Campus Carnival Has 'Vice, Sadism'

By ANDY MYERS
DTH Staff Writer

"Vice" has finally arrived at Carolina. "Sadism" is here. Naturally, these two popular activities will lure every student to today's Campus Carnival in the Intramural Field. Festivities begin at 1 and last until 6 p.m. In between times students can prepare themselves for dates tonight by:

- throwing pies at smiling faces.
- knocking coeds from precarious perches into vast vats of simulated boiling oil (warm water).
- tossing loaded baseballs at weighted bottles.
- a greased pig chase.
- a strip show by Winston Residence Hall.

Collection activities for the Campus Chest, sponsor of the event, began Monday. The Carolina Women's Council shined shoes Wednesday and yesterday in Y-Court and Lenoir Hall. The shoeshine collected $110.55, according to "shoeshine" chairman Ellen Sugg. Last year the event netted about $40.

Money from the shoeshine goes to the Campus Chest. Co-chairmen of this year's Chest drive, Ellen Lentz and Dave Bruenner said yesterday more than 300 solicitors are collecting money in residence halls, sororities, and fraternities. The drive will continue through Friday.

Tuesday an auction in Memorial Hall will have up for bidding, among other things, Dean of Women Catherine Carmichael's last African Violet, a TV set and a batch of home brew.

History Professor William Geer has consented to donate his famous "most treasured possession"—a red Bull Stamp. He uses it on student quizzes when the student, well, uh, shoots too much bull.

The auction will be preceded by a fashion show at 7 p.m. sponsored by the Fireside. Clothes will be given as prizes.

Carnival Barker Neil Thomas said more than 30 booths will be set up in Intramural Field. The King and Queen will be crowned this afternoon.

Money from the Campus Chest goes to the N. C. Heart Association, Murdoch Center for the retarded children at Butner, O'Berry Center in Goldsboro, Cerebral Palsy Hospital in Durham, and the World University Service.

The goal this year is $12,000. Miss Lentz said this comes to about $1 per student.

GALE HUNTER, Diane Longino and Sandy Kelso (left to right) are practicing in the Fireside for the Campus Chest Fashion Show. It will be given before the big auction Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

Universities Must Prove Value—Sharp

DESMOINES, Iowa (AP) — Former UNC Chancellor Paul F. Sharp, new president of Drake University, said Thursday American universities are on trial today and must prove their relevance and value.

In his first appearance before Drake faculty and students since assuming the presidency on Tuesday, Dr. Sharp said:

"Higher education has raised such high hopes among so many of us that now we call upon it to prove its relevance and its value, to demonstrate its vitality and its leadership in a fast-changing, increasingly complex and unfamiliar society."

Sharp talked about the touchstones by which a university and the system of higher education is judged.

He listed these touchstones as:

- ... the university's freedom, its quality of instruction and learning, the depth of its productive scholarship, research and creativity, and finally, the significance of its services to the larger world of which it is a part."

American universities are on trial, at least in part, he continued "because their expectations are distressingly conventional, their ambitions march with chain gang precision and their corporate images fit gray patterns of conformity lacking in distinctive character and personality."

Long Approves Cobb Proposal

Cobb Residence Hall is now an official member of Morehead Residence College. This is the first women's residence to be admitted to the college system.

Voting in East and West Cobb took place last week and the proposal to join Morehead passed unanimously. Dean of Men William Long approved the move.

Morehead College is now composed of Graham, Everett, Lewis, Stacy, Aycock and Cobb.

Morrison College and Nurses dorm are considered "brother-sister halls," but are not members of the same college.

Senators have been elected from each hall in Cobb to represent the residence hall in the college senate.

Drusylla Murray was elected Secretary of Morehead in a vote Tuesday. Representatives to the senate from the other residences will be elected in the general elections Tuesday.

At the Morehead Senate meeting held Tuesday night it was announced that a combo party would be held March 6.

The House and Grounds committee of the college announced plans to plant flowers around the lower quad and to place benches between Lewis and Aycock halls.

'Sing Out '66' Packs Coliseum

By ED FREAKLEY
DTH Staff Writer

CHARLOTTE — "Sing Out '66" drew the largest crowd in the history of the Coliseum here Wednesday night and had more than 14,000 people on their feet applauding them for the last 15 minutes of the show.

Charlotte police estimated they turned away more than 1,000 cars filled with people who were trying to get into the free two-hour show.

The group of about 120, who range in age from 15 to 24, will be at the University in Chapel Hill for two shows Monday.

The turnout in Charlotte was so large that the stage's background curtain had to be taken down so people who were sitting behind the stage could see.

The show, sponsored by WBTB in Charlotte, began with the cast of 120 charging on to the stage and singing a loud and fast version of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Dressed in blues, yellows, reds, greens and many other colors, the rainbow-like group sang for two hours without stopping. Their songs are loud, fast and inspiring.

No writing can describe the just plain good feeling that comes from the group. One thing is obvious, the cast has the best time of all.

The group consists of Negroes, (one an ex-street fighter and one a refugee from Watts), Cubans, Scots, English, Finns and many others. They are about evenly split between girls and boys.

All the songs they sing except two, were written by members of the cast. Since they started touring the country last fall they have written over 50 songs. Shortly before their show in Charlotte they composed one for North Carolina — it's great.

