

Offices In Graham Memorial

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1962

UPI Wire Service

Valkyries Adds 9 Members In Secret Morning Rites

Black hooded figures this morning stalked the campus in the pre-dawn hours calling forth eight undergraduate women and one honorary into the Order of the Valkyries, the women's highest honorary.

Tapped were Honorary Mrs. Evangeline R. Darity of Chapel Hill, Donna Bess Bailey of Coffeeville, Miss., Julia Watson Davis of Raleigh, Kate Robinson Farr of Greensboro;

Donna Bailey

Julia Davis

Mrs. E. R. Darity

Robin Farr

Shelby Purser

Barbara Parks

Carolyn Pinion

Kay Taylor

Susan Woodward

Phi Mu Alpha Begins Rush This Week

By R. LEE FERRELL

"You don't have to be an expert musician to be in Phi Mu Alpha," said President Ron Friedman.

"We simply want men interested in music and willing to work."

Alpha Rho chapter of Phi Mu Alpha, "number one in the nation," will hold rush February 18, 19 and 20, at 7:30 p.m. in Hill Hall.

Alpha Rho was named "most outstanding chapter in the nation" by the National Executive Board. This award is given to one of more than 200 chapters.

It is the highest honor a chapter can receive.

"We don't want to miss anyone interested in music," said Bob Smith, rush chairman.

Purposes of the fraternity are to advance the cause of music in America; to foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of students of music; to develop the truest fraternal spirit among its members; to encourage loyalty to the Alma Mater.

Outstanding alumni include Van Cliburn, Stan Kenton, Andy Griffith, Roger Williams, Mitch Miller, and Thomas E. Dewey.

The National Executive Board cited Alpha Rho for its outstanding activities, especially the establishment of the James Michael Barham Scholarship last year.

Alpha Rho sponsored the United States Navy Band Concert last spring, and "Navy Band Day" was proclaimed by Gov. Terry Sanford.

Josh White will be presented March 29 in the fraternity's '63 spring concert.

McKissick To Talk Before SP Meeting

Floyd McKissick, the first Negro to gain entrance into UNC and the first Negro lawyer in Durham, will speak to the Student Party tonight at 8 on "Civil Rights in North Carolina." Non-party members are invited.

McKissick is a leader in Civil Rights who spoke last spring at the Carolina Symposium.

McKissick's philosophies on civil rights are that: "The Negro has received only a token integration in the South. If we wait for integration to come to the South it will never come. Southerners don't usually do things voluntarily."

He advocates stronger effort on part of the Negro, not only for more rights, but in preparing himself through education and self-improvement.

"The Negro has the right to vote. Whether he takes a bath or not has nothing to do with his right to vote. He can be blind, crippled and carry a switch blade but he still has the right to vote," McKissick says.

Proposed amendments to the SP bylaws and the oncoming membership drive will also be discussed during the regular party meeting.

McKissick is a leader in Civil Rights who spoke last spring at the Carolina Symposium.

McKissick's philosophies on civil rights are that: "The Negro has received only a token integration in the South. If we wait for integration to come to the South it will never come. Southerners don't usually do things voluntarily."

He advocates stronger effort on part of the Negro, not only for more rights, but in preparing himself through education and self-improvement.

"The Negro has the right to vote. Whether he takes a bath or not has nothing to do with his right to vote. He can be blind, crippled and carry a switch blade but he still has the right to vote," McKissick says.

Proposed amendments to the SP bylaws and the oncoming membership drive will also be discussed during the regular party meeting.

McKissick is a leader in Civil Rights who spoke last spring at the Carolina Symposium.

McKissick's philosophies on civil rights are that: "The Negro has received only a token integration in the South. If we wait for integration to come to the South it will never come. Southerners don't usually do things voluntarily."

He advocates stronger effort on part of the Negro, not only for more rights, but in preparing himself through education and self-improvement.

"The Negro has the right to vote. Whether he takes a bath or not has nothing to do with his right to vote. He can be blind, crippled and carry a switch blade but he still has the right to vote," McKissick says.

Proposed amendments to the SP bylaws and the oncoming membership drive will also be discussed during the regular party meeting.

McKissick is a leader in Civil Rights who spoke last spring at the Carolina Symposium.

McKissick's philosophies on civil rights are that: "The Negro has received only a token integration in the South. If we wait for integration to come to the South it will never come. Southerners don't usually do things voluntarily."

He advocates stronger effort on part of the Negro, not only for more rights, but in preparing himself through education and self-improvement.

"The Negro has the right to vote. Whether he takes a bath or not has nothing to do with his right to vote. He can be blind, crippled and carry a switch blade but he still has the right to vote," McKissick says.

