Washington Seminar Topic In China, Southeast Asia

Applications for the Washington Seminar, sponsored by the UNC YM-YWCA, must be submitted by Monday, Jan. 14. The seminar, Feb. 7-10, will be devoted to "China and Tensions in Southeast Asia." The seminar schedule will be centered around talks with Richard Dudgeon, correspondent for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch who recently returned from Southeast Asia; Lee St. Lawrence, director of the Asian program for the Peace Corps; Senator John Sparkman (Ala.); and officials at the Pentagon and State Department.

Friday — Morning Session with Pentagon and State Department spokesmen, and Senator John Sparkman in the afternoon. The Alabama Senator is a member of the Committee on Foreign Relations, and is former chairman of a foreign relations sub-committee. Saturday — A visit in the morning to two embassies (preferably India and Burma), at 1 o'clock meeting with Richard Dudgeon and a conference at 3 p.m. with Lee St. Lawrence. Sunday, Feb. 10 — Leave Washington at 10 a.m. to return to Chapel Hill.

Miss Anne Queen, Secretary of the YMCA, is chairman of the seminar committee and will go to Washington with the group. The cost of the seminar will be approximately $18, including transportation, hotel, and registration fees. Travel will be by chartered bus. Anyone may apply for the seminar. The only requirements are attendance at a briefing session in Chapel Hill prior to the seminar, and attendance at all the meetings in Washington during the seminar. Applications are available at the YMCA office.

Who Conned Whom?

Students Differ On Buckley Affair

By MARTIN WILSON
There is still much controversy over the Carolina Forum's withholding of William F. Buckley, Jr.'s speaking fee, a poll among students and professors showed. Many wouldn't even talk about it. The fee has been paid and interviewees were asked their opinion of Forum chairman Henry Mayer's refusal to pay the fee until a "readjustment" could be obtained. Barry Craig, a senior philosophy major, said: "Although at first I thought the Forum might have a case, it seems to me now that Forum Chairman Henry Mayer was very ill-advised in withholding the fee, and he has successfully cast shadows upon the integrity of UNC. In the future, I suggest Mr. Mayer consider a contract as a contract, or substitute a program of prior censorship." Clement Ford, a senior business major agreed with the Forum's position. "It's unjustifiable that Buckley should try to pawn off a second-hand speech. He seems to be an opportunist trying to capitalize on his conservative position." Fred Anderson, senior history major, said: "I feel that withholding the fee was a sage move and drew attention to the intellectual short-changing in reading an article. But the debate which has been raging over Buckley was worth the fee." Two geography professors who didn't want to be identified due to classroom arguing which they felt would result in up to its contracts. In the future, the Forum should be more sure of itself. If you make a contract, live by it." Mike Doctor, a junior major in political science and history: "I thought the Forum was right morally and wrong legally. The Forum handled itself very well. I only wish Mr. Buckley had handled himself as well as the Forum in this matter." Dr. David Monroe, professor of political science, said he couldn't answer very well because most of his information was hearsay. Speaking as a former attorney, he said: "All I can say is that where there's a contractual relationship which has been complied with, it seems it's binding that a speaker should be reimbursed according to that contract. As far as I know, the amount he is paid is never conditioned according to the feelings of his audience." Ken Byerly, associate professor of journalism: "Apparently the Forum had no choice but to pay. But I believe they should have reached a decision on this sooner." Patti Perrin, member of the Carolina Forum and a junior journalism major: "The original decision to withhold Buckley's fee was made without the advice and consent of the Carolina Forum. We were simply never consulted. Personally, I never favored withholding William Buckley's fee." Glen Johnson, political science instructor: "I thought it was morally but not legally justified. Therefore, I feel the protest was wise, but the decision to pay was equally wise." Billy Burwell, a medical student, thought the Forum's position was dishonorable. "It's one of the worst things I've ever heard of. It seems somebody was trying to 'get' Buckley."

