

The Consolidated University Student Council is sponsoring an open house at UNC-G today from 4 p.m. to midnight. There will be a mixer in Coleman Gym from 4-6 p.m. At 8 p.m. there will be a combo party in Elliott Hall featuring the Tams. All UNC students are invited.

The Daily Tar Heel

Turnabout

In the absence of DTH managing editor Scott Goodfellow, the staff played a game of turnabout yesterday afternoon. Editor Fred Thomas took to the task of laying out the paper while staffer Andy Myers wrote editorial comment. Check Myers' column on page 2 for some food for thought.

Volume 74, Number 161

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA SATURDAY, MAY 14, 1966

Founded February 23, 1893

Planetarium Hosts Gala Ball Tonight

By STEVE BENNETT
DTH Staff Writer

The North Carolina Symphony Ball will be held tonight in the Morehead Planetarium with Governor and Mrs. Dan K. Moore acting as official hosts.

Over 150 couples composed of prominent people from all over the state will be present at the formal affair.

Invitations for the ball were sent to several hundred North Carolina citizens and acceptance of the invitation costs $100 a couple. The money raised will go to help finance the Symphony Fund.

Dr. Benjamin Swalin has been director of the symphony since 1939, when it was re-organized. It was originally founded in 1932.

The full 65-piece orchestra will begin playing at 8:30 p.m. in the North exhibition room while the guests are greeted by Governor and Mrs. Moore in the Planetarium Rotunda.

Before entering the Planetarium, the guests will pass under the raised sabres of the Honor Guard which will be provided by the UNC Naval ROTC.

Selections from "The Sound of Music" will be played during the reception which will be followed by a buffet supper to be held in the upstairs dining room.

A musical quartet will provide dinner music for the guests who will be eating on the roof terraces, and a harpist will be playing in the dining room.

After dinner the formal ceremonies will begin in the Rotunda at 10:30 with the Governor's Waltz. The Symphony will continue playing until 11 p.m. when the Billy Knauft Orchestra from Charlotte will take over and play until 1 a.m.

The North Carolina Symphony has been holding the ball for six years. The first four years it was staged in the governor's mansion and last year it took place in the Morehead Planetarium.

Co-chairmen for the ball this year are Mrs. Nello Teer, Jr., of Durham and Micou Browne of Raleigh. Browne will also be the master of ceremonies.

The Symphony field representative, Hiram Black said that the money taken in for the Symphony Fund will be used to help offset the difference between the income and the expenditures of the symphony.

A TIME FOR SMILES. Ben Spaulding Jr. (right) and Tony Mason wrote letters to several foundations some months ago requesting a grant for the Scholarship Information Center. For their efforts, SIC has received $6,400 from the Fund for the Advancement of Education, established by the Ford Foundation. (Photo by Robert Arndt)

Scholarship Information Center Gets $6,400 Grant

The Scholarship Information Center (SIC), a branch of the YM-YWCA Human Relations Committee here, has received a grant of $6,400 from The Fund for the Advancement of Education, established by the Ford Foundation.

SIC was organized this year to inform southern Negro high school students of available financial assistance for college education.

The group's biggest project this year has been the printing and distribution of a 41-page booklet, "Financial Aid for Southern Negro Students."

Members of the committee have also composed and distributed information on careers, specific scholarships, specific schools and areas of study, designed to supplement the more long-term information of the book.

The idea for such a committee was made a reality through the work of Tony Mason and Brenda Bethel, co-chairmen of the Human Relations Committee; Ben Spaulding, chairman of SIC; and Joan Davis, John Schoo, Phil Clay, Peter Nemenyi, Jim Medford, Nancy Wilkins, Walter Jackson, Betsy Price and Joyce Watkins.

The first edition of the book has had two printings, totaling 1,500 copies. According to SIC, 1,300 of these have been distributed, most of them at no cost.

Free copies have gone to the guidance counselors of every Negro high school in North Carolina and to other individuals and organizations in the north and south who have requested them.

Distribution has been particularly heavy in Alabama, Mississippi, Florida and Georgia, where several newspapers have printed free advertisement for SIC's services.

The committee plans to circulate 10,000 copies of the second edition next year. With the money from the grant the books will be distributed free or at prices less than cost.

This edition will be broadened in scope and size to include information on careers and discussions on the value of going to college and on how to select a college.

J-Students Honored

Fifteen journalism students were singled out for special recognition last night at the UNC Press Club's 12th Annual Awards Banquet.

