

Texas Holds On To No. 1

The Texas Longhorns maintained a slipping grip on first place this week in the Associated Press football ratings. The Razorbacks of Arkansas have a golden opportunity to move into number one as they take on Texas Saturday in a nationally televised contest.

Arkansas puts a 16-game winning streak against the Longhorns. Texas has lost only once in the last 26 games, to Arkansas last year by one point. The battle traditionally goes a long way towards deciding the outcome of the Southwest Conference race.

Nebraska gained a stronger hold on second place and Michigan State remains fourth in the ratings. Duke was the only ACC team receiving votes.

1. Texas 4-0
2. Nebraska 4-0
3. Arkansas 4-0
4. Mich. State 4-0
5. Georgia 4-0
6. Southern Calif. 3-0-1
7. Purdue 3-0-1
8. Notre Dame 3-1
9. Florida 3-1
10. Miss. State 4-0.

Lucky 13

There's a surprising statistic beside the name of Bob Hume when University of North Carolina superlatives are charted. It reads: MOST PASSES CAUGHT, 13. Hume doesn't find that number unlucky at all.

As a matter of fact, the 6-1, 190 pounder from Memphis, Tenn., considers himself quite a fortunate guy. Due to the misfortune of a teammate, Hume, who will start at wingback for the Tar Heels against Maryland, was considered an also-ran defensive back when the season opened. He had been shifted from end, where he played both offense and defense last season. But he wasn't seeing much duty in workouts.

Then came a shocker for the coaching staff. Bud Phillips, of Charlotte, who looked especially bright as a pass receiver on the wing, separated a shoulder. But was doing so well he had the job all to himself. Carolina, for a day, was a team bad in need of a wing-back.

The first name that came up was Jimmy Byrd, the squad's smallest but pluckiest member. He was a quarterback, but he would volunteer his 157 pounds for tackle if the need arose. Then someone suggested Hume. He had size, good speed and some experience from the previous year.

Hume, who moved ahead of Jimmy because of his physique, soon had the staff happy. He set about doing his job and in no time at all moved like a veteran. His best game to date was against North Carolina State last Saturday. He caught six passes, many on key downs.

"Another good thing about Bob is his blocking," notes Assistant Coach Vito Ragazzo. "He tries to knock somebody down every play. He's eager and he's done us a real fine job."

Incidentally, Phillips is back but he must work his way back into a starting role.

Big Swede With Big Goal

By BOB PAGE
DTH Sports Writer

Kent Svensson traveled 6,000 miles in September to reach 183 feet by May.

The mileage is roughly the distance from his home, Lund, Sweden, to Chapel Hill. The footage is his goal in track.

He wants to return home next year with a discus throw of 183 feet, which is what he figures will be needed to qualify for the European Track and Field Championships in Hungary next summer.

Svensson is the first recipient of a full athletic grant-in-aid for track at Carolina. Kent had definite reasons behind his bold decision to leave home and come to Carolina: more and better coaching, weather, good athletic facilities, the experience itself and a good education.

A year ago, Svensson was throwing the discus about 169 feet. Last August he reached 172-6 his longest official throw. However, he received individual coaching only about twice a month during the short season there which runs from late May to late September. He plans to work all year round here.

UNC track coach Joe Hilton says, "Kent is one of our brightest prospects. Frankly,

I think he's ready to do better than 172 right now. He's thrown better than 180 feet in practice."

In April Kent graduated from a school that is comparable to a junior college in the U. S. He is 21 and because he competed for a year after age 20, the NCAA allows him only two years of varsity eligibility.

How does one learn enough about a school in a foreign land to decide to spend three years with it? And how does a track coach decide to sign up an athlete he has never scouted?

The answer is Dr. Carl Sarnadal, who did post graduate work in biochemistry here and helped with the track team. He just happens to be from Stockholm, Sweden. He served as a two-way communication link between Svensson and Hilton, who became impressed by the athletic and academic records and Sarnadal's reports on Svensson.

Tommy Clark, UNC's former three-time ACC high jump champ, helped. Clark competed abroad, including Sweden, in Amateur Athletic Union meets. His accounts of the athletic program, facilities and coaching at Carolina appealed to Svensson.

Attention All Prospects

Basketball, the game with a bounce, starts here Friday. Coach Dean Smith is requesting all candidates for the freshman team to report to Woollen Gym dressed and ready to go at 7 p.m.

Larry Bown, who made the first team All-ACC squad as a guard here as a senior in 1963 and who later made the first team Olympic squad, will coach the frosh. This will be his first year as a coach.

Anyone who wants to go out for the varsity must see Coach Smith by Friday. Varsity practice will start next Monday.

Last winter Smith's team won its last seven games in regular season and finished 15-9 for the year. Big wins included two triumphs over nationally ranked Duke and a victory over ACC tourney champ N. C. State at Raleigh. All American Billy Cunningham is gone but Smith has Larry Miller coming up to join

Bob Lewis, who averaged 20 points a game last year as a sophomore.

There will also be an organizational meeting of the freshman and varsity wrestling squads on Friday at 4:30 in the wrestling room. Coach Sam Barnes urges all prospects to attend.

The last time UNC was shut-out in Kenan Stadium was by LSU in 1961, 30-0.

Jim Hickey is the twenty-eighth varsity football coach at UNC.
