Endorsements

On the editorial page you will find more letters of endorsement concerning the upcoming election.

The South's Largest College Newspaper-All-American Award Winner

Volume 74. Number 122

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA,

SATURDAY, MARCH 19, 1966

CAMPUS CHEST Carnivals are a lot of fun for most of us, but for others, well, pledges don't mind a little mud, do they? Especially when the reward is a sip of that foam

Pig Chasing, Car Stuffing

By BOB HARRIS DTH Staff Writer

val, judged by Student Body

President Paul Dickson to be Over 25 organizations par-

the best in UNC's history, was a pig chase to a car stuffing

The Pi Kappa Phi occupied

the first booth. They offered a free beer to anyone who could ride a skateboard 597

inches. They were plagued

In the next booth Tau Epsilon Phi was charging 10 cents

a shot to anyone who wanted to knock a bowling pin off a platform with a baseball for a beer. They made over $10

One of the dirtiest booths

was manned by pledges from

ATO fraternity. Pledges walked a narrow log above a muddy hole. The public got two chances for 25 cents to knock

them into the mud with balloons. They made the splash

Next, one fraternity was offering students chances to ram a surfboard down a chimney as a parody on German's week activities. The game was too hard, so they had few cus-

One of the most imaginative booths was manned by a big success.

with "experts."

the first hour.

repeatedly.

Highlight Campus Carnival

ticipated in yesterday's festiv- though the girls who manned ities. Activities ranged from the booth were attractive,

ing off.

- DTH Photo By Andy Myers

bets on them in a rat race.

Winston residence hall were holding a "strip show," Al-

perceptive students deserted

this booth as soon as they discovered nothing was com-

Scott College featured a chicken race. The chickens

were named Dean Long, Gov.

Moore, Otelia and Kitty. To everyone's surprise Kitty (after the Dean of Women) was the fastest. She broke loose and was caught just before

she managed to enter the car

SAE fraternity had the

"stinkingest" contest. They had two pledges who were targets for raw eggs. Many con-

Then there was the booth judged by Burl Iyes to be the most imaginative in the cornival - the Maverick Pokey.

Craige residence hall offered to put any friend or enemy in jail for 10 cents. It cost 25 cents to get them out. To have them put into the stocks the charge was 25 cents. The charge was also 25 cents to have them released from the

In this booth students from testants hit dead on.

stuffing contest.

In the next booth coeds from

Winners got a beer.

Founded February 23, 1893

Ray Linville

Newspaper Should Provide Service For Each Student

needs. The Daily Tar Heel and collegiate games. must increase its personal re- The DTH should perform a lationship to the student body serfice function for the studto make it more of a student newspaper.

Ray Linville, candidate for DTH editor, seeks a newspaper that will work with the student body. He proposed a plan to increase the efficiency of the DTH by having one key man on the DTH staff to coordinate the news from different areas of campus: one man for fraternities, sororities and residence colleges and halls; another for student government activities; another for campus organizations.

Linville, running as an independent, seeks a non - political, unbiased DTH which is not obligated to one segment of campus but is responsible to the University as a whole and can criticize any area of campus activity fairly and freely.

is another of Linville's goals. porting, better ACC coverage, service function for the stud-

A campus newspaper should ter use of the Associated Press high school students can beserve each student and his in relation to national sports come acquainted with the Un-

RAY LINVILLE

ent body. Linville proposes an orientation feature - series in the fall to introduce freshmen A more dynamic sports page and junior transfers to Carolina traditions, activities, and He seeks better intramural re- events on campus. He would like to see the DTH distri- ly candidate running who is buted free to libraries of or sports on campus, and bet- North Carolina high schools so Board and is a rising senior.

iversity and this would also increase the communication between Chapel Hill and the rest of the state.

Not only is Linville acquainted with the technical aspects of journalism, but the has also been involved in student activities, since he feels that the editor of any campus newspaper should understand the workings of student organizations. He has served as an orientation counselor, on the MRC, on a class finance committee, on Student Governemnt communications committee, as managing editor of the UNC Journalist, on the DTH staff, as a member of the UNC Press Club and Sigma Delta Chi professional journalistic society. He is a candidate for the honors program in the School of Journalism.