Proposed amendments to the SP bylaws and the oncoming membership drive will also be discussed during the regular party meeting.

McKissick is a leader in Civil Rights who spoke last spring at the Carolina Symposium.

McKissick's philosophies on civil rights are that: "The Negro has received only a token integration in the South. If we wait for integration to come to the South it will never come. Southerners don't usually do things voluntarily."

provement.

"The Negro has the right to vote. Whether he takes a bath or not has nothing to do with his right to vote. He can be blind, crippled and carry a switch blade but he still has the right to vote," McKissick says.

Proposed amendments to the SP bylaws and the oncoming membership drive will also be discussed during the regular party meeting.

McKissick is a leader in Civil Rights who spoke last spring at the Carolina Symposium.

McKissick's philosophies on civil rights are that: "The Negro has received only a token integration in the South. If we wait for integration to come to the South it will never come. Southerners don't usually do things voluntarily."

He advocates stronger effort on part of the Negro, not only for more rights, but in preparing himself through education and self-improvement.

"The Negro has the right to vote. Whether he takes a bath or not has nothing to do with his right to vote. He can be blind, crippled and carry a switch blade but he still has the right to vote," McKissick says.

Proposed amendments to the SP bylaws and the oncoming membership drive will also be discussed during the regular party meeting.

McKissick is a leader in Civil Rights who spoke last spring at the Carolina Symposium.

McKissick's philosophies on civil rights are that: "The Negro has received only a token integration in the South. If we wait for integration to come to the South it will never come. Southerners don't usually do things voluntarily."

He advocates stronger effort on part of the Negro, not only for more rights, but in preparing himself through education and self-improvement.

"The Negro has the right to vote. Whether he takes a bath or not has nothing to do with his right to vote. He can be blind, crippled and carry a switch blade but he still has the right to vote," McKissick says.

Proposed amendments to the SP bylaws and the oncoming membership drive will also be discussed during the regular party meeting.

McKissick is a leader in Civil Rights who spoke last spring at the Carolina Symposium.

McKissick's philosophies on civil rights are that: "The Negro has received only a token integration in the South. If we wait for integration to come to the South it will never come. Southerners don't usually do things voluntarily."

He advocates stronger effort on part of the Negro, not only for more rights, but in preparing himself through education and self-improvement.

"The Negro has the right to vote. Whether he takes a bath or not has nothing to do with his right to vote. He can be blind, crippled and carry a switch blade but he still has the right to vote," McKissick says.

Proposed amendments to the SP bylaws and the oncoming membership drive will also be discussed during the regular party meeting.

McKissick is a leader in Civil Rights who spoke last spring at the Carolina Symposium.

McKissick's philosophies on civil rights are that: "The Negro has received only a token integration in the South. If we wait for integration to come to the South it will never come. Southerners don't usually do things voluntarily."

He advocates stronger effort on part of the Negro, not only for more rights, but in preparing himself through education and self-improvement.

"The Negro has the right to vote. Whether he takes a bath or not has nothing to do with his right to vote. He can be blind, crippled and carry a switch blade but he still has the right to vote," McKissick says.

Proposed amendments to the SP bylaws and the oncoming membership drive will also be discussed during the regular party meeting.

McKissick is a leader in Civil Rights who spoke last spring at the Carolina Symposium.

McKissick's philosophies on civil rights are that: "The Negro has received only a token integration in the South. If we wait for integration to come to the South it will never come. Southerners don't usually do things voluntarily."

Barbara Jean Parks of Lexington, Carolyn Marie Pinion of Arlington, Va., Shelby Delaine Purser of Davidson, Kathryn Moore Taylor of Roanoke Rapids and Susan Holly Woodward of Fredericksburg, Va.

Limited to two per cent of the coed student body, Valkyries corresponds to the Order of the Golden Fleece, the highest men's honorary. It was founded in 1941 when it replaced Alpha Kappa Gamma, national women's honorary society. Members are recognized for character, leadership, scholarship and service.

Current active members are Judy Clark, Susan Crow, Brooks Garnett, Bev Haynes, Julia Latane, Ann Lupton, Jan McColsky, Meredith Patton, Margaret Ann Rhymes, Beth Walker and Jean Yoder.

Citations read as follows:

MRS. DARITY . . . "one whose life is lived beyond our modern mental barriers, whose vitality will not be curbed. Mrs. Darity's work has been motivated by the ideals of human rights and world peace, and to this work she has brought her personal warmth and patient understanding. For two years, Mrs. Darity has been a valuable addition to the community as a teacher, as a board member of the Chapel Hill Pre-School, as a participant in the adult-education program and in other University and community organizations. Her life and work express her tolerant perseverance against those customs and beliefs which stifle human potential."

