U.N.C. Library Serials Dept. Bex 870 Chance Of Showers

Variable cloudiness with chance of showers today and tonight. Mild today turning a little cooler tonight. Highs to-day mostly in the 60's. Partly cloudy and a little cooler in the afternoon afternoon.

Volume 75, Number 69

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1967

Majors Seminars

Major seminars in the atural sciences will be held tonight at 730 p.m. in Howell Hall, Subjects included are botany, chemistry, geography, geology, mathematics, physics and goology.

Founded February 23, 1893

-DTH Staff Photo by STEVE ADAMS

Scott drives for two.

Heels Breeze Past Kent State, 107-83

By Dale Gibson Fear no more.

Fear no more. The Tar Heels have done it. The fear was that the UNC cagers would look past their Wednesday night opponents to-ward the upcoming games with Vanderbilt, Kentucky and Princeton. They did anything but that as the men in blue and white walked away with a 107-83 win over the Kent State Golden Flashes Wednesday night.

night. Although being manhandled by the superior Tar Heels, all was not lost for Kent State. Doug Grayson stole the show from Tar Heel stars Larry Miller and Charlie Scott. The 6-5 junior tossed in 41 points, hitting 18 of 19 from the field and hitting five out of five from the foul line. Gray-son scored 35 points before missing a six-foot fall-away shot with 4:16 left in the game. The hard-driving Miller also had a good night. The 6-4 senior connected for 24 points with 10

the line. Miller scored 12 points in each half. Rusty Clark, the Tar Heels big center, had a great night. Clark struck for 23 points and plucked eight rebounds. Charlies The Tar Heels played a more balanced game than the one against Virginia Tech in which they trailed by seven at half.

time. Against Kent State, the Tar Heels went into the lockers at halftime with a comforable 64-37 lead. But, the Flashes came back full of fight—at least the flashy Grayson did. Grayson opened the second half with a fall away jump shot from the corner, the same shot that had netted him 21 points in the first half. After a Tar Heel turn-over, Grayson con-nected again to bring the score to 64-41 with 18:40 left to play. After UNC forward Bill Bunt-ing missed a six footer with ing missed a six footer with 18:25 left, the Flashes drove and tossed to Grayson who con-nected for his sixth straight connected for 24 points with 10 field goals and four points from point. Then the Tar Heels began to show that they could do a little

Special To The Daily Tar Heel

S.C.-North Carolina Athletic Director Chuck Erickson was

"fully recovered" after suffering a "slight stroke" here

meeting of the Atlantic Coast morning with "a slight paralysis of the left side," ac-wife called Dr. Ed Hedgepeth, the chairman of the UNC

Athletic Counsel who was staying in the same motel. Erickson was admitted to a

Late last night the doctor said, "Mr. Erickson is doing real well. There are no signs of any paralysis of any kind and

"We are very pleased with the progress he made throughout the day and we think he will be well enough to taught this summer in Europe-

The courses will be taught from July 1-Aug. 31, 1968. Fees are $60 per course. Estimated

For a plications contact

Mrs. J.D. Griffith, 582 Howard

Ave., Staten Island, N.Y.,

by native instructors.

living expenses are $600.

10301.

Myrtle Beach hospital.

he is in real good spirits.

Williams said Erickson's

In. Brown got another chance on an 18-footer from the corner and hit this one for a 69-44 score. Clark tapped another in after a blind pass from the super sophomore Scott. Brown then added two more and Scott hit two foul shots to put he Heels ahead 75-46 wih 14:57 to play

