

UNC Library
Serials Dept.
Box 870
Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514
Why do you wear a watch?" advertising professor James Mullen asked. "I always want to know what time it is," the student answered. "No one wants to know what time it is," Mullen snapped. "They want to know what time it isn't."

The Daily Tar Heel

The South's Largest College Newspaper

The DTH Needs You

The Daily Tar Heel is in dire and desperate need of a beautiful secretary to organize and beautify our offices. The pay is good. Men need not apply.

Vol. 74, No. 5

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1965

Founded February 23, 1893

Campus Leaders Ask President To Resign Due To Recent Honor Council Conviction

Wilson Hits 'Reactionary Forces' Within The Party

By JOHN GREENBACKER
DTH Staff Writer

Student Party Legislative Floor Leader Don Wilson attacked "reactionary forces within the University Party" Sunday night for allegedly trying to "unceremoniously remove" UP Chairman Jim Hubbard.

Speaking before the first annual meeting of the SP, Wilson praised Hubbard as, "An outstanding leader who was handicapped for his job by Bob Spearman."

Spearman, a UP member and immediate past president of the student body, has received praise from students and University administrators for his leadership during the past year.

"No one may say a word against Bob Spearman," Wilson said.

"When Spearman goes to England on a Rhodes Scholarship," Wilson said, "he will no longer be able to clam the rebirth of these reactionary forces."

Ingram Comments
Hubbard was not immediately available for comment, but UP Legislative Floor Leader George Ingram said, "I know of no 'reactionary forces' in the University Party which are unhappy with the leadership Chairman Hubbard has given us."

"Mr. Hubbard has the backing of 100 per cent of the University Party leadership and members," he said. "I don't know where Rep. Wilson gets his information."

Wilson also outlined the proposed SP Legislative program for residence hall improvement.

Color TV
He promised to work for the installation of a color television in every women's and men's residence hall and the institution of a free bus system for students between distant residence halls and campus.

Wilson also promised to work for the establishment of a campus carrier current radio system if students vote in its favor in a campus-wide referendum to be held during the fall elections.

Student Body President Paul Dickson outlines his program and called on all students to support Student Government.

Need Help
"Student Government needs help," he said, "and I hope all will give it the aid it needs."

Dickson reminded all Student Government office holders of their personal responsibility to serve the student body.

He announced plans for a residence hall leadership conference to be held this fall.

for the purpose of, "making new officers aware of their responsibilities."

"It has been said that the University has lost touch with the state," Dickson told his party, "but I don't believe it so."

Insure Communication
To insure communication between the University and the state, Dickson proposed a 15 minute weekly radio show on campus activities to be broadcast on a state-wide network.

SP members will elect a new party treasurer at their next meeting to fill the post vacated by Alvin Tyndall, Board chairman.

Tyndall announced the results of a recent SP fund raising drive which helped toward elimination of a long standing deficit in party funds.

Civil Rights Tests Start In State
From The Raleigh News and Observer
WASHINGTON — North Carolina will be a major testing ground for new legal keys designed to open job doors for qualified Negroes on production lines, at office desks, and behind retail counters.

At the same time, the effort will test two differing methods of civil rights action.

The effort was signaled Wednesday when the NAACP filed formal charges of racial discrimination against a roll-call of top North Carolina retail chains, textile industries, and innkeepers.

The charges were lodged in the U. S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, headed by Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Forty stores, plants, or branches were cited, mostly in the eastern communities of Fayetteville, Jacksonville, Wallace, and New Bern.

The specific charges were developed during the summer by volunteer field workers for the old-line civil rights organizations.

The North Carolina complaints make up about 10 per cent of the workload of the new federal agency, which went to work 90 days ago as the newest offspring of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Under the commission's proceedings, each specific complaint will be investigated by a staff member of the agency.

If the investigation produces a recommendation for action, the five-member commission itself then considers it, formally seeks mediation of the complaint with the complainant and the firm charged with discrimination.

The specific complaints were lodged against such widespread firms as Burlington Industries, Belk's department stores, Sears Roebuck, Carolina Telephone and Telegraph, Piggly-Wiggly food stores, Howard Johnson's eat-and-sleep chain, and American Bakeries.

NAACP officials privately are elated at the field work of the North Carolina NAACP in quickly moving against such blue ribbon retail and industrial firms.

At the same time, they feel that North Carolina is the perfect testing ground for the legal methods, for two reasons.

One, North Carolina probably has more qualified Negro job-seekers than any other Southern State.

PRESIDENT PAUL DICKSON, III

Dickson Refuses To Resign In Spite Of Severe Pressure

By ERNIE McCRARY
DTH Editor

A group of eight student leaders has asked Student Body President Paul Dickson to resign because of circumstances created by his conviction of a campus code offense last month.

Dickson was found guilty of helping a woman student break the rule against entering a closed fraternity house and was given an official reprimand by the Men's Honor Council.

The coed, a visiting student, was suspended from school here by the Women's Honor Council. Dickson's sentence carries no penalty except a notation of the offense on the back of his permanent record card.

