

Welcome All To 'Beat Dook' Weekend

The Daily Tar Heel

'To Write Well Is Better Than To Rule'

Volume 74, Number 57

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1966

Free Flicks

GM's free flicks this weekend at Carroll Hall are "Becket," Friday at 7 and 9:30 p.m. and Sunday at 3 p.m., "The Innocents" Saturday, and "Destry Rides Again" Sunday, both at 7 and 9:30 p.m.

Beat Dook Parade

The PIKA "Beat Dook" Parade begins today at 3 p.m. The parade will form at Woolen Gym at 2:30.

Bad-Luck Lady Done In By Hex

BALTIMORE, MD., (AP) — A Baltimore woman, who believed her life was doomed by a hex, told her doctors at City Hospital here she would die within three days.
Two days later, she was dead.
The woman told her doctors that she was born in the Okefenokee Swamp area of Florida, one of three children delivered by a midwife on Friday the 13th.
According to the woman's story, the midwife told the babies' mothers that the three were hexed and the first would die before her sixteenth birthday, the second before her twenty-first birthday and the third before her twenty-third birthday.

Dr. Harvey said there is no doubt that people in Africa die as a result of voodoo curses. Some of them, he said, simply stop eating when they believe death is near.
Dr. John K. Boitnott, who joined Dr. Harvey in presenting the case, said it was chosen because of the interesting aspect of her belief in the hex.
"We had hoped to start the students thinking about the psychological aspect of a patient. This was an extreme and dramatic case to point it out," Dr. Boitnott said.
Both doctors said that they have been unable to check the women's story to see if it was correct.

Kenan Residence College's $200 Cannon's Finally Here ... And Will Be Shot If Carolina Scores Saturday

DTH Photo by Mike McGowan

New Election Appeal Rejected By Council

By LYTT STAMPS
DTH Staff Writer

The Constitutional Council late Wednesday night denied the appeal of Alan Albright for a new freshman class election.
The ruling, which came after five and a half hours of debate, said that the election of Bland Simpson as president is valid.
Albright had protested on grounds of "certain unexplainable inconsistencies in the tallying and counting procedures."

His protest came after the elections board said he had won the contest by 300 votes on the night of Tuesday, Nov. 8, but on Wednesday Nov. 9, pronounced Simpson winner by 34 votes.
The council ruled that only evidence to show tallying and counting errors could be introduced by Albright's counselors, Tom Manley and Noel Dumivant.
They would not accept as evidence an affidavit from six East Granville freshmen who said they voted for Albright.
The official vote totals of the elections board showed three votes for Albright.
Manley said he could prove a similar situation in Winston.
Most of the hearing was devoted to two motions — one by the defense not to hear the protest and the other by the plaintiff to postpone the hearing.
The defense motion to dismiss the case was presented on two grounds:
THE PROTEST did not allege an infraction of the election law.
THE PROTEST was not filed by a protesting candidate but was filed by Manley for Albright.
The defense, conducted by Attorney General Frank Hodges and Arthur Hays, said the law prescribed that a protest must be filed by a candidate.

The seven member council, however, decided to hear the protest.
Manley then presented his motion to postpone the hearing.
He charged that the Election Board had not given him access to the returns he needed in order to prepare a proper presentation.
The council denied the postponement.

THIS WAS SUPPOSED to be a time exposure picture of a meteor shower. But none of the meteors from the Leonid Shower fell within sight of Chapel Hill early Thursday. The earth was turned in the wrong position, said Morehead Planetarium Assistant Director Donald S. Hall. The picture was taken from the roof of Ehringhaus Residence College.

—DTH Photo by Ernest H. Robl

It's Dook Weekend!

Have any excess energy you'd like to work off this weekend? You'll have your chance this Beat Dook weekend—marching with the "Beat Dook parade, cheering the Tar Heels on Saturday afternoon, and making the rounds of the combo parties to be presented by GM and the residence colleges.
The "Beat Dook" parade to be held at 3 p.m. today will begin the final stage of activities of Beat Dook Week.
Graham Memorial will present the Four Seasons in Carmichael Auditorium tonight at 8 p.m. and the Platters at 8 p.m. tomorrow night.
Student tickets may be purchased at the GM information desk for $1.00 and at the door for $1.75.
Scott Residence College will provide entertainment on South Campus this weekend, beginning with Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs from four until six today. There will be no charge for the show, which will be held behind Teague.
Saturday night Scott College will present Garnett Mimms and the Venturas in Chase from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Tickets may be purchased in Y-Court today from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. for $2 per couple. No tickets will be sold at the door.
Today is the last day of the freshman class mum sale. Mums may be purchased for $1.50 today at Y-Court from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Pine Room and Lenoir Hall from 11-2 and 5-7, and at Chase Cafeteria from 5-7.
Mums may be picked up from 8:30 a.m. until noon at the Naval Armory on Saturday.

