MHC Finds Four Guilty

Four cases came up before the Men's Honor Council this month. All involved violations of the Honor code, and one a Men's Residence Council Rule violation as well.

A senior was charged with cheating on an Information Science exam at the MHC meeting of February 8. He pleaded guilty and was found guilty, with a sentence of one semester's suspension.

Another senior was charged with cheating on a sociology exam. His plea was guilty and he found guilty, with a sentence of one semester's suspension.

MHC meeting a junior was charged with cheating on an economics exam and tried at the Feb. 17 MHC meeting. He pleaded not guilty, and the verdict returned was not guilty.

A junior was charged with an Honor Code violation and an MRC rule violation at the Feb. 21 meeting of the MHC. He was found guilty of taking a coed to his room in the residence hall, lying to a graduate counselor in the girl's residence hall, and to the Dean of Men and the Attorney General. His sentence for these offenses was one semester's suspension. He was also found not guilty of lying to the housemother at the girl's residence hall and not guilty of a campus code offense in keeping the coed out past closing hours.

Room Reservations

Women students who want to reserve rooms for the summer or fall terms should sign up in their dormitories between March 1 and 8.

Any women students living off campus who wish to move on campus for the summer or fall should sign up for rooms in the Office of the Dean of Women, 202 South Building, during the week of March 1-8.

At the time a woman reserves a room for the fall she must pay a deposit of $25. If she is reserving a room for the summer she must pay room rent of $40 for a double room or $60 for a single room.

Failure to sign up for a room at that time means a student may not get the dormitory or room of her choice.

TEMPO Symposium

Sweet Briar College will be holding its first student organized symposium entitled TEMPO (Contemporary Art and Thought in America) on March 24.

Speakers at this symposium will include such men as John Updike, Edward Field, Edward Albee, Art Buchwald, Charlie Byrd, and several others.

There are openings for five representatives from North Carolina to this symposium and anyone who is interested should contact Elliott Dahan at 968-9091. Transportation and expenses will be the responsibility of the representatives attending the symposium.

Playmakers' Tryouts

Over twenty actors are needed for the Carolina Playmakers production of "The Battle of the Carnival and Lent," a new play by Playmakers staff-member Russell Graves, according to director Thomas M. Patterson.

Tryouts will be held Monday at 4:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall, with production dates April 12-16.

Planned in conjunction with this year's Fine Arts Festival on the UNC campus, the play concerns a traveling troupe of players caught up in the struggle for a man's soul.

All students, faculty, townspeople, and anyone within a commuting distance of Chapel Hill is invited to tryout. Scripts are available for reading purposes in the reserve reading room of Louis R. Wilson Library.

International Center Seeks Residents

North Carolina joins the ranks of 35 colleges in the U. S. next year when it opens its new International Student Center in Carr residence hall. Before opening the center, however, there must be occupants and the YMCA is looking for them now.

The student center will serve as the focal point for informal contact between 29 foreign students and 29 American students.

Foreign students will meet and come to know Americans, to learn American customs and manners. The American students are offered about other countries and their views about the U. S. and the world.

Foreign students will be taken on tours of businesses and points of interest around the state. Also, language tutoring will be provided by graduate volunteers.

For the campus, Nationality Nights, dances, a film series, recitals, and dinner lectures will be a part of the overall program.

At the present there are about 300 foreign students on campus, representing 51 nations.

Students interested in the center may pick up applications in the YMCA office in Y-Court or in 213 Murphey. Applications must be returned by March 3.

Applicants will be notified of the time for an interview between March 6 and 8.

Competition is open to all male students with performance given to upperclassmen and especially graduate students.

TODAY

The office of the Attorney-General is in need of attractive coeds to type on Monday and Tuesday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m. Anyone interested should apply to the Attorney-General from 2-5 p.m. Interviews for WRC chairman will be held March 1 from 3 to 6 p.m., March 2 from 3 to 5 p.m., and March 3 from 12 to 3 p.m. Sign up at the GM Information desk.

The Student Religious Liberals will meet Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Roland Parker III in Graham Memorial. Professor Virgil Aldrich, of the UNC philosophy department, will lead a discussion on

"The Religion of Humanity."

The Sunday Coffee shop, the Crossroads Cafe, will open Sunday, March 5, at the YMCA. Entertainment will be Bebo Bunkum's Jug Band and other student groups. Refreshments will be served. Anyone interested in working on the coffee shop committee may sign up at Y-Court in 102 or call Carol Barnum at McIver Dorm.

The Orientation Commission will be holding interviews today from 2 to 5 p.m. upstairs in Graham Memorial. Students must make an appointment at the GM Information desk.

The first annual general body meeting of the India Association of UNC will be held in the lounge of the Public Health Building Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. All members and prospective members are asked to be present to elect new officers and make plans for the current year.

Applications for the YMCA Freshman camp counselors positions may be obtained in the Y office at Y-Court. All underclassmen are eligible. Applications are due Monday.

The Carolina Political Union will meet Sunday at 7 p.m. in the Grail Room to hear Al Lowenstein. All members are urged to be present.

College Life will meet Sunday at 9 p.m. at the Kappa Kappa Gamma House. Everyone is invited.

Free flicks this weekend are: Friday night, Sunday in New York, in color, with Jane Fonda, son, and Rod Taylor; Saturday night, Adam's Rib, with Spencer Tracy, Judy Holliday, and Katherine Hepburn; Sunday night, Public Enemy, with James Cagney and Jean Harlow.

IT'S A SHAME NOBODY WILL READ THIS AD...

Pity... We've tried to pass on to our customers the news of our fabulous sale without joining in the battle of the adjectives that goes on at this time each year...

But apparently to no avail, because we still have a fine selection (SUITS from 39.88 SPORT COATS from 21.88 TROUSERS from 7.88 DRESS SHIRTS 3.88) of natural tradition clothing that we must sell before Monday to make way for our fantastic spring line... And if we don't sell them, we both lose...

It's a real shame that so few people will read this... Only the smart shopper like you...
