Two straight Tar Heel victories have begun to relieve the sting of the Virginia defeat.

A different group of determined young men have taken the field the past two Saturdays.

Against N. C. State, the Tar Heels played tough determined football. It was close — 10-7 in favor of the Tar Heels — but the men were around when the big play was needed.

Against Maryland last Saturday, the situation was much the same. Again only a few points separated the two—12-10 in favor of UNC—but Coach Jim Hickey's men hung in there against a highly regarded football team.

Maryland could do little against the Tar Heels. The Terps, feared for their off-tackle power, found the going rough on the ground. The Tar Heel line, solid all season long, gave up precious little yardage.

"Except for two or three mental errors," said Coach Hickey, speaking at his weekly press conference, "we played a great game."

"Sure, we have a young team," he said, "and you can expect those mistakes. But we feel that we are improving every week."

Hickey was displeased with the punt returning in Saturday's game.

"We run like hell," he said jokingly, "but it's either sideways or after the ball. We're working on it, though. We'll improve."

Hickey gave this explanation for the two-point try after the second Tar Heel touchdown against Maryland.

"One point would not have been any good," he said. "A Maryland field goal would have tied the game. If we had made the two-point conversion (They did not. Talbott's run failed)," he said. "Maryland would have had to score two touchdowns to beat us."

"We were not going for a tie," he continued. "If we are going anywhere in the conference, we have to win all our remaining games. A tie will do us no good."

Hickey expects another close game with Wake Forest Saturday in Winston-Salem.

"The Wake Forest game," he said, "should be much the same as our last two — tough as the devil. We'll have to play good, hard-nosed football to win."

Assistant coach and chief scout Emmett Cheek agreed.

"Wake Forest is always after us," he said. "And of course we'll have to be ready to get them."

UNC Shines In ACC Stats

Carolina fullback Max Chapman held on to first place in the AC rushing statistics this week with his 55 yards against Maryland.

Tar Heel quarterback Danny Talbott, the junior from Rocky Mount already being compared to Charlie Justice, held on to second place in the passing race behind Tom Hodges of Virginia.

Talbott also advanced a notch in the total offense column moving into second.

Chapman has carried the ball 88 times during the first half of the season averaging 4.3 yards per carry.

Talbott has hit 58 of 104 tosses for 531 yards, two of which went for touchdowns. Hodges has thrown for 875 yards and three touchdowns.

In total offense Hodges heads the list with 954 yards and Talbott is ahead of Duke's Scotty Glacken 685 to 681.

Harriers Outrun Wolf Pack, 18-48

By SANDY TREADWELL
DTH Sports Writer

Yesterday afternoon the North Carolina Cross Country team crushed State 18-48. Jim Mead's performance was outstanding. He romped over the Wolfpack's four-mile course in just under 21 minutes, and was the first man across the finish line.

"Jim held himself back to stay in the pack with the other boys," Coach Joe Hilton explained. "His time was only three minutes off the record. Who knows — if he had left ahead of the rest of the runners he might have cut one and one-half minutes off his time."

"But Jim stayed back. We had our first five boys over the line within 25 seconds of one another. That's what you've got to do in cross country."

The freshmen team also tore apart their State opponents 19-54.

Hotteling placed first. The Carolina freshman ran the 2 1/2 mile course in a time of 12:59.

State's Pete McManus was second.

Then the next eight runners across the finish were all wearing Tar Baby uniforms.

Hilton expressed his pleasure in the performances of the two Carolina squads.

The cross country teams face Clemson on Saturday. They meet Duke, one of the toughest teams in the conference, on the following Wednesday.

Carolina's victory over State brings their record to three wins against one defeat.

The top ten for the varsities in yesterday's meet were: (1) Jim Mead - UNC, (2) Janowitz - UNC, (3) Mel Woodcock - State, (4) McCall - UN, (5) Worlie - UN, (7) Mike Williams - UNC, (8) Middleton - State, (9) Trip MacPherson - UNC, (10) Adams - UNC.

First five freshmen: Hoteling - UNC, (2) Pete McManus - State, (3) Truit Goodwin - UNC, (4) Joe Lasich - UNC, (5) Williams - UNC.

NBC Gets Rights

The major leagues sold the television and radio rights for baseball's World Series, All-star game and selected games of the week to the National Broadcasting Company today in a three year contract totaling $30.6 million.

The deal, calling for a 63 to 65 per cent increase over payments in the past, will net each of the clubs approximately $300,000 annually.

John E. Fetzer, president of the Detroit Tigers and chairman of baseball's TV committee, made the announcement.

Carolina's Season Best In 15 Years

You'll have to go back 15 years to find a North Carolina football team which played better over the first five games than the current Tar Heels.

In 1963, for example, the Carolina team, destined for Gator Bowl laurels, compiled a smart 4-1 figure over the first half of the season. Yet, in one of those games Michigan State completely outclassed the Tar Heels, 31-0.

This season, with a 3-2 record, Carolina has been in the thick of every game. Widest margin of defeat was by seven points at the hands of Michigan, 31-24. In the loss to Virginia the Tar Heels led by 17 at one stage. Then blew it.

