Fla.

Limited to two per cent of the coed student body, Valkyries corresponds to the highest men's honorary, the Order of the Golden Fleece. It was founded in 1941, when it replaced Alpha Kappa Gamma, national women's honorary society. Members are recognized for their scholarship, leadership, character and service to the University.

Citations to the new members read as follows:

Miss Deal "... one who has combined academic endeavor and service to the University in a unique manner. While maintaining an excellent scholastic average, she has shown leadership and dedication in her dormitory, the nursing profession, and in her many campus activities. Miss Deal is to be recognized for her strength of character and ability to stand by her own convictions. Her keen sense of humor and warm personality have brought happiness into the lives of all who know her. Miss Deal's depth of understanding and sincere interest in her fellowman is exhibited in every phase of her daily life."

Miss Kohn, "... one who has shown strength of character in disappointments, true leadership by quiet but strong sincerity, and a radiant personality which truly reflects her kind spirit and love for people. Her excellent work on the Carolina Symposium as the chairman of the Hospitality Committee, and her many services to her dormitory are a few indications of her carrying out her responsibilities with joy and hard work. Miss Kohn is one of those rare people who is always ready to give not only her time but her full attention to those in need of understanding; who, by her maturity, makes a calm and constructive contribution wherever she may be; and one who is most worthy of this honor for she has never sought recognition in giving of herself to her University and fellow-students."

Miss Latta, "... one who has responded with dignity and industry to the demands of her dormitory administrative duties and to her responsibilities on Women's Residence Council. While standing firmly by her convictions, Miss Latta has continued to maintain a warm and sympathetic understanding toward others. Her depth of character, sound judgment, and imaginative leadership have merited the esteem and approbation of her fellow students."

2 Apply For Yack Editor Positions

Publications Board Meets Today
To Decide On New Editor's Post

The Pub Board will meet today to select an editor for next year's Yack. Ben Cone, candidate for Yack editor, submitted the following statement to the DTH:

"The Yack is a very important publication to the student body of the University of North Carolina. It is a book for the students and by the students, and, for this reason, every student who is interested and capable should have a chance to participate in its publication.

"I, as a candidate for co-editor of the 1963 Yack, did not have a chance at the job because of the time of the selection of the yearbook editor was not announced publicly. I believe I should have an equal opportunity to try out for the position. "Since it is so late in the year, the experience of Julie Latane, who did an excellent job as managing editor, and myself will give us a starting advantage towards publishing the annual. The short amount of time remaining will be sufficient for our spring preparations.

"We have had previous experience in publishing a book and have extensive knowledge of the mechanics of organizing a large publication. Also we will be able to quickly pull together a competent staff composed of new members and experienced members with whom we worked last year."

JUDEA REFORM

Judea Reform Congregation religious services will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, May 18 at Friend's Meeting House on Alexander Ave. in Durham. Lay members of the Congregation will conduct the services.

BOOKS TO KOREA

The International Affairs Committee of the YW-YMCA will collect money for drama books to be sent to Korea in the lobby of Lenoir Hall. There will be a committee representative there at lunch and supper Monday through Friday.

Men's Council Suspends 2 For Semester

The Men's Honor Council considered two cases last week, according to Council Scribe Whitney Durand.

"On Thursday, May 10, the Men's Council met to consider two cases. In the first, a second-semester freshman was alleged to have copied almost verbatim two papers which were handed in for credit. The plagiarism was discovered by his teacher and reported to the Council.

He entered a plea of guilty and received a sentence of suspension from school for a period of one full academic semester. In this case, as in all cases where cheating is established, the defendant received an "F" in the course.

The second case concerned an alleged attempt to defraud the Chapel Hill Telephone Company. The defendant, a senior, entered a plea of not guilty to charges for a number of phone calls to other cities.

Testimony was given by an official of the telephone company, and the defendant was linked to the charges. He was found guilty and suspended from school for one semester."

