

NCAA Notes

North Carolina's sensational Tar Heels have become the third "winningest" team in the school's basketball history — and have a chance to move up another notch in NCAA Tournament play.

Coach Dean Smith's Tar Heels will carry a 24-4 record into Friday night's battle against Princeton in the NCAA Eastern Regionals at College Park, Md.

Only the 1957 and 1946 Tar Heel teams won more games. The 1957 team swept 32 in a row in a miracle season that was climaxed with a 54-53 victory over Kansas for the National championship.

The 1946 Carolina team, coached by Ben Carnevale, compiled a 30-5 record and advanced all the way to the national finals where it lost to Oklahoma A and M and Big Bob Kurland, 43-40.

The present Carolina team would need two wins at College Park and one in the National semifinals at Louisville, Ky., next week to better the 1946 record.

Dean Smith now has a six-year Carolina coaching record of 90 victories and 49 defeats.

Only two Tar Heel coaches in history, Tom Scott and Frank McGuire, won more games. Scott swept 100 games in six seasons while McGuire captured 164 in nine seasons.

Princeton holds a 3-2 edge over Carolina in games played between the two teams. One of the Tiger victories was a 91-81 thumping they handed the Tar Heels here earlier this season.

Carolina defeated Princeton, 75-61, at Greensboro last year with the great Bob Lewis scoring 33 points.

The Tar Heels and Tigers will continue their series during the regular season next year in a game scheduled for the Greensboro Coliseum.

A Carolina basketball team has never played either Boston College or St. John's. But the Tar Heels will have to meet one of them at College Park Saturday night.

St. John's and Boston College meet in the first round of the NCAA Eastern Regional Friday night on the same program with the UNC-Princeton contest.

The winners play for the title Saturday night while the losers meet in a consolation game.

The Tar Heel squad will leave for College Park this afternoon at 2:15 p.m. and is scheduled to stage a workout in the Cole Fieldhouse upon arrival.

Carolina team headquarters will be at the Interstate Motel in College Park.

When the Carolina team completed a 9-0 sweep of its Big Four rivals in the ACC Tournament last week, it matched a feat accomplished by the UNC national championship team of 1957.

That great club also was 9-0 against the Big Four. Coach Frank McGuire's 1957 team beat Wake Forest four times, Duke three times and N. C. State twice.

Larry Miller, now ranked seventh among all-time Tar Heel scorers, would have to pump in 86 points in NCAA Tournament competition to move up another notch.

The sixth scorer on the all-time list is York Larese. He leads Miller, 1,287 to 1,202.

The Tar Heels' Bob Lewis will be playing before his hometown fans in the NCAA Eastern Regional. He hails from Washington, D. C., and attended St. John's Catholic School there.

Lewis had a great night in a regular season game against Maryland in Cole Fieldhouse this year, pumping in 25 points as the Tar Heels squeezed out a 79-78 victory.

Perhaps never has an ACC champion gone into NCAA competition with so many sophomores in key roles. The Tar Heels start three sophomores and use two others in key roles.

The starters are Dick Grubar, Rusty Clark and Bill Bunting and the key reserves are Joe Brown and Gerald Tuttle.

Phi Delt, Conner Take Frat, Residence Pong Titles

By BOB COLEMAN

Connor and Phi Delt White paddled their way to ping pong glory Tuesday, winning the residence hall and fraternity white titles, respectively.

Coach Earey 'Not Surprised' At Dolphins' Fine Effort

Last weekend, the University of North Carolina swimming team finished a convincing second place behind highly regarded Yale, a feat which Tar Heel coach Pat Earey regarded as no surprise.

"We usually do well around championship time, and we knew that with a fine effort from all our boys, that we would have to be reckoned with," said Earey.

Yale totaled 389 points, Carolina 241, the first time any Tar Heel team had compiled more than 200 points in the event, Army 222, and Princeton 206.

Of his swimmers who finished second in the Atlantic Coast Conference Earey said, "Our normal pattern of development was perhaps a week late for the ACC, but we were well pleased with our finish in the Easterns. It was not a matter of being emotionally psyched up or swimming over our heads."

The UNC Dolphins set six Carolina records, three ACC and three Easterns' records. Pete Worthen, a senior co-captain from Andover, Massachusetts, equalled his time in the 50 freestyle, with a 21.0, an ACC and Easterns' record, and the best time turned in this year, 1.0 second off the national record.

The 400 medley team comprised of Fred Danemann, Ham Gadd, Phil Riker, and Jim Edwards won the event in a record time of 3:33.6 (ACC and Eastern, the best in the country this year. It was especially satisfactory for the UNC swimmers to beat the finals with a 2-1 match against Grimes.

Dorn took the singles and Raney and Phillips swept the doubles for Phi Delt against St. A White I. Gatins prevented a skunking for the losers.

The Ruffin Celts turned on the Ruffin Cougars in the second half and won 75-50. Bowler-carried the team in the first half and ended up with 21. Taylor tallied 14 and Crenshaw hit 12. Koch tossed in 17 for the losers.

Free throw shooting carried Morr 1 No. 2 past Morr B. Blue, 49-43. McRorie sank 16 and Lewin added 11, while Webster notched 16 in defeat.

Ehringhaus A crushed Ehringhaus C Chargers, 70-54. Saunders hit 18, Webb had 13, Hood 12, and Baker 11. Eagle led the losers with 13 and Rodeman added 12 more.

The Parker Sliders eased by Old West on foul shots, 57-52. Hall put in 24 and Zachary hit 16. Tipton tossed in 16 for the losers and Davis got 14 more.