The total point difference between winner and loser in five UNC games to date is 27 points. Carolina won its past two games by a total of five points: 10-7 over N. C. State, 12-10 over Maryland.

When anyone mentions the loss to Virginia, Coach Jim Hickey goes pale. That game bugs him more than any other. His Tar Heels looked like a sure winner. How could a team kick away a 17-0 lead?

Best example of that is the Arkansas - Texas bout of last weekend. Arkansas, now rated the nation's best team, led by 21-0. Next thing you knew Texas was in front, 24-21. Yes, it can happen anywhere.

Football leads are made to be overtaken. The Detroit Lions had the Green Bay Packers by 21-3 last Sunday, yet lost by a sizable margin. Modern football is a game of offense and the daring play.

This is most unusual because most coaches consider the defenses of today the best ever.

FAUNTLEROY DISGUISED

Fauntleroy

Don't raise your voice,
Don't wave that stick.
Don't fuss at me,
Because I'm sick.

Ah-h-h-h-h. I guess you're wondering what happened to ol' "Perfect" Fauntleroy—Huh?

Don't worry. I'm still perfect. But I'm not superhuman. I've been sick, you see—out of my mind.

Delirious is a better word. I don't even remember making those picks last Saturday. (Actually, I'd like to forget it, but that is neither here nor there.)

Can you imagine it. Ol' Fauntleroy missed three of 10 picks—I must have been out of my mind. I came out of my coma Saturday afternoon—just in time to see my column in the Daily Tar Heel.

Well, quite frankly I was amazed with my predictions.

I had picked Duke to roll over Clemson—eech. Anybody would have known that Ol' Frank Howard was going to take that one.

And Davidson over William and Mary—that was a real loser. William & Mary cruised in 41-7. Now surely you don't believe...

But I'm better, sports fans. Yes, ol' Fauntleroy is regaining his strength.

You'll see, just watch Saturday's Tar Heel. "Perfect" Fauntleroy will be perfect again.

Soccer Sports Colored Ball

What is yellow, has black or brown spots, and flies through the air?

If you saw Friday's soccer game at Fetzer Field you could probably answer that question without hesitation.

It's a soccer ball.

The drab old leather sphere has been replaced by a yellow one covered with black or brown pentagons, making it strangely resemble a beach ball.

The soccer rules allow great freedom in the choice of balls, and the Tar Heels have adopted this as their official tool.

"Last year we bought one," said Soccer Coach Marvin Allen, "and we liked it so well that we are using it for practice and games now."

The Ivy League is the only conference that requires its teams to use colored balls.

When asked about the advantages of the new ball, Allen said, "It helps the boys to tell the spin and the speed of the ball. It also will last a little longer than the old ball."

DKE Blue Rolls By Pi Lamb Phi

By BILL HASS
DTH Sports Writer

Tuesday's intramural football action featured a couple of high-scoring ball games and some fine individual performances.

Bob Toomey scored four touchdowns and led the DKE Blue team to a 50-0 romp over Pi Lambda Phi. Toomey also got credit for a safety.

J. Ward scored two touchdowns and added two safeties and J. Edgerton scored the other TD for the DKE's.

Law I had a merry time rolling over the Navy Sea Bats, 59-6. Reef Ivey led the way with three touchdowns. Other scores were contributed by Dave Deramuse, Norman Madry, Jerry Vincent, Bill Howell, Larry McDevitt and Skeeter Olschlager. R. D.

Pierce saved the Navy ship from sinking completely with their only touchdown.

It just wasn't Navy's day as Victory Village pounded out a 25-7 win over the Navy Op Tars. Ward led the way with two TD's and an extra point for Victory Village while Hampton also scored. Larry Barber added two safeties.

PIKA won a squeaker from Lambda Chi, 21-16, after trailing 16-7 at the half. Lem Davis scored two TD's for PIKA, including the winning one near the game's end. Fred Stapp scored the other touchdown. Ambrose and Alsbrook accounted for the Lambda Chi scores.

KA Blue I erupted for three second-half touchdowns to blank Delta Sig, 18-0. Jim Bullock scored twice and Tom Christy once to pace the KA's.

The Phi Kappa Sig J-Birds, spotting Sigma Nu B a 7-0 halftime lead, rallied to pull out a 15-7 decision. Hop Hudson and Charles Gourley scored the TD's to win for Phi Kappa Sig. Jim Martin's first-half TD provided Sigma Nu with their lead.

Wallace Kirtley's touchdown was all the Kappa Sig Cossa Robbers needed to slip past KA Blue II, 6-2. Mike Munroe's safety was the only score for the KA's in the defensive battle.

DU Blue downed the DKE Red team, 18-6.

Mum Is Word

Virginia coach George Blackburn had little to say about his team's 41-0 rush past previously unbeaten West Virginia last Saturday.

"We just had a good book on them," he explained. He said his scouts had noticed the Mountaineers played the same brand of football each game, calling the same plays and making the same mistakes.

West Virginia, fielding a team rated as one of the most powerful in the nation and ranked in the top 20, had entered the Virginia game unbeaten and untied in four games—averaging 44.5 points and 482 yards per game.
