Pete Seeger Sings To Over 1000 Despite YAF & Independent Pickets

By BILL WUAMETT
Pete Seeger sang to a crowd of more than a thousand persons despite picketers who marched outside Memorial Hall protesting his sponsor, the New Left Club, and the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, recipient of proceeds from the concert.

The Seeger concert had earlier drawn criticism from the conservative Young Americans for Freedom, and from Raleigh news commentator Jesse Helms who criticized Seeger for fellow-traveling.

Seeger performed a program of old and contemporary folk songs that include several songs that have arisen from the desegregation movement. The greatest audience participation of the evening came on one of these, "We Shall Overcome," theme song of CORE.

Two Lines

The ten picketers split into two lines about twenty minutes before the concert when five unaffiliated students refused to picket in the same line with members of PAF. Spokesman for the independent students, Sam Blumberg, said that the YAF members had joined their picket line without permission, and that his group wanted no affiliation with the conservative organization.

YAF President Mike Jaffe said that the executive committee of YAF had voted to picket the concert and that five members of that organization were among the sign-bearers.

The picketing was orderly as groups of thirty to forty students watched the protest. The only incident of the evening occurred shortly after the beginning of the concert when an unidentified person yelled an obscenity from outside a window.

Money To SNCC

Seeger was introduced by New Letter Margie Shiffman who announced that proceeds of the concert would go to SNCC. Earlier statements from the group had indicated that money would go jointly to Seeger and to the New Left, but it was generally acknowledged by the group that both would contribute their money to SNCC.

New Left member Larry Phelps said that he did not think that the picketing or adverse publicity before the concert had hurt attendance. He said that the basketball game had probably prevented Seeger from singing before a capacity crowd as he did three years ago at a Graham Memorial sponsored event.

Miss Shiffman said after the concert that the group was highly pleased with the turnout.

Signs carried on the picket lines asked student to "Give your money to Easter Seals, and not to SNCC — Watch from outside the windows — Do not go to this red-inspired concert — Don't support the silent sponsor."

While the picketers marched, a dog named "Russia" ran between their legs. The dog was snow-white.

67-33 Ratio Favors Demos In Senate

By United Press International

A lineup of 67 Democrats and 33 Republicans in the next U. S. Senate night, passed a resolution condemning the "Myth of the Carolina Coed."

Bottom's concession meant victory for Democrat George McGovern, former Food for Peace director. The battle for the South Dakota Senate seat was the last to be decided.

At almost the same time that Bottom was conceding, former New Mexico Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, a Republican, signed a register in Washington, officially putting him on the payroll as a senator.

Mechem resigned as governor and was named to the Senate after Democratic Sen. Dennis Chavez died. Mechem was defeated in November for re-election as governor.

The addition of McGovern means the Democrats will have three more members in the new Senate than they did in the old Senate. The GOP will have three fewer. The only vacant House seat is the one to which Rep. Clem Miller, D-Calif., was elected posthumously in November. There will be a special election in January to fill this vacancy.

If a Democrat is elected as expected to replace Miller, the congressional lineup will be:

HOUSE
Democrats 263
Republicans 174

Old 263
New 259

SENATE
Old 64
New 67

Recounts still are pending in four races for governor but none are expected to change the results. Returns currently show these results in gubernatorial elections:

