Deadline for filing entrees for the Homecoming Queen contest is Friday. Entrance fees of five dollars may be paid at the GM Information

Volume 75, Number 26

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1967

Founded February 23, 1893

Negroes, Chancellor Discuss Employment

By HUNTER GEORGE

of The Daily Tar Heel Staff A group of Negroes met for the first time Wednesday afternoon with Chancellor J. Carlyle Sitterson to discuss "well over 10" persons who charges of discriminatory work for the University. employment practices.

At Wednesday's meeting, which was closed to the press, a letter was presented to the Chancellor containing complaints of discrimination "in both hiring and promotion" in six different areas.

Eleven Negroes-most of them employes of the school—attended the meeting, but a spokesman, Hilliard Caldwell, said they represented

Caldwell, a technician in the Their action was a follow-up department of medicine at on a complaint filed with the N.C. Memorial Hospital, said U.S. Department of Labor after the meeting the group Sept. 17 alleging unfair hiring wanted to "substantiate" on the part of the University. charges made last month by charges made last month by Dr. B.T. Elliott Jr., a doctor at the hospital who sent a letter to the Labor Department. Caldwell said the chancellor was "very receptive" to the group's suggestions and that Sitterson promised he would "look into" the charges. Elliott's letter had referred generally to the University's service plants, telephone company, electric company, laun-dry, maintenance department and the hospital as places practicing discrimination in hiring. The group visiting the chancellor added charges

-There is no attempt made to hire Negro professors, -The University laundry maintains two sets of rest rooms and two separate snack bars for the races. -There are no Negroes working in South Building.

-No attempt is made to hire Negroes in the campus security police. -The pay scale for "low income workers" is too small. The group also said "more employes would have been here (at the meeting) today, but rumor has been that some of them have already been approached by someone who told them not to get involved with this.'' They did not elaborate. It was disclosed that a second complaint-this one filed by a white woman on behalf of Negro friends-has been sent to the Labor Department. A copy of the letter was not made available, but the Labor Department has acknowledged receipt of it.

Hilliard Caldwell group spokesman

Elliott said Wednesday he has been advised by officials in Washington that an investigation into the charges will be conducted by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, but the exact time has not been set.

Illegal Chain Letter Found Circulating

By PAM HAWKINS

of The Daily Tar Heel Staff

An illegal chain letter costing $20 and promising $320 in return has been circulating around the University, Dean of Men James O. Cansler said Wednesday.

Chain letters offering benefits have been interpreted by the state as lotteries. Sending anything concerning lotteries through the mail constitutes a federal offense carrying a penalty of $1,000 or two years in prison.

"I know of seven students already who have participated in this chain letter and these people say that there are more," Cansler said.

He added that action would not be taken against these persons because they had not to his knowledge used the mails to perpetuate the chain.

"My basic reason in publicizing this is to make the students aware that participating in this chain letter circuit is illegal," Cansler said.

He said he was informed of the letter Monday when a male student who got it from another student over the weekend brought it to him after deciding not to become involved.

"My guess is that most people will lose all or part of the $20 they originally paid rather than getting any more back," he said.

Most students are now aware that chain letters of this type are illegal, Cansler said.

The Daily Car Weel BRIEFS

By United Press International

Guevara Diary Reveals Failure

LA PAZ, Bolivia—Cuban revolutionary Ernesto 'Che' Guevara felt that he had failed in his mission to foment Communist revolution in Bolivia and was seeking to flee the country when he was slain by Bolivian rangers, his field diary revealed Wed-

The key to Guevara's failure and his disillusionment was his inability to inspire a fanatic following in the largely Indian population of this landlocked, mountainous nation.

as the Argentine-born revolutionary was buried in the tiny and remote village of Vallegrande, 300 miles southeast of La Paz, near the battleground where he fell.

Appalachian Aid Is Extended

WASHINGTON-President Johnson extended the aid-to-Appalachia program for another two years today when he signed into law a $170 million authorization bill to rejuvenate the 13-state area extending from New York to Mississippi.

The system of loans and grants to provide improved medical, educational and public works facilities to remote areas of the region was exclusive of a $1,015,000,000 four-year highway

Unemployment Rises Sharply

WASHINGTON-The nation's unemployment rate in September took its biggest jump in nearly five years, and the Labor Department Wednesday blamed it on an unusually large rise in the number of women seekding jobs.

It said the unemployment rate rose to 4.1 per cent in September, from 3.8 per cent in August. Although the jobless rate for women was unusually high, the rates for men and teen-agerswere virtually unchanged.

Arthur M. Ross, commissioner of labor statistics, told a news conference, that the sharp jump in the overall unemployment rate did not indicate any weakening in the economy.

Sen. Fulbright Blasts Dirksen

WASHINGTON-Sen. J. William Fulbright, in an acid reply to Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, declared Wednesday that the Vietnam war is weakening freedom both in Vietnam and the United States.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, gave a point-by-point rebuttal of Dirksen's defense last week of President Johnson's war policies.