Phi Kap Sig Gold outfought DU while, 49 - 37. Gernert gathered 14 and Hoffman hit 13. Sessoms scored 10 in defeat.

Chi Psi Cadavers whipped ATO White II, 56-44, behind West's 19 and 13 from Taylor. Turner rang up 11 for ATO.

DKE White eked out a 47-62 victory over Phi Delt Black, with 12 points from Carey and 11 by Dunn.

Yale in one of their stronger events in Kiputh pool. Coach Earey told these boys before the meet that they were capable of a 3:33.3 before the event, and he is hoping that this goal will be reached in the NCAA Championships to be held March 23-25 at East Lansing, Michigan.

Fred Danemann, a sophomore backstroke from Norfolk, Virginia, turned in one of the best individual performances by capturing first places in the 100 and 200 backstroke events and swimming on the winning medley relay team. Fred's time in the 100 event (53.7) is his best time to date.

The 400 freestyle team (Worthen, Jay Scattergood, bettered the old UNC record of 3:11.8 by dashing off 3:11.3 on the clock. Earey still expects bigger things of this crew though in East Lansing.

Other outstanding efforts came from Sanders who set a school in the 100 freestyle (47.5 which betters Worthen's 47.7 '66), Doug Behrman who set a new school record in the 400 Individual medley (4:30.8 which betters Harrison Merrill's 4:36.6, '64), and Jim Edwards who swam his best time ever in the 100 freestyle (47.7 which ties the old school record) and his best time this year in the 200 freestyle (1:46.1).

Phil Riker, the defending National Champion in the 100 butterfly, got more than enough competition from Russ Wales of Princeton, but with a crash program prescribed by Coach Earey for the coming week, Phil should redeem himself in the Nationals.

"The boys can do better in almost every instance," said Earey of the upcoming nationals.

"The boys can do better in almost every instance," said Earey of the upcoming nationals. "If we perform like we usually do in the big ones, we can look forward to bigger and better things."

Princeton Veterans Vs. Young Carolina

Giant-killer Princeton, the team that wrecked N. C. State's NCAA Tournament bid two years ago, hopes to give North Carolina the same kind of treatment in the Eastern Regionals at College Park, Md., Friday night.

It was on the College Park court in 1965 that Princeton, sparked by the great Bill Bradley, flattened State's Wolfpack, 66-48, in the first round game.

Three current Princeton standouts, Gary Walters, Ed Hummer and Robby Brown, were members of the Tiger cast that year. They helped pace Princeton all the way to the national semifinals before bowing to Michigan.

Now the Tigers have their big guns aimed at North Carolina. The teams clash at 9 p.m. Friday night following a

7 p.m. opener matching St. John's against Boston College.

The winners meet Saturday night for the Eastern title and the right to play in the nationals the following weekend at Louisville, Ky.

"Princeton is a tournament-tested team," says Carolina Coach Dean Smith, "and that's why we know we are in for such a tough time Friday night. Of course, Princeton already has beaten us on our home court and surely has to be called the favorite at College Park."

The Tigers ended Carolina's early-season nine-game winning streak with a 91-81 decision over the Tar Heels at Chapel Hill. The Tigers went on to post a 23-2 record and win the Ivy League championship.

The Tar Heels compiled an outstanding record of 24 wins against four losses in winning the Atlantic Coast Conference regular season and tournament championships. Carolina capped it all with an 82-73 victory over arch-rival Duke in the ACC Tournament finals last Saturday night.

Miller Is Voted ACC Player Of The Year

By OWEN DAVIS
DTH ASST. SPORTS EDITOR

All-America forward Larry Miller added another award to his constantly-growing trophy list when he was voted the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year by conference sports writers.

Miller received the Flucie Steward award for the most outstanding player over Duke all-America guard Bob Verga. In close balloting, Miller received 52 votes to Verga's 48.

This is the second honor bestowed on Miller in five days. Saturday night he received the Everett Case Memorial trophy for the most valuable player in the ACC tournament.

Previously, the Catawauqua, Pa., junior was named to Look Magazine's all-America team and was placed on the Associated Press second five.

Carolina scored what was almost a clean sweep in conference awards this year. Coach Dean Smith was voted the ACC Coach of the year and Miller and Bob Lewis were also named to the all-ACC squad.

In 28 games this season, Miller has never failed to hit in double figures. He has scored 20 points or better 19 times and over 30 points on four occasions for a 22.8 point average.

His 260 rebounds ranked second on the Tar Heels although the brawny front liner stands only 6'3". In addition to his rebounding, Miller is also one of the top percentage shooters in the conference with a 52.7 per cent field goal mark.

Miller especially sparked during the stretch run of the season. In the final regular season Duke game, he came off the bench after foul trouble and poured in 21 second half points to boost UNC from a two-point halftime lead to an easy 13-point win.

In the opening game of the ACC tourney, Miller made several key late-game shots against North Carolina State to pull the Tar Heels through in a squeaker.

Probably the greatest second half of basketball in Miller's life came against Wake Forest in the tournament semi-finals.

After being held to two points in the first half, Miller took command of the UNC attack and tossed in 29 second-half points in one of the best shooting exhibitions ever by a Tar Heel.

The final Duke game was another crucial test of Miller's ability under pressure and he responded by connecting on 13 of 14 shots from the field for a game total of 32 points.

He was just as outstanding in the early season as he scored 26 and 22 points in the holiday Tampa Invitational Tournament to share the most valuable player award with teammate Lewis.