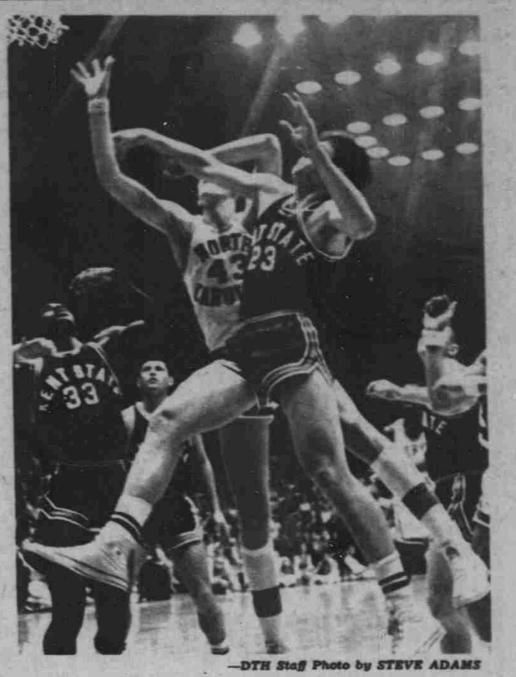

Reels ahead 75-46 win 14:57 to play. Coach Dean Smith got his wish in being able to prenare his team for the next game with a tough Vanderbilt squad. The Heels finished the game with five reserves on the court. "Vanderbilt is the immediate thing on our mind." Smith said thing on our mind," Smith said, "We know they will be tough in Nashville. (Tenn.)"

Smith called his squad a second half team after last week's game with Virginia Tech but he was well pleased with the first half Wednesday. "It was obviously our game after the first half," Smith said. "I just wish we had been sharper in the second half." Smith, like the 8,800 fans in Carmichael Auditorium, watched in awe at the he-man scoring task turned in by Kent scoring task turned in by Kent State's Grayson. "We knew he could shoot well," Smith said, "But, I didn't think he would

"But, 1 didn't think he would hit everything." The Tar Heels hit 41 of 80 attempted field goals for a 51.3 percentage. Led by Clark and Brown, Carolina pulled down 41 rebounds to 37 retrieved by the Flashes.

the Flashes. Kent State Coach Frank Tru-itt had praise for his opponents. "I was really impressed by their defense," Truitt said. "We had heard about their offense, but the defense—es-pecially Miller and Clark— really surprised us."

Clark collides with Lagodich.

173 N.C. Professors Sign Protest Letter

By STEVE KNOWLTON of The Daily Tar Heel Staff

Almost 175 full-time faculty members teaching in North Carolina colleges and universities-140 of them on this campus-have signed a petition supporting students "conscientiously refusing military service."

The petition and the list of signers-which is expected to grow considerably before the schools break for the Christmas vacation-will be sent to President Johnson, the Justice Department and to Congressmen as a protest to the present draft law, which "forces young men of conscience" to "either serve in a war which they believe is unjust or face jail," the petition reads.

The petition was drawn up, according to UNC-CH psychology professor William congressional race.

family.

Wynn, who helped draft the petition, to register a complaint about a law which seems draft laws and to give moral support to students who are refusing military service on conscientious grounds. "We will be sending copies of the petition-once it is finished-to Washington," Wynn said, "to register a complaint about alaw which seems to us to be preposterous."

He said no one expected immediate changes in the draft law, which, the petition reads, "permits exemption from military service only to those who conscientiously oppose participation in war of any form and under all circumstances" and "the only recognized opposition to war must stem from 'religious training and belief'." He believes, however, "that

The Daily Tar Feel

World News

BRIEFS

By United Press International

in a democracy there is a cumulative effect in dissenting action bringing about changes in the long run."

> As support, the petition "will give moral support to those students who on conscientious grounds are forced to object to this war and refuse military service," Wynn said.

Wednesday morning. The 60-year-old Erickson, in Myrtle Beach for the winter "There are many students," Conference, awoke Wednesday Wynn said, "who are facing jail rather than serve in this war. What is bothering them is cording to Sports Information Director Jack Williams. not their impending jail sentences, but rather that people don't understand their position-that their consciences will not allow them to participate in this war." Wynn said he felt that this petition "was the least that we (concerned members of the faculty) could do for these young men."

The petition reads, "We (the undersigned) believe that all men, regardless of their views

(Continued on Page 6)

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity is plannir g to start a centralized lost and found office for the campus, but it is having a hard time findinga place to locate it.

The Fraternity plans to open the service at the beginning of spring semester with office hours from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday throu gh Friday.

Temporary plans call for the office to be set up in the fraternity's basement room in Smith Dormitory.

When Smith is converted to office space next fall, however, the office will have to move.

spokesman said.

down."

whom.

"We would like to find a more permanent place to start By KAREN FREEMAN of The Daily Tar Heel Staff it," said a spokesman from the fraternity's pledge class, which Coeds living off campus next originated the idea. semester were exempted from "We have been told by the closing hours by the Women's space committee and by the Residence Council director of Graham Memorial Tuesday-but town students that there is no space on camwere left sugject to dormitory pus available to us." the regulations.

