Tag football got off to a spirited start during the past week with some close ball games fought down to the wire.

The biggest score of the week was rolled up by Zete I as they trampled Phi Delta Chi, 66-0. Knox McMillan was the big gun for the Zetes as they showed no mercy.

In League I, the PiKA Plammers are on top with a 1-0 record. In League II the Phi Gam Whiteoaks and Zete II are the leaders. Zete I and Phi Delt White lead League III, while KA Blue II and Sig Epi head League IV.

In the residence hall leagues, defending champion Everett scored three wins to open its quest for a second title. The Everett Rogahs downed the Graham Bells, 13-7 and the Everett Trojans eased by the Stacy Studs, 6-0. Everett also won their game. In an overtime game the Alexander Poobahs came from behind to trip the Joyner Supporters, 14-13.

Max Chapman Drives Over For First Carolina Touchdown

'God Helped Us'

University of Virginia Coach George Blackburn emerged from the dressing room Saturday sounding like a preacher.

His never-say-die Cavaliers had just bounced back after trailing 17 points to whip the Tar Heels 21-17. Needless to say he was a jubilant man.

Blackburn was nearly shouting as he spoke to reporters. "We won it the hard way," said Blackburn. "This is one of the sweetest victories of my career. If the boys live to be 80 years old I don't think they'll ever forget it."

He then began his sermon. "I've stood out here two weeks and talked to you fellows after losing, and believe me it's been tough."

"I've told you all before that three ingredients are necessary to have a winning football team.

"One is a well conditioned football team. We only used 25 players today, so I'd say we were in good physical shape."

"Another is a smart and a well coached team. In our last two games we haven't looked like it, but we do now."

"The most important thing is fight. Football is a man's game. It takes mental guts to play it successfully. We came back. That showed that we have both intestinal and mental fortitude."

The Cavaliers, rated high in preseason polls, had failed to find the winning combination until the Carolina game.

"I told the team before the game that they had to play big league ball. Carolina beat a big league team last week at Ohio State, and if we wanted to be big league we had to beat Carolina."

He explained his team's lack of defensive might in the first half as inexperience.

"We never changed anything, we just started playing like we should. We were using a new defense that we had practiced only 20 minutes and the boys weren't quite use to it. After they got the feel of it, things really began to click."

Blackburn looked up as he made his next statement. "We had help from above on some of our long bombs today, and we thank God for that."

He had nothing but praise for quarterback Tom Hodges. "His passing under pressure was tremendous. He took a licking in the first half but showed a lot of guts."

It was a real trophy day for the Cavalier defense. Refusing to single out anyone in particular, he praised the whole team for its great effort.

Blackburn accepted congratulations from various University officials as they filed through the dressing room. One of them noticed the game ball that he was hiding behind his back.

"This isn't for me," he replied. "Last night we decided to give it to the person who has meant the most to the athletic program at Virginia, President Ben Shannon."

Blackburn was asked about the Carolina punt late in the final period that gave his team ball possession and the final deciding score.

"It was a smart move. I would have done the same thing in Hickey's case," he said.

"Our winning play was called from the pressbox by Ben Wilson, the offensive backfield coach. I sent in another play but luckily we decided to use his at the last minute."

"Why did you gamble on fourth and six instead of going for the field goal that would have tied the score?"

"We had to gamble, Blackburn said. We came 200 miles and we didn't want a tie. We were ready for a win."

'Sorriest Game Ever,' Hickey Says

By GENE RECTOR
DTH Asst. Sports Editor

The Tar Heel dressing room was a morgue Saturday afternoon.

Only the occasional thud of a falling shoulder pad or the scrape of dusty cleats broke the silence.

The joy of last week's upset over Ohio State was forgotten. The players dressed without a word.

A disgusted Jim Hickey held one of the shortest post-game press conferences on record.

Veteran reporters said this is the first time they had seen Hickey lose his composure in seven years.

The Tar Heel coach had watched the visiting Cavaliers crack a 17-0 Carolina lead to take the 21-17 victory.

"That was the sorriest football game I have seen since I've been here," Hickey said, using a half-spent cigarette to emphasize his point.

"We played just as sorry this week as we played great last week."

"Oh, we didn't take Virginia lightly," he said. "We've preached that to them all week. There's simply no excuse for the way we played."

"We just played around," he said. "I guess we expected Virginia to lay down and give it to us. We didn't play offense or defense. We didn't play at all."

"Virginia deserves all the credit in the world," he said. "I have to admire them. I'm disgusted with our bunch."

"I don't even want to talk about details," he said moving toward the door. "That's all I have to say."

Halfback Max Chapman had little to add.

"I guess Virginia wanted this one more than we did," he said, "particularly in the second half."

"We're not very pleased with ourselves," quarterback Danny Talbott said.

Punter Bill Edwards agreed. "We just didn't play good ball. We didn't play at all in the second half."

UNC's Meade Gets Rematch

By BOB ORR
DTH Sports Writer

Tomorrow is a red letter day for Jim Meade, the UNC cross country captain who finished second best to South Carolina's Bob Crombie for the ACC title last fall.

Crombie and his South Carolina team will be here at 4 p.m. to take on the Tar Heels in the opening meet of the season for both teams.

Both outfits are pretty evenly matched and the race will be interesting — but the center of attention is the Meade-Crombie duel.

The two are unlikes. Meade is slow — his best quarter mile time is :58.6 while Crombie is a converted middle distance runner.

Crombie must hope for a slow pace and a chance to use his speed at the end to win. Meade must set a killing pace — which he is fully capable of doing — and build up enough of a lead to last him through the final stages.

The harriers finished second to Maryland for the Conference title last fall, winning eight of nine meets. Their only loss, against the Terps, broke a 10 meet win streak.

Going into tomorrow's duel with South Carolina the Tar Heels have won six meets in a row.

Carolina has won the North Carolina state title for five consecutive years. Last fall's loss to Maryland broke a string of four straight conference titles.

Even though Coach Joe Hilton's harriers have been hit by illness and injury, they should give the Gamecocks a tough time on the 4.3 mile course. Letterman Trip MacPherson and Drummond Bell will not be seeing action this week.

The task of beating USC will fall to a handful of healthy runners. Among these are sophomores Bill Bassett, Mike Williams, Fred McCall, and junior Charles Worley. These runners along with Meade were the first five Varsity finishers in last week's time trial.

The Tar Heel frosh will also open their season Monday against USC's freshman. The '65 freshman cross country editor should prove to be one of the best in Carolina history.

Led by Jim Hotelling, Joe Lasich, and Truett Goodwin, the freshman came within one point of beating the varsity in last week's three mile time trial.

Lasich was the Maryland state prep indoor and outdoor two mile champion. Hotelling, who is from Chapel Hill, went to Virginia Episcopal High School and was the state prep mile champ there and Goodwin was the North Carolina state mile and cross country champion.

Coaches Joe Hilton and Boyd Newnam feel that both varsity and freshman runners are in good shape and, barring further injuries, should prove successful in the coming season.

Ohio State games with a separated shoulder, played well also. He got in only for Carolina's last two desperation drives and caught three Danny Talbott passes for 33 yards.

Interception

Tabott's pass from the Virginia 31 yard line in the dying minutes of the game, which was intercepted in the end zone by Paul Klingensmith, was intended for Phillips.

Bud had told Talbott in the huddle that he could beat Virginia deep — and he did. But by the time Talbott's pass got there Virginia's secondary had recovered.
