

Bundy Fails To Appear For Debate

By DAVID ROTHMAN
DTH Staff Writer

Presidential adviser McGeorge Bundy failed to appear at yesterday's nationally broadcast Viet Nam forum, but that didn't stop critics and proponents of President Johnson's Asia policy from swapping verbal blows.

Some 150 UNC students listened to the closed circuit broadcast from radios set up in Carroll Hall, Roland Parker Lounge and Gerrard Hall.

Bundy was unable to attend because of "other duties" which he said he did not foresee.

In a statement read at the discussion, Bundy said the United States "must not be afraid to listen" to critics of the administration's policy. However, the former Harvard dean said, many critics "do not understand the dangerous realities" in Viet Nam.

He said that many of the discussion's participants are "more interested in pressure on the administration" than in objectively reviewing the situation in Asia.

Dr. Robert Scalapino of the University of California at Berkeley was one of the debate's two principal speakers. He substituted for Bundy, although he was not officially representing the administration.

The other principal speaker, George Kahin of Cornell University, said that the Viet Cong have been successful because of "communism's ability to adapt itself to nationalism in Asia."

Kahin accused the administration of a "disregard for relevant facts" concerning Viet Nam and said that "essential information" has been "held from the American public."

Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., Harvard historian who was a foreign affairs adviser to President Kennedy, gave what amounted to one of the principal defenses of the Johnson position of Viet Nam although he mixed in some critical words.

(Continued on Page 2)

TO GET OUT of Viet Nam or not to get out of Viet Nam: That was one of the questions explored yesterday by a panel who debated U. S. policy in Southeast Asia over nationwide closed circuit radio wries. Students in Carroll Hall listen attentively as the pros and cons come over the airwaves. UNC was which participated in the forum. one of about 100 colleges and universities

—Photo by Jock Lauterer.

Petition Circulated For Support Of U. S. In Viet Nam

Students for Victory in Viet Nam set up a booth in Y-Court yesterday to solicit names for a petition supporting Johnson Administration policy in South Viet Nam.

Formed last week, the organization will continue gathering signatures in Y-Court today.

The petition reads in part, "We believe that the extension of freedom and preservation of territorial integrity is vital to the future of South Viet Nam and the status of freedom in Southeast Asia.

"We encourage the continued assistance of the United States in this war against North Vietnamese aggression and urge that measures be taken to curb Red Chinese imperialism and insure the recognition of the border between North and South Viet Nam as established by the Geneva Agreement of 1954."

Wilson Clark, a spokesman for the group, said yesterday the petition was being passed around among students to show that there are many persons on U. S. college campus who support the administration in Viet Nam.

According to Clark, "approximately 200" students have signed the petition. Clark said there had been "a good response."

(Continued on Page 6)

The DTH Today

Today's DTH includes a review of the 1965 Yackety - Yack which will be distributed tomorrow to students. See Page 7.

Carl Braden, who was recently refused a speaking engagement on campus because of past connections with the Communist Party, makes a statement on page 7 also.

Announcements of the Mangum Medal for oratory competition are on page 2.

Campus calendar is on page 6 along with a review of tonight's free flick. For the week's News in Review, see page 3.

Six Outstanding Seniors Honored

In conjunction with the premiere of the 1965 Yackety-Yack this week, six senior men have been honored by the Yack staff with the annual Frank Porter Graham Award.

Steve Dennis, Mal King, Ned Martin, Park McGinty, Bob Spearman, and Pete Wales were announced as this year's recipients of the honor.

Based on an academic average of 3.0 as a minimum for consideration, the award is given each year to seniors who have accredited themselves by showing service to the University and to the University community.

A committee, composed of six rising seniors; Larry McDevitt, assistant dean of men; Neil Thomas, editor of the 1965 Yack; and Dickie Baddour, business manager of the Yack announced the winners yesterday.

Stephen Neal Dennis of Kensington, Ga., was cited for his service as a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the Order of the Grail. He has been outstanding in work with Student Government and the Toronto Exchange.

Malvern F. King of Weldon is a member of the Golden Fleece who has been outstanding in Student Government as a member of legislature.

Park McGinty of Atlanta, Ga., is a member of the Or-

(Continued on Page 2)

STEVE DENNIS

MALVERN KING

PARK MCGINTY

ED MARTIN

BOB SPEARMAN

PETE WALES

Which Cartoon?

The Daily Tar Heel is conducting an election this week to decide which cartoon strip its readers would most like to see in the DTH.

Don't worry — by editorial decree, Peanuts stays. But Student Government has seen fit to provide enough money to buy another cartoon.

Check your choice and turn it in at the DTH office before next Wednesday. We need help in deciding.

- Pogo _____
- Andy Capp _____
- Wizard of Id _____
- B.C. _____
- Other? _____