

STUDENT OPINION

Change The Hill? Students Want To!

BY RICHARD CUMMINS

Chapel Hill and the University are separate units, but nonetheless woven together. A change in one usually has a definite effect on the other.

A sampling of student opinion reveals that if students had the power to change Chapel Hill, it would be on a small, almost personal level.

This is how 10 students answered the question: "If you could change Chapel Hill, how would you do it?"

Allen Huffman, medical student, Hickory

"I would change the traffic situation, especially giving more parking space. A solution to the problem could be not to give car permits until the senior year."

Jim Lung, freshman, political science, Morehead City

"I think they should install some means of municipal transportation for the poor chaps in Craige and Ehringhaus. Somebody should get the dry cleaners to lower their prices."

Donnie Smith, freshman, Pittsboro

"I would change the downtown parking spaces from parallel to diagonal. That way it will be safer for me to park my car when I get my license back."

Mike Mulcahy, sophomore, English, Winston-Salem

"I think I would put in about two more movie theaters, and definitely put in a few more eating places. There just isn't much else to do on a date here besides at out and go to a show."

Nancy Price, junior, English, Raleigh

"I'd like to comment on the restaurant situation here. I think it's just excellent."

Eric Nelson, graduate student, English, Falls Church, Va.

"There aren't any good nightclubs here with a decent band, dancing and hard liquor. There should be places where you can go and do something besides sit down and drink beer."

Christine Oliver, sophomore, zoology, Raleigh

"If there were one thing I could change it would be the weather. I just don't like all this rain."

Ronald Short, freshman, Winston-Salem

"I would put awnings on the front of all the stores downtown so I wouldn't get wet when it rains."

Georgia Zezefilli, junior, English, Wilmington

"I think there should be more copies of reserve books in the Chapel Hill library."

Lorenzo (Buddy) Lewis, sophomore, chemistry, Beaufort

"I think there should be some sidewalks off campus, rather than just the present dirt paths. The prices are ridiculous in the clothing stores downtown, and we shouldn't have so much variety in our weather—just a string of warm, beautiful days."

Water Resource Program Opened To Grad Students

A program in water resources planning and development is now being offered to graduate students under the joint sponsorship of two departments here.

The Department of City and Regional Planning and the Department of Environmental Sciences and Engineering are seeking students with basic backgrounds in sanitary engineering, in the design professions or in the social sciences.

Financial assistance is available.

Stipends range from $2,250 to $3,400 a year, plus tuition, for students working on a master's degree and from $3,600 to $3,900 a year, plus tuition, for students at the doctoral level.

MIRIAM MAKEBA

Miriam Makeba, African Singer, Sets Performance

South African singer Miriam Makeba will appear at 8 p.m. March 2 in Memorial Hall.

Ticket sales for the "all seats reserved" event will begin Wednesday.

Miss Makeba was discovered by Steve Alle during her performance in "Come Back Africa." She has toured with Harry Belafonte.

Her program will consist largely of African chants of several tribal dialects. Also included will be Hebrew, Brazilian, Jewish, Spanish, Indonesian and English melodies.

She has performed twice at the United Nations and sang at former President John Kennedy's birthday party in 1962. She has also sung in Carnegie Hall.

Miss Makeba frequently appears on college campuses.

The "New Yorker" said in a review: "The understanding of folk music has been further enhanced by the arrival from the Union of South Africa of Miriam Makeba."

For Candidates

Honor Commission Lectures Planned

The Honor System Commission will begin its program for candidates for Men's and Women's Honor Councils Tuesday.

seats are open in districts I to IV. There are two six-month seats and a full-year in District V.

Lectures on the judicial system will be given Tuesday and Wednesday. A quiz on the system will be given Thursday.

Candidates for re-election should take the quiz. New candidates should attend lectures and quiz.

The commission will not endorse any candidate who does not take the quiz. Candidates who fail it must submit to the Elections Board chairman a petition with 25 signatures.

Eight Seats Open

Eight seats are open on the Men's Council, in districts I, II, III, VI, VIII, IX, X and XI.

Six half-year seats and one full year seat are open on the Women's Council. Six-month

'Oh Dad' Opens Tuesday

The Carolina Playmakers' "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad" will open Tuesday night at the Playmakers Theater.

The Arthur Kopit comedy will play through next Sunday. Tickets are now available at Led-better-Pickard and through the Playmakers Business Office, 214 Abernethy Hall.

The Cast

Martha Nell Hardy of Chapel Hill is featured as Madame Rosepettle, Michael Carrington of North Wilkesboro as Johnathan, Sara Kravitz of Chapel Hill as Rosalie and George Gray III of Gastonia as Commodore Roseabove.

Madame Rosepettle is a "man-hating Dracula of a woman who has killed her repugnant husband, had him stuffed by a taxidermist and carries the body around with her in a luxurious coffin."

Director for the play is Kai Jurgenson and scene designer is Tom Rezzuto.

Smith To Address Training Program

Rev. Harry Smith will address the fifth meeting of the In-Service Training Program for staff members of the Dean of Women on Thursday.

The topic will be "Integration and Impersonal Relationships."

Smith is a graduate of the University of Texas and of Yale Divinity School.

The next program will be March 25.
