

At Triangle Theater

'The Physicists' Opens Monday

Satirical comedy and suspense are blended in the Triangle Theater's production of "The Physicists," which will open Monday for a six-day run.

Director Wesley Van Tassel said yesterday: "In 'The Physicists,' renowned French playwright Durrematt comments on and exposes our modern scientific age. The setting of the play is in a mental institution where three physicists who think themselves to be Sir Isaac Newton or Albert Einstein are being tested for their sanity."

Alex Burke, Richard Durham and Ronald Dawson, professional New York actors, will hold the three leading parts.

This will be the first southern production of Durrematt's play, which opened in New York last spring.

Van Tassel is also managing director of the Triangle Theater and a former Carolina Playmaker.

Performances start at 8:30 p.m. at the theater in Durham's Lakewood Shopping Center.

"Winnie the Pooh" will be the first children's production of the summer by a company from the Triangle Theater. Performances will begin Wednesday and last through July 10.

This musical comedy will be performed by adults, with performances lasting about an hour. Director is Charles Stillwill of the Frank Thompson Theater at N. C. State. Settings and costumes are by Corrine Newman of Raleigh. In the lead part of Winnie is Fred Cooke, presently a Carolina Playmaker.

"Winnie" is the first of three children's matinees to be given in alternating weeks Wednesday through Saturday. "Rumplestiltskin" and "Hansel and Gretel" will complete children's production this summer.

Performances are at 10 a.m.

ENTERTAINMENT WITH ELLEN ROBINSON . . . And The Arts

An evening of outstanding entertainment will be provided triangle area music lovers on Tuesday. In another of its summer concerts, the Triangle Symphony, Inc., under the direction of Dr. Paul Bryan of the Duke University faculty will play in Hill Hall at 8 p.m.

Included in Tuesday's concert will be "Symphony No. 2 in B Flat Major" by Franz Schubert, "Siegfried Idyll" by Richard Wagner, and "Piano Concerto in G Minor" by Felix Mendelssohn featuring Tacker Polk, pianist.

Musicians from the Chapel Hill area include: Earl Wolslagel, Suzanne Parker, Marjorie Ronner, Charles Griffith, Ruth Dunlap, Nancy Clark, Yvonne Williams, MacLeonth and William DeTurk.

"Oklahoma!" will open the second season of the East Carolina College Summer Theater in Greenville. David Smith, former member of the U. S. Army Chorus and a graduate of the Eastman School of Music, will play the lead role of Curly.

Monday's opening will be the first of 39 performances of six popular Broadway musicals scheduled through the first week of August.

Curtain time Monday and other evenings throughout the season is 8:15 p.m. "Oklahoma!" will play nightly through Saturday with one matinee, Thursday at 2:15 p.m.

Playmakers

Carolina Playmakers are rehearsing for "Private Lives," an intimate comedy by Noel Coward. Watch for it July 8 to 11 in the Graham Memorial Lounge.

Films

For canned entertainment this week, try the Presbyterian Student Center's film festival offering, Satyajit Ray's "The World of Apu," at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The film is a sensitive description of growing up in India concluding with the story of Apu, his wife, and son.

Or try "Freaks," the Summer Cinema for tonight at Carroll Hall. The freaks are not used as side-show exhibits; their everyday lives in the circus reveal them as human beings with human emotions and reactions. The movie starts at 7:30.

July 4th

UNC's Fetzer Field will be the setting Monday for the traditional July 4th celebration sponsored by the American Field Service.

A three-legged race, bingo, darts, horseshoes, and a pet show sponsored by the Junior Service League are some of the activities planned for the afternoon program, to begin at 2:30 p.m. Miss Chapel Hill and Miss Orange County will be present.

A chicken supper will be held at 6 p.m., followed by fireworks.

Proceeds from the event will be used to sponsor the AFS's student exchange program with foreign countries. For the first time, the foreign students who are on the AFS-sponsored tour of the United States will be present for the festivities. Their bus tour will bring them to Chapel Hill on the final lap of the trip to New York.

According to George Spransy, president of the local chapter and chairman of the celebration, 800 people attended the supper last year, about 5,000 were on hand for the fireworks.

Honor Quiz Set Tonight

Honor System tests for incoming students who failed or have not taken the examination will be given at 7 p.m. today in 105 Gardner.

Study booklets are available from the council on the second floor of Graham Memorial.

Honor Systems Commission Chairman Pat Taylor said that about 150 students failed to take the examination. Nine failed it, he said. These students have been mailed notices of tonight's test period.

Taylor said that "failure to take or pass this examination will result in an incomplete registration, meaning that until registration is completed credit will not be received for work taken at the University."

VILLA

TEMPESTA

SPECIAL

Linguini with Clam Sauce

Also Serving Italian Dishes
Fine selection of imported wine

- Leg of Lamb
- Prime Ribs of Rost Beef
- Veal Parmigiano

Lunch 12-3 — Dinner 5:30-9

CAROLINA COFFEE SHOP

HOME COOKING
midtown CHAPEL HILL since 1922

75c STUDENT
SPECIALS DAILY

Granville Hall

Model Rooms and Rental Office

Opening Monday, June 28, 1965

in University Square behind the High School building on W. Franklin St.

You are invited to inspect the model rooms in this new modern residence building providing accommodations for Graduate Student Women and University Women employees only.

Now accepting room applications for the 1965-66 academic year. Inquire in person or by mail to Rental Office Granville Hall, University Square, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Allen Bros. & O'Hara, Inc., Memphis, Tenn.

Builders and Operators