MISS BAILEY . . . "one who has superbly fulfilled her responsibilities as a student by maintaining a high caliber of academic achievement and by service to the University as President of the YWCA. Miss Bailey approaches each task with enthusiasm, organizational ability and dedication, which make her a respected and constructive influence upon the campus and her associates."

MISS DAVIS . . . "one who as dormitory president has risen above the expected. By bringing a contagious enthusiasm, strength and understanding to her administrative positions, she has created a new unity in her dormitory. At the same time, she has maintained a superior scholastic average."

MISS FARR . . . "one who is recognized for her tireless work on the orientation committee and for her dedication and service as Attorney General, feeling both loyalty and understanding for the student and the University. Her qualities of character, loyalty and willingness to help make her an outstanding leader and a sincere friend."

MISS PARKS . . . "one who has been undaunted by adverse situations in her tireless and unselfish efforts to enter the profession of medicine. Miss Parks has exhibited par-excellence in her academic endeavor and was chosen recipient of a National Institute of Health fellowship."

MISS PINION . . . "one whose dedication to her profession of nursing and whose performance as a member of the Women's Council reflect the fearless strength of her personal convictions blended with a sense of compassion and perceptive insight. She has exerted leadership and determined initiative in developing a program to unify the enforcement of social regulations for dormitory and sorority women."

MISS PURSER . . . "one who has exerted creative leadership in molding an effective and enthusiastic Carolina Women's Council that has gained campus-wide respect for its accomplishments. Her conscientious service as a dormitory officer, her active participation in Wesley Foundation, as well as Miss Purser's individual qualities of integrity, courage and concern have made her a vital personality in campus life."

MISS TAYLOR . . . "one who has carried out the responsibilities given her by the Women's Council, the Women's Orientation Committee and her sorority with conscientiousness and sound judgment, gaining the respect of all who have worked with her."

MISS WOODWARD . . . "One whose concern for intellectual growth has gained her the respect of both members of the faculty and fellow students. In organizing activities for students from other countries at this University and in promoting opportunities for American students to attend universities of other countries, she has demonstrated the qualities of creative leadership and initiative."

Brazil Ships Set To Meet Pirate Craft

By United Press International
Brazilian warships steamed toward a rendezvous with the pirate ship Anzeategui Monday night at an isolated anchorage off Brazil's lonely north coast.

The Venezuelan Communists who hijacked the freighter in the Caribbean last Wednesday agreed to surrender her to Brazil in exchange for political asylum.

The ship was reported "dead in the water" off Maracaibo Island, about a mile and a half off the Brazilian mainland, halfway between French Guiana and the mouth of the Amazon.

U. S. Navy patrol planes which first located the fleeing freighter over the weekend, and have kept it under constant observation since, ended their aerial vigilance after confirming it was in Brazilian territorial waters.

Two Venezuelan destroyers chasing the Anzeategui for the past four days appeared to have little chance of reaching her anchorage prior to the arrival of Brazilian warships.

The navy ministry said the Venezuelan destroyer Nueva Sparta had asked authority to enter Bolem to await the expected arrival of the Anzeategui. The request was granted as the Nueva Sparta pledged to observe Brazilian neutrality.

Hijackers Apparently Safe
The Brazilian anchorage and that country's offer of political asylum appeared to make the ship safe from capture.

A Pentagon spokesman disclosed that the U. S. Navy used about a dozen ships and two dozen planes in the long search for the hijacked vessel.

Enrollment Down 409 From Fall

A spring enrollment of 9,295 students, a decrease of 409 students from the fall semester figure of 9,604, was announced yesterday by the UNC Office of Records and Registration.

The spring figure includes 6,728 undergraduates, 1,802 graduate students and 767 post baccalaureate professors.

Undergraduate enrollment decreased by 209 students with the sophomore class showing the biggest drop, 230, and the junior class the biggest increase, 161. The freshman class dropped by 24 students while the senior class decreased by 102 students.

Broken down into classes the spring figures show that there now are 1,702 freshman; 1,486 sophomores; 2,047 juniors; 1,353 seniors; 138 special students, for a total of 5,219 males and 1,507 females. Also on the undergraduate level there are 2,961 students in the General College; 2,095 in the College of Arts and Sciences; 526 in Business Administration; 485 in Education; 61 in Journalism; and 11 in Library Science.

On the graduate level there are 1,205 in the College of Arts and Sciences; 76 in Business Administration; 127 in Education; 5 in Journalism; 60 in Library Science; 324 in Law School; 68 in Social Work. Also there now are 587 undergraduate students in the Division of Health Affairs along with 231 in the graduate school.

