

The Daily Tar Heel

Offices in Graham Memorial

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1963

United Press International Service

No Successors Named

Wake Cans Hildebrand; Gibson Gets Boot Also

WINSTON-SALEM (UPI)—Athletic director William H. Gibson and head football coach Billy Hildebrand were relieved of their duties at Wake Forest College Wednesday and a committee began an immediate search for "dynamic" replacements.

Both Gibson and Hildebrand were offered positions with the development division at the Baptist-affiliated school, but it was not immediately known whether they would accept.

The shakeup resulted largely from Wake Forest's inability to compete successfully in big-time football. The Deacons won only one of their past 20 games and managed to break an 18-game losing streak only last month with a 20-19 win over South Carolina.

The victory over the Gamecocks earned Hildebrand national

"coach of the week" honors from United Press International.

"I'd have to say naturally this comes as a disappointment to me individually and as an embarrassment to my many friends," said Gibson, a 55-year-old former FBI agent who took over as athletic director in 1954.

"I'm willing to take my share of the responsibility for our failure not to have a good football program," he said. "But I certainly don't think the full responsibility should rest on my shoulders or upon the shoulders of the head football coach."

Gibson was undecided whether to accept the university's offer to remain.

Hildebrand was not immediately available for comment. A secretary said he was meeting with his staff assistants.

Hildebrand, a 39-year-old stand-out at Mississippi State and a former assistant coach at Minnesota, has had a 7-33 record since taking over as head coach in 1960. He has three years remaining on his contract.

"After a thorough study of our athletic situation," explained Dr. Harold W. Tribble, president of Wake Forest, "an advisory committee has recommended that a reorganization of the athletic department and football coaching staff be made at once."

Tribble appointed the committee on Nov. 4. It was composed of members of the school's board of trustees, administration and faculty, the alumni association and boosters club.

Douglas Elam of Winston-Salem, a member of a committee which will help screen replacements for Gibson and Hildebrand, was candid in his appraisal of the situation.

"If you have a long streak of losing at football, something is obviously wrong," he said. "You begin looking for reasons for the losing record."

He said Wake Forest's record was due to a "combination" of factors, including athletic policies adopted by trustees, as well as those of the head football coach and athletic director.

"The responsibility must be shared by all of these persons," he continued. "As we select new personnel to head up what we hope will be a more successful and dynamic program, we hope to correct our weaknesses which have been obvious in the past."

Elam shrugged off rumors that Wake Forest intended to hire a big-name coach or sport figure in the single capacity of athletic director and coach.

Assassination Newspapers Are On Display Here

By JEAN HICKMAN

President Kennedy's assassination is reported in over 58 newspaper front pages, now on display in Howell Hall.

Showcases there contain at present 28 national and 30 state papers from Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, Nov. 22 and 23.

More papers are to be added to the display, according to Norval N. Luxon, Dean of the School of Journalism. They will remain there until after Christmas, he said.

Journalism professors, in commenting on the display, agreed that the newspaper coverage was "exceptionally good." Although they declined to make comparisons between individual newspapers without making a thorough study, they commented readily upon the coverage as a whole.

"I think it was handled very, very well," Dean Luxon said.

Ken Byerly, associate professor of Journalism, agreed. "I think it was very well handled."

Dr. John B. Adams, another associate professor, called it "a superb job."

They mentioned the difficulties that the afternoon papers had with the story breaking so close to deadline. "Especially since the deadlines of many are moving earlier and earlier," Dr. Adams pointed out.

The West Coast afternoon papers had the time advantage in this, he said.

He pointed out that many small N. C. dailies did an "excellent job of making over whole front pages—a job he acknowledged as extremely difficult to do at the last minute."

As for the journalists themselves, Dean Luxon described them as "restrained" and showing "a great deal of ingenuity."

Dr. Adams said the tragedy proved that top-ranking journalists can write under pressure "of the severest kind." He said, "It's the kind of event you hope you never have to cover . . . but it gives you a feeling of pride at how well it was done."

Assassination Newspapers Are On Display Here

By JEAN HICKMAN

President Kennedy's assassination is reported in over 58 newspaper front pages, now on display in Howell Hall.