Linville, a junior from Winston - Salem, is the most coplete candidate running for the office of editor. He is acquinted with both student acitivites and journalism. He is the onendorsed by the Publications

Fred Thomas

Candidate Vs. Candidates-Not Candidates Vs. Paper

ly Tar Heel are many and are dards imposed by the students Let The Daily Tar Heel deal easily rcognizable by every of our campus. reader of the paper. I do not support the policy which has complete, accurate, timely and governed the DTH's operation in many instances this year. In fact, I expressed my displeasure with the present institution when I resigned as news editor in November.

But the issue of this campaign is not one of candidate versus present newspaper. It is rather, a matter of candidate versus candidate.

If one were to check the platforms of editorial candidates for the past decade, he would find virtually the same promises being made by each of them. The concept of journalism ethics - the idea of an editor's responsibility to his readers - has long been defined. This is no candidate's orignal idea. Nor is there anynew in the proposed means of carrying out these ideals.

I do not contend then, that us news. my ideas and goals are original. My platform has arisen ed in a constructive direction, from complaints and demands working with student governaspect of campus activity. It is all other campus organizations Daily Tar Heel meet the needs sity. Let criticism be less ve-

The faults of this year's Dai- of and measure up to the stan- nomous and more objective.

I pledge myself to give you

FRED THOMAS

object coverage of all camp-

I seek an editorial policy aimfrom students involved in every ment, the MRC, the WRC and my ambition to see that The in an effort to help our Univer-with issues more than individuals. Let the editorial page be an open forum for the expression of anyone's viewpoint, whether it coincide or clash with the editor's stand. I promise better sports coverage; keeping tabs on the ACC; giving adequate attention to the minor sports; concentrating on better intramural coverage with pictures.

Bear in mind that if any editor is to accomplish the big tasks he proposes in a campaign, he must be capable of coping with the innumerable small problems that hang over his head every day.

The Daily Tar Heel is your newspaper. It affects - or should affect - you every day. I urge you to think very seriously before you select a person for editor.

Consider the opinions of other journalists who have worked with and for each of the candidates. Look at qualifications at experience, at accomplishment.

Then choose the person who you believe can and will give you the best newspaper every morning next year.

Alan Banov

Paper Should Supplement Dailies - Not Replace Them

The Daily Tar Heel must be "minor" sports which do so es of Student Government, and respect on campus. It tistics. must concern itself more with student life, since it is a student newspaper - a supplement, not a replacement for the state's dailies.

I present for your approval a Five - Point Program of 1) More Complete Campus Coverage, 2) Excellent Sports Reporting, 3) Fair, Unbiased Student Government Coverage, 4) More News of Cultural Affairs, and 5) a Dynamic, Articulate Editorial Page.

To improve campus coverage, I will have a four-beat system of City, Administration, Student Government, and Campus Affairs Reporters who will know their beats well. The Campus Affairs Reporter will operate stringer system of Residence College Editors; a fraternity editor will report more fraternity news in the tions, dormitories and sorori-

For excellent sports report-improved greatly, to regain its well here. I will provide more traditional position of prestige ACC coverage and team sta-

I can provide fair Student

ALAN BANOV

DTH: and a Women's Editor Government reporting because will cover women's organiza- I belong to both campus parties and plan to comment on Student Government issues on the issues themselves, not on ing, I plan to have athletes as a personal or party basis. Havadvisers to the sports staff and ing been Assistant Press Seinterview the players more. I cretary of Student Governwill have better intramural co-ment this year, I have acquirverage, with pictures and ed a thorough knowledge of much more emphasis on the the good points and weakness-

For better cultural affairs coverage, informed columnists will review Playmakers plays, review free flicks and cover Graham Memorial functions better. I will hold a DTH All-Star Jazz or Folk Poll, so students can help select entertainers for Carolina. I will provide a weekly summary of concerts and entertainment in the dating area from Greensboro to Raleigh. A "dynamic, articulate editorial page" means taking strong, easily - identifiable stands on issues in editorials. using columnists of all political persuasions who are articulate enought to stimulate interest in campus and extra campus issues, and extracting very few editorials from the state's dailies. I plan to use as many letters as possible, correcting them for typographing out the embarrassing "sic." Now is the time for The Daily Tar Heel to rise up out of the trash cans on campus to provide more student news, entertaining reading and provocative articles on improvical and spelling errors, leaving student life. form, I would greatly appreciate your vote on Tuesday.

ALAN BANOV

Debates Draw Few Students Long Signs Agreement Debates Draw To Gerrard

the debate of the candidates was staged Thursday evening in Gerrard Hall.

About 40 persons including the candidates showed up to hear the platforms and proposals of the candidates discussed and tested with ques-Moderator John Greenbacker, Di-Phi president, commented, "The turnout was an indication of the apathy surrounding the campaign. The party members didn't even come.'