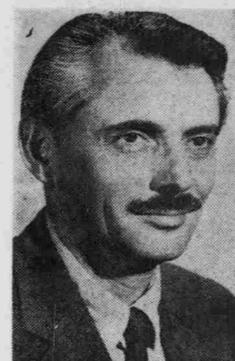

MISS PINION . . . "one whose dedication to her profession of nursing and whose performance as a member of the Women's Council reflect the fearless strength of her personal convictions blended with a sense of compassion and perceptive insight. She has exerted leadership and determined initiative in developing a program to unify the enforcement of social regulations for dormitory and sorority women."

MISS PURSER . . . "one who has exerted creative leadership in molding an effective and enthusiastic Carolina Women's Council that has gained campus-wide respect for its accomplishments. Her conscientious service as a dormitory officer, her active participation in Wesley Foundation, as well as Miss Purser's individual qualities of integrity, courage and concern have made her a vital personality in campus life."

MISS TAYLOR . . . "one who has carried out the responsibilities given her by the Women's Council, the Women's Orientation Committee and her sorority with conscientiousness and sound judgment, gaining the respect of all who have worked with her."

MISS WOODWARD . . . "One whose concern for intellectual growth has gained her the respect of both members of the faculty and fellow students. In organizing activities for students from other countries at this University and in promoting opportunities for American students to attend universities of other countries, she has demonstrated the qualities of creative leadership and initiative."

News Correspondent Is Featured Speaker For Model Assembly

EDWARD P. MORGAN

WILLIAM JORDAN

Morgan Talks Thursday PM In Memorial

Edward P. Morgan, award winning ABC news correspondent, and William M. Jordan, U. N. Director of the Political Affairs Division, will be the principal speakers when the model United Nations General Assembly for the Middle South meets here this Wednesday thru Saturday.

Morgan will speak in Memorial Hall at 8 p.m. on Thursday in an open assembly of delegates, students and townspeople. Jordan will be the principal speaker at a luncheon banquet on the same day.

Morgan has been reporting news throughout the world for more than 20 years. He has won many awards for his outstanding news coverage, among them a citation from the Overseas Press Club for his coverage of the Geneva Summit Conference.

His radio program, "Edward P. Morgan and the News", has received the Peabody Award for the outstanding radio program in 1956 and was cited by the National Education Association for Better Radio and TV as the outstanding radio program of 1961.

Jordan has been a member of the U. N. Secretariat since the establishment of the United Nations in 1946. A citizen of the United Kingdom, he has received distinction as a historian of twentieth century diplomacy.

Appointed to attend the San Francisco Conference which formulated the UN, Jordan was actively involved making arrangements for the first meetings of the Security Council. He served for ten years as Chief of the Pacific Settlements Section before assuming his present duties.

Other speakers in the program include Dr. George Taylor, associate professor of history at UNC. He will speak to an open assembly on Friday at 8 p.m. on "Moral and Psychological Aspects of the World Peace Problems."

Three-hundred students from 50 colleges and universities are expected to attend the three-day assembly, which is sponsored by the Collegiate Council for the United Nations (CCUN) and the UNC YMCA.

"We hope to make the workings of the UN known to college students and to awaken more international consciousness," said Hugo Speicher, secretary-general of the assembly. Speicher, born in Santa Cruz, Bolivia, is in the honors program in economics at UNC.

In addition to Morgan's address, the majority of the Mock UN meetings will be open to the general public.

Sneed Resigns As Assistant UP Chairman

Vice Chairman of the University Party Al Sneed has resigned his position because of "a very heavy academic load."

Sneed, a physics major, is a Morehead scholar and a member of the NROTC program.

Party Chairman Mike Chanin said, "Sneed's resignation is a great disappointment to me. We had worked well together during the fall elections and I was counting on his experience to help us this spring."

A new Vice-Chairman will be elected at the next scheduled party meeting, Tuesday, Feb. 26, to be held in Carroll Hall beginning at 8 p.m. Anyone interested in seeking the Vice-Chairmanship should see Chanin sometime during the week.

WUNC RADIO, 91.5 FM
Schedule for Tuesday evening, Feb. 19, 1962.

6:00-The Dinner Hour
6:55-News Summary
7:00-Democracy in America
7:30-World of the Mind
7:55-Basketball:
Duke vs. Maryland
10:00-Ten O'clock Report
10:15-Washington Reports to the People
10:30-The Quiet Hours
10:55-News Summary

Campus Briefs

Orientation Group Slates Interviews

STATE AFFAIRS COMMITTEE
The State Affairs Committee will have an important meeting tonight at 7:30 in the TV room of GM.