Public School Administration Program To Grow

An expansion of course offerings in public school administration by the Consolidated University was announced today by President William C. Friday. Beginning in February, graduate courses in school administration will be offered at the Woman's College in Greensboro and at State College in Raleigh as well as at the University here and the UNC Graduate Center in Charlotte.

The courses to be offered are parts of the new Two Year Graduate Program in School Administration which was initiated at the University two years ago. The total program provides for 60 semester hours of graduate work in school administration and in related courses in political science, business administration and other fields. The program has been approved by the National Commission for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). Public school superintendents and principals who complete the NCATE approved program will be eligible for the new advanced certificates in administration and the higher state salaries provided by the North Carolina state Board of Education.

All courses are to be offered through the UNC School of Education and the University Graduate School. Members of the staff at Chapel Hill will commute to Raleigh and Greensboro to teach the specialized courses when qualified staff members are not available at the University branches in those cities. The intra-university program will be coordinated by a committee composed of Vice-President Donald B. Anderson; Dean Arnold Perry of the University School of Education; Bryant Kirkland, Education Dean at State College; Kenneth Howe, Education Dean at the Woman's College; Charles Milner, Director of University Extension, and Alexander Heard, Dean of the Graduate School.

India Charges Chinese Violated Own Ceasefire

Bill Introduced In SL Asks Better Athletic Scheduling

A resolution urging improvement in athletic scheduling was introduced in Student Legislature last night. According to Ford Rowan, author of the resolution, the poor football scheduling of home and away games and the scheduling of both the Duke football and basketball games during student vacation periods prompted the action. The resolution recommended that "Student Legislature go on record as urging that major athletic events with Big Four opponents not be scheduled during student vacations."

The resolution, which also would put the legislature on record as supporting athletic teams, will be voted on at the next session. Also under consideration last night was a re-worded "bad check" bill. The bill, which would make the writing of bad checks an honor-council offense, has been re-written several times because of technicalities.

U. S. COLLEGE ENROLLMENT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Census Bureau reported Thursday that total enrollment in U. S. schools and colleges reached 48.7 million in the fall of 1962—a 2.1 per cent increase over the previous year. It said the upward trend in enrollments recorded in recent years was continuing but that the rate was slowing down.

NEW DELHI (UPI) — India charged Thursday that Communist Chinese troops fired on Indian stragglers 34 times in an 11-day period ending Dec. 2, in violation of the Communists' own cease-fire.

The charges were made on the eve of talks between Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and a neutralist peace mission headed by Ceylonese Premier M. Sirimavo Bandaranaike. The mission's aim is to get India to agree to negotiate the border dispute with the Communists.

In Jakarta, Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio, who took part in the first half of the mission in Communist China, said Peking has accepted the proposals of the six neutral nations "as a basis for further negotiations."

India officials have objected in particular to the neutrals' willingness to let Chinese troops stay in territory they have occupied in the northwestern border state of Ladakh. India has said it will not hold peace talks under such conditions.

The charges of cease-fire violation were made by the Indian Foreign Ministry. They covered the period between Nov. 21 and Dec. 2.

Students OK

Two UNC students, who narrowly escaped death by carbon monoxide asphyxiation Wednesday morning in their off-campus home and were held overnight in the University infirmary, were released yesterday. They were reported in "good shape."

The other two occupants of the home at 53 Barclay Road who were stricken Wednesday were released the same day.

Those released yesterday were John Dunne, a sophomore from Spartanburg, S. C., and Randolph Isley Jr., a second-year student from Burlington.

Chapel Hill Fire Chief J. S. Stewart reported yesterday that insufficient ventilation caused asphyxiation of the four students. He noted that he had inspected the residence and had found it well insulated. This insulation and weather-stripping was completed on Tuesday. He said that the house was heated by a vented air heater which was properly installed and in good working order. A partial vacuum, which gathered deadly carbon monoxide gas from the only available source of ventilation, the chimney, nearly caused the boys to suffocate.