Ackland Painting To Arrive In Fall

Jacopo del Sellaio's fifteenth century oil painting of the Madonna and saints, recently purchased by the Ackland Art Center, will not be in Chapel Hill for another six months. The painting is now being sent from England for Ackland's permanent collection.

Campus Briefs

At Kemp's

Shearing Autographs Fans' Albums

Students and townspeople flocked to Kemp's yesterday afternoon to meet and have their records autographed by world-famous jazz pianist George Shearing.

Kemp arranged to have Shearing at his store and also arranged a "throne" composed of a huge wicker chair and a table covered with bright red satin.

At the table Shearing signed autographs with the aid of representatives from his recording company. He has been blind since early childhood and required aid in autographing the albums.

Shearing arrived from Charlotte about 4:30 p.m. and went directly to Kemp's. He was greeted by the Fabulous Frenchman himself at the door.

The pianist was flocked with questions about himself and his music. Jazz buffs of all kinds gathered around to greet one of the pace-setters of the keyboard.

Meanwhile Kemp was busy selling dozens of Shearing albums.

Walter Howard Named IDC Member Of Month

Walter Howard, a freshman from Richlands, was named the Most Outstanding IDC Member of the Month by the IDC Executive Committee Wednesday night.

Howard was recognized for his work on the IDC Social Committee in arranging for one of the Council's spring socials. He is the first to receive this honor, which will be given each month throughout the year for meritorious work in the IDC.

SP To Investigate UNC Integration

Party Passes Bill Supporting Desegregation After Hot Debate

Integration in the University and Chapel Hill will be investigated by the Student Party projects committee after the Party's passage of a resolution supporting desegregation efforts.

The resolution, which was introduced last week by Mike Putzel, was passed Monday night after heated debate. It pledges the party's support for any local integration group "which does not conflict with the party's purpose."

Dave Williams, who spoke against the resolution, said that the wording implied that "immediate" integration was supported by the party. Williams said that persons who urge total integration on this campus "necessarily sacrifice other ideals." A member from the floor pointed out that the word "immediate" was not used in the resolution in any form.

In opposition to Williams, Bill Straughn said that "Williams seems to believe that people should have the freedom to exploit others' freedom."

Rufus Edmisten urged an amendment to the resolution which would throw out the second article which gave party support to integrationist organizations. Dave Williams and Franklin Adkinson also favored an amendment version of the resolution.

A vote to delete article two came to a 12-12 tie which was broken by party chairman Robin Britt who voted to leave it in.

Mike Lawler, the S.P.'s only successful candidate in the big-four race this spring, said that the party had supported integration in its platform, and he advised that they continue to take a stand. The resolution was passed by a 13-6 vote.

The party also selected their advisory board for the coming year. Elected members are Rita Johnson, Mike Putzel, Dave Williams, and Phil Matthews.

SL Slates Funds For Intramurals

Intramural managers' salaries were appropriated by Student Legislature last night, totalling $3,944.50. The funds will be used next year to promote the intramural programs in all men's dormitories.

Bruce Welch (SP, DM III), who introduced the bill, said that the paid managers system had been tried on an experimental basis in six dorms this year. "The success of the system is shown in the fact that the participating dorms finished in the top six places in competition," reported Welch.

Also passed with little opposition was a bill to establish permanent bulletin boards at Lenoir Hall, the Scutlebutt, and Graham Memorial. Arthur Hays (SP, DM IV) said that current legislation would be posted on the boards, similar to the board which is located at Y-Court.

The special Monday night session was called so that presidential appointments, which were announced then could be voted on by the last session which will meet on Thursday.

PUB BOARD MEETS

The Publications Board will meet today at 3 p.m. for the purpose of interviewing candidates for Yack editorship who have not already been interviewed.

Other selections to be made include editor and business manager for the summer school paper; editor and business manager for the Carolina Quarterly; business manager for the Yack; and business manager for the DTH.

New Publications Board officers will also be selected.
