

Look At Past

Carolina played a total of 43 games of basketball from 1939 through last season. Overall record for the Tar Heels during that span was 462 victories against 221 defeats.

This was known as the Woolen Gym era and in that building Carolina teams won 85 per cent of their games.

naturally jubilant over the victory.

"The most important thing was the usefulness displayed by the whole team," he said. "This is what makes the team."

"We're improving each game and if we can keep it up, who knows —"

Coach Smith had high praise for senior center Bob Bennett.

"Richmond was not as big as some of the teams we will play, but Bennett really showed what he could do in the rebounding department."

Bennett hauled down 13 rebounds to place second to Larry Miller's 14.

The Tar Heel defense was also a factor.

"At half-time," said Smith, "we talked about how lousy our defense had been. Then we came out on the court in the second half and played the best defense of the year for the first eight minutes."

Babies Rout Devils 89-69

By BILL ROLLINS
DTH Sports Writer

Defense did it again. Just when it seemed that the Tar Babies were in for a sound thrashing, lightning hands began to steal the ball, and Carolina's frosh made one tremendous comeback to register their third straight win of the campaign.

Rusty Clark, with 27 points and 12 rebounds in an overall outstanding performance, was the big gun of the rally, which didn't let up until the Babies lead reached 22 points near the game's end.

There was 9:54 left in the first half when the Babies began to rally from a 21-11 deficit.

Guard Dick Grubar cut between his man and the ball and deflected it away. He recovered, drove in for the layup, and seconds later was on the passing end of a Jim Bostick layup. At 9:06, Bostick hit again from the right base line to cut it to 21-17.

A minute later, Rusty Clark scored from beneath, then hit a free throw to complete a three-point play.

But the Imps were hitting too, and pulled on top 26-20.

At this point, the Babies blitzed the now - befuddled Duke defense for eight points in 3:21, and they never relinquished the lead.

Clark started it with a free throw, then Gerald Tuttle hit two foul shots and a field goal, to cut the Imp lead to 26-25. Here, Joe Brown gave a fake at the foul line and lost his man - then was fouled by another as he canned a layup. His three - pointer gave UNC a 28-26 lead at the 3:06 mark, and lit the fuse.

The rally had been a great one, but the Babies had a "second wind" now, and poured in 12 points in the remaining 2:23 to establish a 40-34 lead at halftime.

Grubar broke a 30-all tie at 1:51, and when Clark banked in his second basket of an eight - point Tar Baby streak in which Bostick also had two buckets, half - filled Carmichael Auditorium sounded like all this was being done by the two varsity clubs.

A three - point play by Bill Bunting early in the second period moved the lead to its first 10 - point reach at 47-37, and two minutes later, Joe Brown got his second three-pointer to run it to 54-41.

It held at this level until three straight baskets by Duke guard Gene Bromstead sliced it to 58-51 with 9:28 to go. Then big Rusty got hot again, and the Babies blew it wide open.

Clark steered in a rebound shot, Bunting took a slick pass from Tuttle for a bucket and Clark drilled one in from the right of the foul line.

After an Imp score, Brown hit, and Rusty tossed in a pair of free throws and another fielder to run the score to 70-53, and it was all over but the shouting.

And there was lots of that. When Paul Camnitz of Kingston batted in a rebound to give the frosh their biggest lead at 81-59, the now near-capacity crowd almost brought the house down.

At the end, a bullet - pass from Camnitz to guard Wayne Dillard for a layup kept intact the frosh record of winning all three of their games by at least 20 points.

"It was a great comeback and just a great game," said calm coach Larry Brown in the excited din of the dressing room. "Any coach who is not pleased by a game like this . . . I don't know, there's just something wrong with him. All the boys kept their poise even after being down by 11 or 12 so early. It was a great effort."

Clark led the Carolina shooters with nine-for 15 from the floor, and Bostick had another hot night with 6-of-nine. It was the third straight game in which the shooting percentage had been over 50 - this time it just barely edged over the mark at 50.8

per cent. Duke shot at a 55.8 per cent clip, but with the Babies forcing 26 turnovers by the Imps, they did not get as many shots as they strived for.

SCORING: Clark 27, Bostick 15, Bunting 13, Brown 10, Grubar 8, Tuttle 3, Camnitz 2, Rindfleisch 2, Dillard 2, Todd 2.
