Terps Chase Clemson For Conference Lead

Clemson's baseball squad doesn't play a game this week but the Tigers could lose their hold on first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference race. Second place Maryland has three conference battles against Virginia and South Carolina. With a good week, the Terps could overtake Clemson's half-game lead.

Clemson is currently 7-2 in ACC play and 20-7 overall. The Terrapins have a 6-2 conference mark and an 11-2 overall record.

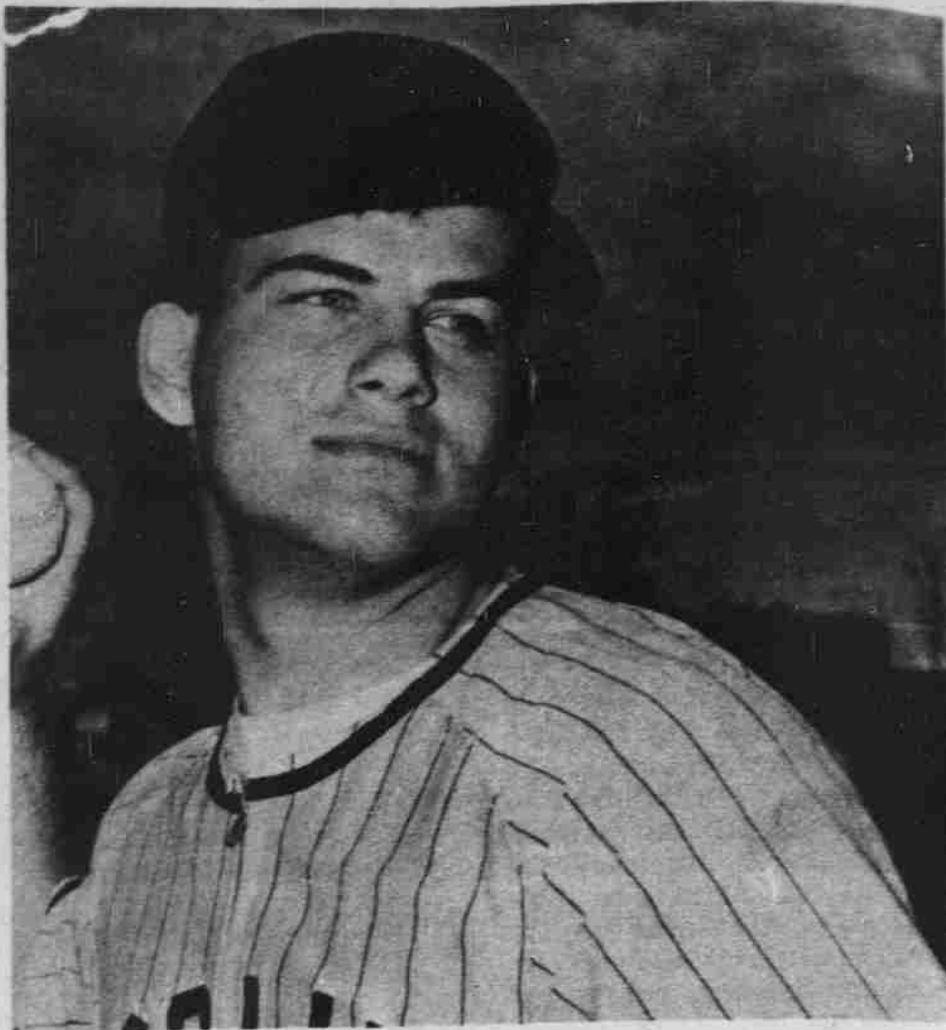

Maryland and Clemson played a doubleheader on Saturday with each team coming away with a win and a loss. The Tigers won the opener, 3-1 and Maryland took the nightcap, 7-2.

It's a light schedule this week but several Big Four matches highlight the slate. State plays at Duke, and Carolina visits Wake Forest for a night contest Tuesday. Duke swept a doubleheader from Wake Forest Saturday, 3-2 and 10-2. Their meeting with State today will be the third in seven days.

Carolina's meeting with the Deacons today will be the Tar Heels' first conference game in over a week. UNC made a tour in the South where it split six games.

Heels Invade Wake Forest

Gy OWEN DAVIS of The Daily Tar Heel Staff

Carolina, returning from a tough holiday road trip in the Deep South, plays Atlantic Coast Conference foe Wake Forest in Winston-Salem tonight.

Gametime is 7:30. There will be no local radio broadcast.

The Tar Heels are 10-7 after a nine-game southern swing in which UNC won four against five losses. Carolina split a doubleheader with league-leader Clemson on the trip, giving the Heels a 2-2 conference mark.