Democrats 34
Republicans 16
Before Nov. 34
Now 34

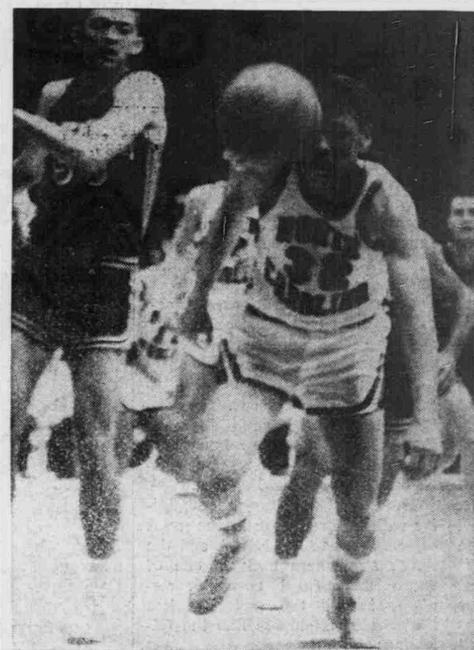

Red Promises About N-Ban To Be Ignored

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States said Wednesday any Soviet promise to halt nuclear testing during the coming year would be of no more value than Soviet promises not to put missiles and atom bombers in Cuba.

U. S. Negotiator Arthur H. Dean warned that the Soviet might try to trick the world by announcing it would begin a moratorium on tests as of Jan. 1. He said this would be aimed at forcing the West into a situation where it would have to accept an uncontrolled moratorium.

Dean said that if such a pledge were made it would resemble "similar pledges given by the leaders of the Soviet Union with regard to a recent situation in the Caribbean with which we are all familiar." He did not elaborate on this reference to the Cuban crisis.

Earlier, the West had offered to sign an unspoken test ban treaty "tomorrow" if the Soviets could prove that international inspection is unnecessary. But Dean said the Russians' negative attitude appeared to be closing the door leading to possible areas of agreement.

Coed Myth False, Di-Phi Discovers

By CHUCK NEELY

The Di-Phi Senate, after a debate of a hour and a half Tuesday night, passed a resolution condemning the "Myth of the Carolina Coed."

The resolution, which was introduced by Brooks Garnett, was passed unanimously by the twelve representatives and conditional representatives present. Fifteen guests at the proceedings also voted unanimously to pass the resolution.

Most of the debate centered around whether there was a "myth," and if there was, what were the facts, if any, behind the "myth."

Opposition to the resolution maintained that the resolution was not in the tradition of the Dialectic and Philanthropic Literary Society, that the Articles were too loosely connected, and that the "myth" was really not a fallacy, but was true.

Miss Garnett refuted these arguments and cited specific points to support her stand.

She said that most girls on campus were not "dated up snobs" but that a majority of the girls in the University, both in sororities and dorms, did not have dates on weekends, contrary to what she felt was the generally accepted idea on campus.

She also stated that the girls felt that it was up to the men on campus to take the initiative in making acquaintances and that it was extremely difficult for the women to take the first step.

The critic's report was delivered by Rep. Roger Foushee who discussed the night's debate and named Miss Garnett the best speaker of the evening.

Two resolutions were introduced for future debate. The first was submitted by Rep. Hubert Hawkins. It proposes the abolition of capital punishment. The second was submitted by Cond. Rep. Charles Neely. This resolution, which will be debated at the next meeting, on December 11, proposes "the opening of all men's dormitory rooms to female guests during specified hours."

The committee feels, said Phelps, that the government does not have the right to restrict a citizen's right to travel "without trampling upon the fundamental principles of freedom of the individual upon which this nation was founded."

It is in this spirit that the Committee, composed of about 80 students from New York and Mid-West colleges and universities, has accepted the gracious invitation of the Cuban students and has decided to go through with his plans to go to Cuba.

Those going will be liable to revocation of their passports, plus a possible two-year jail sentence and $10,000 fine.

The only expenses of those who make the trip will be part of their travel from here to Montreal, Canada, where the planes will depart.

The Cuban Government is providing the air transportation, while the Cuban Newspaper Federation is financing their stay. The students in New York have had two parties which raised about $250 to help pay the southern students' ways to Canada.

Poteet, Brown Get 14 Each In Comeback

By ED DUPREE
Sports Editor

North Carolina's Tar Heels held a determined Clemson team to only four points in the final seven minutes and won their second basketball contest of the season last night, 64-48.

