

The French Respect Order Says UNC Professor's Book

"The Formal French" is the title of a new book soon to be published by the Harvard University Press, written by Kenan Professor of French W. L. Wiley of the University of North Carolina here.

WILEY —they respect order exception and examines it. He writes: "A rather strange paradox is the fact that France, particularly in the environs of Paris, has been willing for more than a century to welcome within her boundaries almost any informal movement in art and letters that chose to flourish there. This apparent contradiction is no real indication of a declining respect for form and proper procedure. The French can at the same time be liberal and formalistic, a quality of dualism that has been most manifest since the eighteenth century."

One primary example of French formalism is the French language itself, with its wealth of polysyllables," said Wiley, "its exactitude and clarity, and its emphasis on the mot juste."

The book, the third volume of French life, literature and culture to be written by Dr. Wiley and published by the Harvard Press, also will be distributed in Great Britain by the Oxford University Press, London.

"The Formal French" has as its purpose the examination of a basic aspect of French nature: namely, "the tendency toward formalism in its varied manifestations and an inherent respect for rigid rules, particularly when they are written down."

Prof. Wiley's study is concerned with literature and literary criticism mainly, but there is also examination of the other arts, manners, entertainments, ceremonials and gardens.

"The French have through the years, possibly to a larger degree than any other nation in Europe," writes Dr. Wiley, "had a great respect for order, measure, ritual, regularity and form."

The gardens of France are geometrically designed in orderly plots, squares — correct layouts, rather than winding and mixed-up displays of unlike kinds of shrubbery and other flora.

"Nowhere has the well-measured cadence and the ordered beat of military parade," says Dr. Wiley, "received greater acclaim than in Paris, particularly in the stylized setting of the Champs-Élysées with the majesty of the Place de la Concorde at one end of the avenue and the Arc de Triomphe at the other."

The University of North Carolina Roman Language teacher points to a seeming

Two Students Mix 'Capitol Hill' & UNC

Hiram Cuthrell of Whiteville and Sam Ewell Jr. of Enfield, University of North Carolina students, are participating this semester in a program which is unique in the United States.

They are two of ten college students in North Carolina serving as interns in the North Carolina Legislature while enrolled as full-time students at North Carolina State University. North Carolina is the only state in which students can get full college credit while serving as interns.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Cuthrell Sr. of 1206 West St., Whiteville, Cuthrell is research assistant for Rep. R. D. McMillan of Robeson County, chairman of the Education Committee for the House of Representatives. Cuthrell studies, researches and keeps up with local bills that come in from Columbus, Orange and Buncombe counties. He is a UNC sophomore and has previously served as a page in the legislature.

Ewell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Ewell Sr. of 111 Overstreet Dr., Enfield and is a junior at the University.

As legislative interns they attend two political science classes in the mornings for which they receive 12 hours credit. From 10:30 to 11 a.m. until the House adjourns for the day they spend their time at the State Building.

The ten legislative interns are enrolled for one semester at North Carolina State University at Raleigh. They receive no pay but are given school tuition and fees for the semester. At the end of the semester they will resume their studies at the schools where they were previously enrolled.

The program is sponsored by the North Carolina Center for Education and Politics, an association of 18 North Carolina colleges and universities. Students apply competitively and interviewed by representatives from the Center and the governor's office.

According to Dr. Don R. Matthews, UNC political science professor, the program is aimed at enriching the education of some of North Carolina's top political science students by giving them first-hand exposure to legislature activities.

The Legislature is very enthusiastic about the program and plans are being made to continue the program in 1969, the next legislative year.

New View of a Chapel Hill Custom . . .

. . . The Photographer was up a tree over this picture

Will Residence Colleges Hurt Fraternity System?

By JAY FLEISHMAN

What effect is the residence college system having on fraternities?

Randy Myer, new president of the Inter-Fraternity Council believes "it is neither hurting nor helping fraternities. I don't feel the residence colleges and the fraternities are at the opposite ends of the pole. I'm afraid too many students look at it this way."

Myer thinks most students know if they want to pledge a fraternity and are going to pledge regardless of the residence college system. To help prove his point Myer points to the increased number of students going through rush the past two years. The residence college system was created two years ago.