Branson House of Morrison Residence College will stage a dance featuring the Nomads from 9:30 until 1 tonight in the Morrison social room. Mixers will be sold.
Admission is $1.50 per couple, and tickets will be sold at the door.
Advertising Denounced
Branson Houses' advertising has been denounced by Assistant Dean of Men Schroeder as "detrimental to Morrison," as he removed a banner which read "There will not be a wild sex orgy at Morrison, but — the Nomads will play."
Governor John Ellis is expected to protest the matter to Dean Long and the combo will be presented as planned.

Kenan Buys Cannon

UNC Gets Gun

By STEVE KNOWLTON
DTH Staff Writer

Carolina has finally got a cannon to fire at football games.
After three months of planning, Kenan Residence College has bought and had approved the gun, which "hopefully will be ready for use at the Duke game Saturday," Dave McFadden, Kenan's governor said yesterday.
Since the piece was approved for use only Wednesday, practice firings and the training of students to fire it will have to be done today.
Lenny Tubbs, Projects Chairman of Kenan, ordered the cannon from a firm in Massachusetts, which made the 18th century replica to order.
Then the trouble came.
When the weapon arrived last week, it was learned that there was a problem of university policy against having a cannon.
Working with Deans Long and Schroeder, McFadden and Tubbs got the problems ironed out and administrators approved the use of the gun, McFadden said.
A long list of rules and regulations was drawn up to avoid the risk of losing the piece:

WHILE NOT in use, the cannon is to be stored in the Naval Armory.
A GUN CREW of two NROTC students will be in charge of firing the cannon. Only they will be allowed to use it.
THE GUN IS to be fired only during home football games and only in Kenan Stadium. It must be returned to the Armory immediately after the game.
A POLICE officer must be nearby at all times while the cannon is out of storage. The gun crew must not leave their battle stations at any time.
THE GUN WILL be removed from the campus if any of the rules are violated.
The weapon has purposes other than to promote spirit at the ball games.
"Our cannon will give an identification to Kenan College," McFadden said, "much like Craig's gong."
"Also, the cheerleaders were considering the purchase of a similar piece, and this will save them the expense."
"South Campus residence colleges have been getting all the publicity. It's time that someone else received a little," he said.

Police Say All Is Quiet For Weekend

By TERRY GINGRAS
Special To The DTH

"No, we won't make any special preparations for Duke Weekend," said Chapel Hill Police Chief W. D. Blake. "We'll just treat it like any other football weekend."
He doesn't foresee any unusual problems this weekend. "We'll just have our usual number of men out ready for trouble."
The Chapel Hill police force has 31 men. "That includes specialists, traffic control officers and plainclothes detectives. We'll have them all in uniform."
The police department doesn't put any extra men on duty for football weekends. "What we do is this . . . we have the men who usually work the 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. shift. On football weekends they stay on with the 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. shift.
They might not stay on duty for the whole shift, it depends on the situation."
Chief Blake claims that "we always get a call" about fraternity parties. "There's always a complaint about noise. We just tell them to keep the noise down or we'll have to come back and break up the party."
The town police try to give inebriated students as much of a chance as they can. "We just ask them to empty their bottles or cans and let them go."
The police are not just concerned with fraternity parties. "We send plainclothesmen out to patrol places like the Tempo or the Shack. They just walk through and nobody notices them. This is not a regular patrol but they are inspected "almost every weekend to see that things are right."
Chief Blake has been on the Chapel Hill police force for 22 years, the last eight as chief.

Meteors Fizzle — Panty Raids, Too

By ERNEST H. ROBL
DTH Staff Writer

While a meteor shower — billed as the most spectacular sky show in more than 100 years — fizzled out overhead, Carolina and N. C. State men early Thursday tended to more earthy matters.
In both Chapel Hill and Raleigh, star gazers and observers of heavenly bodies staged "meteor marches" which nearly turned into panty raids.
Some 400 Carolina gentlemen — warming up for the big weekend ahead — chanted and yelled in front of Spencer and Winston women's dorms.
In the process, they almost overturned a truck belonging to the Daily Tar Heel and driven by DTH Photographer Mike McGowan.
"We want panties," the crowd yelled.
"Lights on; shades up," they chanted while frantic housemothers at Spencer and Winston ran around giving exactly the opposite instructions.
When McGowan arrived on the scene after being attracted by the noise, the crowd converged on the DTH truck and began rocking it.
It was all over by about 3 a.m.
In Raleigh, some 200 N. C. State men were chased from the St. Mary's College campus by radio dispatched police cars.

