

The Ford Caravan of music featuring Roger Miller hits Carmichael Auditorium tonight at 8. Tickets at the door will also be good for the drawing for the use of a Ford Mustang during Jubilee weekend.

The Daily Tar Heel

The South's Largest College Newspaper—All-American Award Winner

Paper Flowers

The Student Wives Club will meet tonight at 8 in 09 Peabody Hall. Mrs. Fredrick Parkins will lecture on paper flower making and arranging.

Volume 74, Number 130

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, TUESDAY, MARCH 29, 1966

Founded February 23, 1893

Heavy Turnout Seen For Today's Run-Off

12 Candidates Run; Polls Open From 9-6

By GLENN MAYS
DTH Staff Writer

The officer of president of the student body and six legislative seats in Student Legislature will be decided today.

The run-off election for president of the student body will be the first one here since 1958. The elections for the legislative seats were made necessary after protests were filed with the Constitutional Council following last Tuesday's election.

Leaders from both political parties are optimistic about the results of the presidential election. The polls will be opened from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and estimates ranging from 3,000 to 5,000 voters have been made.

Presidential Candidates Bob Powell, Student Party, and Teddy O'Toole, University Party, have campaigned vigorously during the past week trying to get the necessary support for their election.

Independent candidate Sonny Pepper pledged his support to Powell in the runoff election. He polled 940 votes in last week's voting.

Concerning the extra week of campaigning, David Kiel, UP, vice chairman, commented, "It's given the voters another week to meet the candidates, consider the issues and make a more informed comparison. That's why we're confident."

"Now that it's down to a two-man race, we feel Teddy will benefit by this," Kiel said. Powell said, "The extra week has allowed me to see more people and many of the new leaders have given me their support. I'm quite pleased with their endorsement."

The Constitutional Council upheld protests for six legislative seats in Tuesday's election.

Another election will be held in Men's District Five because a UP candidate was listed as an SP candidate.

Competing in the district will be Joe Chandler, SP, Bruce Jolly, UP, and Art Robinson, UP.

In the Morrison race there will be four SP candidates and two UP candidates. Last Tuesday Dick Levy, Frank Longest, Lacy Reaves and Eric Van Loon, all SP, won seats in legislature. However, a protest was filed by George Ingram on behalf of Bob Wilbur, a UP candidate for legislature, with the Constitutional Council. The protest was upheld.

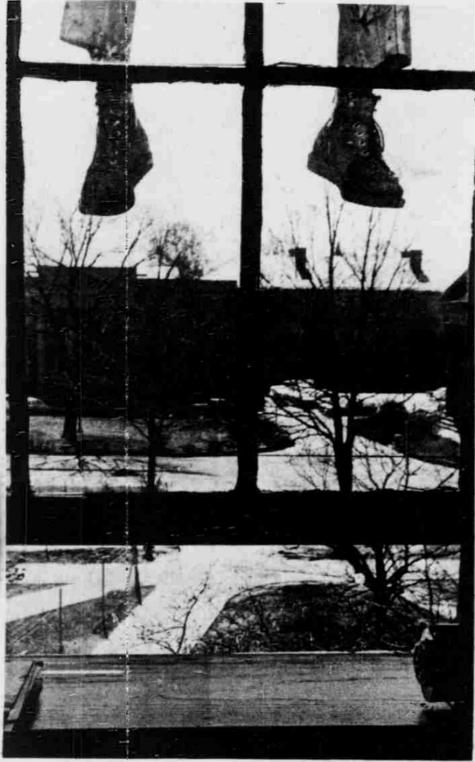

The protest was filed because a candidate withdrew from the election at noon on election day. Bob Pittard, UP, said he felt the protest should not have been filed. "The other candidates were fairly elected," Pittard said. He said he has placed statements on Morrison bulletin boards to this effect.

"I turned in my withdrawal 15 days before election day to E. J. Simmons, chairman of the nominating committee at Morrison," Pittard said.

