Johnson Moves Into President's Office; Brings Own Rocker

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lyndon B. Johnson, devoted to "continuity without confusion," moved Tuesday into the presidential office of the White House and immediately began carrying out the key policies of his slain predecessor.

Working from his own desk, the new President quickly arranged summit meetings early next year with Britain and France, conferred for an hour with Russia's Anastas Mikoyan, and signalled his determination to carry out the domestic programs of John F. Kennedy.

He is scheduled to spell out in some detail his endorsement of Kennedy civil rights and tax cut legislation in an address to a joint session of Congress at 12:30 p.m. today.

The speech, to be carried by radio and television, is expected to run about 20 minutes.

Moving smoothly from vice presidential to presidential tasks, the 55-year-old Texan quickly put his stamp on the White House office.

The late President's famed rocking chair was gone—but only to be replaced by another rocker more suited to the new Chief Executive.

President Johnson briefly tried out a black leather upholstered chair he had brought in. But he soon sent out for a rocker of his own. For one thing, it has a cushioned headrest on its high back; Kennedy's did not.

The slain President's antique desk was replaced with a more modern one. There was a new red rug on the floor. The repainted office walls were bare of decorations as yet.

Johnson asked all members of the White House to remain on the job for the time being. He appeared to be relying heavily on McGeorge Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs, who was at his side frequently. Bundy was one of Kennedy's most valued advisers.

While these changes were underway in the business section of the White House, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy packed her belongings in the living quarters and storage vans moved in and out. She was assured by Mrs. Johnson that the quarters were hers as long as she needed them.

One of the President's first of a series of day-long conferences was with special assistant Lawrence F. O'Brien, in charge of congressional affairs. It was O'Brien that Johnson conveyed his determination to pursue the objectives of the Kennedy legislative program.

Key Democratic members of Congress were said to have agreed that there would be no slackening of the drive for approval of the civil rights and tax cut bills, cornerstones of the Kennedy domestic program.

In explaining his decision to address a joint session, Johnson said following President Kennedy's funeral that "continuity without confusion has got to be our password."

In rapid order during the day, the new President conferred with world leaders or their representatives who had come to the capital for the Kennedy funeral.

He and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home agreed to meet formally early next year. The President and French leader Charles de Gaulle had agreed Monday night to confer in Washington early in 1964.

Mikoyan, Soviet first deputy premier, said he and the President had a pleasant conversation. He said they did not specifically discuss a Johnson-Khrushchev meeting, but agreed that U.S.-Soviet policy on such matters "remain as they were."

Finally, Mikoyan said in reply to questions that he could not talk for Soviet Premier Khrushchev on the issue of a summit conference.

Other presidential callers included West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard; Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia; Irish President Eamon de Valera; Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal; Turkish Prime Minister Ismet Inonu, and heads of the funeral delegations from Latin American countries.

DUKE TICKETS

Ticket Manager Vernon Crook reports that about 300 tickets to the Duke-UNC football game will be available to the public today. These include both the student coupons ($2.25) and the regular tickets ($4.50). A student may purchase both a coupon and a student guest ticket ($4.50).

Students wishing refunds on their tickets should turn them in to the Woollen Gym ticket office before 12 noon today.

Also, there are still plenty of both student and regular tickets left for the UNC-South Carolina basketball game, to be played here on Monday, Dec. 2, at 8 p.m.

Stocks Score Biggest Gain In History

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Stock Exchange scored its sharpest advance in history Tuesday, indicating strong Wall Street confidence in the new Johnson administration.

About $14.6 billion was added to the market value in the first day of trading since the stock market suspended in mid-session last Friday on news that President Kennedy had been shot by an assassin.

Dow-Jones industrial average skyrocketed 32.03 to 743.52 — a record gain in a single session. Until Tuesday, the sharpest gain recorded in this average was the 28.40 of Oct. 30, 1929, the day after the stock market crashed. The Dow-Jones industrials plummeted 21.16 points last Friday.

Trading swelled to 9,320,000 shares, the largest since the 10,706,970 traded May 31, 1962, during the hectic week when the market broke and then made a speedy recovery.

Dow-Jones rails advanced 4.39 to 170.80, utilities 1.52 to 136.49 and 65 stocks 8.58 to 260.64. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index jumped 2.77 to 72.38.

SSL Interviews

Delegates to the 1964 State Legislature will be selected in interviews immediately following the Thanksgiving holidays.

Delegates and alternates will be chosen from results of an interview and short quiz. Interviews will be held in GM next Tuesday through Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m.