The men explained they were only holding a march in honor of the annual Leonid Meteor Shower.

Receptions Set By IFC

All freshmen men on campus will be divided into six groups to attend the receptions scheduled by the Intrafraternity Council.
The purpose of the receptions is to better acquaint the freshmen with the fraternity system at Carolina and answer any questions they may have about fraternities in general.
The schedule is the following:
November 29 at Graham Memorial for freshmen in the Upper Quad, Alexander, Joyner and Old West.
November 30 at Graham Memorial for freshmen in the Lower Quad and Granville West.
December 5 at Chase Hall for freshmen in Avery and Craige.
December 6 at Chase Hall for freshmen in Ehringhaus.
December 8 at Chase for half of the freshmen in Morrison through the name of Nelson.
December 15 at Chase for the remainder of Morrison, Parker and Teague.

UNC Sororities Enter Drive To Help Raleigh Blind School

Members of the eight campus sororities are planning to make Christmas merrier for 90 children at the N.C. School for the Blind in Raleigh.
Each sorority girl is going to collect toys, clothes and other articles for the children while she is home for the Thanksgiving holidays.
During the two weeks before Christmas between 45 and 50 of the sorority girls will take the gifts to the children.
The girls will also take each of the children Christmas shopping with the money given to them by their school to buy themselves a present.
The children will be taken to a dime store where they can handle the various toys to decide what they want.

Bobbie Woodall, chairman of the Panhellenic Council's project committee, said that all sorority members will contribute items and the girls who sign up will take the gifts to the children and accompany them on their shopping trip.
"A highlight of the entire project will be when each child is taken to see Santa Claus in the store," Bobbie said.
The sororities participating in the project are members of Alpha Delta Pi, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Mu and Pi Beta Phi.

Exchange Members Here For Weekend

Thirty Canadian students participating in the Toronto Exchange arrived by bus in Morehead Planetarium parking lot at 8:00 last night.
They were met by the thirty students selected to go to Toronto from UNC during semester break in January.
The Canadians left Toronto at 8 p.m. Wednesday night. After their arrival UNC exchange members took them out for pizzas for a "get acquainted" session. Each UNC member was assigned one Toronto student to live in his or her dorm, fraternity, or sorority house during their stay in Chapel Hill.
Today the Canadians will attend morning classes with their host or hostess. UNC members selected "ten most interesting" professors in various departments whose classes exchange members will visit for a sampling of academic life at Chapel Hill.
The Exchange will have lunch at various fraternities on campus.
Exchange members will have a seminar at 1:00 on Canadian American relations. The speakers will be Mr. Frank Stone, Counselor, from the Canadian Embassy in Washington D. C., and Charles A. Kiselyak from the Office of Canadian Affairs of the State Department.

Tonight the Exchange will go on a hayride to Maltby's Cabin for a square dance there.

Mum Orders Taken Today

Orders will be taken today for the Freshman Mum Sale. The mums may be ordered for $1.50 each from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Y Court, 11 to 2 and 5 to 7 in the Pine Room and Lenoir Hall and 5 to 7 at Chase.
Mums may be picked up Saturday morning from 8:30 to 12 at the Naval Armory. Class President Bland Simpson said some mums will be on sale outside Kenan Stadium Saturday.

'Swinging' Group Tonight

The Four Seasons

Probably the "swingingest" group on the "pop music" charts today, The Four Seasons, will be here at 8 p.m. tonight for Duke Weekend.
Made famous by their hit "Sherry" in 1962, they have jumped to stardom in just a few years. Within a month after it was released, "Sherry" became a hit and soon sold over a million copies and earned the group its first gold record.
From then on the hits continued including "Big Girls Don't Cry," "Walk Like a Man," "Ain't That A Shame," "Candy Girl" and many more. Their albums have been equally famous and have sold many millions.
All members of the groups are from New Jersey and began their ascent to the "top forty" in 1960 when they combined their talents and formed a new musical and vocal team. They demonstrated their abilities in a small New Jersey night club from which they borrowed their name — The Four Seasons.