While Dirksen had suggested the war effort would protect "the holy fabric of freedom," Fulbright said, the fabric of freedom in Vietnam is "threadbare indeed."

Republicans Stall Tax Increase

WASHINGTON-Republicans rejected as an impractical gimmick Wednesday a Democratic proposal to end the impasse over taxes and spending. GOP leaders said "the life or death of the President's tax bill is up to the President."

Republican House members, meeting as members of the GOP conference, adopted a resolution supporting the decision of the Ways & Means Committee to shelve the administration's tax increase bill until the President recommends $5 billion in budget

President Johnson's bill to impose a 10 per cent tax increase on individuals and businesses is stalled because the Republicans, and many Democrats, insist that the President offer specific spending cuts first.

Cessna Owner Raps Government

ASHEVILLE-An attorney for Lanseair Inc., owner of the Cessna 310 which collided with a Piedmont jetliner here July 19, charged Wednesday the main purpose of the federal hearing into the crash was "exoneration of government people." Attorney Joe Greene of Springfield, Mo., said in an interview there was "no fairness" in the hearing.

Greene said the purpose of such hearings'should be to "make the airways more safe and on no other basis can it be justified.

World News

The diary, seized from Guevara's knapsack, was made public building program.

Gardner Heads Ceremonies

Sitterson and Friday meet Gardner

University Day ceremonies will be held this morning at 11 o'clock in Memorial Hall to commenmorate the 174th anniversary of the University's Keynote speaker for the annual celebration will be John W. Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Chancellor J. Carlyle Sitterson will preside at the event; President William Friday will introduce Gardner. Also in the platform party will be Gov. Dan K. Moore and former Gov. Luther Hodges. Student Body President Bob Travis has issued a statement urging all students to attend the event which will begin with an academic procession from the Old Well and Old East to Memorial Hall.

Provost C. Hugh Holman is in charge of arrangements for the ceremonies, including performances by the University Band and Glee Club. The band will be directed gy Major

Prof Gets

Professor Earl Wynn of UNC's radio, television and motion picture department was fined $500 and court costs Tuesday on charges of forging prescriptions for a stimulant

Seven of the charges against Wynn were decided Tuesday by Judge L. J. Phipps of Chapel Hill Recorder's Court. An additional seven charges will be decided Dec. 1, 1968.

Chancellor J. Carlyle Sitterson said the University will give special consideration to Wynn because of his 29 years as an instructor.

"The University has special rules for professors with tenure. But I'm not sure just exactly what Wynn's position with the University will be."
In addition to the fine, Wynn was ordered to violate no laws involving "moral turpitude"

John Yesulatis, and the Glee Club, by Robert P. Porco, The invocation will be delivered by Dean of Men James Cansler.

president of the Carnegie Corp. of New York and the Carnegie Foundation for the Advanbeing appointed to his present of Los Angeles, Calif.

A veteran of World War II, he served in Europe and the Marine Corps and the Office of Strategic Services. He has also been a consultant to the U.S.

tions, the Air Force, the Department of Defense, the

. . . at Raleigh-Durham airport

Agency for International Secretary Gardner was Development, the U.S. Office of Education and the White House. He is a holder of the highest civilian award bestowcement of Teaching before ed by the United States, the Presidential Medal of cabinet post by President Freedom, and the Air Force Johnson in 1965. He is a native Exceptional Service Award.

The topic of Gardner's speech will be "Goals for Education" in the United

Also incorporated into the celebration will be the presen-

Delegation to the United Na- tation of a portrait of Professor Emeritus A.C. Howell to the University at 3 p.m. in Gerrard Hall. It was painted by Asheville artist Mrs. Lowell B. Wright. Chancellor Sitterson will accept for the University.

Howell has been a member of the Department of English since 1920. He has taught courses in Seventeenth Century English Literature and in Milton. He also developed composition courses for science students which received national attention.

from 10:30 until 2 p.m.

All classes will be suspended Randolf Blackwell To Speak

"The Challenge of Southern dent of the Conference on and Rural Poverty" will be the topic for discussion here Mon-Economic Progress and former chief economic advisor day, at the second in a series to President Harry S. Truman, of programs on poverty in the United States being held on spoke Monday on "Guaranteed

At Second Poverty Progam

campus this fall. The speaker will be Ran-dolph Blackwell, an Atlanta attorney who has been directing community development projects in the deep South. The discussion will be held at 8 p.m. in the faculty lounge of the Morehead planetarium. Blackwell's organization, Citizens Crusade Against Poverty, was set up by Dr. Martin Luther King and Walter Reuther and is funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity. Blackwell is project director for Rural Action in this program. Activities of Blackwell's branch of the program include job training, voter registration, and organizing farmer's cooperatives. He has worked in rural areas of the south since

The three-part symposium on American poverty is being sponsored by the University YMCA and YWCA and the Multi-Purpose Training Center. The theme is "Poverty and Affluence: Two Americas."