"However," Myer says, "if residence colleges are ever developed to include eating together, as is in the planning stage for Granville Towers now, they will present some competition for fraternities."

Myer proudly points to the fact that the president of the Men's Residence Council, Dwight Allen, is also a fraternity member.

"The residence college does two useful things for most of the students," Myer said.

"First, it gives him a social life. Secondly, it often creates identity for the student."

"The fraternity is different. It brings together people who have mutual interests. The fraternity member cares about his fraternity brothers."

"Let's say a student gets stuck in Durham. If he calls his residence college chances are he will not get any results. If he can call a fraternity that he is a member of, help will be shortly coming."

Myer also discussed Carolina's fraternity system in general. "Strict silence has both advantages and disadvantages," he said. "There is no one way to know which systems are the best. As last fall, the IFC will again set up a committee this fall to study our system of strict silence."

"No, rush is not a major problem. The hardest part is the burden put on the house and the rushees during the first two days. It is unfair to the houses and the rushees to have to judge each other in just two days."

lina's fraternity system in general. "Strict silence has both advantages and disadvantages," he said. "There is no one way to know which systems are the best. As last fall, the IFC will again set up a committee this fall to study our system of strict silence."

"No, rush is not a major problem. The hardest part is the burden put on the house and the rushees during the first two days. It is unfair to the houses and the rushees to have to judge each other in just two days."

"Let's say a student gets stuck in Durham. If he calls his residence college chances are he will not get any results. If he can call a fraternity that he is a member of, help will be shortly coming."

Myer also discussed Carolina's fraternity system in general. "Strict silence has both advantages and disadvantages," he said. "There is no one way to know which systems are the best. As last fall, the IFC will again set up a committee this fall to study our system of strict silence."

Young Democrats Elect New Officers

Officers for 1967-68 of the University of North Carolina Young Democrats Club were elected at the recent monthly meeting.

An active part of the University since the mid-50ties, the chapter here was selected the outstanding college YDC in North Carolina for 1966 at the State YDC Convention in Winston Salem.

Including nine undergraduates and four law students, three of the new officers are former state presidents of the Teen-Dems, the State's teenage Democratic organization.

The new officers include: president, Jerry Rutledge of Germantown; graduate vice president; John Hughes of Pollocksville; undergraduate vice president, E. J. Simmons of Roseboro; secretary, Leslie A. Farfour Jr. of Morganton; Moore of Granite Falls.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rutledge of Germantown, Rutledge is a first year law student. Also a first-year student, Hughes is the son of Mrs. Eunice H. Hughes of Pollocksville. Active in Teen Dems, he was elected first state president and was twice president of Jones County YDC.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Simmons of Roseboro, Simmons is a business administration major in the University and is active in the Student Government State Affairs Committee, the State Student Legislature, and is a Morehead Scholar.

Farfour is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie A. Farfour of Morganton and a sophomore political science major. He is a member of the attorney general's staff, Graham Memorial Student Union board of directors, and Sierra Nu social fraternity. In high school he helped organize and was first president of the Burke County Teen Dem Club.

The son of Mrs. J. Mack Moore of Rt. 2, Granite Falls, Moore is a Morehead Fellow in the UNC Law School and a 1966 UNC graduate. He served as an intern in the 1965 General Assembly and is a member of Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity.

Elected executive committee members are Diane Ellis, daughter of Mrs. Phil W. Ellis, Holly Springs; Barbara Dobson of 2139 McClintock Rd., Charlotte; E. L. (Duke) Marston Jr., son of Mrs. Katherine M. Marston, Briarcliff Manor, N. Y.; Ed Croom, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Croom of 3118 Auburn Ave., Charlotte; Charles Mercer, son of Rev. and Mrs. Charles D. Mercer of 217 McRae St., Laurinburg; Henry Babb of 412 Curtis St., Ahsokie.

Beautiful Old Costume Prints

Mostly hand-colored, all de-lightful and all the real thing. We know because we took them from dusty old fashion magazines ourselves.

Prices run from 35c to $3.00.

See Them In The Print Room At The Intimate

119 East Franklin Street Open Until 10 P.M.

Attention Grads!