Jim Brennan, whose shooting had the visiting Tigers in the lead for most of the first half, narrowed the UNC lead to 46-44 with a jump shot at the 7:41 mark. Carolina reeled off six straight points on a set shot by Ray Respass, a driving lay-up by Larry Brown and a two-pointer awarded to Respass on a goal-tending violation by Clemson.

Choppy Patterson, the only Clemson senior starter, closed the gap to 54-46 with a field goal and Brennan added a foul shot. After Charlie Shaffer rebounded and flipped in another goal, Brennan hit for Clemson's last point on another foul shot.

The smaller Tar Heels threw in six straight points in the final minute for the final total.

Bobby Roberts' Tigers, with three men 6-7 or taller, lost the game—surprisingly—on the backboards. Paced by Billy Cunningham's tricky hands the home-landers picked off 56 rebounds to Clemson's 34. Cunningham accounted for 18, more than half the Clemson total.

All five of Dean Smith's starters hit double figures. Yogi Poteet, who fouled out with 2:44 remaining, and Brown shared scoring honors for UNC with 14. Shaffer had 12, Cunningham 10, and Respass 10.

The sharpest shot on the floor was that of Brennan's. He hit eight of 17 field goals — mostly on his soft jumper — and added three foul shots for 19 points — high for the night. He was the only one to hit double figures for the pesky Tigers.

The Tigers took the lead quickly in this battle of ACC darkhorses, but the Chapel Hillians took a 30-28 lead into the dressing room at halftime.

Spurred on by three Brennan jump shots, the Tigers rolled to a 14-7 lead in the first seven minutes. It was still a seven-point lead, 23-16, when Carolina made its move.

With about six minutes to go in the half, Poteet hit a jumper and followed with another jump shot on a fast break, narrowing the lead to 23-20. Brennan countered with one of his own, but Shaffer made it 25-22 with a pair of foul shots.

With 4:22 remaining UNC lost Cunningham, who drew his third foul. Without the ace rebounder, Carolina continued to roll — after Patterson hit a foul shot.

Ray Respass hit two free tosses and Brown tied it up with a jumper. Brennan put Clemson ahead again with a jump shot, but buckets by Brown and Mike Cooke made it 30-28. Cooke's tie-breaker came with 11 seconds on the clock.

Patterson gave Clemson its last lead with a jumper making it 34-33 early in the second half. Poteet's bucket gave UNC the lead for keeps.

Scoring: UNC—Brown 14, Poteet 14, Shaffer 12, Respass, 10, Cunningham 10, Cooke 3, Galantai 1.

Clemson—Brennan 19, Patterson 9, Morgan 7, Bohonak 5, Mahaffey 4, Privette 1.

Council Commends Actions Of Coed, Dismisses Charge

The Women's Council dismissed its case Tuesday against a defendant who entered an indefinite plea to a charge of violation of the Campus Code.

The defendant was charged with having returned to her residence three hours and fifteen minutes late after the Thanksgiving Holidays. She said that she had been traveling with several other students and decided to leave their car because of their drinking and boisterous conduct on the trip to Chapel Hill.

The defendant called in to her housemother after she left the car and asked whether she should return to Chapel Hill immediately or spend the night in a hotel and proceed the next morning.

She was advised to return immediately by bus, which she did. Council Chairman Bev Haynes, in reading the verdict, said, "The Women's Council feels that you have conducted yourself as a lady, that you were responsible in refusing to drive with people who had been drinking excessively, and that you were thoughtful to call your housemother."

"We respect you for taking the initiative which you did in this matter. We commend you for your intelligence in handling this situation."

"We, therefore, have decided to dismiss your case and excuse your lateness."

US And Russia To Cooperate

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The United States and Russia told the United Nations Wednesday they will work together on three big space projects: Communications, weather-spotting, and mapping the earth's magnetic field.

A worldwide television hookup could be one result of the agreement, which stemmed from an exchange of messages between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. This came just after astronaut John H. Glenn's three-orbit space flight last February.

The joint announcement was made to the U. N. General Assembly's main Political Committee by U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and his Soviet counterpart Platon D. Morozov.