Seven students received scholarships. Names of the scholars, recipients, their parents and hometowns follow:

- O. J. Coffin Scholarship — James Richard Benton, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Benton, Greensboro; Louis Graves — Samuel R. Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Covington, Rockingham; Gerald W. Johnson — Paul A. Brnsh, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bernish sr., Charlotte; Quincy Sharpe Mills — Ray P. Linville, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Linville, Winston-Salem; Beatrice Cobb — Sarah sunderland Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Memphis, Tenn.; N. C. Press Mary Teague, Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Teague, Davidson; and MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE — Stephen W. Hoar, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hoar, Sumter, S. C.

All scholarships except the N. C. Press Women's and MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE are financed from funds provided by the School of Journalism Foundation of North Carolina.

This is the first MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE Scholarship to be awarded at UNC. Valued at $400, it is one of 50 being set up at accredited journalism schools by the MINNEAPOLIS STAR and TRIBUNE.

Stephen J. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bennett of Winston-Salem, was named editor of the UNC JOURNALIST, the Journalism School's newspaper Ernest S. McCrary, son of Mr. and Mrs. gg. Ernest McCrary of Lenoir and former editor of THE DAILY TAR HEEL, received the Sigma Delta Chi Award as the outstanding male senior graduate.

John L. Greene Jr., son of Mrs. Beryl H. Greene of Shelby, received the Sigma Delta Chi award as the senior with the highest grade point average, and a $100 check from the Journalism Foundation for the same honor. Dean Wayne A. Danielson also presented a check for $50 to Stephen Hoar as the junior with the highest grade average.

Seven students were initiated into Kappa Tau Alpha, journalism honor society, by Prof. Norval N. Luxon. They were Paul Bernish, Samuel Covington, John Greene Jr., Stephen Hoar, Barry Jacobs of New Orleans, La., Marion DeBose Sims III of Westfield, N. J., and G. C. Whitlout of Albermarle.

New Press Club officers were presented. They were Paul Bernish, president; Walter A. Jackson of Durham, vice-president; and Frances "Mikie" Wall of Shiteville, secretary.

Fred A. Powledge, former DAILY TAR HEEL editor, now a free lance writer in New York after several years on the NEW YORK TIMES, was guest speaker.

Campus News Briefs

Yack Pick-up

The sophomore class will be in charge of distributing Yackety Yacks Monday through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. In addition, the class will be selling plastic covers for 25 cents each.

Students may come to the windows behind GM to get their Yacks. Covers will be available at a table nearby.

An ID will be necessary to get a Yack.

Invitations

Anyone who ordered graduation invitations from the Order of the Grail may get them Tuesday on the second floor of Y Building from 9 to 4.

Some extra invitations were ordered and will be distributed on a first-come-first-served basis.

Proclamation Issued

The Varsity Men's Glee Club has been named official representatives of the Student Body while they tour Europe this summer.

In a proclamation issued this week, Student Body President Bob Powell said they should be "accorded full rights, privileges and responsibilities" which go with this status.

YAF To Organize

An outstanding junior woman will receive the Jane Craig Grey Award at a tea Sunday in the Kappa Delta House.

The winner of the annual award is selected by the Dean of Women and a Committee of student leaders.

Invitations have been sent to student leaders, faculty and administration for the tea.

Grey Award

UNC Young Americans for Freedom will hold its organizational meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Woodhouse Room of GM.

All present members and those interested in joining the conservative political action organization are invited to attend.

Budget Balancing Fills SL Agenda

By LYTT STAMPS
DTH Staff Writer

Attempting to balance the Student Government budget kept Student Legislature in session until midnight Thursday night.

However, the section of the budget for the Yacket Yack was recommended to the Finance Committee, making another special session necessary next Wednesday. Final action on the budget should come then.

Finance Committee chairman Frank Longest (SP) told Legislature that projected income from student fees for next year is $221,879.68 of which over $73,900 goes to GM.

Budget requests exceed $150,000. Thus there is a deficit of more than $2,300.

Cuts were made on the floor to the Legislature's own budget, the Carolina Women's Council and The Daily Tar Heel. More cuts are expected when the Yack is considered next Wednesday.

The amendment proposed by Eric Van Loon (SP) to let Student Government pay a larger part of the Toronto Exchange budget was defeated.

Steve Salmony (UP) said Legislature must cut out "paid vacations" like the Exchange. He urged members of the Exchange to pay for its costs themselves.