Moving To Charlotte? We Rent Over 2,000 Apartments

Let Us Show You The Advantages Of Living In Selwyn Village

SPANGLER REALTY CO. 1028 S. Boulevard Charlotte, N. C. 28203 Phone-704/375-3736

ROGOSIN FILMS PRESENTS EYE WITNESS: NORTH VIET NAM

Produced and Directed by LIONEL ROGOSIN

GOOD TIMES, WONDERFUL TIMES

"SATIRIC THRUST at the smugness complacency and stupidity of people who do not grasp the anguish, horror and desolation that may be caused by war and warmongers."

GOOD TIMES, WONDERFUL TIMES "IRONIC AND SHATTERING . . . it is difficult to ignore Rogosin's abrasive thought-provoking report of contemporary society . . . the film is shattering"

ONE DAY ONLY THURSDAY MAY 4th 3 P.M. 7 P.M. 9:15 P.M. CARROLL HALL ADMISSION FREE Sponsored by S.D.S.

DAILY CROSSWORD

- ACROSS 1. Twist 6. Explosion 11. Scruple 12. The world 13. Incite 14. Drink of the gods 15. Latvian river 16. Well ventilated 17. Buddhist monk 18. Cordis 21. Pub sign 22. Fireside 23. Shoshoneans 24. Dabble in 26. Magna's companion 28. Ill will 31. Public notices 32. Canadian rowboats 33. Iridium: sym. 34. Autos 35. Japanese measure 36. Knot 38. Flemish painter 40. Coronet 41. West Point student 42. Inflamed areas on eyelids: var. 43. Bolts slowly

Crossword grid with numbers 1-43 and some filled-in letters like 'CHAIR', 'PROD', 'NOIRE', 'BAKE', 'COINED', 'SARS', 'SIPS', 'SPARK', 'USS', 'MELA', 'IT MATERIAL', 'SIPAL', 'WIDGIE', 'BRASSIERE', 'NA', 'TERR', 'COD', 'ACRID', 'ALME', 'ROCK', 'BEALIN', 'ALIE', 'AMALIN', 'GELS', 'BURMA', 'Yesterday's Answer 32. Ruby 33. Spinel 34. Heal 37. 24 hours 38. Head covering 39. Soft drink 41. Cesium: sym.

- 16. Species of pier 19. Grates 20. Girl's name 21. Principal Roman rooms 23. River in central Africa 25. Makes edging 26. Colors 27. Skillful 29. Long-billed shore bird 30. Lives

The Airlines Need Pilots New Class Starts June 12 Professional Pilot Training In Just 17 Weeks Be ready for Airline or Commercial Employment — Commercial — Instrument — Multi Engine — Instructor. FAA approved Flight & Ground school Individual personal attention All new equipment and facilities Write for free brochure Financing available Aviation Academy Of North Carolina, Inc. Raleigh-Durham Airport 919-833-6656—Box 200 Morrisville, N. C. 27560

Summervacationitis.

(How to spot and get rid of)

Pallid peepers. There's no sparkle in those baby-blue eyes. It's been knocked out by all those exams. Get that vitality back. See what good is still left in the world. Go to Expo 67, Montreal.

Fluorescent fade-out. That's from being cooped up all winter. What you need for that sallow pallor is some sunshine Vitamin D. There's a whole lot of it available at Sunset Beach in Acapulco.

The good books. They have the possibility of being good symptoms. That's if you seek summer scholastics. Say in Mexico City. Or Acapulco.

Lip lingo. They're letters from good buddies away for the summer. The best way to avoid them is not to be there when they arrive. Be in Puerto Rico instead.

Racquet squad. That's the tennis team in your neighborhood during the summer. You'd find snorkeling or scuba diving in the Bahamas would make playing tennis seem like last summer's bad sport.

College fatigues. That's the uniform you wore all semester. Get rid of those o.d.'s (olive drabs). Break out the white levis. And throw on a colorful Mexican serape.

BLT Down. That's all you've known summer after summer. A change of palate would do you good. In Bermuda a few savory morsels of Hopping John with a sauce of Paw-Paw Montespau usually does the trick.

We want everyone to fly

Note: If symptoms get worse, see your travel agent or call Eastern.