

L.A. Loses Third Game

The Baltimore Orioles made it three straight in the World Series yesterday by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 on Paul Blair's fifth inning homerun.

Wally Bunker, 21-year-old right-hander, scattered six hits to pick up the win. The shut out made it 24 consecutive innings that the Dodgers have failed to score in the Series.

The loser was lefty Claude Osteen who went seven innings giving up only three hits, one of which was fatal for the Dodgers. Phil Regan pitched the last inning for L.A.

The only Dodger threat came in the second when Ron Fairly lined a scorcher to the mound, knocking Bunker's glove off. He beat it out for a single. Jim Leveare flied out and then Lou Johnson hit into a double play.

Blair, who is mainly used for defensive purposes, lined Osteen's pitch into the bleachers with two out in the fifth.

The youthful Oriole pitching staff continued to dominate the highly touted Dodger pitchers. Bunker, who had a 10-6 record in the regular season, has been plagued by a sore elbow, but showed no signs of it as he effectively scattered the six Dodger hits.

He also demonstrated pinpoint control, walking only one batter.

The only Dodger to collect more than one hit was Lou Johnson who rapped Bunker for two. Manager Walt Alston tried to juggle his line-up in an effort to get more punch, but it was to no avail.

The Orioles have gone to their bull pen only once in the first three games. In the opener Moe Drabowsky, relieved starter Dave McNally in the third inning and allowed the Dodgers only one hit.

In the second game of the Series Jim Palmer handcuffed LA's impotent batters. Oriole Manager Hank Bauer has yet to use relievers Stu Miller and Eddie Fisher usually acclaimed as the two best relievers in the American League.

Today's game will give the Orioles an opportunity to win the World Series in four straight games. The last team to achieve this was the same Los Angeles club who beat the New York Yankees four straight in 1963.

Manager Hank Bauer will probably start opening game pitcher Dave McNally. Dodger manager Walt Alston will give the nod to Don Drysdale, the losing pitcher in the first game.