David Kie (UP) replied that the program is not a "paid vacation." He said the experience is worth the cost.

Longest said, "Student Government will not pay for the liquor and expanded social activities of the Exchange. The cost per member is not a great burden and we cannot keep increasing the budget."

A standing vote was taken in defeating the change.

Careful study was given to the DTH budget. Steve Heckfield, SP floor leader, led an attack to cut its budget as closely as possible. He was unsuccessful for the most part. The salary of the assistant sports editor was cut from $297.50 to $175.

An attempt to cut the feature editor's salary from $350 to $200 failed when Student Body Vice President Bill Purdy voted to create a tie and thus to leave the salary as reported by the Finance Committee.

Legislature cut 50 from the budget which had been allotted to them for communication with their constituents. It was pointed out that the amount gave only $1 to each member and it had not been used in the past.

The social appropriation of the CWC was cut $100 to $400 and the amount for a reception for the outstanding senior dorm woman was cut from $110 to $75.

In addition to considering the budget, Legislature passed a bill establishing a commission to study financial organization of Student Government.

They also passed a list of appointments for the summer school student government.

A resolution extending sympathy to the family of the late Mrs. Walter Spearman passed unanimously.

Body President Bob Powell to the judicial branch and executive were approved with one exception. The appointment of David Labarre as assistant attorney general was recommended to the Ways and Means Committee.

An allocation of $1,000 was given to the Glee Club for their summer tour to Europe.

Resolutions calling for an investigation of the reorganization of the semester system, encouraging Chancellor J. Carlyle Sitterson to help get parking facilities for residents of Ehringhaus and James Residence Colleges and approving appointments were introduced.

Bills were introduced to establish a press secretary for Student Government and to provide an expense fund for him.

Richard French was sworn in to fill the vacancy in MD 1.

Defense Requests Split Complaints

- In Ban Suit Reply -

By ALAN BANOV
DTH Staff Writer

GREENSBORO — Yesterday's answer by the defendants in the Speaker Ban suit contained a motion to separate the complaints of the student plaintiffs and speaker plaintiffs and several motions to dismiss the case.

Andrew Vanore of the Attorney General's staff, a 1959 graduate of UNC, filed the answer in U. S. Middle District Court here at 11 a.m. before an audience of four newsmen.

Hearings will begin on the case after 20 days according to the clerk of court's office, because the plaintiffs are allowed that time to answer the defendant.

The answer consisted of four defenses, a motion of severance, which differentiated the claims and rights of the student plaintiffs and the speaker plaintiffs two motions of dismissal, and a summary of admissions and denials of the plaintiffs' allegations.

Some 17 of the plaintiff's 41 allegations are admitted by the defense, 17 are denied and six are partially admitted.

One motion of dismissal was pleaded because:

"The complaint on its face shows that student plaintiffs have been denied absolutely no rights, but, to the contrary, have been accorded absolute freedom to see, speak, hear, associate, demonstrate, congregate and assemble and do any and all acts specifically guaranteed by any section of our Constitution or implied there."

The defendants added:

"The complaint does not allege any violation of any constitutionally guaranteed rights in respect to the student plaintiffs. In fact, the only right allegedly breached in respect to the students is that of the right to hear."

"However, the complaint shows that the students were not denied the right to hear, but they could and did listen to the plaintiffs Aptheker and Wilkinson while standing on the property of the campus of the University of North Carolina and other places, could have listened to them on radio, television or any other communication system and were not in fact forbidden nor prevented from hearing the plaintiffs (Frank Wilkinson & Herbert Aptheker nor any person they desire to hear)."

The defendants — Chancellor J. Carlyle Sitterson, University President William C. Friday and the UNC Board of Trustees — filed another motion for dismissal on the grounds that:

"If any rights were denied plaintiffs Wilkinson and Aptheker, which defendants deny, at the two specific times outlined in the complaint, such denial arising under a set of unique circumstances which can never happen again and any question as to plaintiffs Wilkinson and Aptheker's rights at that time are therefore moot."

The defendants' answer further charges:

"Because of the zeal of the student plaintiffs to set up a 'test case' purely for litigation purposes, the invitations to plaintiffs prior to establishment of standard procedures now in effect for carrying out the provisions of (the Speaker Ban Law) in a reasonable and constitutional manner."

"The alleged claims of the student plaintiffs," the defense reads, "do not arise out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences as those of the plaintiffs, Wilkinson and Aptheker."

