

Former Student's Hearing On Drug Charge Delayed

A preliminary hearing in Chapel Hill's Recorder's Court for a former UNC student charged with the possession of marijuana has been continued until Tuesday.

James H. Cannon, 33, was arrested in Carrboro by Chapel Hill and Carrboro police Thursday, after a citizen saw him walking out of a wooded area, carrying a box of plants. Chapel Hill Police Chief William D. Blake said the person approached Cannon who put the box down and walked away. The box was taken to police, who identified the 18 plants as marijuana.

"The plants were in paper cups, ready to be transplanted," Blake said.

The maximum penalty for a first offense in marijuana possession is a $20,000 fine or five years in jail or both. Cannon was released Friday on a $1,000 bond.

Klay Box, head of Operation Headstart in Carrboro, said Cannon was working as a teacher's aide in the eight-week educational program for pre-school children. The program is scheduled to end Aug. 12.

Cannon was last a student at UNC in the spring of 1965.

Glee Club Wins Third Place

LLANGOLLEN, Wales -- Carolina's Varsity Men's Glee Club won third place Saturday before a 10,000-member audience at the International Musical Eisteddfod.

The Tar Heel club was among 11 men's choirs from six nations in the event. Sir Thomas Armstrong who announced the results, praised the glee club as "a delightful choir with fine versatility. They understood the music and sang with real point and musical insight."

The Rodina Choir of the Zora House of Culture from Rousse, Bulgaria took first with 261 points. A Welsh choir was second with 257, edging the Tar Heels' 256 points.

Members of the glee club have been living in the homes of Welsh families during their stay in Wales. The club was scheduled to stop in London, then Paris later in the week.

Ground Cleared For Building

Preparation for construction of a $7 million modernistic complex including the undergraduate library, student union and book exchange has begun with building removal and ground clearing near Wilson library, Bingham Hall and Le-noir.

Three wooden buildings — the Duplicating Shop, the Old

Veteran's Club and Bingham X — have been moved to Emerson Field to make way for construction. The University hopes to pen bids for construction of the new buildings around Oct. 1. If all goes well, the complex should be completed in spring of 1968.

Cameron Associates of Charlotte, architects of the complex, were commissioned in 1963 after the General Assembly approved the project. When the designs were ready for bids, however, the library received an additional $653,333 from a federal grant under the High Education Facilities Act. Since then the plans have grown.

Arthur N. Tuttle, director of planning, said the library plans now call for $1,300,000 building instead of a $2 million structure.

The new library will contain 80,000 square feet and seat 1,784. The present undergraduate library seats 211. It will house about 100,000 volumes.

The first floor will be glassed in on four sides. Plans also include a large smoking area in the basement, lounges and a section for honors students. "We plan to have carpeting on all floors," Schleicker indicated.

Plans for the book exchange have swelled from an $850,000 building to $3,225,000. The original four-story plan for the book exchange has increased to a nine-story building, a three-level book store to be topped by six floors of administrative offices.

Tuttle said no plans have been made concerning what will go in Graham Memorial Hall when many administrative offices are transferred to the proposed Book exchange. He said it could possibly be used for a number of things including alumni affairs and admissions business.