Dickson has said he will refuse the demand made in the letter, which was presented to him late Sunday night.

The signers of the letter are: Van MacNair, chairman of the Men's Council; Leith Merrow, chairman of the Women's Council; Gray Reeves, women's attorney general; John Ingram, men's attorney general; Sonny Pepper, president of the Men's Residence Council; Frank Martin, president of the Interfraternity Council; Penny Scovill, chairman of the Women's Residence Council; and Jeri Moser, chairman of the Carolina Women's Council.

The letter says: "Because of the deepening crisis surrounding the question of your continuance in office, we the undersigned feel compelled to clarify our collective position for the entire University community."

"When the University administration issued you an ultimatum to resign, all of us intervened in your behalf, risking our reputations and personal influence with the administration, because we deeply felt that the proper judicial processes must always be maintained. As a result of this intervention you are again presented with the opportunity of honorably resigning."

Last Tuesday Dickson was notified by the administration that unless he resigned the presidency his judicial case would be reopened for review by a faculty board. About a dozen student leaders went to the administration Wednesday, protesting what they called its "coercive tactics" and "perversion of the judicial system." Dickson did not participate in that meeting.

The administration reconsidered its stand and Thursday Dickson was notified that the ultimatum had been withdrawn. He was told that there would be no threat of further judicial action in the case, and the decision of whether or not to resign was his own once again.

I have reached this decision after many hours of personal thought. It has not been an easy decision to make, but I am confident in the belief that it was one which was made honestly and with a sincere regard for Student Government and the University.

I believe in a Student Government which must at all cost maintain its integrity in relation to the Administration. There have been pressures, to be true, pressures which were motivated by concern for the University, but pressures nevertheless. These pressures have not ceased.

The easiest course for me to have taken would have been to have submitted to these pressures. As long as I am President I cannot. To let any group of individuals other than the students themselves determine who should be and remain their President would be to abrogate the responsibility placed in me last spring.

There is much to do in the coming months. Student Government needs the vigorous support of every student.

Paul Dickson, III
President of the Student Body

Dickson spent the weekend considering his course of action, and told Honor Council Chairman Van MacNair Sunday night that he intends to stay in office. He was then presented with the letter demanding his resignation.

It says: "The following reasons compel us to conclude that your continuance in office relegates our Student Government to a position of total impotence:

(1) Although we affirm that, as a student, you have fulfilled your obligations to the student judiciary, we place a far greater importance on the president's position as the elected head of our entire system of honor, and on his responsibility to protect the integrity of Student Government and that of the entire University community. It is clear that the continuance of the present situation can serve only to undermine all respect for our Student Government and its traditional authority.

(2) When this entire matter becomes public knowledge, and it surely will, the students, faculty, administration, and trustees of this institution will be placed in a position untenable in the eyes of the state of North Carolina.

(3) Although we strongly opposed any arbitrary and unilateral action on the part of the University administration in your case, we are compelled to agree with them that honor and the well-being of Student Government in particular and the University in general demand your resignation. It is abundantly clear that the University administration no longer recognizes you as the representative head of this student body.

(4) Your continuance in office places insurmountable obstacles in the path of each of us as we attempt to carry out our responsibilities to the student body, and should your position remain unchanged, we have serious reservations about our ability to continue effective service to this government."

A spokesman for the group said each person who signed the letter did so with the understanding that it would be made public. Copies are to be sent to UNC President William C. Friday, Chancellor Paul F. Sharp, Vice Chancellor J. C. Sitterton, Dean of Student Affairs C. O. Cathey, Dean of Men William G. Long, and Dean of Women Katherine K. Carmichael.

The letter concludes, "We are advising you in good faith, and we challenge you to show where we have failed to support you when your position was tenable. Certainly we have the right to expect that your concern for the preservation of the ideals of our University community will override personal ambition and will dictate your final decision."

"When you assumed the presidency you surrendered your right to personal indiscretions. Your every act became subject to the scrutiny of this community and, indeed, the scrutiny of the entire state."

"We call upon you in the name of honor to have the courage to tender your resignation as president of the Student Body without further delay."

Dickson issued a statement yesterday afternoon saying that "with the best interest of student government in mind," he had decided not to resign. He called resignation "the easiest course" and said "I have decided to resign."

Spokesmen for the group which signed the letter said early last night that it had not been decided what further action, if any, would be taken since Dickson has refused to resign.

Honor Council Chairman MacNair said, however, "speaking for myself, I would say that Paul's actions have widened the gulf between the judicial and executive branches of Student Government. I think it will be almost impossible for me to work with him and I personally feel some further action will be necessary."

Campus Police Chief Arthur J. Beaumont said a slow oil leak was the cause of the fire which was discovered about 1:30 p.m.

It took maintenance men about an hour to replace the $1,000 transformer and restore power to the area.

Beaumont said people in New East had been smelling something burning since last Friday but couldn't locate the source.

Daily Tar Heel

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

From The Associated Press

China Claims It Downed Plane

TOKYO — Communist China charged that a U. S. plane "intruded" into China's Hainan Island and was shot down by Chinese aircraft today.