Showcases there contain at present 28 national and 30 state papers from Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, Nov. 22 and 23.

More papers are to be added to the display, according to Norval N. Luxon, Dean of the School of Journalism. They will remain there until after Christmas, he said.

Journalism professors, in commenting on the display, agreed that the newspaper coverage was "exceptionally good." Although they declined to make comparisons between individual newspapers without making a thorough study, they commented readily upon the coverage as a whole.

"I think it was handled very, very well," Dean Luxon said.

Ken Byerly, associate professor of Journalism, agreed. "I think it was very well handled."

Dr. John B. Adams, another associate professor, called it "a superb job."

They mentioned the difficulties that the afternoon papers had with the story breaking so close to deadline. "Especially since the deadlines of many are moving earlier and earlier," Dr. Adams pointed out.

The West Coast afternoon papers had the time advantage in this, he said.

He pointed out that many small N. C. dailies did an "excellent job of making over whole front pages—a job he acknowledged as extremely difficult to do at the last minute."

As for the journalists themselves, Dean Luxon described them as "restrained" and showing "a great deal of ingenuity."

Dr. Adams said the tragedy proved that top-ranking journalists can write under pressure "of the severest kind." He said, "It's the kind of event you hope you never have to cover . . . but it gives you a feeling of pride at how well it was done."

Need A Job?

The following organizations will recruit on campus from December 9 through December 17:

Mon., Dec. 9—The Atlantic Refining Co.; Ernst & Ernst; The Martin Co.

Tues., Dec. 10—The Martin Co.; Fieldcrest Mills, Inc.; Haskins & Sells; Stanford University Graduate School of Business; American Oil Co.

Wed., Dec. 11—American Oil Co.; Price Waterhouse & Co.

Thurs., Dec. 12—Celanese Corporation of America; Blowing Rock Chair Co.; A. M. Pullen & Co.; Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Fri., Dec. 13—University of Virginia Graduate School of Business Administration; Kearsfoot Co., Inc.

Mon., Dec. 16—Frank P. Wall, CPA.

Tues., Dec. 17—Durham Coca-Cola Bottling Co.; Bettis Atomic Power Laboratory, Westinghouse Electric Corp.

Students desiring interviews should contact the Placement Service, 204 Gardner Hall.

Frosh After Cash Today

Today is Freshman Class Kickoff Day in Chapel Hill stores.

Four stores—The Hub of Chapel Hill, Varsity Men's Wear, J. B. Robbins and Town & Campus—will participate, according to Jim Brame, class president.

Ten per cent of all sales made in these stores will go to the freshman class treasury for a dance and other future projects.

The dance will be tonight from 8:30 to 10:30 at Graham Memorial. A combo will be provided.

The Kickoff Day is the first of several activities to be lined up for freshmen, Brame said.

"We hope to get full participation today from the class in order to continue with other projects."

Xmas Season Starts With Many Thefts

Clothing And Cars
Among Stolen Items

The Christmas shopping season was not the only season opening here this week. The Christmas stealing season also has begun, with the theft of four cars Monday night and about $2,000 worth of clothes during the Thanksgiving holiday.

Chapel Hill policeman John Nesbitt said Christmas always brings a rash of thefts, but this year's was heavier than usual. He also predicted that more thefts would be reported, possibly today.

Victor Lee Jones, a teenager who lives on Craig Street in Chapel Hill, has been charged with larceny of an auto and larceny of a coat from a house on East Rosemary Street. The auto larceny charge will be tried in Orange Superior Court in Hillsboro, where the youth already had two other auto larceny charges pending.

Jones, caught early Tuesday morning, is charged with larceny of a Valiant, from West Franklin Street. The car is owned by Matt May, who said he saw Jones get in the car and move it, ran outside to stop him, and saw Jones run away when the car stalled. Moving the car constitutes larceny.

Other cars stolen were a 1957 Chevrolet from the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity House on South Columbia Street, owned by Wilson Lynch, a UNC student. Mr. Lynch's car was recovered at Craige Dormitory parking lot. A 1959 Chevrolet convertible owned by William Lee Allen was stolen from the parking lot behind Central Carolina Bank and Trust on West Franklin Street and was recovered in Highland Woods. A 1959 Rambler station wagon was stolen from Mary Hamilton at 1002 Highland Woods and was recovered in the Ram Varsity parking lot.

