

Free Concert To Feature Works Of William Schuman

The Department of Music will present a concert of compositions by American composer William Schuman at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Memorial Hall.

The concert will be held in conjunction with the Fine Arts Festival and is open to the public free of charge.

Performing on the program will be the University Symphony Orchestra with Earl Slocum, conductor; and Edgar Alden, associate conductor; the University Chorus under Wayne Zarr's direction; and the University Men's Glee Club directed by Al Carter.

The Chorus will present the "Deum" for the coronation of Shakespeare's "Henry V," three "Carols of Death," "Four Rounds on Famous Poets:" Health, Thrift, Caution and Beauty. "Truth Shall Prevail," the text of which is adapted from Geoffrey Chaucer, will be sung by the Men's Glee Club.

After "Credendum," a three-voice work commissioned through the Department of State by the U. S. National Commission for UNESCO, the Symphony Orchestra will play the "New England Triptych," subtitled "Three Pieces for Orchestra" after William Billings.

Schuman says the works of the 18th century Billings "capture the spirit of sinewy ruggedness, deep religiosity and patriotic fervor that we associate with the Revolutionary period . . . These pieces do not constitute a 'fantasy' of themes of Billings, nor 'variations' on his themes, but rather a fusion of styles and musical language."

The combined chorus and symphony, under direction of Earl Slocum will close the concert with Schuman's Pulitzer Prize - Winning work, "A Free Song." The words of this work, the composer's second secular cantata, are taken from the poetry of Walt Whitman.

Schuman, past president of Juilliard School of Music, is the first person to win the Pulitzer Prize for a musical composition. He is now president of The Lincoln Center in New York City. He will give an illustrated lecture at 4 p.m. Wednesday in Hill Hall.

Campus Political Parties Subject Of Jackson Article

An article about campus political parties at UNC, written by former Student Party Chairman and current National Student Association representative Neal Jackson, has been published in the NSA Student Government bulletin.

In the article Jackson said the SP was founded on campus in 1938 because, "students were unhappy with the iron grip by which the University Party held Student Government."

Jackson said in the early years of the SP's existence as a second campus party "there was a definite tendency for the SP to be more activist and also more liberal" and the UP "tended to favor the status quo and the Greek affiliate."

The article described the average SP member as being "non - Greek, fairly liberal, living in a residence hall, and a political activist."

The average UP member was described as being "Greek, fairly conservative, living in a non - University living unit, and fairly politically lethargic."

"Recently, the University Party has been rejuvenated by the existence of a more liberal wing; but the long - term tendency of conservative attitude appears to be prevailing again as the leaders of the liberal wing become less of a driving force within the party," it reads in part.

After mentioning his tenure as a party chairman, Jackson said in the article, "A strong attempt to be objective has been made, and it is the writer's hope that bias will not greatly harm the content of this study."