He thanked the body for the interest shown and told the persons attending to "get other people interested in the campaign. It's ridiculous that people show so little interest in the spring elections."

"The people elected are the representatives of the student body to the people of the state. Considering the crises of the past year, the student body would be well - advised to get to know all the candidates before they vote Tuesday."

Greenbacker also noted that the party organizations should do all they can to stir more interest in the current cam-

Earl Hadden, chairman of the GM Current Affairs Committee, co - sponsor of the debate, said there has been more apathy in this campaign than any since he has been at UNC. "Nobody seems interested in the elections," he said. Debating were presidential candidates Teddy O'Toole and Bob Powell, and Fred Thomas, Ray Linville and Alan Banov, candidates for editor of The Daily Tar Heel. Don Wilson, SP vice presidential candidate, also made some statements and answered questions concerning his platform. Sonny Pepper, independent candidate for student body president, and Bill Purdy, UP candidate for vice president, did not participate in the debate. Both attended Student Legislature. Powell outlined four issues in his platform, including the speaker ban controversy, academics, residence halls, and campus publications. Powell said the lack of understanding of the University by the people of North Carolina should be erased. "I want to convince the people of the state that there is something right here at UNC," he said "Someone has to speak for the Student Body and the student

Junior Injured In Car Accident

John Redmon, a junior at North Carolina, was injured yesterday afternoon about 5:30 in a two - car collision.

According to an eye-witness, the car driven by Redmon was beckoned by a policeman onto Raleigh Road from the Campus Carnival parking lot. Redmon's car collided with another automobile traveling on Raleigh Road. Neither car was damaged extensively.

Redmon was taken by a friend to the student infirmary and treated for cuts on his

Bill Criticizes UNC Students

A bill introduced Wednesday in the North Carolina ican image. But the biggest State University student legis- thing in its corner is the fact lature asked that the students that nobody knows much about at Chapel Hill "cease imme- it or its parent, Moral ReArmdiately their fighting with the ament, Inc., of New York. university administration over the invitations to Dr. Aptheker and Mr. Wilkinson.

The bill, entitled "Administration Support Resolution." reminds students that their welfare of the university.

It was introduced by graduate senator Roy Broughton, who attends State but lives in Chapel Hill. Bill Fishburne, Editor of The Technician, said that the bill had little chance of passage. There was no debate on the If you approve of my plat- first reading. The bill is not in committee and will be reintroduced, debated and voted on Wednesday.

By GLENN L. MAYS DTH Staff Writer The candidates spoke but few were there to listen when the debate of the candidates Restoring Privileges Pact Gives Frats 'New Responsibility'

By STEVE BENNETT DTH Staff Writer

Dean of Men William G. Long signed the new "Interim Fraternity Visiting Agreement" yesterday restoring women's visiting privileges to all 24 of UNC's social fraternities.

Under the new agreement seven additional sections have been added to establish guidelines for the conduct of fraternity members. Each fraternity will be responsible for the actions of its members during and after the parties and also for the clean-ups the following morning.

SL Passes Vetoed Bill

By LYTT STAMPS DTH Staff Writer

The Student Legislature unanimously overrode Paul Dickson's veto of the bill which suspended a provision of the by - laws of student gov- ing made with Dean Long. ernment in its Thursday night's Cathy said, "The new agreemeeting. Fraternities and sororities which have approval of the Deans of Men and Women can get funds for televisions under the bill passed two weeks ago. They do not have to submit their by - laws to the Student Legislature for approval. Dickson had vetoed the bill because he said it was unconstitutional.

the KA's. They had six rats borrowed from the psychology Other bills passed included This year's Campus Carni- department and were taking the approval of Arthur Hays as chairman of the Elections Board: John Grotgen, Douglas O. McKeown, Bill Adams, Tom Ragsdale and Andrew Haltom as members of the Elections Board; and appropriation of $200 to cover expenses for last spring's computerized course evaluation program.

> The vote on the chairman of the Elections Board was 18 to 0 but was not recorded as unanimous. Objections came from UP Floor Leader Ed Wilson and Don Carson.

> In a statement to The Daily Tar Heel, they said, "We object not to Mr. Hays, but to the manner in which President Dickson has used the Elections Board for the purpose of political pay offs.

> "This attitude on the part of the Student Body president is unprecendented and we hope we shall never see it again." The statement also said they felt that Hays has "probably devoted more service to Student Government than any other person on campus."

