

Marceau Coming To Duke

"By breaking through the wall of languages, a pantomime can become a brother to audiences anywhere." These are the words of Marcel Marceau, the famed French pantomimist who will be appearing in Page Auditorium on the campus of Duke University on Oct. 28.

His one-man performance is entitled "The Art of Silence." He has appeared on the Red Skelton Show, the Maurice Chevalier Show and the Dinah Shore program. He has performed all over Europe. He believes that pantomime is a universal art and a means of

Where Service Comes First

This is an ad for the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

As you can see, this wagon is loaded with reasons for owning a VW Station Wagon. There's too much stuff, and not enough wagon. Only about 85 cubic feet worth. If you owned a box-shaped Volkswagen, you could take all that stuff off the roof and put it inside where it belongs.

The VW holds 170 cubic feet; about twice as much as most regular wagons. Which means you can seat 9 people and still have room for all their luggage. (All their luggage means 13 pieces. And you can load it through 5 big doors.) Aside from capacity, you also get a sensible little engine that averages 23 miles on a gallon of regular gasoline. And you never have to pay for antifreeze or radiator repair. There isn't any radiator. So every time they make a conventional station wagon, they also make an ad for the Volkswagen Station Wagon. (Secretly, we wish them every success.)

"I know all about General Electric. They make toasters and irons and things like that."

"Right. Things like the world's most powerful jet engines, the world's largest turbine-generator, the world's first Man-Made diamonds. Things like nuclear power plants, suitcase-size computers and a whole new family of plastics."

"Yeah, yeah. Things like that."

Only about one quarter of G.E. sales are in consumer goods. All the rest are in industrial, aerospace and defense products.

A variety of products (over 200,000 in all). A variety of activities (everything from research and development to advertising and sales). A variety of challenges for young men who want to be recognized for their talents and rewarded for their work.

Important responsibilities come to you early at General Electric. Talk to the man from G.E. about coming to work for us.

This is where the young men are important men.