The SSL meets annually in Raleigh for three days to present and debate resolutions on current state and national issues. This year's meeting will be held Feb. 27 through 29.

Members of the delegation will draft two resolutions or bills to be presented at the February session.

BAKE SALE

Junior Class girls will hold a bake sale in Y-Court on Monday and Tuesday, December 2 and 3. The sale will offer baked goods prepared by coeds, and will run from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

Harrison Merrill, Junior Class president, announced yesterday that all proceeds from the sale will go to the class treasury. All junior girls have been asked to donate items for the sale, including cookies, pastries, cakes and pies. Such items will be brought from home by the girls following the Thanksgiving holidays.

PEACE UNION LIBRARY

The Student Peace Union has announced the opening of a 75-volume library on the first floor of the YMCA building.

The library contains books, periodicals, and pamphlets on peace and civil rights. Students may check out books or use the library as a study room.

Library hours will be 2 to 3:30 p.m. daily and after 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Coffee will be available at night.

Latin Commitment To Be Continued

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson pledged the United States Tuesday to continuation of the Alliance for Progress aid to Latin America as a "living memorial" to John F. Kennedy.

Johnson spoke to Latin American diplomats in the same White House room where the late President announced creation of the program almost three years ago.

"We will carry on the job," Johnson declared. "Let the alliance be his living memorial."

Johnson's audience in the East Room of the Executive Mansion was made up of special delegations from Latin American countries to Kennedy's funeral Monday.

He originally had planned to see them elsewhere but Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy suggested that Johnson invite them to the East Room because it was from there that Kennedy launched the Alliance for Progress program in 1961.

Mrs. Kennedy herself was in the East room to hear Johnson reaffirm her husband's policies toward Latin America.

"In a very special sense this is a family gathering," Johnson told the visitors. "Nothing in President Kennedy's public career meant more to him than the ties of his country with yours."

Johnson recalled that Kennedy's Alliance for Progress speech was "the first full-scale foreign policy address of his administration."

"Today, with all of you in the same room, I reaffirm that alliance and pledge all the energies of my government to those common goals," Johnson said.

The East Room meeting was closed to newsmen but Johnson repeated his remarks to reporters in the "fish room" outside his office and the event was carried on radio and television.

Johnson conceded that "we all know there have been problems" in carrying out the alliance, a ten-year program of American aid keyed to economic and social reforms in Latin countries.

But he echoed Kennedy's insistence that accomplishments since 1961 and the promise of success to come vindicated the late President's faith in the program.

In one of his last major speeches, Kennedy told the Inter-American Press Association in Miami Beach, Fla., Monday night — four days before he was assassinated in Dallas — that he believed more strongly in the alliance than ever before.

"Inspired by his memory, and in the same spirit, we will carry on the job," Johnson asserted.

Johnson's meeting with the Latin Americans and his public report on it were designed to put formally on the record the fact that as did Kennedy, Johnson plans to make the Alliance for Progress program a major part of U. S. foreign policy.

Mrs. Kennedy was escorted into the East Room by former Colombian President Lleras Camargo. Mrs. Johnson also was present to hear the pronouncement on the Alliance for Progress by her husband.

Maggot Wins UMOG Contest

"Maggot," sponsored by Tau Epsilon Phi, has won the Ugly Man on Campus Contest conducted by Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity.

"Maggot's" winning total was 9,891 votes at one cent per vote. All proceeds from the annual contest go to charity, with this year's cause being Project Hope.

Runners-up in the balloting were "Gross," sponsored by Craige Residence Hall, and "Spud," entered by Delta Upsilon.

Stacy's "Werewolf" placed fourth in the voting, followed by the "Crude Horror" from Everett.

The winner will be presented with a trophy during halftime ceremonies at a UNC basketball game in the near future. In addition, he will be given a date with a beautiful Carolina coed at the expense of APO.

APO officials yesterday called the contest a success, and extended their appreciation to contestants, sponsors and those who voted in the contest.

Police, FBI Plan Probes Of Assassination Details

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three major investigations were developing yesterday into the assassination of President Kennedy and the murder of his accused slayer, Lee Harvey Oswald.

The inquiries by the FBI, the state of Texas and, possibly, the Senate Judiciary Committee were expected to reveal all the details surrounding the death of the President to check off at once any of the inevitable rumors of a "plot."

As one senator remarked, "Some people debated for a century whether John Wilkes Booth killed Lincoln. Now is the time to get the whole story of the Kennedy assassination."

President Johnson assured the nation Monday night all the facts disclosed in the FBI investigation would be made public.