A broadcast heard here identified the pilot of the F104 fighter as Capt. Philips E. Smith (hometown not given). It said he was captured "when he parachuted from his plane and tired to flee."

The broadcast claimed the plane was shot down over Hoihow, on the northern shore of the island, or just south of the mainland.

It gave this account: "The U. S. Plane intruded into China's territorial air space from west of Hainan Island at 1100 hours today. It penetrated deep into the air space of Hoihow and carried out military provocations at 1132 hours. Chinese aircraft promptly took off and intercepted it. The U. S. Fighter plane was hit and fell."

"The U. S. Pilot, Capt. Philips E. Smith (Serial No. 4360), was captured when he parachuted from his plane and tried to flee."

Pakistani Forces Advance

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan — Pakistan Claimed today its forces had knocked out 41 more Indian tanks, all but one during a battle in Sialkot Sector, where fighting entered its second week.

A spokesman said the pace of the battle was reduced somewhat from the fighting yesterday in which the Pakistanis said they shot down two Indian jet fighters, captured two tanks, and took 143 Indian prisoners.

Diplomatic activity in the Pakistani capital continued but there were no Pakistani comments on the U. N. cease-fire resolution or the Soviet proposal for an Indian-Pakistani summit meeting in the Soviet Union.

Among visitors to the presidential palace was U. S. Ambassador Walter P. McCaughy, who saw President Mohammed Ayub Khan. McCaughy saw Ayub Khan minutes after word was received in Rawalpindi of the U. N. vote.

Italian To Head Assembly

UNITED NATIONS — The election of Italian Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani as president of the U. N. Assembly was assured today when the only rival candidate, Koca Popovic of Yugoslavia, withdrew from the contest.

The election will take place when the 114-nation assembly opens its 20th session this afternoon.

Popovic had the backing of the Eastern European Communist bloc and had substantial support among Asian and African delegates, but the Yugoslav delegation notified other delegations today that his name was being withdrawn.

155 Viet Cong Killed In Skirmishes

SAIGON, Viet Nam — U. S. ground and air forces killed 155 Viet Cong guerrillas in the battle of the hills around An Khe in the Central Highlands, U. S. officials reported today.

Date Ticket Plan Revised

After receiving numerous complaints about the date ticket situation at the Michigan game, Rick Kramer, president of the Carolina Athletic Association, UNC Athletic Director Chuck Erickson and athletic business manager Vernon Creek have worked out a new plan for the Virginia game Oct. 2.

Under this plan the first 1,000 students to buy date tickets will be allowed to sit in the regular student section on the south side.

Other date ticket holders will sit in the west end zone entering through gate four. If there are not enough seats in the regular student section the overflow will also sit in the end zone. However, indications from the Michigan game show there is little threat of an overflow.

Kramer said some students have already bought their date tickets for the coming game and that the tickets say to enter gate one. However, these students and their dates will be admitted through gate five, the regular student gate.

"We made the change because students complained about being away from the student body and in the direct heat of the sun. This plan will put them close to the student section and the sun will at least be at their backs," Kramer said.

Another reason for the change is that the Virginia game has been designated as Band Day. Bands from all over the state will make their yearly trip to perform in Kenan Stadium.

Kramer said there were several problems at Saturday's game. Some freshmen failed to pick up their seating tickets after their I.D. cards were punched at the gate. He also said that students who wanted to sit together should ask for seats together.

After A Hard Day Of War

DA NANG, Viet Nam — The weary U. S. Marine platoon had just fought its way out of a Viet Cong ambush when it got the word in the field: "Word received from Saigon. Your shipment in the mail."

The shipment: two quarts of vodka, a fifth of bourbon, a pint of scotch, a bottle of pink champagne and a bottle of screw driver mix.

A Navy hospital medic with the Marines, Larry Freeman, placed the order from a calendar put out by Al Rustice's liquor store in West Babylon, N. Y. The calendar which Freeman picked up while on home leave, said, "We deliver anywhere."

The liquor arrived in Saigon Friday and was being flown to Da Nang, 380 miles away.

Lt. Donald McCloskey of Santa Barbara, Calif., said he planned to let the platoon have the liquor when it returns to Da Nang from the field.

"It will be held for a special occasion — one that doesn't affect their marksmanship," he said.

Rustice sent the liquor free and threw in an assortment of cheese dip, salted nuts, potato chips and a box of cigars. He added a quart of scotch for the company commander. An airline agreed to pick up the freight costs.

Freeman placed the order as a gag — he has never met Rustice.

Fire Erupts In Old East

A transformer fire in the basement of New East knocked out power in McCorkel place yesterday afternoon for about an hour.

Campus Police Chief Arthur J. Beaumont said a slow oil leak was the cause of the fire which was discovered about 1:30 p.m.

It took maintenance men about an hour to replace the $1,000 transformer and restore power to the area.

Beaumont said people in New East had been smelling something burning since last Friday but couldn't locate the source.