

Communist Boss Makes Unity Plea

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's new party leader appealed Friday for unity of the world Communist movement, but Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai failed to join in the applause for a call to a new conference of the world's Red leaders.

Chou, on hand with a tough-minded Peking delegation for Bolshevik anniversary ceremonies, cast a chill on proceedings even in advance of First Party Secretary Leonid Brezhnev's speech by paying homage at the grave of Joseph Stalin. Destalinization under Nikita Khrushchev had been a point of hot Peking-Moscow dispute.

Khrushchev, prime target of the Chinese in the long dispute, also had wanted a world Communist meeting, a project scornfully denounced by Peking. But against the background of Brezhnev's words, the appeal this time had at least a note of conciliation.

Chou, however, was the only one of the party leaders present from a dozen Communist-ruled nations who withheld applause. Chou did applaud vigorously, however, when Brezhnev remarked that all Communists have one common goal. In advance of the Kremlin meeting, Peking's broadcasts had called for Red unity against "Imperialism" headed by the United States.

The eve of the Bolshevik Revolution anniversary is invariably an occasion for Soviet policy statements, as the anniversary itself — today — is the occasion for a parade displaying Soviet might to Communist leaders gathered atop Lenin's Red Square tomb. Brezhnev discussed foreign policy at length, and at times seemed to be trying to mollify his Chinese listeners. He reaffirmed Soviet support for Peking's claims to nationalist-held Formosa and vowed Soviet backing for Communist efforts in Viet Nam.

But Brezhnev also repeated the Soviet theoretical contention that in the conditions of a modern nuclear age, "a world war is not inevitable." The Chinese have criticized this theory as conflicting with Leninism.

However, Brezhnev tempered this remark — seeming to reflect the viewpoint of the Soviet military leadership — by calling for vigilance and saying:

"We never forget that there are aggressive forces operating in the world, forces interested in the utmost heating up of the international atmosphere."

Soviet military leaders had seemed to be disturbed, in Khrushchev's era, at the idea that a shift of emphasis to the Soviet consumer economy might entail cutbacks in heavy industry and military spending.