He ordered all federal agencies to cooperate with the FBI and the Justice Department in a "prompt and thorough investigation of all the circumstances" surrounding the two killings.

"The people of the nation may be sure that all of the facts will be made public," the President said in a statement.

The FBI is positive that Oswald fired the two fatal bullets which killed Kennedy in Dallas last Friday, but it hopes to build an irrefutable case against the ex-Marine.

The Justice Department said it would lend whatever aid Texas officials needed in the state's investigation. Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr announced after Kennedy's funeral that a "court of inquiry" would be called to consider the slayings.

The court, similar to a fact-finding board but with the power to subpoena witnesses, would serve to replace the trial of Oswald that cannot now be held. It makes findings, but they do not have the force of law and are not privileged; that is, they may be used only at the risk of libel.

Members of the Senate Judiciary Committee were reported to feel that the Texas investigation would not be enough. "Too many people are disturbed about the strange circumstances of the whole tragic affair," said one Republican member.

Committee members indicated that they would offer legislation to make the assassination of a president a federal crime, punishable by death.

Although the FBI refused to discuss its investigation even in general terms, it was obvious that it was seeking to learn every detail, including the assassin's motivation, his contacts and his associations.

Ruby Indicted; In Good Spirits

DALLAS (UPI) — A county grand jury Tuesday indicted flashy Jack Ruby for murder with malice in the vengeful slaying of President Kennedy's accused assassin.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said he would ask the death penalty and requested that Ruby be held without bond.

Tom Howard, Ruby's attorney, said he will apply for a writ of habeas corpus next week and will ask that his client be freed in bond.

"I think he should be," he said. Trial has been set for Dec. 9, but Howard said he will probably ask for a postponement until mid-January.

The striptease nightclub operator seemed unconcerned by it all. He downed a hearty breakfast and "seemed in awfully good spirits," said chief jailer E. L. Holman.

Jake "The Master" Ehrlich said today he is willing to consider defending Ruby.

Bowl Bid, ACC Title At Stake Against Devils

By JOHN MONTAGUE

North Carolina's football team, which has met one test after another this fall, faces its most important examination of the season tomorrow afternoon in Durham, and the final grade will be either an "A" or an "F."

The Duke Blue Devils are expected to be anything but gracious hosts and could easily put a damper on the Tar Heels' most successful year on the gridiron since 1949. This is the 49th meeting (Duke leads series, 25-20-3) between the two arch rivals—a spirited series in which anything goes.

Kick-off time is 2 p.m. for the Thanksgiving Day struggle, originally scheduled for last Saturday, but postponed due to the death of President Kennedy.

A share of the ACC championship awaits the winner, and if the Tar Heels are able to hold off the underdog hosts, they may pluck an even juicier plum—an invitation to a major post-season bowl game.

Coach Jim Hickey's Heels have been rated a very slight favorite to win their eighth game of the season against two losses, but pre-game speculation often means less than nothing in this series.

Duke was a slim choice in 1959, when UNC rolled, 50-0. In 1960, the Blue Devils were a solid pick only to fall, 7-6. One year later Duke was a small favorite, but had to kick an eleventh hour field goal to win it, 6-3. And last fall it was another last-gasp field goal which pulled it out for the heavily favored Davils, 16-14.

Both teams enter the Turkey Day skirmish with identical 5-1 conference marks. The winner tomorrow will be the ACC co-champion along with the N. C. State Wolfpack, which finished 6-1 in the ACC with a 42-0 rout of Wake Forest Friday night.

Coach Bill Murray's Blue Devils, who have won the ACC for the past three seasons, boast one of the nation's most potent offensive attacks. They have averaged 24 points per game in compiling a 5-3-1 record.

All-America halfback Jay Wilkinson (6-1, 196) is the most explosive Blue Devil. The fleet Oklahoman has rushed for 568 yards in 105 carries this fall, and has found the end zone on 11 occasions, placing him among the country's top scorers.

His rushing total places him only 15 yards behind UNC's Ken Willard as the two battle down to the wire for the ACC ground gaining title.

Scotty Glacken (5-10, 175) pilots the Duke attack and the Devils' second biggest weapon has been the pass from the brilliant soph to his lonely end, Stan Crisson (6-2, 200). Glacken has connected on 85 of 173 passes for 1,048 yards and 11 touchdowns. On the other end, Crisson has snagged 42 for 517 yards and seven TD's. Both Glacken's TD passes and Crisson's TD catches are conference records.

In addition, Crisson's 90 career grabs place him in a good position to challenge the Heels' Bob Lacey for the all-time ACC record in this department. Lacey, UNC's own All-America, has 92