Negro Recruiting Proposal Erickson OK Receives AAUP Approval After Stroke Wednesday

By WAYNE HURDER

A bill requesting $820 for the of The Daily Tar Heel Staff The UNC chapter of the American Association of University Professors Tuesday night passed unanimously a resolution endorsing a proposal to recruit Negro high school students to attend UNC.

Phil Clay, whose proposal the AAUP endorsed, revealed that a bill asking funds for the Carolina Talent Search, the recruiting agency in his proposal, will be re-introduced into legislature sometime soon.

program was defeated by legislature 18-16 in a special session on Nov. 14. The new bill will ask for less money than the last one, according to Clay. Clay said some persons had indicated to him 'that legislature will pass the bill this time." The AAUP's vote came after it heard talks by administration, athletic department, and students representatives on current admissions policy and recruiting.

Charles Morrow, dean of the College of Arts and Science and chairman of the Advisory Committee on Admissions and Records, said a program to recruit Negroes "is something that the University would appreciate."

He explained that the University couldn't undertake the program because "under the law the University can't pick out a certain group to recruit."

Clay said the University should do more than give the program its moral support, it "should really get in with both hands and seek to utilize talents as it does in other areas."

The resolution passed by the AAUP "endorses the Clay proposal and urges its members and other members of the university community, students, faculty and administration, to participate assure that all North Carolinians know of the opportunities provided by their system of

These were: because legislators thought the bill discriminatory, because recruiting wasn't the proper job for students, or because Student Government couldn't afford the cost.

He added that he personally had favored the gill.

George Krichbaum, SP floorleader from lower quad, and an opponent of the Clay bill in legislature, explained that the legislature had felt "it was out of line in recruiting a particular segment of the students."

He said legislature would Search Program to get Negroes to apply to the UNC law school, explained his work, give the proposal its support in any other way.

Dean Smith, head basketball which he said had been encoach, explained that the dorsed by the Student Bar recruiting policy of the athletic Association.

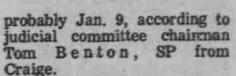

Referendum Bill Passes Committee

By WAYNE HURDER

of The Daily Tar Heel Staff A bill to hold a referendum on major issues for the National Student Association was passed out favorably by the judicial committee of Student Legislature Wednesday.

If the bill, which will be considered by legislature tonight, passes, the referendum would be held the same day as the Honor System referendum, department is to "look for players who have the character to fit into the University and can meet the admissions requirements." He said that although newspapers may give less coverage to athletic events, this doesn't effect his recruiting because he finds out about the top prospects from

David Robinson, co-chairman of the Scholarship Information

Center, said that "because of the long discriminatory policy of admissions offices in the South, Negroes haven't been able to adjust" to the new policies and there a recruiting

Robert Gruber, a law school student and organizer of Talent

other sources.

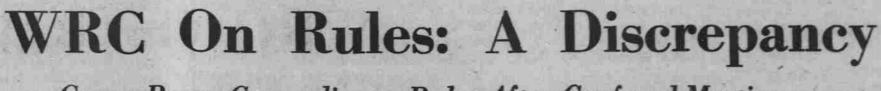

program is needed.

The bill to hold an Honor System referendum will pro bably be introduced into committee next Wednesday and be considered by legislature on Thursday.

The NSA-requested referendum, introduced by campus NSA coordinator Charles Jeffress, UP from MD III, would determine student opinion of three resolutions passed by the NSA Congress on black power, drugs and the draft.

The referendum would also ask students' opinion of the minority report of the draft, submitted at the Congress last summer.

The referendum is being sought because of the controversial nature of the resolutions, according to the bill. The bill had geen introduced into legislature before Thanksgiving but had died when the 43rd Assembly of legislature ended.

Group Passes Contradictory Rules After Confused Meeting of the Senior Apartments Committee, which said, "women students" living off-campus will not be subject to dormitory regulations." The passed version excluded town students by declaring modification of one introduced observed, she said.

