

Carolina Ranks Tenth In Wilson Grants Received

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill ranked 10th in the nation and led the Southeast this year in the number of Woodrow Wilson Fellowships just received by its students for graduate study.

With 17 students winning the coveted awards, UNC at Chapel Hill tied with the University of Chicago for 10th place. In leading the Southeast, UNC also led Region V, which is composed of Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia.

Nationally, UNC was outranked only by Harvard, the University of Michigan, Cornell, Princeton, Berkeley, Rice, Yale, Michigan State and Stanford.

"This is a distinction that is equal in stature with previous revelation that the University at Chapel Hill ranks among the top three universities in the southern region and among the foremost universities in the nation," Chancellor J. Carylyle Sitterson noted in announcing UNC's placement in the Woodrow Wilson competition.

"This achievement by 17 Carolina students is further testimony to the caliber of student in Chapel Hill and to the quality of undergraduate teaching and learning characterizing our faculty and students."

Nine or over half of UNC's Woodrow Wilson Fellows this year are North Carolina students. They are Mary Elizabeth Brownell and William R. Walls Jr. of Asheville, Thomas W. Stinson III of Charlotte, Robert W. Bass of Framville, Dudley Joe Burton of Hickory, John N. Walls Jr. of Morven, Mark Fountain II and John C. Koomen of Raleigh, and Miles Foy of Statesville.

A total of 1259 students received Woodrow Wilson Fellowships this spring. Of this figure, 367 are women. The winners come from 369 different colleges and universities in the United States and Canada.

Last year, UNC and Duke led Region V with 12 Fellows each. Nine other North Carolina institutions received Fellowships this year. Duke received nine; Wake Forest, three; Davidson, UNC at Greensboro and N. C. College at Durham, two each; N. C. State University, Lenoir Rhyne and Western Carolina College, one each.

G.M. Head Chairs Conference Group

Howard D. Henry, director of the University of North Carolina's Graham Memorial Student Union, will chair a session on "Controversy As a Program Element" during the International Association of College Unions' 44th Annual Conference in Philadelphia, Pa., April 9-12.

"The Dynamics of Change" is the official theme for the four-day long meet, to be held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in Philadelphia.

According to Robert A. Alexander, program vice president, the University of California, San Francisco Medical Center, more than 800 delegates will gather to analyze the theory of change and its dynamic significance for higher education.

Union administrators from the United States, Puerto Rico, Canada and other nations will gather to identify, discuss, challenge, and debate an extensive range of problems, issues and propositions.

Sample topics this year include: "Changing Concepts in Higher Education," "The College Student and Sex," "The Satellite Union: How Far in Orbit," "Drugs and the College Student," "Computers: New Dimension in Management," "The Social Effects of Science and Technology," "The Changing Campus Community," "The Revolution in Personal Values," and "Academic Freedom for Students."

Job Opening With Esso

Esso Standard Oil Company's overseas affiliates have openings for foreign students who are citizens of Malaysia, Pakistan, Indonesia, South Vietnam, and Australia. They can use both graduate and undergraduate degree holders in many fields of engineering as well as business administration, public relations, journalism, mathematics, economics, and statistics. Salaries are competitive and positions offer promise of rapid advancement. In addition Esso Standard would be interested in hearing from students who are citizens of other countries in which Esso operates. A full list of these countries is available in the Office of the Foreign Student Adviser, 213 Murphy Hall, together with detailed information about the positions available. Applications may also be made through the Placement Office, 204 Gardner Hall.

Students who wish to learn more about these positions are urged to write to:

Mr. C. B. Weidenbacher
Manager, Employee Relations Dept.
Esso Standard Eastern, Inc.
15 West 51 Street
New York, New York 10019

James Meredith as he will appear in a graduate recital Friday, April 7, 8:00 p.m. in Hill Hall.

Grad Piano Concert Set

James Meredith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Meredith of Chapel Hill will be presented in a graduation recital by the Music Department of the University of North Carolina on Friday, April 7 at 8:00 p.m. in Hill Hall. Mr. Meredith is a pupil of Dr. William S. Newman, noted teacher, author, and performer.

He will play Toccata in D minor by Carlos Seixas, a Portuguese contemporary of Scarlatti and Bach; Sonata in E-flat, Op. 81a by Beethoven. Named "Les Adieux" by the composer himself, the movements are entitled "The Farewell," "Absence," and "The Return." He will also play Five Piano Pieces by Peter Mennin who is now president of Juilliard School of Music.

The last half of the program will consist of the Symphonic Etudes by Robert Schumann.

Public Relations Panel Highlights

A panel on "Public Relations Careers in the Carolinas" will highlight a meeting of the Carolinas Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America on the University of North Carolina campus here today.