All the cars taken had either been left with the keys in them or had ignition switches turned to "off" but not locked.

The $2,000 worth of clothing was stolen from fraternity houses and cars parked near fraternities during the Thanksgiving holiday. Police are still investigating.

Judicial Report Is Before SL Tonight

By HUGH STEVENS

Phil Baddour, chairman of the Student Legislature Judicial Committee, will report to the body tonight on two bills which would have abolished the student judiciary system.

Bob Spearman, speaker of the legislature, said yesterday that no legislation is currently before the body, as tonight's meeting will be the first in a new legislative session. All bills under consideration at the end of the last session must be reintroduced.

The Judicial Committee has held a series of hearings and other meetings on the two anti-judiciary bills, which were introduced in response to the dropping of students from the Student-Faculty review board. The committee has investigated charges made by sponsors of the bills that the student judiciary system has ceased to be effective or useful.

Other business will include the naming of a new chairman of the Rules Committee, and a report by Ron Hendren concerning conferences with the Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen about possible student participation in that body.

Reports are also expected from legislators on the activities of the Consolidated University Student Council, the Carolina Forum, the Graham Memorial Board of Directors, and the Student Carolina Athletic Council.

Spearman said there are currently four legislative vacancies, to be filled by the campus political parties in the near future.

Tonight

THEODORE ROPP TO SPEAK

Dr. Theodore Ropp, professor of history at Duke University, will present an address on the uses of social techniques in military history Thursday at 4 p.m. in 104 Peabody Hall.

A specialist in military history, Dr. Ropp holds degrees from Oberlin and Harvard. He has been on the Duke faculty since 1938. In the year 1962-63 he held the post of Ernest J. King Professor at the United States Naval War College.

His most recent book, War in the Modern World, was acclaimed by reviewers as an outstanding synthesis of military affairs.

Dr. Ropp has entitled his address: "Fools Rush In: The Uses and Abuses of Social Science Techniques in Military History."

The talk is sponsored by the Graduate History Club.

MOAT? — No, these workmen are preparing concrete forms for a new heating tunnel running between Carroll and Venable Halls. The new tunnel replaces one connected to the old University Power Plant located behind Phillips which is being torn down. This tunnel leads from a new $150,000 underground Utilities Distribution Center currently under construction.—Photo by Jim Wallace.

Judicial Report Is Before SL Tonight

By HUGH STEVENS

Phil Baddour, chairman of the Student Legislature Judicial Committee, will report to the body tonight on two bills which would have abolished the student judiciary system.

Bob Spearman, speaker of the legislature, said yesterday that no legislation is currently before the body, as tonight's meeting will be the first in a new legislative session. All bills under consideration at the end of the last session must be reintroduced.

The Judicial Committee has held a series of hearings and other meetings on the two anti-judiciary bills, which were introduced in response to the dropping of students from the Student-Faculty review board. The committee has investigated charges made by sponsors of the bills that the student judiciary system has ceased to be effective or useful.

Other business will include the naming of a new chairman of the Rules Committee, and a report by Ron Hendren concerning conferences with the Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen about possible student participation in that body.

Reports are also expected from legislators on the activities of the Consolidated University Student Council, the Carolina Forum, the Graham Memorial Board of Directors, and the Student Carolina Athletic Council.

Spearman said there are currently four legislative vacancies, to be filled by the campus political parties in the near future.

Review Board Is Topic Of Debate

By HUGH STEVENS

Members of the UNC Debate Team discussed the dropping of students from the Student-Faculty Review Board before a large audience at the Chi Omega house Tuesday evening.

Bev Haynes, Chi Omega president, said the group numbered about 100, including her sorority and members of Alpha Gamma Delta.

"The debate was extremely informative," she said. "I thought the response was very good, including the questions that followed the debate."

Don Carson, who moderated the debate, said "those present received what was said very well. I think those present are much more informed about the Review Board question than before."

Debaters taking part in the discussion were Charles Heathery, who took the faculty position, and Blain Yelton, who took the student side.

Haywood Clayton, president of the debate team, said that the response was excellent, and that the series should definitely be continued.