JUNIOR CLASS SOCIAL
The Junior Class Social and Publicity Committee will meet this afternoon at 3:30 in RPL. All members are expected to attend.

ORIENTATION INTERVIEWS
Interviews for the 1963 Orientation Committee are being held this week in the Grail Room of GM. Interview times are: Tues. and Thurs., 2-5, and Fri. from 3-5 p.m. Interested students should sign for interviews at the information desk in GM.

FRESHMAN SOCCER
There will be an awards meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Monogram Club room at Woolen Gym for all members of the Freshman Soccer Team.

CAROLINA QUARTERLY
Anyone interested in the position of Business Manager or Editor of the Carolina Quarterly should come to GM this afternoon between 3:30 and 5:30 for an interview.

JUNIOR CLASS EXEC.
The Junior Class Executive Committee will meet tonight at 8:30 in the Grail Room.

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS
The Academic Affairs Committee will meet Wed., at 5 in Roland Parker III of GM.

OUTING CLUB
There will be a meeting of the Outing Club tonight at 7 in room 302 Woolen Gym. Plans will be made for the semester.

FINANCE COMMITTEE
The Finance Committee of Student Government will meet tonight at 6:30 in Student Govt. Offices. All members must attend.

NEW LEFT
The New Left Club meeting scheduled for tonight has been postponed one week.

FRESHMAN CAMP
All students interested in working with the Freshman Camp Program of the YMCA to be held next Sept., should come to the meeting tonight at 7 in Gerrard Hall.

Indonesia Fears 'Americanization' Of Its Students

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI)—A high school student exchange program between Indonesia and the United States has been suspended, presumably because Indonesian youngsters were becoming "too Americanized," it was learned Monday.

The Indonesian government has advised the American Field Service there will be no program in 1963. The service is a private people-to-people program in which foreign nationals spend a year in the United States going to school and living with American families.

Currently, there are 82 Indonesian students finishing studies in the United States under the field service program.

THE MUSIC MAKERS—The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra went through their repertoire before a 3/4 capacity audience in Memorial Hall Sunday afternoon. Shown above are two scenes from the Orchestra's rendition of Richard Strauss' "Don Juan." The appearance of the orchestra was sponsored jointly by the Chapel Hill Concert Series and Graham Memorial.

—Photos by Jim Wallace

First Southern Human Relations Meet To Be Held In Chapel Hill During May

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, chief counsel for the NAACP and lawyer for James Meredith and Harvey Gantt, will be one of four key-note speakers at the first All South Relations Youth Conference to be held in Chapel Hill May 2-5.

The meeting, which is the first of its kind in the south, will be sponsored by the United States Young Adult Council, co-ordinator for 28 youth groups in the U. S. such as the YM-YWCA, NSA, and the 4-H.

The conference, built on the theme of "The South into the Mainstream," is expected to draw 150 delegates from schools, unions and religious organizations below the Mason-Dixon Line.

Judd Johnson, president of the Young Adults Council, said recently that "North Carolina was selected as the meeting place for the delegates because it has made outstanding progress in the field of human relations. Our hope is to expose those delegates from the segregated areas of the south to the advances made in North Carolina."

Mrs. Motley will speak on "The Constitution and Human Rights."

Other addresses will be: Dr. J. Clayton Feaver (Prof. of Philosophy at Oklahoma University) on "A Philosophical Analysis of the Term Human Relations"; Dr. Richard Bardolph, chairman of the Dept. of History at Women's College, on "The History of Human Relations in the South; and Rev. Will Campbell, associated with the National Council of Churches, on the "Role of the Church in the Changing South."

The conference will be organized into workshops which will deal with the economic, political, international, educational and religious aspects of human relations in the south.

UNC hosts for the conference will be the YMCA Human Relations Committee and the NSA.

FLOYD MCKISSICK

Frats In IDC - Debate Topic

The Di-Phi Literary society tonight will debate a resolution advocating the right of all dormitory residents to hold an office in the IDC.

The Di-Phi, in selecting this resolution, felt that any dormitory resident who pays both board and social fees should have access to positions of leadership in the system of dormitory government.

Although dormitory residents with fraternity affiliation have been excluded from such opportunities in the past, the Di-Phi members who propose the resolution note that many have still participated actively in dorm affairs.

The debate will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Di Hall on the third floor of New West. Nominations for officers of the spring session will also be held.

FLU SHOTS

Flu shots are being given at the Infirmary from 9-11:30 and 2-5 p.m. Monday-Friday.