The Carolinas Chapter, headed by M. N. Hennessee of Winston-Salem, is one of eight organizations which are meeting on the UNC campus the week of April 1-8 in conjunction with the Second Annual Journalism Week. Hennessee is vice president and director of public relations for Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. in Winston-Salem.

The panel will be held at 3 p.m. in Howell Hall. Participating in the discussion will be Barbara Rixon of Barbara Rixon Associates in Charlotte; John Harden of John Harden Associates in Greensboro, Raleigh and Charlotte; and H. C. Cranford Jr., director of public relations for Hospital Care Association in Durham.

In addition to Hennessee, officers of the Carolinas Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America include Paul E. Smith Jr. of Liberty Life Insurance Co. in Greenville, S. C., vice-president; and DeWitt E. Carroll of John Harden Associates in Charlotte, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Ben F. Park and James C. Brooks of Raleigh, William L. Beerman Jr. and John Harden of Greensboro, Paul L. Barrett of Greenville, S. C., and Frank L. Barton of Columbia, S. C.

Mrs. Rixon edited a monthly newspaper and has worked as women's editor of a weekly paper, columnist and feature writer. She has been home furnishings editor for THE CHARLOTTE NEWS and a writer for THE CHARLOTTE OBSERVER. Winner of four awards in the annual Press Women's contests, she has done free-lance public relations work for 12 years.

Harden had a newspaper career of 21 years, including service as reporter, columnist and editor on papers in Burlington, Raleigh, Chapel Hill, Charlotte, Salisbury and Greensboro. He served as private secretary to Gov. Gregg Cherry and headed his office staff. He managed William B. Umstead's campaign for the U. S. Senate in 1948.

A vice president of Burlington Industries for 10 years, he has headed his own public relations firm for nine years. He is author of two books published by the UNC Press: "The Devil's Tramping Ground and Other North Carolina Mystery Stories" and "Tar Heel Ghosts." He also authored "North Carolina Roads and Their Builders, Vol. II."

Cranford has been with Hospital Care in Durham for 16 years. Prior to this, he served as executive director of the N. C. Good Health Association for two years and worked as a reporter for THE DURHAM SUN.

While a student at UNC, he edited the Carolina Magazine, worked for the UNC News Bureau and free lanced for state newspapers. He is a director of the United Fund.

DAILY CROSSWORD

- ACROSS
1. Belonging to a famous puppeteer
6. Rubbish
11. Sports theater
12. Poundup
13. Members of the GOP
15. Consumed
16. Edge of a cup
17. Thin cushion
18. Celestial
21. Tellurium: sym.
22. Toward
23. Plagues
25. Opinions
28. People of Bern
29. In fact
31. Nobleman: abbr.
32. Tar Heel State: abbr.
33. Bureaus
37. Antlered animal
39. Liberian native
40. Command to a horse: var.
41. Tropical American fodder: 2 wds.
44. Near: poet.
45. "The Highwayman" poet
46. Stagers

- DOWN
1. Bernhard
2. Mountain crest
3. Said again
4. African antelope
5. Valuable fur
6. Increases threefold
7. Fabulous bird
8. Progenitor
9. Legislative bodies
10. Receiver of guests
14. Fluff
19. Promised
20. Two-masted vessels
24. Obliquely
25. Salad dressing ingredient
26. Slope
27. Trays
30. Eambal, for one
34. Marks
35. Flowers
38. Right pert
38. Leg joint
42. Guy's companion
43. N.Z. fern root

Crossword puzzle grid with numbers 1-46 indicating starting positions for across and down words.

Table of course listings for Dramatic Art, Economics, Education, Folklore, French, Geography, and Geology. Includes course numbers, credits, and times.

Table of course listings for Library Science, Mathematics, Modern Civilization, and Physics. Includes course numbers, credits, and times.

Table of course listings for Portuguese, Psychology, Recitation, Religion, Russian, Social Work, Sociology, and Spanish. Includes course numbers, credits, and times.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA Chapel Hill CLASS SCHEDULE, 1967 (All classes Monday through Friday unless otherwise indicated)

Advertisement for North Carolina National Bank. Text: "You can't very well change your schedules. So we've changed ours. Now we're open 9 to 1 and 3 to 5 Monday through Thursday; 9 to 1 and 3 to 6 on Fridays. It's only natural that we change our hours to suit yours. After all, we're offering every kind of banking service, including all kinds of loans. And we've done our best to arrange our Chapel Hill locations as conveniently as possible: the main office at 137 East Franklin Street and branch offices at Glen Lennox Shopping Center and Eastgate Shopping Center. So you might say that we're making a point of being in the right places at the right times. North Carolina National Bank"