Wake Forest is 7-15, 2-6 in the ACC.

The Deacs have been weak at the plate, hitting barely .200 as a team. Third baseman Digit Laughridge at .353 is the only batter above .300.

Freshman second baseman Bruce Bergman is next at .283.

Wake has defeated tough Georgia Southern and South Carolina but was shelled 11-0 and 9-0 in a doubleheader with Clemson.

Bobby Harris, Bob Blanton and Larry Cain, all righthanders, are the Deacs' ace pitchers.

David Lemonds draws the hurling assignment against the Baptists. Lemonds is 3-1 with a 1.03 earned run average.

The hard-throwing southpaw has struck out 48 in 34 2-3 innings but has walked 18, not the desired 3-1 ratio of strikeouts to walks. He has allowed only 20 hits.

Coach Walter Rabb will start Mark Kenney at third base if the Deacs start a righthander on the mound.

Kenney hit well on the recent trip and now has a .380 batting average. Ron Lemonds shifts to left field when Kenney starts.

Doug Lanham is the regular right fielder after the swing. The freshman portside batter leads the team with a .387 average.

The rest of the lineup remains the same.

Rabb singled out the UNC hitting improvement as the most satisfying aspect of the holiday action.

The Tar Heels, hovering around a team batting level of .200 early in the season, are now hitting .267.

Five regulars, Lanham, Kenney, Eddie Hill (.377), Charlie Carr (.343) and Skip Hill (.333) are batting over .300 while Bobby Elliott is at .282.

"We had an opportunity to react to pressure-play situations, which is good for a young ball club," said Rabb.

"We played nine games in a week so I got to see every man on the team play. With better execution we could have won two or three more games. There were also some times when we didn't hit with men on base."

But Rabb is optimistic about the ACC schedule. The Heels are 2 1-2 games behind Clemson (7-2) in the standings, but do not trail in the all-important loss column.

"We're organized so we can play with anybody on the schedule," he said. "We didn't have any injuries on the road so we should be ready to go."

The holidays began well for Carolina as David Lemonds hurled a 2-1 victory over Clemson in the first game of a twin bill April 13.

The Tigers retaliated in the second game and beat Tom Buskey, 4-0. Once again Buskey received poor defensive support. The junior righthander has allowed only six earned runs this season, but leaky fielding has let in 10 unearned markers off Buskey.

Chip Stone took a 4-3 squeaker against Eastern Kentucky before Georgia Southern bombed the Heels 13-2 last Monday.

Carolina split two games with Florida in Gainesville. Bats boomed in both contests, the Gators winning the first 9-7 and UNC the second, 8-7.

Florida is in top contention for championship honors in the Southeastern Conference.

John Richards lost his second straight to Mercer Thursday, 4-3.

Georgia Tech beat John Yancey 4-3 in Atlanta Friday before Eddie Hill slugged two home runs and batted in six runs to whip the Jackets 10-3 Saturday.

Freshman Larry Kiser was the winner.

Carolina returns home briefly for a single game Thursday with Virginia Tech. ACC games take up the rest of the UNC slate, beginning with Duke in Durham Saturday.

Stickmen Stop Fairleigh Dickinson Boosts Tar Heels To 6-3 Record

By ANDY SCHORR of The Daily Tar Heel Staff

Led by sharp-shooting Pete Atkin, the North Carolina lacrosse team bulldozed past Fairleigh Dickinson 9-4 on Fetzer Field Monday.

Playing a hard and skilled brand of lacrosse after coming off a three game Spring road trip, the Tar Heels dominated the whole game.

UNC exploded for four goals in the third quarter to wrap up their sixth win in nine outings.

The scoring began with a quick goal by a Fairleigh Dickinson attackman. However, Atkin came right back with two scores for the Tar Heels.

UNC attackman Harper Peterson netted a goal after the opponents fixed their second goal past goalie Pete Kramer.

In the second quarter with a nice assist from Peter Brand Tar Heel attackman Ray Seipp scored for the team's third goal. Fairleigh Dickinson attackman Neil Poschman netted his second to make the score at the half 4-3.

Realizing that last Saturday a losing Fairleigh Dickinson lacrosse squad came back in the second half against Duke and barely lost the game, Bischoff urged his team not to let up.

The team obeyed scoring 4 goals in the next period.

Two of these were by Atkin with assists from John Callan feeding from behind the cage.

Shifty midfielder Peter Brand scored on a pass from Callan and Temple Grassi ended the period with his one goal.

Coach Bischoff was able to play the entire squad in Monday's victory as Fairleigh Dickinson suffered its fourth defeat.
