Israeli Students To Visit Campus For Two Weeks

Seven Israeli students will visit the campus during the last two weeks of July under the sponsorship of the Experiment in International Living of Putney, Vermont, in order to study the American educational system. The students are scheduled to arrive July 18.

While here the students will live in dormitories, attend some classes, visit in local homes and engage in a variety of campus activities. A folk-sing on the Graham Memorial lawn, visits to Raleigh and Durham to see state and local government facilities, and a series of meetings with students and faculty members have also been scheduled for the Israelis.

Ann Queen, YWCA secretary, heads a committee of students who are planning the visit.

Army Veterans

Five of the students attend Hebrew University in Jerusalem. They are Itzhak Shain, the leader of the group, Asher Barnea, Ruthi Hoffman, Joseph Godard, and Ahron Daitech. Maya Klimowsky and Amos Prosham both attend Municipal Secondary School A in Tel-Aviv.

Most of the students have already served in the Israeli army and are working to pay for their education. Shain pays his way through school by playing the accordion. Barnea, a student of economics and law, also teaches in an elementary school and is administrator of the Hebrew University's dance group.

Miss Hoffman, a major in education and sociology, teaches Hebrew to adult groups. Godard, a journalist who studies history and philosophy, earns his way as editor and broadcaster of youth programs in the Israel Broadcasting Service. Daitech, who is studying political science and geography, works as a manager in the administrative office of the Israeli Ministry of Finance.

46-Nation Organization

The Experiment in International Living, sponsor of the visit, is a non-profit, educational-travel institution devoted to fostering mutual respect and understanding among peoples of the world. Founded in 1932, it has grown to a world-wide organization with representatives in 46 nations. In 1962 more than 1500 young people from America and an equal number from abroad will swap homelands for homestay-and-travel experiences.

The Experiment, according to its brochure, is for "those eager to make friends of strangers; who are pledged to understanding, not to criticizing; who wish to promote international good will on a personal basis."

Student Dies

David Bryant Prescott, a freshman at UNC during the past academic year, was killed June 24 in an automobile wreck in Dartmouth, Massachusetts, according to a communique received by the Student Affairs Office.

The automobile in which Prescott was riding reportedly left the road and hit a pole on the driver's side. Prescott was dead on arrival at a hospital in New Bedford, Massachusetts.

Lambda Chi 14 Past Students Gets Board's OK On Site Now Serve Corps

By TOM McHANEY

The Chapel Hill Planning Board approved Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity's request for a special use permit at its Monday night meeting.

The Lambda Chi request is expected to be finally approved by the town Board of Aldermen next week. This will give the fraternity permission to make its long-planned move to a new site on E. Franklin Street between the Consolidated University offices and the Alpha Tau Omega house.

The Planning Board's decision climaxed a long standing dispute over parking spaces for the fraternity. Under previous rules for the special use permit, a house was required to have one off-street parking space for every occupant.

In its present recommendation to the Board of Aldermen, the planning group asks that this be modified to three spaces for every ten residents for existing fraternities. The Board also asked that the Lambda Chi's present number of 20 spaces be continued when its site is moved.

Lambda Chi house manager John Thuss said the fraternity's new facilities are expected to house 33 men. He also said the fraternity members were "overjoyed" and that the decision represented "a more realistic view" than the Planning Board had previously adopted.

Planning Board Chairman Whid Powell said his group was establishing a study committee on fraternity parking problems which would "get some areas allocated which would be appropriate."

Fourteen former University of North Carolina students—11 of them North Carolinians—are taking up duties around the world as volunteers in the Peace Corps.

The emphasis has changed since "the halls of Montezuma" and "the shores of Tripoli," but the area's just as broad. The new volunteers will be serving in such places as Nepal, lying along the Himalayas between Tibet and India; Togo and Sierre Leone, in West Africa; East Pakistan and Nigeria; Gaza and the Philippines; and several South American countries, including Peru, Bolivia and Colombia.

Grad Named To Democratic Post

Jimmy Hunt, a UNC law student has been appointed College Director of the Democratic National Committee.

Hunt, 25, received his B.S. and Master's degree from State College where he served as President of the Student Government, was editor of the Agriculturist, and was elected to Phi Kappa Phi (technical school equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa.) He recently completed his first year of law study here.

An active Democrat for seven years, Hunt has served in various positions in the Democratic Party including College Vice-President of the North Carolina Young Democratic Clubs and State Chairman of the College Young Democrats for North Carolina.

The volunteers, some of whom are already in the field and some of whom went into training just this month, carry a variety of skills to the lands which they serve.

Clyde Ingle of Whitsett, a MA in political science '61, will go to the Philippines. He taught last year at Appalachian State Teachers College in Boone. Also going to the Philippines is Leonora Douglas Stoddard, a sociology major from High Point.

Robert Bremon Bell, BS BA 1953, from Charlotte, and James N. Holmes of Goldsboro, a law student, will go to Colombia.

Randolph Shaffner of Winston-Salem, and "honors" graduate in English, '62 and Rebecca Brown Lee a graduate student in English, will go to Togo.

Peru is the destination for Peter B. Maupin of Wake Forest, who graduated in education this year.

Nancy E. Turner, a 1959 nursing graduate, will travel to Bolivia, where there is a great need for registered nurses.

Rex B. Jarrell of Durham, who attended UNC 53-54 and 56-57, will serve in Sierre Leone.

Gilbert Foster, of Wilkesboro, who attended UNC 52-53, plans to work in Nigeria. Wilfred Turner, a graduate student in mathematics from Carolina Beach, has gone to Gaza.

Brenda Smith of Charlotte, who graduated in public health, '62, is a volunteer to Brazil.

Marian Deering Smith, a '61 graduate from Alexandria, Va., has been working for the past year as a Peace Corps recruiter.

Peter W. Von Christerson of Spokane, Wash., a student in the program for City Planning and Regional Development, has gone to East Pakistan.

Ray Jefferies Resigns From Student Affairs

Two personnel changes in the Office of Student Affairs have been announced with the resignation of Ray Jefferies Jr., assistant to the Dean of Student Affairs, and the appointment of Dallas A. Cameron Jr. as assistant in Student Affairs.

Jefferies, who had been on leave of absence during the past academic year while he completed work on his Master's Degree at Columbia University, will become Associate Dean of Students at the College of Education at New Paltz, a branch of the State University of New York.

Jefferies received his Bachelor of Science degree in commerce here in June of 1947 and joined the staff of the Dean of Students in September of that year.

He will be honored at an open reception this afternoon in Graham Memorial from 4-6 p.m. The reception is being given by Dean of Student Affairs Charles Henderson Jr., and students of the University under the sponsorship of the Student Government.

Cameron received his Bachelor of Arts degree here in June of 1961 and is currently enrolled in Law School here. He plans to continue law studies at the end of his one year appointment.

Cameron, who replaces George Strong in this post, will assume the position July 20.