"There are still a few bugs to be worked out," he said, "but overall I was satisfied."

Two other debaters, John MacNicholas and Eric Van Loom, spoke on the issue in another meeting at the Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

"Because of the smaller audience, this meeting took the form of a discussion," Clayton said, "but I think that those present learned something about the issue."

Carson said that Tuesday night's response clearly indicated the value of the debates, which are scheduled for all residence halls, fraternities and sororities.

TOM GILMORE

YDC MEETING

Tom Gilmore, president-elect of the N. C. Young Democratic Clubs, will address a meeting of the Carolina YDC tonight at 8 p.m. in Gerrard Hall.

Gilmore is expected to outline the YDC's obligations and responsibilities in next year's general elections.

Round Trip Is $35 Trains Are Chartered For Jacksonville Trip

Service Work Committee Is Formed By Y

Interviews Start
Today At 3 P.M.

A new committee for service work at the John Umstead Hospital for the mentally ill in Butler is being formed by the YM-YWCA.

Interviews for the committee will be held today and tomorrow in the YMCA building from 3-5 p.m. Co-chairmen will be selected from the committee.

"Students who work as members of this committee will have the opportunity to serve the mentally sick and to learn how to maintain mental health," Claude Shotts, YMCA advisor, said.

The new hospital, an extension of Dix Hill, has about 17,000 patients ranging from the teens to old age. About 90 per cent of the patients are rehabilitated within one year.

The actual programs of the committee will be determined by its members. Possible projects are:

- 1) Personal services to patients
- 2) Planned group activities such as entertainment, picnics, dances and parties.
- 3) Group activities under the guidance of therapy department.
- 4) Establishment of a library for patients.

John C. Biggers, director of volunteer services at the hospital, will direct the committee.

The volunteer work can be rewarding for patients and volunteers, Biggers said.

The volunteers can learn more about mental health and the problems of the individual patients.

The patients gain a lot from having interested and interesting people around them, he said.

A chartered train is being made up in Raleigh to take Tar Heel football fans to the Gator Bowl Dec. 28, and negotiations are under way with two other railroad lines to charter two other trains.

Seaboard Airline Railroad has assigned one car to the special train, which will leave Raleigh for Jacksonville Friday night, Dec. 27. Other cars will be added as reservation requests come in.

Joe Augustine, executive director of the Merchants Association, said negotiations had started with Atlantic Coast Line Railroad to form another chartered train at either Rocky Mount or Fayetteville, and with Southern Railroad to form a third train starting from Greensboro.

The total price of a seat on the Raleigh train and admission to the Gator Bowl game is $35. Checks should be made payable to Continental Travel Agency, which is handling all reservations, and sent to Box 688, Chapel Hill. For further information call 942-4151.

Reservations are being handled on a first-come, first-served basis, and about 6,000 game tickets are left of the 12,000 originally made available here by Gator Bowl officials.

The Chapel Hill Athletic Club is handling arrangements.

The $35 price includes transportation to Jacksonville, to the Bowl from downtown Jacksonville, back to the train after the game, and back to Raleigh. Arrival in Jacksonville will be early Saturday morning, arrival in Raleigh will be early Sunday.

Indications are that there are no more buses available for charter purposes to Jacksonville.

Race Problem Is Discussion Tonite On WUNC Radio

The third and final program in the "Desegregation in a Small Southern Town" series on WUNC radio's Carolina Roundtable will be broadcast tonight at 7 p.m.

The specific topic will be desegregation in Chapel Hill as it relates to ethics and morality.

Participants on the final program are Dr. E. Maynard Adams, professor and Chairman of the Department of Philosophy at the University, the Reverend Larnie G. Horton, pastor of the St. Matthews AME Church in Saxapahaw and a resident of Chapel Hill, and the Reverend Anne E. Queen, secretary of the YWCA at the University.

Dr. Earle Wallace, Associate Dean of the Graduate School and Associate Professor of Political Science, will again serve as moderator.

Listeners may phone in questions to the panelists while the program is on the air by calling WUNC radio station's number, 933-2085. WUNC is heard at 91.5 FM.

Previous programs concerned business and law and government.