Arthur Hays, elections board chairman, said the withdrawal was legal if it went to Simmons or to the Elections Board. Pittard said "the UP did definitely know about his withdrawal before the election Tuesday."

Hays said volunteer counters will be needed about 7:30 p.m. GM to count the ballots. The name of Lew Brown, new Men's Residence Council president, has appeared on campaign endorsements for both UP candidate Teddy O'Toole and SP candidate Bob Powell.

"I'd like to make it plain that I am supporting O'Toole and Powell used my name without permission," Brown said yesterday.

JUMPIN' JEHOSEPHATS! Whats going on? Well don't be alarmed because it's not what it looks like. These feet don't belong to a hung geography student, although they had secretaries in New East scared yesterday. The feet belonged to a painter, sitting on a scaffold, who is engaged in putting a fresh spring coat on the crusty building. Makes you look twice though, doesn't it? —DTH Photo by Jock Lauterer.

Miller, Mustangs On Campus Tonite

By LYTT STAMPS
DTH Staff Writer

Roger Miller sings tonight in Carmichael at eight o'clock and three lucky people who attend will win the use of Mustangs for Jubilee Weekend.

One Mustang has been reserved for those who wait and pay $1.50 at the door while two will be given to students who buy their tickets for $1 in advance.

Advance tickets are available until 5 p.m. at the information desk of GM.

The Good Time Singers will appear with Miller.

Miller, who will have a television show next fall, is known for such hits as "England Swings," "King of the Road," "Chug-A-Lug" and "Dang Me."

He has been referred to as "the missing link between country-comedy and pop music." He plays drums, fiddle and guitar.

Miller figures he has composed some 1,000 tunes, "about half of which have been published."

He thinks "King of the Road" is the best thing he has written, "though I had to induce labor to get it completed."

After completing the first verse, Miller was stuck. He went to a nearby store in Boise, Idaho, purchased a statuette of a hobo and "I sat and stared at it until the rest of the tune came to me."

Now in their fourth season with Andy Williams on television, the Good Time Singers have a couple of record albums on the market, and have established themselves as popular concert and nightclub performers all over the land.

Carolina News In Brief

Law Wives Meeting

Jewelry designer and craftsman Charles Hopkins of Chapel Hill will speak at the meeting of the Law Wives of UNC at their meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Institute of Government.

Hopkins is a noted designer and maker of hand wrought contemporary jewelry. Each item produced in his shop is designed and hand-made by him or his assistant.

He has studied under the leading jewelers of Mexico and the works of goldsmiths and silver smiths in Egypt.

Interviews

Interviews for orientation counselors for next fall for both men and women will be held this week from 3 to 6 p.m. in GM.

Man, Mind, Myth

The Carolina Symposium is sponsoring discussions to create interest in this year's topic, "Man, Mind and Myth." Today, Dr. David Brown of the economics department will lead the discussion at Phi Kappa Sigma; Dr. Sam Hill, religion department, at Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and Dr. C. M. Foust, history department, at Kappa Delta.

Tomorrow, William Geer, history department, will lead a discussion at Delta delta Delta and Dr. George Daniels, French department, will be at McIver.

Need A Job?

The Placement Service, 204 Gardner Hall, has announced R. H. Macy & Co. (Davidson's Division), Vulcan Materials Co., McLean Trucking Co., Atlanta Gas Light Co., John C. Muse & Co. and Southern Railway Co. will be recruiting on campus today.

California Packing Sales Co.; Jordan Marsh; Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.; Cameron Brown Co.; and Acushnet Process Co. will recruit tomorrow.

Swimmers Banquet

There will be a banquet tonight for all freshman and varsity swimmers at Brady's Restaurant. All team members are urged to attend.

THIS OLD fountain used to stand on Main St. in front of the University Methodist Church. But being used for watering horses, it no longer has any use. It now stands on the east side of the Planetarium where Pam Kesler examines it's message. The words say "Drink of the fountain of knowledge," but somewhere the message apparently ran dry — like the fountain. —DTH Photo by Jock Lauterer.