UNC can't help

in its support.

personally and organizationally It also asks support of other well-considered programs to last week by Lesley Wharton, But Candy Hodges, a. Wharton in the main meeting *

Dean Morrow

return to Chapel Hill within three days." APO Plans 2 Language Courses Centralized To Be Offered Abroad The Eberhardt Private Lost-Found Institute of Languages is offering two accelerated courses in French and German to be recruits, ravaged the refugee hamlet of Dak Son, killing 121 persons, most of them women and children U.S. spokesmen reported Wednesday night.

SAIGON-Communist terrorists exacting apparent vengeance

for refusal of mountain tribesmen to furnish them Viet Cong

The spokesmen said that victims of the worst massacre of civilians in the Vietnam war included Montagnard tribespeople and seven popular forces defenders of the mountain hamlet located 74 miles north.east of Saigon and 25 miles west of the Cambodian border.

Another 47 persons were hospitalized, most of them suffering from severe burns suffered when the Viet Cong used flamethrowers to put their hamlet to the torch in the attack early Tuesday.

Protesters Snarl City Traffic

Preyer To Kun In Sixth District

based on "reason and fact rather than emotion."

VC Massacre Refugee Hamlet

GREENSBORO-L. Richardson Preyer, a well-known name in Preyer, a former federal judge who stepped down from the North Carolina's judicial, business and political circles, Wednesday became the second candidate to enter the Sixth District bench to run unsuccessfully for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1964, told a news conference he planned a campaign

He threw his hat into the ring beside that of Republican

William Osteen, a Greensboro attorney who announced Monday

he would seek the seat from which Democratic Rep. Horace Korenegay plans to resign in order to spend more time with his Shouting, sign-toting antiwar demonstrators snarled traffic in downtown New York and Philadelphia Wednesday. Police hauled scores away in paddy wagons.

Four-thousand police twarted efforts of some 2000 protesters to shut down the armed forces induction center in New York and used flying wedges to drive hundreds of demonstrators away from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where Secretary of State Dean Rusk kept a speaking date.

In a rules change to ac-The idea behind the service comodate seniors who will stemmed from the problem of move into apartments at semester break, WRC amendknowing where to go to find something that has been lost. ed the closing hour rule to

"As it stands, if someone read: loses something between GM

"All undergraduate women and Howell, they have to check students residing in University residence halls must abide by at Alumni, Howell, Morehead Planetarium and GM," he University closing hours." A resolution passed only two said. "It takes over an hour sometimes to track something minutes previous to the closing hour amendment, however,

The plan for the lost and said a change exempting found includes keeping index apartment-dwelling seniors cards on each found item from domnitory regulations should not include non-senior listing the date it was found, where it was found and by town students.

The adopted resolution was a

"women 21 years of age or senior women with parental permission residing in off-campus housing" exempt.

With the addition of this clause, non-senior town ment. students will remain theoretically under closing hours if it is considered a 'dormitory regulation. Mrs. Heather Ness, assistant dean or women, then told WRC that town women don't come under closing hours anyway by administration standards. The administration only suggests to the parents of town coeds that closing hours be

合

Women's Honor Council member, said that town students have been tried for being in the Chapel Hill area after closing hours-in connection with other offenses.

BOTH DECISIONS came after confusion as to where WRC was meeting. The majority of WRC met together in 011 Peabody and voted the resolution and rule amend-

But Sharon Rose, chairman, and ten other members were in another room-only yards away in the same basement-and never found the main meeting.

"What business do we have making rules if we can't even find the right room to meet in?" Miss Rose quippeal Wednesday.

that by specifying "University housing" in the modified closing hours rule, WRC was also exempting coeds who live in Granville Towers East, of which she is president.

It was noted by Lesley

But, she continued, "girls in Granville always assume that all regulations apply to them and they haven't done anything about it yet."

Changing we closing hours rule in mid-year is a break from the tradition of rule changes only going into effect each September, but WRC felt that "unusual circumstances" warranted the change. A proposal that WRC be able to make such mid-year changes was suggested at a prior meeting. It will probably be put into the form of a motion and passed next week, Miss Rose said Wednesday.

The ballot for the Honor System referendum is being drawn up by a committee of seven persons appointed by student body Presdent Bob Travis and chaired by Charles Gowen, vice president of the Dialectic-Philanthropic Societies.

The committee was appointed as the result of a peti-tion circulated by the Di-Phi asking for a referendum.

The referendum will be designed to determine to what extent students support the Honor System and how effective the system is.