HELP WANTED (FEMALE)

The Daily Tar Heel is in dire need of a secretary for Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Hours are 2-4:15 p.m. and no typing experience is necessary. The job pays a small salary. The only qualification for the job is that the girl must be beautiful. See the Old Lecher, Sam Bobsol, for further details.

WUNC RADIO

WUNC Radio will present a special program on European reaction to the death of President Kennedy tonight at 10:15.

The program, which expresses the reaction and shock of the German people to the death of the President, was sent to WUNC by the West German Broadcasting Corp.

Exam Schedule

The time of an examination may not be changed after it has been fixed in the schedule. Quizzes are not to be given in this semester on or after Monday, January 13, 1964.

Prior to taking an examination to remove a grade of "Exc. Abs." or "Cond." a permit must be secured by the student from the Office of Records and Registration.

All French, German and Spanish courses

No'd 1, 2, 3, 3x & 4	Mon. Jan. 20	8:30 a.m.
All 10:00 a.m. classes on MWF	Mon. Jan. 20	2:00 p.m.
All 10:00 a.m. classes on TThS	Tues. Jan. 21	8:30 a.m.
All 1:00 and 1:30 p.m. classes on MWF & *Political Sci. 41	Tues. Jan. 21	2:00 p.m.
All 11:00 a.m. classes on MWF	Wed. Jan. 22	8:30 a.m.
All 2:00 p.m. classes on TThS & *Busi. Adm. 71 & 72	Wed. Jan. 22	2:00 p.m.
All 3:00 p.m. classes, all classes not otherwise provided for in this schedule & *Astr. 31 *Phys 24	Thurs. Jan. 23	8:30 a.m.
All 8:00 a.m. classes on TThS	Thurs. Jan. 23	2:00 p.m.
All 12:00 noon classes on MWF	Fri. Jan. 24	8:30 a.m.
All 2:00 p.m. classes on MWF & *Econ. 61 & 70	Fri. Jan. 24	2:00 p.m.
All 9:00 a.m. classes on TThS	Sat. Jan. 25	8:30 a.m.
All 12:00 noon classes on TThS, All *Naval Science and *Air Science	Sat. Jan. 25	2:00 p.m.
All 9:00 a.m. classes on MWF	Mon. Jan. 27	8:30 a.m.
All 1:00 and 1:30 p.m. classes on TThS & *Busi. 150	Mon. Jan. 27	2:00 p.m.
All 11:00 a.m. classes on TThS	Tues. Jan. 28	8:30 a.m.
All 8:00 a.m. classes on MWF	Tues. Jan. 28	2:00 p.m.

Instructors teaching classes scheduled for common examinations shall request the students in these classes to report to them any conflict with any other examination not later than December 18. In case of a conflict, the regularly scheduled exam will take precedence over the common exam. (Common exams are indicated by an asterisk).

The maximum number of cars will be twenty, Mr. Augustine said. Each car seats 52 people.

Other helpful Hillians have been making other arrangements to go to the Gator Bowl. One Trailways bus has already been chartered, and Trailways also anticipates the UNC Band to charter three or four buses, and other private parties to charter more buses.

William S. Johnson, general manager of the Jacksonville Area Chamber of Commerce, said hotel and motel reservations there should be made immediately. He said overnight accommodations in the town would soon be filled.

Those going into Jacksonville without hotel or motel reservations who wish to stay overnight should contact the Jacksonville Conventions and Visitors Bureau in Hemming Park. The Bureau maintains a daily list of tourist home and other transient rental accommodations.

Those flying to the Gator Bowl game can get to downtown Jacksonville by limousine, taxi, or rented car from the Airport in 12 minutes. Those driving to Jacksonville enter the city from any exit on the expressway which circles the city.

The bus station is in the heart of downtown Jacksonville, and the railroad station is eight blocks from the center of the city.

Beach motels are 18 miles from the city, and information on beach motel accommodations can be obtained from Herbert Shelby, manager of the Beaches Chamber of Commerce.

The UNC football team will stay at the Ponce De Leon Hotel, 33 miles south of Jacksonville. The Ponce De Leon is owned by the Florida East Coast Hotel Co. William Rand Kenan, a UNC alumnus and donor of Kenan Stadium, is president of the hotel corporation.