U. S. Communists Condemn Chinese

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Communist party of the United States charged Thursday that the "erroneous and dangerous" policies of Communist China threaten world disaster.

The party issued a 2,300-word statement supporting the "peaceful coexistence" policy of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. The American Communists endorsed Khrushchev's handling of the Cuban crisis as a "triumph for courage, reason through negotiation and compromise which advanced peace aspirations of all mankind."

Chinese charges that Khrushchev bowed to American imperialism in a "Munich" amount to "unbelievable and irresponsible slander," the statement said.

Communist Chinese leaders "have failed to grasp the realities of today" in viewing the threat of nuclear war as a "paper tiger," it added. "The threat in the Cuban crisis posed the possibility of final, total disaster for millions . . . the United States, as well as the Soviet Union, eastern and western Europe, and China," the party said.

Anthropologist To Discuss Race In Talk Jan. 16

One of the country's foremost authorities on race, Dr. Earl W. Count, will speak in Carroll Hall, Wednesday, Jan. 16 at 8 p.m.

Dr. Count, professor of anthropology at Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., will examine the misconceptions of race in his talk, "An Anthropologist Looks at Race." At present the only way to define race is by biological criteria, skin color, hair form, height and weight, rather than from a social standpoint, according to Dr. Count. A race gains its characteristics not from emotional experiences but through an environment, he says.

These and other topics will be discussed by Dr. Count Jan. 16. His talk is sponsored by the Department of Sociology and Anthropology.

Billy Sol Says He Will Preach Gospel

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Billy Sol Estes, convicted swindler and bankrupt financier, said Thursday he is going to "preach the Gospel" in answer to "many calls and demands."

Estes, a deacon of the Church of Christ, said he does not know when he will return to Texas, where he was convicted on charges growing out of a multi-million-dollar fertilizer-grain storage scandal.

On a tour collecting nickels and dimes for a Nigerian school, Estes was scheduled to deliver a sermon Thursday night at the Edison Road Church of Christ in Cleveland, Ohio.

He spent the night and most of the day here after telling 200 Negroes in a modest church Wednesday night that "if you follow Christ's life there will be no problems." Estes declined to grant an interview to Indianapolis newsmen. But he said there had been many calls for him to make appearances in one of his favorite roles — as a lay preacher. "I'm just going to preach the Gospel," he said. Estes mentioned the Nigerian mission fund only briefly Wednesday night in his pulpit appearance at the small church in Indianapolis. "It is a very good thing," he said. His sermon was entitled "The Simple Plan of Salvation," and he listed five steps to salvation — several times stressing the need for repentance. He ended the sermon with an eyes-closed, hands-upraised prayer in which he asked God to help His listeners be "good Christians."

Speed Traps Anger Georgia Motorists

ATLANTA (UPI)—Residents of Georgia's most notorious speed-trap sites pleaded Wednesday for state action to rid their localities of politicians who fatten their pockets by preying on tourists.

Residents from Reidsville, Ludowici, and Sewanee—small communities situated on busy U. S. 301, a main route to Florida—voiced these pleas before a legislative committee studying ways of ridding Georgia of speed traps. Harry V. Chapman, a rural letter-carrier from Ludowici, said more than $200,000 a year is collected in traffic fines in Long County.

A speed trap in Tattnall County was said "virtually to have killed the tourist business" in the area and the Sewanee police department was accused of operating solely to catch motorists rather than to protect citizens of the town.

Lowndes County Sheriff Jewell Futch, president of the Georgia Sheriff's Association, said his organization will sponsor a mandatory anti-fee bill in the General Assembly that would place all sheriffs in the state on salaries and eliminate compensation by fines.

FREE FLICK

"Houdini," starring Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh, will be the G.M. Free Flick tonight. "Houdini" was produced in color by George Pal. This is an authentic story of the man considered the world's greatest magician.

The many tests of Houdini's "magic" make interesting film fare and his life, filled with adventure and travel, adds to the scope of the picture. Showings will be at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. in Carroll Hall. I.D. cards are required.