Of the group 48 of them are high school age. But they aren't missing any of their education. They have a traveling school with them and study about eight hours a day.

One of the girls, Cati Quinn, is the daughter of Anthony Quinn and the granddaughter of Cecil B. deMille.

Another is the daughter of Bob Richards, the Wheaties man on television.

But all these young people have dropped their past. They are looking to the future, and a young lady named Kathe Green can tell you about it better than I can.

"I was chased down the freeway at 105 miles per hour by the sheriff of Los Angeles. He never caught me, but his idea did. Entertainment has always been my line, but rebellion is my nature. I was chucked out of 11 schools, and left home at 15.

"When I got the invitation to travel with "Sing-Out '66" I decided to check my priorities. If American youth could create a new image of America at a time when anti-Americanism is growing so strong, the whole course of events might change. I knew the thing was to channel all my energy in the right direction. My idea of Moral Re-Armament is to do just that."

Frats 'Hold Breath' Awaiting Decision On Social Ban Rule

By STEVE BENNETT
DTH Staff Writer

All 24 of UNC's social fraternities will regain women's visiting privileges today if Dean of Men William G. Long signs the new "Interim Fraternity Visiting Agreement 1965-66."

The agreement, voted into IFC by-laws last night, will include seven new sections agreed upon following the disorder last weekend.

The IFC also unanimously passed a resolution stating its outrage at the way in which the investigation has been held concerning the action of a few irresponsible individuals during the course of last weekend.

The resolution states that the "unfortunate incidents have been misrepresented as being indicative of the conduct of the fraternity system as a whole."

The Council expressed concern that the entire fraternity system has been unfairly indicted for the misconduct of a few individuals as a result of the "injurious and unorthodox manner in which the incidents have been handled by the Office of the Dean of Men."

The solution states that irreparable damage has been done to the image of the fraternity system in the eyes of the public due to the incidents of last weekend and the manner in which they were handled resulting in inaccurate, exaggerated and biased accounts of what actually happened.

The normal established procedures for the investigation have not been followed. Events such as those of last weekend are subject to investigation by the Attorney General of Student Government, and the suspected individuals are subject to a subsequent trial by the appropriate judicial body.

The IFC made the modifications in the Women's Visiting Agreement realizing that such modifications will improve the fraternity system, the IFC and the University community at large.

The additions to the new Visiting Agreement are:

The president, officers and executive board of each house will be held accountable for the maintenance of gentlemanly conduct by their members and guests at their respective fraternity functions.

Any fraternity agent guilty of violating the state or local laws with respect to the public consumption and display of alcohol will be subject to IFC Court disciplinary action which shall include a fine of at least $10.

A fraternity which fails to clean its grounds by 9 a.m. on the morning following a fraternity function will be subject to an automatic fine of $25 to be imposed by the IFC Court.

Any fraternity in violation of Chapel Hill Noise Ordinances will be subject to trial by the IFC Court. (This includes the loud playing of music between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m.)

The IFC and its court recognize their responsibility in enforcing this agreement. Representatives of the IFC will be assigned to be responsible for each fraternity on Friday and Saturday nights and for morning clean-ups. Specific IFC representatives will inspect the public areas at each house prior to closing hours.

Violations of the rules and regulations under the visiting agreement will be subject to the jurisdiction of the IFC Court or of the Men's Honor Council.

Lindsay told the Council that he would notify them if the new agreement was not signed today.

Candidates for offices of a residence college made up of Joyner, Alexander and Connor residence halls have been chosen. Nominations will be open, however, for all offices until 8 p.m. today.

Candidates chosen Wednesday night by the present residence hall officers included Governor Ken Giles, of Alexander; Social Lt. Governor, Sandy Hobgood of Joyner; Academic Lt. Governor, Wayne Justesen of Joyner and Mel Manson of Connor; Secretary, Steve Rasmussen of Joyner; Treasurer, Andrew Mackie of Alexander and Dave Baughn of Connor.

Rick Draper of Joyner, acting governor of the residence college which has not yet been named, said prospective candidates can submit petitions signed by any 50 residents from the residence college to him by 8 p.m. today for approval.

The residence college senate will be made up of 14 members including four senators and a president from Joyner and Connor halls and three senators and president from Alexander hall.

The residence college treasurer will handle the money from all the halls in the college. "This will make it less likely that the hall will overdraw its financial accounts," Draper said.

The Men's Residence Council has handled the funds for residence halls in the past.

Harry Day, housemaster of Alexander, said, "The residence college system will provide a better academic and social atmosphere for the people in the residence college area. We hope to get the residence college constitution ratified, officers elected and our residence college in full operation with the elections Tuesday.

"The name for the residence college is to be chosen later," Day said.

Colleges Get Money Late

Funds earmarked for residence colleges are being released now after a two-month delay.

Scott College (composed of Parker, Avery and Teague) received their money Monday after their constitution was approved by the dean of men and the MRC.

The major hold-up in the funds came as the result of a requirement by Dean of Men William Long that each college have an approved constitution and duly elected officers.

Long said his requirement was to "assure financial stability" in the structure of each college.

The allocation of funds to the colleges was approved in a campus-wide election last fall.
