

THE GIFT OF THE CLASS OF 1966 to the University is this memorial to Thomas Wolfe, UNC '20. The memorial depicts a sculptured angel and will be placed in front of the library.

Senior Gift Wins Accepted Design

The Buildings and Grounds Committee of the University approved Tuesday the plans for the gift of the Class of 1966. The gift is a memorial to Thomas Wolfe, 1920 graduate of the University and author of "Look Homeward Angel." The memorial is a sculptured angel, about five feet long, set in bronze. It will be set in the grass area directly in front of the library, tilted slightly upward. People leaving the library will be able to catch sight of the angel as they descend the steps. There will be some shrubbery added to provide a sort of niche for the angel.

The sculptor who submitted the accepted model is R. W. Kinaird of the U.N.C. Art Department. John Harmon, senior class president, said that the full cost of the project will be approximately $1700 (seventeen hundred dollars). About $1500 of this will come from the class funds — money raised from the sale of Homecoming Mums and Cokes at Jubilee. Harmon hopes that the rest can be obtained through private donations.

Over Half Americans Have Nasty Insomniac Tendencies

Do you have trouble sleeping? If so, you are among the 52 per cent of Americans who, according to a survey, have occasional or frequent difficulty achieving the bliss of slumber through the night. The true chronic insomniac is irritable and restless, tense throughout the day. He uses up more energy than he should when he sits, stands, cats and talks. Fretting too much, his emotions on edge, by the day's end he's exhausted but his mind will not let him fall asleep or pass a restful night. Dr. Francis C. Wood, Chief of the Department of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, observes that many people have trouble falling asleep at night. His solution: an aspirin tablet.

Volcanoes In Local Area's Distant Past

HILLSBOROUGH — E. P. Allen and W. F. Wilson, members of the geologic staff of the N. C. Department of Conservation and Development's division of mineral resources, think they have found proof that a volcano or volcanoes erupted and deposited molten lava over a wide area in central Orange County and are responsible for a famed mineral spring. That lava, which they say flowed during the Paleozoic era, about 400 million years ago (as geologists reckon time is now being classified as amygdaloidal basalt and Allen and Wilson believe it might be of economic value if used for roofing and roadbuilding. This discovery of lava-type rock was made by the geologists while engaged in a geologic mapping and mineral-resources study of Orange County.

Altered amygdaloidal basalt flows have been located in at least seven bodies in the central section of the county. Three flows are located just east and south of Efland. Three bodies crop out on the east and south sides of Hillsborough and a seventh body occurs just west of New Hope Church.

Their mapping operations resulted in the discovery that on hillsides, springs are rather common just above outcrops of the massive basalt. The best known of these springs is the old Oconeechee mineral spring.

Glee Club Names Officers

The UNC Men's Glee Club, which leaves for Europe on June 15, has announced new officers for the coming year. Paul Wyche, a rising senior from Hillsboro, was elected president.

Vice president is Bob Dilks, a rising senior. He will serve as chairman of the music and committee selects the music which the club sings.

Ted Hayes was elected secretary, and Dick McPhatter was elected treasurer.

Bill Reel and Gary Scott will be librarians.

Public relations director will be Lee Faulker. Earl Hadden will be concert tour manager.

Alvin Tyndall will remain as tour director until the European tour is finished on July 18.

The club is still $3,000 short of the necessary funds for the European tour. Hadden said contributions may be sent to Hill Hall.

Checks should be made payable to the University of North Carolina for the Men's Glee Club.

UNC Professor Kenan To Review Grad Exams

C. Hugh Holman, Kenan Professor of English at the UNC has been elected to the newly created Graduate Record Examination Board, which is charged with the responsibility for reviewing the GRE program, planning research studies for its improvement and development, and advising the Educational Testing Service on the operation of the program. The Graduate Record Examination is the most widely used and most important single test for admission to graduate study in the United States. The new Board of sixteen members has control of the program.

The newly created board is sponsored by the Association of Graduate Schools and by Schools, each of which appointed four members to the board. These appointed members in turn elected an additional eight members. It is as such an elected member that Professor Holman takes his place on the Board.

While he was dean of the Graduate School at Chapel Hill, Professor Holman participated in some studies of the effectiveness of the Graduate Record Examination and served on a committee of the Council of Graduate School to study admissions. Presumably it is this experience and his earlier experience as a chairman of a large graduate department in the University which led to his election by a group of his former graduate deanship colleagues.

Umbrellas?

At 3 p.m. yesterday a curious group of enthusiastic students gathered in front of Battle-Vance-Pettigrew dorm to take part in the filming of "The Invasion of the Umbrella Man."

Producer, director and cameraman, David C. Knesel was the man in charge. He was filming a short movie to complete the requirements for his RTVMP major.

Bystanders looked on in disbelief as half a dozen men wearing heavy overcoats and waving umbrellas wildly in the air chased another "normal" man around McCorkle Place. Only when they saw that the little man waving his arms had a movie camera in one hand were they able to figure out what was going on.

Knesel said afterwards that the movie had conformity as its theme. "All these men with umbrellas and overcoats chase him around on a nice sunny day until he finally gets his umbrella and overcoat and joins them."

"The filming was just great," Knesel said, "I only hope the film comes out O.K."

Scott College Aids Drive For Rheumatic Diseases

Over 100 students from Scott Residence College, (Parker, Teague and Avery) and its sister residence halls, Alderman and McIver, are participating this week in the May fund-raising drive for The N. C. Arthritis Foundation.

The students mailed letters yesterday to the faculty asking for contributions of $1 each.

Saturday has been designated as "tag day" and the students will be in Y Court and up town all day giving out the tags for contributions.

Mrs. Kerr Scott, wife of the man for whom the residence college was named, is the honorary chairman of the N. C. Arthritis Foundation.

The students hope to raise $500 this week.

Bob Farris, Governor of Scott Residence College, said that he is hoping for a good response from the campus to fight arthritis, the nation's number one crippler.

Please don't zlupf Sprite. It makes plenty of noise all by itself.

Sprite, you recall, is the soft drink that's so tart and tingling, we just couldn't keep it quiet. Flip its lid and it really flips. Bubbling, fizzing, gurgling, hissing and carrying on all over the place. An almost excessively lively drink. Hence, to zlupf is to err.

What is zlupfing? Zlupfing is to drinking, what smacking one's lips is to eating. It's the staccato buzz you make when draining the last few deliciously tangy drops of Sprite from the bottle with a straw. Zzzzzllup! It's completely uncalled for. Frowned upon in polite society. And not appreciated on campus either. But, if zlupfing Sprite is absolutely essential to your enjoyment; if a good healthy zlupf is your idea of heaven, well... all right. But have a heart. With a drink as noisy as Sprite, a little zlupf goes a long, long way. SPRITE. SO TART AND TINGLING, WE JUST COULDN'T KEEP IT QUIET.
