Around The Campus

Five Initiated Into Sigma Theta Tau

Five new members, an associate member and four regular members were initiated here last night at special ceremonies conducted by the Sigma Theta Tau, Alpha Alpha chapter, honorary nursing society at the School of Nursing.

The society selects its members on the basis of their scholastic achievement, professional promise and desirable personal characteristics. To be eligible for associate membership, a candidate must have shown marked achievement in the field of nursing at the local, state or national level.

Sigma Theta Tau is the only national honorary society of nursing in the U. S. Chapters are established only in collegiate schools of nursing fully accredited by the National League for Nursing at all program levels.

Dr. Berton H. Kaplan, a sociologist in mental health at the UNC School of Public Health, was the speaker for initiation ceremonies. His topic was "Leadership."

The four new members of the society are Judith Ann Bartlett of Raleigh, Karen Gunderson of Lewisville, Marie Ann Phillips of Charlotte and Jeanne Wiltzie of Asheville, N. Y.

Selected as an associate member was Miss Carrie M. Spurgeon of Raleigh, secretary of the N. C. Board of Nurse Registration and Education.

Two Professors Awarded Fulbrights

Two professors here have been awarded grants under the Fulbright - Hayes Act to teach and conduct research in other countries next year.

They are Ralph Lee Woodward Jr., assistant professor in the Department of History, and John Douglas Eyre, chairman and professor in the Department of Geography.

Woodward will lecture in United States history at the Catholic University and the National University in Valparaiso, Chile, and continue his research on the Spanish American merchant guilds. He and his family will be in South American from June 1965 - June 1966.

Eyre will conduct his research at Osaka University in Japan. The second largest city in Japan, Osaka has a population of seven million. Eyre will study selected characteristics of growth of this metropolitan area.

He will work with city planners, professors and metropolitan experts in the area. He and his family will be in Japan from September 1965 - September 1966.

French Philosopher Marcel To Speak

Gabriel Marcel, the French philosopher, playwright and literary critic, will give a public lecture in English Friday in Gerrard.

He will speak on "The Myth of the Death of God in Contemporary Thought." Marcel's visit is sponsored jointly by the Department of Philosophy and the Department of Religion.

Marcel is best known as a Christian existentialist, a position which he expounded in such well known works as "Being and Having," "Creative Fidelity," and in his Gifford lectures entitled "The Mystery of Being." His William James lectures delivered at Harvard in 1961 were published under the title of "The Existential Background of Human Dignity."

Gabriel Marcel received the literary Grand Prix of the Academie Francaise in 1949, and was elected a member of the Institut de France in 1952. In 1956, he was the recipient of the Goethe prize bestowed in Hamburg, Germany. He won the French National Literary Award in 1958.

'Beethoven Spectacular' Is Sunday

WUNC Radio will present a "Beethoven Spectacular" beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday.

Featuring the best of Ludwig von Beethoven's works, WUNC will broadcast the composer's 9 symphonies, 5 piano concertos, the Violin Concerto, the String Quartet No. 7, the Grosse Fugue, selected overtures, and incidental music from Edgmont.

Commentary will be by Thurman Smith, music director. Smith, encouraged by WUNC's four spectaculars last year, has asked for listener criticism and suggestions during the broadcast of this year's first spectacular. Call 933-2085.

Interruptions in the music and commentary will be for brief news items only.

Psychology Professor To Join Staff

Dr. Martin Syden, head of the Department of Psychology at Nassau College, an affiliate of the State University of New York in Garden City, N. Y., will join the staff of the School of Education here for the first term of the 1965 Summer session, June 10-July 16.

He will teach two courses, one in the psychology of mental retardation and the other a course emphasizing modern techniques in teaching the mentally handicapped child.

Syden holds the bachelor and master's degrees from City College of New York and the doctor's degree from Columbia University. Prior to entering college and university work, Syden spent 10 years in the classroom working with the educable and trainable retarded children and adolescents of New York.

Valkyrie Sing Set Monday Night

The hooded ceremony of tapping into Golden Fleece will precede the gay harmony of the annual Valkyrie Sing program in Memorial Hall at 7 p.m. Monday.

There will be no charge for admission, but the doors will close promptly at 7 p.m. for the Fleece tapping.

Then will come the music. In the women's sing division ADPI will present "On Sentimental Journey." Delta Delta Delta will render "Oh, Let the Sun Shine In," followed by "Never Never Land" done by Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Chi Omega will perform a medley entitled "Carolina," after which Phi Mu will "Say It With Music." McIver residence hall women will sing about "The Double Mask of a Woman," and a West Cobb group will close out this portion of the program with "On the Campus."

Each of the singing groups will have five minutes.

The next segment of the program will feature men from Delta Epsilon in a skit called "Bye Bye Birdie."

Chi Psi fraternity will open the men's sing division with a performance by "The Bible's Nine." Craig's Mavericks are bringing in "Mac Grundy's Old Time Band" to sing before "The Thirsty Thirteen" from St. Anthony's Hall. "Hit Songs of 1964" will be the theme of Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Mu Alpha will do a medley called "Sea Chanteys."

Pi Beta Phi will open the women's skit portion of the program with "Pi Phi Girls." Women from the Nurses Dorm will reveal "The Nurses Lament - If Our Doctor Don't Kill You, Our Singing Will," and the KD's will perform "The Hill Story."