Dateless? Help Is On The Way

By JACK TATE
Special to DTH

UNC has seven undergraduate men for every two coeds. Operation Match has hardly begun to meet Carolina Gentlemen's demands for dates. And Jubilee is just one month away.

Well, the unfortunate many without dates can relax. A unique American innovation, Lonely Hearts clubs, can solve their problems — permanently.

Each of America's some 600 clubs circulate master lists that contain descriptions of the physical and social characteristics of the members. Here are some examples—

"Betty: A perfectly gorgeous, shapely young lady. Gorgeous auburn hair. VERY LONESOME and very eager to meet a nice young man like YOU." And another opportunity—

"Nadine: Age 30, honey blonde. Beautiful brown eyes. VERY AFFECTIONATE. . . wants to meet YOU very soon. . ."

And then the chance of a college man's lifetime—

MEN! MEN!

"Our women are screaming to meet you! Tell us what kind you want.

In a week you'll start receiving letters. Don't forget our slogan:

"No man is any good without a woman! Janis Lynn, P. O. Box 1100." The perfect Jubilee dates? Of course.

Discretion is the key not only to valor but to happiness as well. In other words, choose your club carefully. For sociologist Clyde B. Vedder discovered that in some clubs "the women had underestimated their ages by 10 to 30 years . . ."

But a man with a little perseverance can't go wrong. Witness the success of the southern gentleman who placed this notice in a Lonely Hearts club magazine:

"Well-to-do Gentleman in early forties wishes to correspond with southern lady of refinement. Object matrimony."

This man received 13,000 replies from girls and women ranging in age from 11 to 103, according to Prof. Vedder. Paradise? — Compared to this man, Milton did not even know the meaning of the word.

In the May edition of "All Man" there is a directory of "Active" clubs. Under North Carolina is this statement:

"If you want to make the right move toward ending your lonely days, write us & we will go to work for you at once. . . Men will receive free 490 ladies' picture & listings. . . UNITED CIRCLE CLUBS — Dept. 53, 2702 Stratford Dr., Greensboro, N. C."

The Greensboro club claims to have girls from "everywhere" but some Lonely Hearts organizations specialize in English, German or Japanese girls. One typical ad reads:

"For centuries Japanese girls have been trained since childhood in the art of pleasing men and catering to their every desire and wish. . . TODAY rush $1.00."

The Japanese club is not only cheaper than Operation Match but even promises "unkissed maidens." Just the type of girl that every Carolina Gentleman is dying to date.

Speaker Ruling Due Wednesday

Acting Chancellor J. Carlyle Sitterson said yesterday that he expected to decide Wednesday whether he will allow Frank Wilkinson or Dr. Herbert Aptheker to speak on campus.

The student-faculty committee on visiting speakers met yesterday and decided on its recommendation. Sitterson said he expected the committee to advise him of its recommendation sometime today.

Sitterson said he would be in Raleigh today but that he would consider the committee's recommendation and the advice of faculty members Wednesday and at that time he would make his decision.

Wilkinson and Aptheker were reinvited to speak here March 14 by a group of student leaders.

Sitterson was advised of the invitation at that time although the student faculty committee meeting to discuss the invitation was delayed until Monday, the day after the invitation became public.

Student Body President Paul Dickson said Saturday that there would be no court case if Wilkinson and Aptheker are allowed to speak on campus.

Takes Sleeping Pills

Notice For Physical Prompts Suicide Try

By ED FRAKLEY
DTH Staff Writer

A 19-year-old University sophomore attempted suicide yesterday morning after receiving notice from his draft board that he was to report for his physical examination April 12.

The student was taken to N. C. Memorial Hospital shortly before noon where his stomach was pumped. He is reported to be in good condition.

He was found lying on the floor of his downtown apartment by the student who lived next door.

"I came up the stairs and started down the hall," the boy said. "I saw an arm lying out in the hallway. The door to his apartment was open and the record player was on."

"I thought maybe he'd been drinking. I bent over him and shook his arm. He didn't move. I ran out and got someone to call an ambulance and the police."