Leon H. Keyserling, presi-

Annual Incomes."

nesday that Daniel Moynihan, former assistant Secretary of Labor, will not speak as planned on Nov. 10.

treasurer, and social chairman for the freshman, sophomore and junior classes.

of The Daily Tar Heel Staff The judicial committee of Student Legislature passed out presidents would become favorably Wednesday a bill to members of a special student restructure the class officer Government committee which system, and reported out unwould include a representative favorably a bill to abolish of each class to be appointed by the president of the student

Both bills will come before Student Legislature tonight. The bill to abolish officers was introduced by Rep. John Williford, MD IX (UP), the other was introduced by Rep. George Krichbaum, MD VII

By WAYNE HURDER

The deciding vote on both bills was cast by acting chairman Tom Benton, MD X (SP), because of ties.

Williford's bill would abolish class officers for all but the senior class. Krichbaum's bill would get rid of the offices of secretary, structure, as proponents of the Krichbaum bill said, or whether it was a matter of personalities—the inability to get good officers, as supporters of Williford's bill Rep. Carl Younger, MD XI (UP), also questioned whether committee would

"pursue a course of investigation, research and review of any problems of a general class nature or student nature as seen fit by the President of the Student Govern-government was caused by its ment," according to the bill. Discussion centered around whether the problem of class

"you would necessarily have a revival of class interest under Krichbaum's proposal because of the interclass committee.

Rep. Tom Banton MD (SP), said the officers wouldn't relinquish their functions under the committee form, but would be able to better define their

Rep. Bruce Jolly, MD XI (UP), questioned whether there could be any kind of identity under any class system and whether "it would aid the University."

Benton said it was important to keep the class government in order to offer students as many opportunities to participate in student activities as possible. Younger commented that he didn't think "any kind of change could alter" the type candidates there are for class "It's not what kind of programs you have, it's how you come across" that decides who gets elected, he added. Jolly explained that Krichbaum's bill "wouldn't streamline class offices, but strengthen them."

"There will be more interplay between class officers

Committee Reports Out 2 Class Officer Bills

> and Student Government" under it, he said. Younger questioned the good of class activities and pointed The presidents and vice to the present senior class mum sale. "If this is what the seniors are supposed to do, why do they have to have the sororities sell them; and why do they have their pledges sell

Lagrange To Speak On Court

Justice Maurice Lagrange of the Conseil d'Etat, the highest administrative court in France, will speak at noon, Friday upstairs in Lenoir

The speech, "The French Council of State", is sponsored by the John J. Parker Society. of International Law.

In his 40 year career, Lagrange, has held several positions of importance. He was legal expert of the French Delegation at the Shuman Plan Conference which established the European Coal and Steel Community (ECSC). From 1952-1958 he was

Advocat General at the Court of Justice of the ECSC. Later he served as Advocat General of the Court of Justice for the European Communities. Lagrange was first appointed Justice of the Conseil d'Etat in 1945. He served for five years pointed in 1964. Lagrange has had numerous articles, published in law reviews. The major topics have were the institutions of the European communities and the European Court of

in this position and was reap-

Lagrange was a delegate to the Congress of Latin American Integration in

Prof Calls 'Che' A Rare Breed

By STEVE PRICE of The Daily Tar Heel Staff

A UNC professor who once met Cuban underground fighter Ernesto "Che" Guevara described the man as a revolutionist." "His type are a rare breed," said the in-structor, who wished to remain anonymous because part of his family is in Cuba. "He was very intelligent, and a finer military commander than

Castro.' Guevara, sent by Castro to foment rebellion in South America, was one of seven guerillas killed Sunday in a clash in southeast Bolivia, Identification was made by military officials

"I met Guevara in 1959 when the State Department asked me to bring some sociology students from the University of Havana to the United States for study and visits, said the instructor.

Havana then, and I had to go directly to him for funds for the students. "He was extremely intelligent and at that time I guess he was about 30 years old. I never talked to him again, though I heard him speak several

"Guevara was president of the National Bank in times. "Guevara had that rare talent of being able to gear his speeches to his audiences," said the instructor. "He had studied medicine in his early education, but I heard him give an economics talk using technical terms very accurately."

The instructor said Guevara had lived most of his life in political myth, and that factual information about him is

"He came from a wellto-do family in Argentina," he said, "and after studying medicine, he traveled over Latin America.

"He met Castro in Mexico City in 1953, when Castro was in prison, and the two became close friends. When Castro's expedition to Cuba was ready to depart, Guevara was probably the man closest to Castro.

"He probably remained close until his disappearance about two years

The professor remained skeptical upon reports of Guevara's death. ''He could be dead, and again it might be a case of mistaken identity," he

"When he disappered from Cuba, there were many different versions of what happened to him. At any rate, I'm sure we won't get any official word from Cuba."