A bill chartering residence colleges was held in the Ways and Means Committee. Chairman Sandy Hobgood (SP) reported the committee felt the bill was unnecessary as the colleges are already function-

Dean of Student Affairs C.O. Cathey said he thinks the new agreement is a very fine document and improves the old agreement by a great deal.
"The IFC has put some teeth into the new agreement," Cathey said. "I arpreciate them taking on this new responsibility." Cathey stated that there had been some confusion about the new agreement be-University and not with any particular member of the administration.

"The actions taken by the University were not a trial. It was the renewal of an agreement with the fraternities that had obviously been ignored.'

Bob Kepner, assistant to the Dean of Men said, "The new agreement states that the responsibility of the actions of fraternity men will lie with each fraternity. "The power of the IFC has been inhanced because particular sanctions for violations of the agreement have been more clearly explained."

The new visiting agreement will be in effect through this summer. A new agreement will be drawn up next fall as it must be every year.

Dean Cathey said, "I feel that there will be a better situation for everyone concerned now that this new interim visiting agreement has restored women's visiting privileges, the IFC Court is beginning to gather information for its investigation of the incidents of last weekend.

The investigation will include questioning of any persons affected by the actions of any fraternity member last weekend.

In the future any violations of the rules and regulations under the visiting agreement will be subject to the jurisdiction of the IFC Court and the Men's Honor Council.

These violations include any fraternity member breaking state or local laws concerning the public consumption and display of alcohol. This violation carries a $10 fine with the disciplinary action.

— A News Analysis –

Nobody Knew About MRA

By PAT STITH DTH Managing Editor

"Sing Out '66" has a lot going for it - youth, enthusiasm and a clean-cut All-Amer-

The President of the Consolidated University, William C Friday, told the DTH he didn't know. Athletic Director Chuck Erickson, who invited the group to the campus, said he primary concern should be the didn't know. Some members of the cast of "Sing Out" don't "Sing Out."

> Dr. Samuel S. Hill of the UNC Department of Religion is different. He told the DTH yesterday that Moral Re-Armament is a surrogate, a submate respect for enthusiasm Salvation Army of the middle books and a magazine put out salt.

stocks.

"I do not think it is subversive either on the right or the left," he said, "but I think it is socially unhealthy because it outflanks some issues and oversimplifies many others. I am especially troubled by its identification with the All American middle class type and its Madison Avenue approach."

So are a lot of other people. Father Cuthbert Allen, president of Belmont Abby College, told the DTH, "I think Moral ReArmament is a threat to organized religion - this is implicit in its literature. now, then later."

Buchmanism (after its founsentially because it shows cer- tion.

It is 20th century evangelism without the dogma and doctrine which distinguishes formalized groups. As a result, it can recruit members from all faiths without theo-

And recruit it does. "Sing Out" is a first class, professional production. It drew the largest crowd in the history of Charlotte's Coliseum and thousands were turned away Wednesday night.

michael - and draw raves - from an accounting firm there. next Monday.

even know, according to Ai- What bothers me is that I don't join anything, you sim- built on emotional rather than len Starmont, a spokesman for think it ("Sing Out '66") is ply start living by MRA stand- intellectual conviction. It is an exploitable group - if not ards - absolute purity, hon- prone to exaggerating its sucesty, love and unselfishness, cesses and denving its short-There is no place for subtle comings. It is over-sensitive der, Rev. Frank Buchman) philosophy in full-of-life MRA to criticism and needs to add by the organization itself and long distance calls to Durham. Raleigh, Charlotte, Belmont, Washington and New York.

We talked with the office of Pat McNamara, senior Senator from Michigan, Through him we had the Library of Congress prepare a nine page report on the pros and cons of Moral ReArmament. We talked with the director of Group Research Inc. of Washington. We attempted to get a financial statement on Moral Re-No doubt it will pack Car- Armament Inc. of New York

From these sources we con-You don't pay anything, you clude Moral ReArmament is has gathered momentum es- - its all testimony and ac- humility to its other "absolutes.'

stitute religion combining cer- tain people a way to interpret For the DTH, the quest to "Sing Out," we think, is a tain elements of the Judio- their personal troubles with- learn about Moral ReArma- terrific show. When it comes Christian religion on its mor- out endangering their status. ment led through parts of half here Monday be sure to go al side with a kind of ulti- It has been referred to as "the a dozen library books, two - but take along a grain of