

Seminole Tomahawked, 12-1

Tar Heel Nine Avenges Custer

By FRED SEELY

If the Seminole Nation ever receives a beating at the hands of white men comparable to the one administered to their namesakes at Emerson Stadium yesterday, Chief Osceola will surely turn over in his burial mound.

The Tar Heels put the tomahawk to the touring Florida State nine on a chilly afternoon, and when the feathers settled the home club had its fourth straight victory, 12-1.

Beattie Leonard, still sniffing from a small case of influenza, threw a solid five-hitter at the fifth-ranked Seminoles, and Gene Link and Bob Hume contributed towering homers to the 16-hit attack. When the cavalry charge was over, the beaten Floridians scurried out of the battleground faster than Tonto going for help.

They had good reason to hang their heads.

The Tar Heels struck early, late and often in bringing their record above the .500 mark for the first time in several moons. They now stand 9-8, and the visitors departed with a 15-5 slate, plus an arrow or two in their backs.

The locals grabbed the lead in the second. Rod Thompson led off with a single to deep short, and Link followed by rapping Jim Ward's 3-2 pitch for a solid single to left.

Link Adds Homer

The third inning was the end of the warpath for the visitors. With one out, Talbott lined a single to center and promptly stole second. Hume came through with an infield single, and the Heels added their third run when Thompson bloomed a one-bagger over first base.

Link, starting his first varsity game, then slammed a Ward delivery far over the left field barrier.

The Seminoles had opened the scoring in the first when center-fielder Mike Martin singled through the box with two out and came all the way around when Bill Taylor let the hit go between his legs to the fence.

Errors added another marker in the fourth after Taylor had singled.

Meanwhile, back at the wagon train, Leonard was keeping the visitors going around in circles. After Martin's first-inning hit, the Seminoles could only manage one-basers by Bob Wilcox and Jerry Chmielewski, and both died where they started.

Dick Fernandez slammed a hard double to right in the eighth, and pinchhitter Bill Hammond added a two-out single in the ninth.

Hume Sparks

After an error and two singles in the seventh widened the margin to 8-1, Coach Walter Rabb's team put the finishing blow on the Floridians in the eighth.

Black walked, and with one down Talbott slammed a hard drive to right. When no one covered second, he decided to do himself, and the Tar Heels had runners in easy scoring position.

Reliever Ken Creely helped the cause with a wild pitch to send Black home, but it wasn't needed — Hume laid into a high fastball and the blow cleared the fence in dead center. Martin started back, but gave up in despair.

Creely then walked Link, and the Charlotte native romped home on catcher John Shaw's booming triple. Joe McKinney relieved the scalped Creely to fan Leonard and retire the side.

Talbott's three hits, high for the day, pushed his average to .399. Six Tar Heels claimed two hits for the day's work. Link scored four times, equaling the high for the year marked earlier by Black and Dick Prindle.

Prindle played for the first time in a week, replacing Thompson at second base in the fifth. Black did not start, but took over for Taylor in the same inning. The star quarterback has been slowed since the Georgia game Tuesday with a sore neck.

The Tar Heels journey to State Tuesday for an ACC conference battle. State also whipped Florida State, their win coming Friday at Raleigh, 7-2.

Rabb will probably start captain Jerry Davis against the Wolfpack Tuesday, with right-hander Bill "Chilly" Danemann waiting in relief.

State Defends "Big 4" Title For 4th Year

Big Four Sports Day, an annual affair bringing together non-varsity athletes from UNC, Duke, Wake Forest, and N. C. State, will be held May 4 at the State campus, it was announced yesterday by the Intramural office.

Competition will be held in 13 sports, including handball, volleyball and softball, and the three visiting schools will be out to take the title won the last four years by State.

Last year UNC was leading going into the final event, but finished second to the Wolfpack by 2 1/2 points.

Other sports include horse-shoes, table tennis, tennis, badminton, bowling, golf, archery, target rifle, skeet and skish.

The Intramural office urged any student interested in participating to contact chairman Bob Johnson at 933-1153.

White Places Third In 100-Yard Dash

Ace trackman Dale White finished third yesterday in the Penn Relays in the 100-yard dash. Timed in 9.7 seconds, he trailed North Carolina College's Edwin Roberts, who won the event in 9.6.

UNC two-miler placed 15th in his specialty. The harrier developed a "stitch" in his side during the first mile, but finished the race in a good 9:17.0.

Briefly . . .

Carolina teams, coaches, athletes and alumni in the news. Compiled by the DTH Sports Staff.

THE ACC BASKETBALL tournament, long a fixture at Reynolds Coliseum in Raleigh, may find itself in a new home next year . . . Indications are that Charlotte will get the three-day meet . . . The ACC BASKETBALL COMMITTEE meets Thursday to make a recommendation to the conference, which meets Friday . . . If the committee says "move," the tourney will do just that . . . BO WOOD continues to make shambles of the UNC discus record . . . His 164' 5 1/2" effort in the Penn Relays topped the record he set earlier in the week . . . Even with the big toss, he only finished fifth in the meet.

WITH AN assist from CLEMSON, the Gamecocks of SOUTH CAROLINA have moved into the ACC baseball lead. The Tigers crushed Duke Friday, 10-2, while the new leaders were taking care of Wake, 8-4 . . . Influenza has sidelined Tar Heel baseballers DICK PRINDLE, BOB BONCZEK and BEATTIE LEONARD . . . More may fall to the germ, which hit the team during the spring vacation trip to Georgia and South Carolina . . . Tuesday is N. C. State Day, it appears . . . Tar Heel teams play the Wolfpack in no less than three sports.

SONNY RIDENHOUR, a tailback-safety for UNC's football team in the mid-50s, has switched sports (to golf) and finally hit it big . . . His 71-71-70—212 won the top prize of $1,000 in the Carolinas Open, completed Friday in Burlington . . . The Fayetteville pro was tied with three others for the 36-hole lead, but a sub-par final round pulled him to victory . . . Clemson center-fielder RUSTY ADKINS has raised his batting average to a hot .458 to lead the conference's batsmen by a wide margin . . . Former UNC golf star ED JUSTA continues to find the play-for-pay circuit rough going . . . His 73-76—149 at San Antonio missed the cut by six strokes in the $50,000 Texas Open.

DON SKAKLE's tennis team should be strong for years to come . . . Of his top six netters, only captain O. H. PARRISH is a senior . . . The team now has a 16-0 record, and looks like a solid favorite for the ACC tournament May 6-8 on the N. C. State courts . . . Ex-basketball star FRANK SELVY, who holds the highest college scoring average for one season when he pumped through 41.2 ppg at Furman in 1954, had returned to his alma mater for a new job . . . He's now the golf coach, and assists on the basketball team as well . . . He once scored 100 points in a game, the only major college player ever to accomplish that feat.