According to the student who found the boy there was a suicide note. It was addressed, "Dear Mom and Dad." The student said the note said that the boy loved his parents very much and he was sorry for what he had done.

It also said he couldn't face two years in the service and this was the only way out, according to the neighbor.

Campus Security Officer Arthur Beaumont said that three notes were found and all were intended for the boy's parents. Beaumont would not reveal what was in the notes, but said they apologized for what the boy was doing.

Two empty sleeping pill bottles were found in the apartment. The boxes were with the bottles. Beaumont said a nurse in the emergency room told him that even if the boy took all the tablets in both bottles it would not have killed him. The number of tablets in a small bottle of the sleeping pills is 20.

The letter from the draft board had arrived in yesterday's mail, about 10 a.m.

Attempted suicide is a crime in North Carolina, but Chapel Hill Detective Capt. C. E. Durham said he didn't think charges would be brought against the boy.

Dr. Ed Hedgpeth, director of the infirmary, said the boy would be kept under observation for a couple of days.

Beaumont said the boy will undergo psychological examination to determine whether he will be allowed to remain at the University.

Popular Poplar Pines Posterity

By PEYDIE FEARRINGTON
DTH STAFF WRITER

A tree grows on Emerson Field. Dr. E. McG. Hedgpeth and a group of alumni are out to save and honor it for posterity.

When asked why, the Director of Student Health stated, "Everybody knows the old story of the Rand boy dying while being hazed. Supposedly it was under that big poplar at the end of the stadium. Because of Rand's death, hazing was outlawed the University. I'm not making an all out campaign for this, but I am interested in having the tree saved and an historical plaque being put on it."

This all seems very simple except for one problem. A student union is to be built on Emerson Field and as John S. Bennett, member of the University Buildings Committee, said, "Yes, I think they plan to completely level Emerson Field."

When the proposition of saving the tree was put to Bennett he said, "It all depends on where the tree is. We wouldn't change the position or the style of the building for one tree, but if it is in a workable place, it could be saved."

Bennett stated a few stipulations for the project, "The tree would have to be positively identified before it could be saved. Although nothing will be done to Emerson for about 30 days, Hedgpeth should get in touch with the Chancellor who will make the final decision."

Was there really a tragic death under an old tree? Surprisingly, the answer is yes. It was back in 1912. A freshman from Smithfield, Isaac William Rand, and his roommate, Robert Wellons, were awakened in the early hours of the morning by four sophomores. They were dragged from their rooms in Old East out to the athletic field. There both boys were made to give a speech on the glory of the class of '16 and the infamy of the class of '17.

After this, both boys were commanded to dance on a barrel while singing "Home Sweet Home."

Wellons was first to dance, and, although he slipped once, he completed the ordeal successfully.

Rand mounted the barrel and began his performance. He slipped and cut his jugular vein on a piece of crockery that had fallen out of the barrel.

The upperclassmen, at the first sight of blood, panicked and ran, leaving Wellons with his roommate.

Wellons carried Rand to Carr Dormitory, the closest building, but it was too late. Rand died within about three minutes after his fall.

The news went out over the state, and all the newspapers carried the tragic story.

Louis R. Wilson's book The University of North Carolina tells of the repercussions of the event. Peresident Venable and seven faculty members composed a committee to investigate the affair. Meanwhile the press, the governor, and the coroner urged a full investigation.

When it was all over, the four sophomores were arrested for manslaughter and tried in Orange Superior Court. One boy was acquitted and the other three were convicted and sentenced to four months imprisonment in the county jail.

Later the boys were given the privilege of being hired out instead of serving the jail sentence. By the commissioners' agreement, they were hired out to their parents who provided the costs for the case.

With the passage of several more weeks, four other students were expelled, 12 suspended for a year and two given an official reprimand for involvement with hazing.

Until this incident the Student Council had not been an

(Continued on Page 6)

DEATH TREE? Could it be that this is the very tree under which a student was killed years ago during "hazing"? —DTH Photo by Jock Lauterer.