The defendants also note, "The circumstances surrounding the action taken in respect to plaintiffs Wilkinson and Aptheker have materially changed; cannot possibly recur; were not taken pursuant to the statutes and regulations purportedly attacked by this complaint; and leave the question of any possible violation of plaintiffs Wilkinson and Aptheker's rights in a moot condition because of the unique timing of the events brought about by students."

The answer also asserts that Aptheker and Wilkinson were denied speaking permission "for this present semester only," and that the denial "does not forcible or prohibit consideration of further invitations" to them in the future.

Among the evidence cited by the defendants is a statement that "Wilkinson promoted and

A. S. Chipsi III Captures State Frog Jumping Crown

By BILL AMLONG
DTH Staff Writer

A Carolina Chi Psi will carry the colors of this state to the National Frog Jumping Contest in Calaveras County, California, today.

A. S. (for Alpha Sigma Chapter) Chipsi III, a magnificent championship bullfrog with a throaty croak and well-muscled hind legs, won the state competition on the Capitol lawn in Raleigh Friday by leaping a long 12 feet, 2 inches.

Cheering him were 25 Chi Psi brothers dressed appropriately for the affair — like the frog's bearded manager, Jim Little, who wore a tuxedo tie, shirt, cummerbund and dinner jacket over a pair of wheat jeans and sandals.

A. S. Chipsi III was carried to the starting line on a silver tray — along with A. S. Chipsi's I, II, IV and V and Little Dan Moore, the smallest of six Chi Psi entries.

Since A. S. Chipsi III won, his "pledge brothers" are going to be set free, said Little. "If we'd lost, we were going to eat them," he said.

It was quite a move up in the world for A. S. Chipsi III, who until midnight Thursday had been anonymously croaking his life away in a "secret" Chapel Hill pond where the Chi Psi's found him.

He might not have made it, though, if it hadn't been for the "extensive early morning training" he was put through by Christopher Randolph, who showed for the event in a tux outfit with madras pants and sneakers.

And even so, he almost did not make it anyway.

An entry of Theta Chi's at State actually jumped further — 12 feet, 11 inches — than did Chipsi, but was disqualified after Little protested about the Theta Chi trainer's touching the frog.

As it was, though, Chipsi was declared the winner, the jumping bullfrog in North Carolina. As such, he was quickly re-named "Tar Heel Terror IV" and packed on a plane for California.

There he'll compete against bullfrogs from all over the nation in a spectacular sporting event that last year drew 60,000 persons to see the winner jump only 11 feet, 2 inches — a full foot shorter than Chipsi's Friday performance.

And, if he leaps further than 17 feet, 1-1/2 inches he'll win $1,000 for breaking the national record.

Even if he does, though things won't change that much. He'll always be just plain, old A. S. Chipsi III to his fraternity brothers.

SERVED ON A SILVER PLATTER, but not for eating. A. S. Chipsi III goes to the starting line where he captured the state frog jumping crown yesterday afternoon in Raleigh. Trainer Chris Randolph holds the Chi Psi entry while fraternity brother Steve Early looks on. (AP Photo)

Spearman Funeral Set At 4 p.m. Today

Funeral services for Mary Dale Spearman, 54, will be held today at 4 p.m. in the Chapel Hill Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Vance Barron officiating. Burial will be in Chapel Hill Memorial Cemetery.

MRS. SPEARMAN

The wife of Journalism professor Walter S. Spearman and mother of former student body president Robert Worthington Spearman died Friday at 11:55 a.m. in Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Spearman was born in Nashville, Tenn., July 26, 1911. She was graduated from Vanderbilt University, Phi Beta Kappa, in 1933. She was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

She and her husband have lived in Chapel Hill since their marriage in August, 1937. She has worked here in public relations with Hospital Savings and Memorial Hospital and with the Computation Center.

One of the organizers and an early president of the Chapel Hill Junior Service League, she was active in many civic and state affairs, especially in organizations concerning world peace. She also took great interest in the children of Chapel Hill, serving as a cub scout den mother.

Chancellor J. Carlyle Sitterson commented on her contribution to those with whom she lived.

"Dale Spearman was one of the vibrant personalities in the University community. She was always interested in every worthwhile University and community activity. I value greatly my associations with her. She was a dear friend."

Survivors, in addition to her husband and son, are one daughter, Mary Lindsay Spearman, in New York City; her mother, Mrs. D. Y. Dale of Nashville, Tenn.; and five sisters.