Stickmen Seek 5th Win Today

By JIM DEAN

Jeff Parker, UNC's All-American lacrosse candidate, may not be in the starting lineup today when the once-beaten stickmen clash with arch-rival Duke. The game is set for 2 p.m. at Navy Field.

Coach Cony Steele reported yesterday that Parker has the flu, and may be replaced by Dave Garrett.
"We haven't had any serious injuries or illness until recently," Steele commented. "They seem to be catching up with us now."

"Duke has improved since last season, but our chances are excellent," he added. "They have gone from varsity to club play this season, and can use anybody because they aren't under conference rules, so they'll be tough."
The Carolina stickmen edged Washington & Lee 15-11 last Friday in a mistake-riddled bout which saw Bob Morrison and Bud Adams score 11 of the Tarheel points.

Danny Walker put a Tiger in the tank and Bill Taylor rapped a solid 13th inning single yesterday as the Tar Heel nine edged Clemson, 4-3.
The Durham righthander hurled a magnificent six-hitter in going the route, giving up only two earned runs, striking out 11 and getting out of numerous jams he inherited from shoddy fielding.

The winning rally started when Ken Boykin, who had entered the game two innings before, walked. John Shaw sacrificed, but the play was to second and the speedy Boykin beat the throw.
Walker forced Shaw at third on an attempted sacrifice, and the Tar Heels appeared to be finished when pinchhitter Mike Knowles rapped a grounder to Tiger third baseman Lawton Cowart.
But he couldn't find the handle, and the bases were loaded. Taylor then slapped a sharp single over the infield.

"I was thinking of having Taylor squeeze Shaw home," commented Coach Walker Rabb. "But the pitcher was throwing real fast and I was afraid of a pop-up."
The loss went to Charlie Watson, who had relieved starter Tom Chapman after one batter in the tenth.
The loudest roar the visitors could manage was a two-run homer by shortstop Jack McCall in the fifth. Ronnie Moore, courtesy runner for Chapman, scored ahead of him.
The only other solid belt off Walker was a two-out triple by Rusty Adkins in the ninth. The league's leading hitting died on third as Ellis Dantzler lined to Taylor in right.

Talbot Plates Two
The Tar Heels opened the scoring with a pair of runs in the first. After Fleming fanned, Taylor singled. Link grounded to second baseman Tony Jackson for an apparent double play, but Jackson's throw to second was wild and the hosts had runners on second and third.
Dan Talbot, who drove in all the Tar Heel tallies, then slapped a single to right to end the threat.

Clemson cut the margin to one run in the third.
Ed Barbary opened the frame by reaching base on Walker's bad throw. After Chapman fled to center, McCall forced Barbary at second. But Prindle, trying for the double play, threw wildly and McCall raced to second.

Adkins singled to send the shortstop to third, and Dantzler followed him with a one-baser off Talbot's glove.

The Tar Heels bounced back in their half of the inning. With one out, Taylor singled and stole second. After Link fanned, Talbot knocked one to right and the speedy Taylor scored.

McCall tied the count in the fifth, and both teams settled down to tight, pressure baseball marked by one strategic move after another.

Clemson threatened in the eighth with men on first and third, but Walker was equal to the occasion and struck out Barbary to end the inning.

UNC loaded the bases with one out in their half, but the rally fizzled when McLaughlin fanned.

Fluke Almost Wins
A fluke play almost led to the winning run in the 11th.

Shaw struck out, but the ball got away from catcher Pete Myers and rolled down the first base line. It hit the fleeting Shaw on the leg, bouncing almost in the UNC dugout, and umpire Jim Mills ruled the ball in play.

The Tigers howled for five minutes.
Walker sacrificed him to second, Baylin struck out, and Taylor reached first on McCall's boot. After Taylor swiped second, Red Thompson fanned to end the threat.

Meanwhile, Clemson was getting little from Walker. The righthander moved the ball around enough to keep the visitors off balance, and now has a 3-0 record.

South Carolina comes to town today for a 2:30 p.m. tilt with the Tar Heels, now 3-4 in the ACC. The Gamecocks, perched atop the league with a classy 6-2 record, have not played for a week. The probable starter for UNC will be Beattie Leonard, who has fashioned a 1.45 record.

You don't need an engineering degree to figure out why this cordless shaver costs a bit more.

All you need are whiskers.
Just run the cordless REMINGTON® LEKTRONIC II Shaver through your beard. Then feel for whiskers. This alone will tell you why our shaver costs a bit more. Still, if you want more facts, read on.
The LEKTRONIC II has the biggest shaver head in the business. With 756 working slots, things get done in a hurry.
On top of the shaver head are 4 tiny rollers. They make sure only whiskers disappear. Not skin. 348 cutting edges take care of that fast disappearing act. Honed from surgical high-carbon steel, these cutters start sharp, stay sharp.
Add to this the sideburn trimmer: a straightedge tucked under the head case that gives you a neat, finishing touch.
Then there's the cordless feature. Works on rechargeable energy cells. (Also works with a cord, if you forget to recharge.) So you can shave where and when the itch hits you. Frees you from sockets and wet sinks.
So, you can easily see why it costs a bit more. Even if you can't add or handle a slide rule.