4 Arrested In CR Slaying; President Warns Klansmen

LOWNESBORO, Ala. (AP) — FBI agents arrested four Ku Klux Klansmen from the Birmingham area Friday on charges of conspiracy in the highway ambush slaying of a vivacious civil rights worker near Big Swamp.

President Johnson announced the arrests in Washington and immediately declared he was stepping up his personal war against the Klan.

The four Klan members were charged under a federal statute with violating the civil rights of Mrs. Viola Gregg Luizzo, 39-year-old mother of five. She was shot in the head as she drove along a dark, lonely stretch of U. S. 80 between Montgomery and Selma, Ala., Thursday night.

The President said he was calling for special legislation to root out the Klan, which he termed "a society of hooded bigots."

The announcement of the arrests came 16 1/2 hours after Mrs. Luizzo, who grew up in the South, slumped over dead while returning to Montgomery after ferrying a group of civil rights marchers to Selma. She was en route to pick up another group.

Arrested were Eugene Thomas, 43, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer; Gary Thomas Rowe, 31, of Birmingham, and Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield, Ala.

Acting on direct orders from the President, scores of FBI agents plunged into the investigation that led to the arrests. The agents were in the Selma-Montgomery area because of racial troubles stemming from a Negro voter drive.

Only a few hours before the slaying, Mrs. Luizzo had joined with thousands of others for a march to the capitol to dramatize alleged voter discrimination and police brutality in Alabama.

In a national television appearance, the President said Mrs. Luizzo was murdered by enemies of justice who had used "the rope and the gun and tar and feathers" to terrorize people.

"I had fought them all my life because their loyalty is not to the United States of America, but to a society of hooded bigots," he said.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama declined to comment on the arrests. He had posted $1,000 reward, the maximum allowed by Alabama law. The governor had said earlier he regretted the slaying.

In Tuscaloosa, Ala., the Imperial Wizard of the United Klans said he knew nothing of the slaying but "it would appear to me that according to Johnson everyone in Alabama is Ku Klux Klansmen."

The Klan leader, Robert M. Shelton, Jr., also said: "I don't have any knowledge of any participation in any acts of violence by any members of our organization."

Auditions Monday

The Carolina Playmakers will hold auditions at 4 and 7:30 p.m. Monday in III Murphey for its production of Tennessee Williams' prize-winning play, "A Streetcar Named Desire."

Six men and six women are called for in the cast. The three principal roles are Blanche DuBois, Stanley Kowalski and Stella Kowalski.

Scripts are available in the reserve reading room of the university library and at the Department of Dramatic Art office, 307 Bynum.

"Streetcar" production dates are set for May 11 through 16 in the Playmakers Theater.

Cheerleaders

Wilson assured the body, "I turn to Dick as a cheerleader, not as a fraternity brother."

"This is the rankest appeal to emotion I have ever seen," Neely charged. "Rep. Wilson is engaged in a blatant attempt to railroad his bill through."

"My amendment will provide the best way of representing the cheerleaders on the selection committee," he said.

"Can you imagine all members of the previous year's squad being rejected by the selection committee," Neely said in answer to Goldman's remarks.

Neely said seniors were the best type of cheerleader representation on the committee because they were leaving school, had no need to try out for the squad again, and because seniors were always on the cheerleading squad every year.

His motion was passed by voice vote, as was the bill itself.

The cheerleader bill was the only measure considered in Thursday's session. Next week the new Legislature will be installed, and consideration of the 1965-66 budget will continue.

Speaker Don Carson announced the Student Government inauguration will be held Tuesday in Howell Hall.

Counting Of 69,000 Votes: Election Board's Big Task

By JIM SMITH
DTH Feature Writer

Ever wonder how 69,000 votes get counted?

It takes an enormous amount of work and must be done in a few short hours.

This is the task that faces the UNC Elections Board each spring.

The chairman and his crew of 15 workers go to it about a month before "The Day." They wait for Student Legislature to approve elections laws and to set the day for election.

After the nominating conventions a candidates meeting is called. The board informs the hopefuls about the numerous regulations. Copies of the election laws are given out. Most of the Elections Board's $225 budget is spent here and on printing the ballots.

After candidates are cleared through South Building, the board can take a slight rest until the night before election. A hectic four-day period begins. Polling places in fraternity districts are set up and ballot boxes are distributed to residence hall presidents.

Fun Begins

The "fun" really begins about 6 on election night. Spectators and candidates begin to pour into the top floor of the Graham Memorial and the Rendezvous Room to wait for returns. Many of them are drafted into the service of the board.

Ballots are sorted and the work begins. Usually they start with student body officers and go to senior class and editor of the Daily Tar Heel.

The most frantic time comes with the counting of legislative ballots. One hopeful legislator fights with another to get his own district counted first.

"Couldn't you count mine again?" some dejected candidate pleads.

"Look, dammit, five times is enough for anybody - now, get lost!"

Other Ballots

After NSA, Honor Council, president of the Carolina Athletic Association, and many other ballots are tabulated, the counters and the Elections Board can go home - usually around 4 a.m.

But the board's job isn't over. There's still some recounting and final tabulations to do. Almost every year will bring a run-off election, to say nothing of investigating charges of dirty politics.

With luck - with a lot of luck, the board's work is over about 10 days after the election, and they "reluctantly" turn over their duties to the newly appointed board.
